Phone us the news

The island of Cyprus was at its nearest point some seventy miles from Antioch, and was one hundred and ten miles long from east to west and varied from thirty to sixty miles in width. Many of the people of Cyprus were members of the Antioch church and it might have been their efforts that the first two missionaries were sent there first, but be that as it may, they did good work, and as the text tells, they went from Salamis, which is the town at the eastern portion of Cyprus, through the island, its entire length, preaching that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God.

Paul Delivers Great Sermon

After going through the island of Cyprus two missionaries, one to Parga in Pamphilia, and from thence over the mountain passes to Antioch, in Pisidia, which is on the table land of the main land, where they tarried for a time and it was here they attended services in a Jewish synagogue on the Sabbath day, and after there had been a reading of the scriptures the invitation was given to Saul and Barnabas to speak if they had anything to say, and thus there was given the first evangelical discourse in the new place.

Paul stood up and beckoning with his hand for their attention, said: "Ye men of Israel and all ye that fear God, hearken to what I have to say: The God of this people, of Israel, chose our fathers and exalted them when they dwelt among strangers in Egypt, and brought them out with a strong arm and for forty years suffered their bad behavior in the wilderness and when he had destroyed seven nations in the land of Canaan, divided the land by lot to them. Then he gave the people judges to rule over them. The people were not satisfied with this and they were then given a king when they asked for one. One of these was David, and from his seed through the flesh was the Savior, Jesus Christ raised up, which was the very Son of God. Because he preached and taught the truth, the people crucified him, nailing him to a cross and after he was taken down and buried, God raised him up on the third day. He was seen many days and later on the fortieth day ascended into heaven and sitteth at the right hand of the Father, and unto you we preach this, that he who gave his life that all might live is your savior as well as the savior of all the world."

Following this, the Gentiles came and asked that Paul and Barnabas might preach unto them the following Sabbath.

BIBLE SCHOOL LESSON

Sunday, July 29th

By M. S. Briggs

Golden Text: "Go ye, therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit; teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you; and lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world."—Matt. 28:19-20.

The Church at Antioch

Now there were at Antioch in the church there, prophets and teachers, Barnabas and Symeon, that was called Niger and Lucius, of Cyrene, and Manean, the foster brother of Herod, the Patriarch, and Saul, or Paul as he was then known. There were many others, too, for this was a big church and a large congregation and all were earnest in the work which was given them to do. They met with much regularity and were earnest in their work. They realized that the truth which the new Christianity taught was of the utmost importance and that as the world had called it "The Way," it was indeed the way of life, and the only way as Paul was to be now known, said in later years: "There was no other name given under heaven or among men, whereby we must be saved only the name of the Son of God, Jesus Christ."

At a meeting at which there was a full representation of the church, they prayed and asked for instruction and the Holy Spirit said unto them: "Separate Saul and Barnabas for the work which they are called to do."

Then when the selected and the church had prayed together, Saul and Barnabas went forth on their tour of teaching which led them into strange lands, and it was at this time the first foreign missionaries of the Christian church were established.

Go Teaching and Preaching. Saul and Barnabas, being sent by the church at Antioch, and guided by the Holy Spirit and having John Mark with them, went from Antioch, which was at that time a great city with half a million population and the church most flourishing, they being sent forth by the church and directed by the Holy Spirit, thus conforming to the plan which the Master had arranged when he was on earth, that the message of love which the Father had sent was to be delivered by human beings and all possible done by man to save his fellow man. They went down from Antioch to Seleucia, which was sixteen miles down the coast of the sea, and as Salucia was the sea port of Antioch, a highway was also built along the coast, and the carrying of the message by human beings and freight, and finding that was not sufficient, a canal was also constructed to care for the additional traffic which the others could not care for.

The city of Antioch was for the time a most wonderful city, having a wall surrounding it, which was in places as much as sixty feet in height and was wide enough for two chariots with their horses to drive abreast, this for the defense of the city against the enemies of the outside world.

They Go to Cyprus

The island of Cyprus was at its nearest point some seventy miles from Antioch, and was one hundred and ten miles long from east to west and varied from thirty to sixty miles in width. Many of the people of Cyprus were members of the Antioch church and it might have been their efforts that the first two missionaries were sent there first, but be that as it may, they did good work, and as the text tells, they went from Salamis, which is the town at the eastern portion of Cyprus, through the island, its entire length, preaching that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God.

All Hear the Word of God

Now, on the next Sabbath, all the city came together to hear the word of God, and as these two missionaries preached and all showed much interest in their utterances, the Jews were filled with jealousy and contradicted the things which Paul had spoken and blasphemed.

Then did Paul and Barnabas speak out boldly, saying: "It was necessary that the word of God should first be spoken to you, but seeing that you thrust it from you and deem yourselves unworthy of eternal life, lo, we will turn to the Gentiles. For so the Lord has commanded us." In the saying, "I have set thee a light of the Gentiles and thou shouldst be for salvation unto the uttermost parts of the earth" Paul invited the Gentiles especially to become followers of the new religion, and when the Gentiles heard this they were glad and glorified the word of God, and as many as were ordained to eternal life believed. And the word of God was spread throughout all the region.

Driven from Antioch

Paul had been a very severe persecutor of the church in the years gone by and now he was to receive some of the treatment which he had extended to others, and so severe was the opposition by the Jews, among whom were also some of the chief women, that they were literally driven from the city, and walked to the next town, Iconium, where they also organized a church, but of this we will dwell further in the coming lesson for a week from Sunday.

GIVES DINNER PARTY

The beautiful country home of Mrs. Myra McDonald of near Murray was the scene of a very charming dinner party on Sunday at which a large group of the relatives and friends of this estimable lady were present to join in the event that all will most pleasantly remember. ### TOP THE MARKET

This morning W. G. Hoedeker, president of the Murray State bank and one of the practiced stock and farm men of the eastern part of the county, returned home from Chicago, in company with Victor Wehrlein. The two gentlemen have been on the stock market at Chicago with some of the fine Hicford stock that was raised by Messrs. Hoedeker and William Wehrlein on the Wehrlein farm east of Murray. The stock was of the finest quality and topped the great Chicago market, this being the second shipment that these gentlemen have been successful in disposing of on the market and which speaks well for the Nebraska stock in competition with the shipments from all parts of the western the great market.
