Committee on Better Lawns Makes Awards
Philip Thierolf, 1st, Mrs. Mattie G. Wiles, 2nd, Edward Donat and Fred Prohaska, Jr. 2nd

From Friday's Daily—
The committee to which was assigned the task of trying to determine the most attractive lawn in the city, has found that its task was more difficult than had at first been anticipated, the committee finding that a great number of the residents of that city had the most attractive surroundings around their homes and in which it was a difficult matter to make any determination of the most attractive.

Several of the smaller homes of the community had wonderful surroundings and which represented much effort on the part of the owners and reflected the pride that the city had in their homes and in the beautifying of which they had been in sparing of their efforts. This matter of real efforts made in trying to make the surroundings of the home as beautiful as possible was considered by the committee as one of the steps toward a city beautiful and especially where the personal labor of the owners was represented in the lawn.

In making the selection the committee of course found that the Nebraska Masonic Home had by far the finest piece of landscaping in the city but as the contest was for individual lawns they were compelled to pass the Home with the citation of being the most beautiful spot in the city in its landscaping.

When the committee, Robert M. Walling, Herman Thomas and Mrs. Fred Coryell, were called upon to make their final decisions they were compelled to debate for some time as to the relative merits of many of the lawns and grounds and gave as the findings after due and proper deliberation the following results:

First Prize—Philip Thierolf.
Second Prize—Mrs. Mattie G. Wiles.
Third Prize—Fred Prohaska, Jr., Edward Donat, Sr., and Vincent Pilney, Sr.

Very Special Citation—Charles Staska, A. L. Tidd, the Gerling home, John Weirich, Frank M. Bestor, J. H. McMaken, the Herold apartments, A. W. White, Charles Vetousek.

Honorable Mention—Mrs. George A. Meisinger, W. F. Gillespie, L. W. Lorenz, H. F. Goos, Earl Teepehl, Frank Newman, G. G. Hoffman, Max Pitzmeyer, James Bullin, J. L. Tidball, J. P. Lahr, N. K. Peoples, Mrs. Eva Meisinger, Mrs. F. S. White, Theodore Starkjohn, M. E. Buttery, F. I. Rea, James Newesek, Charles Engelke, J. M. Jirousek, the Kraeger sisters, G. W. Homan, Joe Wooster, Joseph Hadraba, Mrs. B. S. Ramsey, John Nelson, Mike Bajock, George E. Saylor, John Svoboda, Jess Perry, Frank Slavicek, Raymond Larson, Sattler Funeral Home, L. F. Langhorst, W. A. Robertson, Fred Mumm, H. H. Shrader, Chris Wohlfarth, C. E. Hartford, A. W. Cloldt, Sr., J. H. Hallstrom, Phillip Born, Mrs. Robert Troop, John Kaffenberger, P. P. Meisinger, Mrs. Lillian Freeman, J. R. Vallery, Mrs. Mary Schramberger, Frank Cloldt, William Schmidtman, Presbyterian church.

The committee found many of the homes where sunken gardens had been arranged, fish pools and small fountains and in several of the lawn in the outlying district sylvan delis had been created.
