General Passenger Agent of Burlington Lauds the Success of the George Vallery Reception

From Saturday's Daily—
R. W. Clement, local agent of the Burlington, has received a letter from C. J. Rohwitz, general passenger agent of the railroad company, praising this city and its people on the fine manner in which the reception was carried out here honoring George W. Vallery, grand master of the grand encampment of the Knights Templar of the United States.

The special train on which Mr. Vallery was traveling with delegations of the Templars, was stopped here and the welcome of the city extended to the distinguished head of the Templars, a native son of Plattsmouth.

Mr. Rohwitz states that the city put the proposition over in very fine shape and that it was a credit to the community and one that very deeply impressed the visiting Masons who were here with the special train, making one of the most striking features of the journey of the train from the west coast to Detroit. The appreciation of the railroad for the co-operation in the reception extended especially to the city government, the Chamber of Commerce and the Plattsmouth nights Templar.

RECEIVES SAD NEWS

Henry Jasper, the local florist, received the sad news today by letter of the death on July 24th at Lemgo, Lippe-Detmold, Germany, of his mother, Mrs. Fredericke Jasper.

Mrs. Jasper, who was sixty years of age, had been apparently in her usual health and had gone to the business section of the city to look after some trading and was taken sick there, returning home and in a few hours had passed away. The deceased lady had spent her lifetime in the community where she passed away and was a devout member of the German Reformed church, in which faith she was laid to the last rest.

She is survived by two sons, Paul Jasper, of Berlin, Germany and Henry Jasper of this city.

In the loss of the mother Mr. Jasper will have the deep sympathy of the many friends in this city for the loss that has taken away the loved one and especially sorrowing is the fact that Mr. Jasper was unable to attend the last rites.

AUGUST CROP REPORT

[By H. Nave, of the Federal Game Bureau, D. C.]
Nebraska is in for another year of heavy crops. From an unfavorable start last spring, crops have progressed until the situation is most optimistic. High yields of all small grain crops are now realized and the corn crop has a splendid chance to make a new high record. All crops except tame hay and fruit are above the five year average.

The condition of corn in this county is 94 per cent, an improvement of 7 per cent over a week ago. Cass county, one of the best counties in the state, will have one of the largest corn crops in the state.

44,000 acres of wheat in Cass county produced an average yield of 20 bushels to the acre.

Potatoes run up to 100 per cent. Tame hay, 80 per cent; wild hay, 90 per cent; alfalfa, 80 per cent.

The farmers indicate an upward tendency in crop acreages this season and some shifting of acreages away from hay and toward crops which have given larger returns per acre.

There is a decrease of 7 per cent in the spring pig crop of 1928 from that of 1927. The number of sows bred or to be bred for fall farrowing of 1928 point to a decrease in the fall pig crop, assuming a similar relationship between breeding intentions and actual farrowing as has prevailed in other years.

With better prospects for the corn crop than prevailed a year ago, and the upward movement of a new hog price cycle under way, the coming hog price ratio is expected to become more favorable for hog production.

The price situation is very conflicting. Prices received by farmers are averaging 145 per cent of the pre-war level, while retail prices being paid by farmers for commodities used in production and in the farm home are averaging 155 per cent of the pre-war level on these commodities. Thus the purchasing power of farm products in exchange for commodities bought is about 96.90 per cent of the pre-war ratio.

In looking ahead, producers should plan to stabilize production at a reasonably profitable level and not continue planning production on the basis of the past year's prices on hogs and corn. Should this year's corn crop turn out to be larger than average and be low in price, the policy should be to hold more of the corn over another year and plant less next year, rather than to plan to increase hog production in order to take care of the low priced surplus corn. Hog production should increase slowly as the demand increases, rather than having an over production and a demoralized market.
