Mr. Saint John always has a good stock of the feeds which he carries on hand, consisting of tankage, shorts, bran, and all kinds of mill stuffs, and as well as the mixtures which he grinds himself and is always able to supply the customer when he comes.

There were many from Nehawka in attendance at the Old Settlers' Reunion which was held last week at Union, the attendance from Nehawka on Friday, the first day of the celebration, was but meager, on account of the bad weather, which prevailed, there being rain and threatening of rain during most of the day. However, on Saturday, the last day, the skies cleared and there was a large attendance at the afternoon session, the crowds being such that it was with some difficulty that the people all dodged each other as they promanaded on the great white way between the speakers stand and the horse shoe game.

This Is a Fish Story.
We asked one of our friends in Nehawka to tell us more in a minute than we could believe in a month, so away he went with a story of the west, where he said that the fogs were heavy, not so heavy quite as the London fogs, and while he and family were sojourning in the west, they arose one morning early and went fishing, going about a mile from their cabin, where the creek was thought to be and throwing in their hooks fished with good success for fifty-four fish, and just as they had concluded to discontinue a breeze sprang up and cleared the fog away and they were surprised to find that they had been fishing a half mile from the creek, but as the fog was dense, they were able to land the fish. Well we believed the story to be a fish story.

Depart for the West.
On last Friday, Frank P. Sheldon and wife and Mrs. M. Tucker departed for the western portion of the state, where Mr. Sheldon was called to look after some business matters which he had in hand, and after the conclusion of the business in hand they went on to a number of points in Colorado, where they will visit at a number of the wonderful places in the west, and enjoy the coolness of the climate. They are driving and will enjoy the trip as they can go where they best like and will expect to be away for some time.

Enjoy Family Reunion Sunday.
On last Sunday a most delightful day for the event, the members of the Schlichtemeier family, which has many branches and extends over considerable country met at the park at Syracuse where they renewed family ties, and enjoyed the visit with each other as well as a most bountiful dinner. There were there for the occasion Messrs. and Mesdames W. T. Schlichtemeier, Frank Schlichtemeier, Omar Schlichtemeier and Paul Schlichtemeier all of Nehawka and vicinity, with their families; Ronald Schlichtemeier and wife of Elmwood, and a number of the family from Iowa. A most delightful time was had and it was the sense of the members present that they meet annually and enjoy these events.

LUCY P. ARNOLD

Lucy P. Arnold was born at Norwich, Conn., Jan. 21st, 1843 and died at Plattsmouth, Neb., Aug. 20, 1928.

When she was a young woman she adopted teaching as her profession, which she followed for 30 years. She was 5th in direct descent from Roger Williams, the founder of Providence, Rhode Island. On the mother's side, the ancestors came over in the Mayflower.

Miss Arnold was a woman of strong character. Her main object in life was unselfish consideration of others which she exhibited in an unusual degree.

Miss Arnold came west with Rev. Frank Hayward's family to Glenwood, Iowa, and in 1896 she came to Plattsmouth, Nebraska to make her home with her friend, Miss Olive Gass.

This became her permanent and happy home for 32 years. She lived in the west, and when Rev. Hayward's family returned to Connecticut, she chose to remain in the west where she had made so many friends, and where she spent so many contented years.

The funeral services were held at her late home under the direction of Rev. H. G. McClusky, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, which she was a member. Rev. McClusky gave a beautiful tribute to the life and character of Miss Arnold, and words of comfort to the friends present to pay respect to her memory.

A quartette consisting of Mrs. J. W. Holmes, Miss Estelle Baird, Mr. George Farley and Rev. H. G. McClusky, sang a group of hymns of hope and resurrection among which were: "Abide With Me," and "Lead Kindly Light."

At the close of the services, the body was tenderly laid away in Oak Hill cemetery, for a long peaceful rest.

The pall-bearers were: Messrs. J. K. Pollock, Henry Goos, Hill Wescott, George Staats, George Farley, and Ed Schulhoff.

"Asleep in Jesus! O how sweet
To be for such a slumber meet!
With Holy confidence to sing,
That death hath lost his venom'd sting."

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank all those who by their sympathy and acts of kindness, helped to make the death of my dear friend, Lucy P. Arnold, less poignant. Especially do I wish to thank our friends for the wealth of beautiful flowers that offered silent tribute of respect.

OLIVE GASS

Two sales each day until the H. Waintroub stock is closed out. Auction starts Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

More Responsive More Obedient Motors

GASOLINE quality determines the pep and the power your motor shows. It governs starting speed, pick-up, power on the hills and the work you get and the mileage you get per gallon. Because balanced Red Crown Gasoline rates high on all these points, it is Nebraska's most popular motor fuel.

Ideal for high speed and low speed motors with standard compression, the most perfectly refined gasoline does not prevent gas knocks and loss of power when carbon accumulations build up compression. It does not develop maximum power and fuel economy in the new high compression motors.

So a high compression Red Crown fuel has been perfected—RED CROWN ETHYL GASOLINE. This combination of always-reliable Red Crown Gasoline and Ethyl Brand of Anti-Knock Compound eliminates gas knocks and loss of power under all motor and driving conditions. It sets new power standards and gives smoother operation. It costs more by the gallon but less by the mile. Try it and see.

For economy and motoring satisfaction buy gasoline and motor oil where you see the Red Crown Sign—the sign of quality products and prompt, courteous, obliging service.

These two Quality Fuels meet all Motor Needs. The Balanced Gasoline "Knocks out that Knock"

5,000 Mongols Seize District in Manchuria

Chinese Expedition to Recover Territory—Japanese Are Uneasy.

Tokyo—The interruption in the communications of the Chinese Eastern railway make correct information concerning the disturbances in the Kulun Nor district of northwest Manchuria impossible, but apparently about 50,000 Mongols and Red Russians have taken advantage of the situation in Manchuria to seize the district in the name of the "Soviet Government of Mongolia."

The Chinese are sending an expedition to recover it. Tokyo is greatly concerned lest the trouble spread to Manchuria proper, endangering Japanese interests.

Tokyo—Japanese dispatches from Harbin, Manchuria, today said that there had been a serious invasion of the Kulun Nor district in northwest Manchuria by 5000 Mongol Buriat cavalry, alleged to be led by Red Russian officers.

Chinese troops defending the district were reported to have been defeated with heavy casualties and to be retiring to the east. Manchurian leaders were planning to reinforce the defenders from Kirin and Mukden.

The invasion temporarily suspended trans-Siberian railway service over the Chinese Eastern railway. A train from Moscow was held up a day and a night in the Kilingan mountains and finally allowed to proceed to Harbin.

Passengers reported the Chinese still holding Kharlar, which is entrenched. Chinese refugees were fleeing eastward and seeking refuge in the mountains.

For months reports have been reaching Peking and Tokyo of Soviet activity in outer Mongolia, which the Soviet already dominated, looking toward territorial expansion.

Japanese dispatches at present suggest that the invasion is a Mongol attempt to annex Kulun Nor under Soviet instigation. No Soviet reports have reached Tokyo, but there was some anxiety for the safety of the few Japanese residents in the railway towns. The affected district is approximately 10,000 square miles in area and lies to the west of the Kilingan range. The inhabitants are mostly nomads. Politically they are Chinese, the district being a part of Heilungkiang Province.

Two sales each day until the H. Waintroub stock is closed out. Auction starts Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

LOYAL TO UNITED STATES

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 21.—Dr. Patrick O'Callaghan, Irish athlete and winner of the Olympic hammer throw event, was praised by the national executive board of the Ancient Order of Hibernians in a resolution passed at the closing session of the annual meeting of that organization today for his action in spurning England's invitation to participate with the empire in an athletic contest against the United States.

O'Callaghan's letter of refusal was read at today's meeting and ran as follows: "I have seen too many Irish boys shot down at their homes by England's hired assassins to be willing to represent the British, and I know too well how America has provided homes for my people to be willing to compete against her."

A CURE FOR THE SMOKE EVIL

Anyone living in an average large city is familiar with the modern evil of smoke. A recent estimate made by the Merchants' Association of New York says that every inhabitant of this country must pay seventeen dollars annually for the property damage it causes. This is a minor matter, however, in comparison with the more serious one of health and comfort. Loss of daylight and the diminution of healthful violet ray are among the consequences of the smoke evil. It is a common thing, in manufacturing districts, for it to obscure sunlight. Recently in an eastern city an "all gas" apartment house was erected, a successful experiment in ridding districts of smoke. An increasing number of factories and industries are using gas, as it proves itself suited to their needs.
