Fast Fielding Marks Game for Plattsmouth and Visitors Outhit Locals But Unable to Win

From Monday's Daily—
The Union Pacific Gold Coast baseball team, of Omaha, which has made a good record the past season in the colored league of that place, was turned back here Sunday afternoon by the score of 3 to 1, the contest being witnessed by a very large crowd.

The game was one that was close from the start to the finish and while the work of Taylor, the colored hurler, was outstanding, his few bobbles were responsible for the loss of the struggle. Taylor fanned eight of the Plattsmouth players and held them to three hits while Swanson, local pitcher was nicked for six hits but which were scattered in as many innings and aside from one blow was not dangerous, and the visitors were kept in the hole all of the way through the game.

The outstanding features of the game from the Plattsmouth viewpoint was the fielding of Newman and Gansemer at short and second and while they were each chalked with an error in the final inning they covered a great many chances in the game. Ed Gradoville, featuring at first was the chief star in the hitting as his two bagger in the fifth frame sewed up the game for the Plattsmouth team.

The Plattsmouth team started the fireworks in the opening inning when William Patrick O'Donnell, the first man up, was passed to first by Taylor, Bill injuring his crippled leg in getting around the bases and Gansemer was substituted for him in running, Bill retiring from the game in favor of Ed Gradoville. Herold was out short to first, O'Donnell advancing and when Munger juggled the grounder of Newman, Bill reached third where Gansemer relieved him and "Gans" scored when Shirley was retiring second to first.

The Plattsmouth team were able to annex two scores in the fifth when Humbert Charles Swanson, local hurler was batting and as the time for the third strike arrived Taylor heaved a wild one that Swanny made a pass at, missed, and so did Young, the colored catcher, and Swany was safe at first and then Ed Gradoville, to show a little excitement poked one on the nose for a two sacker to the left garden and later scored when Young again missed one at home and Ed scored what was to be the last Plattsmouth tally of the game.

With a shutout starting them in the face in the ninth inning, the colored boys were able to annex one run. Foster and Owens were both out on grounders to Newman at short who threw the runners out at first base, when Stearno rapped one that Hans could not hold and the runner was safe and then Munger rapped one to Gansie who also juggled the ball and both runners were safe at first and second and when Grayson hit safe to right garden Sterano scored. The last put out was a feature, Triggs lifting a foul fly at third that Herold failed to hold, it bouncing from his glove but into the outstretched hands of Newman for the final out of the game.

The tabulated score of the game was as follows:

THE BENEFITS OF HIGHWAYS

Highways are an investment that pays real dividends and shows profits, according to Frank Sage, chairman of the North Carolina highway commission. In a recent speech, he showed what benefits have come to that state from mits fine roads.

As the first item, Mr. Sage listed relief to towns and counties and savings to road users, through reducing wear and tear losses.

Second, educational opportunities. Third, the rapid, cheap and safe transportation of agricultural products.

Fourth, factories avoid congested cents and labor needs no tenements in town.

Fifth, increased accessibility of resorts and places of scenic interest.

Sixth, the appeal good highways make to potential residents.

Seventh, social advantages, by doing away with isolation.

These are highway "dividends" that are paid in every state and every locality. A community that neglects building good and adequate roads in condemning itself to mediocrity and retrogression.

The H. Waintroub stock to be closed out at Public Auction beginning Saturday, Aug. 25th. Auction at 2 and 8 p. m. each day.

46 Years Ago—

We sold a suit of clothes to a young man this week whose father bought a suit of clothes in this store 46 years ago.—not many stores have that experience.—This man said to his boy in our presence something that made us feel good—it was this—

"Son whatever Wescott's tell you about their clothes you can depend upon—I've bot suits from them for 46 years and always found everything just as represented."

Clothing is a commodity you have to buy on faith—faith in the firm who sells it to you. We are human—and make mistakes but we have consistently tried to maintain the high standard set by the founder of this firm—reliable quality at one price and no monkey business.

you run the place. What would you say if some of those people persisted in doing things which kept you in the jump all the time to keep the place from burning up? Suppose you heard one of them say, when asked why he was not more careful about where he tossed his cigarette butt "Why should I care, it isn't my mill." Frankly now, what would you say?

After all, isn't that practically what we reply when we are persistently careless not only with fire but with other things, too?

There are hundreds of ways in which we can prevent fires. We can be careful with matches and with cigarettes. The largest single cause of fire in this country is cigarettes. In 1926 fire losses of $20,160,000 were caused by this one thing alone.

Before you throw away that match or cigarette be sure it is out. Before you throw away your lunch papers look for the rubbish can.

Do unto others as you would like others do unto you. This is one of the best rules of life ever presented to man. In your habits, is it too much to ask you to SUPPOSE IT WERE YOURS?—From Safeguarding America Against Fire.

MARRIED HERE SATURDAY

On Saturday evening at the parsonage of the First Methodist church occurred the marriage of Miss Lucreta E. Beckett and Mr. Glen F. Paulsen, both of Malven, Iowa, who motored to this city and after the wedding returned to their Iowa home. The wedding here was witnessed by the members of the family of Rev. Sortor.

SUFFERS SPRAINED ANKLE

From Wednesday's Daily—
Howard Hinz, son of Mr. and Mrs.

Fred Hinz, is suffering from the effects of a badly sprained ankle, the accident occurring Sunday at the home where Howard was engaged in playing. The lad jumped from the running board of an auto and in alighting struck his ankle on the curbing and which inflicted a very serious sprain and one that will keep the young man on the inactive list for some time.

Valuable articles given away at each sale.—Don't miss the opening day of the auction of the H. Waintroub stock—Saturday, Aug. 25th at 2 p. m.

Old Settlers Have Big Time
at the Reunion

First Day Dampened by Rain But Second Day Is One of Sunshine and Many Attend Event.

From Monday's Daily—
The first day of the fortieth anniversary of the old settlers of Cass and the adjoining counties was very rainy and nothing was done with putting on the well appointed program, with the exception of the evening. However the second day was surely observed with much eclat and glee, for while it looked like a frost just after the dinner hour, before the middle of the afternoon had come the crowd was so dense that elbow room in places was at a premium.

The speaking was good and with such eminent speakers as Ex-Governor Charles W. Bryan, the democratic candidate for the governorship this fall, Judge James T. Begley, judge of the district court and candidate for re-election, Congressman John H. Morehead, who is also the democratic candidate for re-election and Richard L. Metcalfe, who is the democratic candidate for United States senator. There was sufficient talent for the mental delectation of the entire countryside. All the addresses were good and filled with sparkling points which found fertile soil in the minds of the thinkers which composed the immense crowd of listeners. The entertainment outside of this was composed of horse shoe games which was well patronized, the cane racks and milk bottles which were topped over by the best balls, the pop corn stands and ice cream and lemonade and soft drink hawkers who served the people well. And at the same time a general good time was had visiting by the many people who were assembled together, who talked politics, business, crops, and many other topics which were pertinent. However, all enjoyed the occasion to the limit.
