Soil Saving Dams.

With Mr. Woods, of the Extension Service, we built a two by three foot cement soil dam for Merritt Pollard, Nehawka, one 24 inch tile for Fred Schomaker and two 18 inch tile for Harry Knabe, Nehawka. These are soil saving dams to stop the ditches that cannot be filled with brush dams.

Mothers Vacation Camp.

Twenty-four Cass county women attended the Mothers Vacation Camp at Camp Brewster, sponsored by the Extension Service, College of Agriculture. Eight counties, namely: Burt, Cass, Douglas, Otoe, Nemaha, Sarpy, Richardson and Washington, represented by 73 women. Miss Mary Ellen Brown, of the Extension Service assisted by Mrs. N. W. Gaines, music director and Mrs. O. C. Bruce, story teller, had the three days filled with good things for all. Stunt night and County Song Contest, showed that we all have some talents, one way or another. Camp Brewster is an ideal place for recreation and rest.

Health Try-out.

Wednesday afternoon, August 22nd at 1:30 o'clock, each club will have their best health boy or girl at the Farm Bureau office, Weeping Water, to try out for the State Fair. We will also pick the best style girl at this time. Watch for the notice next week to see who will represent Cass county in the health and style contests at the State Fair.—L. R. Snipes, Jessie H. Baldwin, County Extension Agents.

MOVING TO WASHINGTON

Mr. and Mrs. Frank V. Hranac visited at the home of Mrs. Hranac's parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. Belohlavny, and at the home of Mrs. John Zatopek, last Sunday.

They are on their way to Washington, D. C. where Mr. Hranac has secured a civic service position with the United States as an electrical engineer in the Navy department. Mr. and Mrs. Hranac are driving to Washington from Belle Fourche, South Dakota, where Mr. Hranac was manager of the Consolidated Power and Light company when the offer from Washington reached him.

Before leaving the Black Hills region they visited all its beauty and wonder spots. In their estimation the Black Hills compare with the Rockies.

Mr. and Mrs. Hranac will make their home in Washington.

Real Time is Enjoyed at the Mynard Picnic

Home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Wiles Is Scene of a Delightful Gathering Tuesday Afternoon

On Tuesday afternoon the members of the Mynard Community Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Wiles a few miles west of Mynard, where they had a most enjoyable picnic, which included the entire community as there were something over three hundred in attendance. The Mynard Community club is a most progressive association, and includes all the people of Mynard and surrounding territory, and with the organization they have many features for the benefit of the entire community which the club embraces having a community hall in the basement of the Mynard church, and have maintained their activities for many years which has consisted of relief work for this and other communities as well as missions, and programs and entertainments of all kinds.

The picnic which they gave on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wiles is in keeping with their idea and work. Judge James T. Begley was the principal speaker, his address being in line with community work and was most enthusiastically received. The Farmers union band of Louisville furnished the music, and many were the contests which furnished amusement for all present, a horse shoe pitching court for those who loved that sport, a ball game in which two teams were chosen Richard Livingston winning by a tally of 7 over the other captained by Lawrence Leonard, who made a close score of six runs. There were foot races, by the men, the boys and the ladies, but the one which elicited the most amusement and received the greatest applause, was the one when the farmer's wives pulled the men over the dead line, and received the great applause.

Another fact which had given the men some ease of mind was a contest of throwing rolling pins at a dummy suspended from a tree whether to give the wayward husband was in no danger is not known. However, no woman was able to hit the dummy with her weapon, the they stood but a few feet away. Withal it was a most enjoyable gathering.

W. C. T. U. MEETING

From Tuesday's Daily—
The W. C. T. U. held a very pleasant meeting on Monday at the home of Miss Elizabeth Spangler at 10 and Rock street and with a very pleasing number of the ladies in attendance at the meeting.

The earlier portion of the afternoon was taken up with the reports of the officers for the past year, which has been very active in the work of the society and the reports were followed with the greatest of interest by all of the party.

The chief matter of the day was the election of the officers and the following were selected to serve for the year 1929:

President—Mrs. Charles Troop.
Vice President—Mrs. Walter Propst.
Secretary—Mrs. V. T. Arn.
Treasurer—Mrs. J. E. Wiles.
As the business session took up the greater part of the afternoon, no program was attempted by the ladies and the enjoyable occasion closed with the serving of a delightful refreshment by Miss Spangler, who was assisted by Mrs. Luke L. Wiles and daughter, Mrs. Marguerite.

FORMER LA PLATTE MAN DIES

Henry A. Delaney, pioneer Nebraskan and former Omaha business man, died Saturday at his daughter's home in Detroit, Mich., after a paralytic stroke, according to word received here Tuesday.

Mr. Delaney was a pioneer resident of La Platte, Neb., and one of the first business men in Omaha. He was postmaster in La Platte in 1890 and owned a general store there for nearly 40 years.

He owned a furniture store at Twenty-fourth and Cuming streets from 1880 to 1885. Dr. Delaney retired from business in 1892 and lived with his son, Arthur G. Delaney, 2421 Dodge street, until last Christmas.

He was born in Bilston, England, February 19, 1844, and came to Sarpy county following the civil war. He married Miss Frances P. Daley, daughter of one of the oldest Nebraska pioneers.

Funeral services were held in Detroit Tuesday. Surviving, besides his son in Omaha, are two other sons, Carl H. Delany, Chicago; and Hugh P. Delaney, Cozad, Neb.; and two daughters, Mrs. B. F. Klein, 3466 Chatsworth road, with whom he had been visiting in Detroit, and Miss Gwen Delaney, New York.

FLYNN AT STRIKE MEET

E. Flynn, general manager of the Burlington railroad for lines west and vice-chairman of a committee representing 55 western railroads has returned to Chicago for an indefinite period, to resume negotiations with the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen in an effort to iron out difficulties arising from wage demands. Flynn returned from a first lengthy conference Friday.

Trainmen will vote whether or not they will strike, by September 2. The disputed point is the rule of western railroads which prohibits doubleheading of trains of more than 40 cars.

Pioneer Resident of Otoe County is Dead

Mrs. Emma McCarty Dies at Home in Nebraska City—Mother of Mrs. A. F. Sturm, Nehawka

Death removed another interesting Otoe county pioneer shortly after midnight Monday morning, August 20, when Mrs. Emma McCarthy, 77, of 203 Fifth street passed away. Mrs. McCarthy, widow of the late John McCarthy, prominent in Wyoming precinct's history, had sustained a stroke of paralysis three days before her death.

She was born March 22, 1851, at Wood River, Ill., the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Grosjohn, a family whose history is also linked with that of Otoe county and southeastern Nebraska. In 1857 the Illinoisans came to Nebraska territory, when she was six years old. Here she obtained a pioneer and education and on March 4, 1866, was married to John McCarthy.

Almost immediately after their wedding the young people crossed the plains by wagon, after the manner of all travelers of that day and reached Black Hawk and Central City near Denver, Colo., arriving at Central City, then in the hey-day of its mining glory, July 3, 1866. The situation did not appeal to them, however, and they returned to Nebraska in August of the same year.

Mr. McCarthy died in Wyoming precinct February 3, 1888. His widow lived on the "home place" for about 30 years, then coming to Nebraska City to make her residence. During her long life in Otoe county, a period of more than 70 years, she has taken an active part in its social and business affairs. Her husband died when her children were young. With remarkable ability she brought them up. Her unflinching good judgment and matronly solicitude for her children and others in her neighborhood contributed much to their future welfare and encouraged them to be of splendid service to their community and its people. Wyoming people speak kindly of Mrs. McCarthy and her passing was a great shock to those among whom she had lived so long.

She is survived by the following children: F. H. and C. G. McCarthy, Union, Neb.; Nettie McCarthy, Lincoln; L. F. McCarthy, Omaha; John McCarthy, Wyoming precinct; Mrs. R. W. Atwell and Miss Bessie McCarthy, Nebraska City; Mrs. A. F. Sturm, Nehawka. Two children died in infancy.

She leaves also a brother, Albert Grosjohn, and a sister, Mrs. Anna Fey, Wyoming precinct. Eight grandchildren also survive: Victor Sturm, Hollywood, Cal.; Justin Sturm, American novelist, Westport, Conn.; Ralph Sturm, Dallas, Tex.; John O. Yeiser, Omaha, Neb.; all children of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Sturm, Nehawka; Mary, Emma, Florence, Elizabeth and John McCarthy, children of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. McCarthy, Union, Neb.; and Donald, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. McCarthy, of Union. There are four great grandchildren—Jack and Andrew Yeiser, Omaha; Alexander and Justin Sturm, Westport, Conn.

Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday from the family home with Rev. W. Alfred Cave of St. Mary's Episcopal in charge. Pallbearers will be F. H., C. G. and John McCarthy, sons; Wilber Fey, R. W. Atwell and A. F. Sturm. Interment will be in Wyoming cemetery. Eastern Star organization, of which Mrs. McCarthy was an interested member for many years, will be represented.—Nebraska City News-Press.

Blankets! Blankets!! Blankets!!!

Within half an hour after the store opened Tuesday we had sold one hundred and fifty pairs of blankets—up to noon we had sold more than three hundred pairs—

THAT is at least a third more blankets than this store—or any other here has ever sold before in an entire year's business—

The same offer we made on blankets today will hold good 'till Saturday night—if our stock holds out that long—we will give you your choice of any pair of blankets in the store with each each purchase of two pairs of the better blankets—

On Saturday the farmers will be in town—then watch these beautiful blankets go—we expect to sell as many blankets then as we sold this morning—and why shouldn't we?—with such a proposition?—They actually cost you less than four dollars a pair.

The Esmond Comfort blankets are so much nicer than quilts—the launder beautifully—Just as fluffy and soft after washing as the day they came out of the mill—

Salaried people who wish to have a couple of these blankets laid away for them until pay day may do so—a deposit of one dollar will hold them for you at just the same price—

This great sale is almost over—the automobile will be given away next Wednesday evening—don't put off your buying until it is too late!
