The Kind of People Who Can Make a Town

One Who Has a Real Pride and Interest in the Community and the Proverbial Grumbler.

Greetings had hardly been exchanged between a professional man in a Nebraska town and the casual visitor, who was there for the first time, before the resident began to talk of the new public library that had recently opened.

If the visitor had a few minutes to spare they might visit the library. They visited the library building. Then the host drove past a new grain elevator under construction and paused to renew acquaintance with the manager and learn its capacity and how much it was costing. Three new dwelling houses were being built in different parts of the village, and they were pointed out. A drive of a few miles into the country to see some of the fine farm buildings and the condition of the crops and fruit. The stranger was introduced to several citizens and was pleased to hear their proud comments on Nebraska and their own community.

Because the afternoon was hot and dusty the traveler stopped next at a neighboring village to buy a cool drink. A listless, unkept man came from a back room to the fountain without a word of greeting and seemed to wait reluctantly for an order.

He was the proprietor of the place he admitted, had been there for seven years; "seven years too long," he groused. He was asked about a new building going up. It was a new high school building, but "it will double our taxes." He had no pride in a recently completed church edifice. He complained of telephone and electric services and rates and was glad that buses and trucks were cutting into the business of the one railroad that served the town.

Making change without thanks, the proprietor returned to his moans in the rear of his store. The reader can visualize the two towns, almost of the same size. Do people make the morale of a town?

HONORED ON BIRTHDAY

From Thursday's Daily—The ladies of the Lewiston Aid held open house for the birthday of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Campbell, in honor of the birthday of Mrs. Campbell, this week.

The spacious Campbell home was decorated with many bouquets of lovely flowers, which added their beauty to the beauty of the home. At the noon hour dinner was served, after which a short program was given.

Those that came in during the day were:

Mr. and Mrs. John Parkening, James Fitch, Oscar Campbell, Andy Campbell, William Hutchinson, Mrs. Mary Fitch, Miss Thelma Hutchinson, Mr. Elbert Hutchinson, Mrs. Frances Allen, Miss Ione Bernard, Miss Esther Allen, Mrs. B. Thomason, Miss Idabel Thomason, Mrs. N. Geneville, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Campbell and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Campbell and daughter, Dorothy, Mr. and Mrs. George Parks and son, Carl, Mrs. Mary Wiley, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hansen, Guendvlyn and Dale Hansen, Mrs. Frank Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Nickles and family, Mrs. Calentine Gobelman, Mr. and Mrs. George Toman, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Vernon and son, Mr. and Mrs. John Toman and daughter, Dorothy, Milton, John, David and Arthur Toman, Mrs. S. A. Barling, Mr. and Mrs. John Hendrick, Mr. and Mrs. James Lancaster, Marjory and Harold Lancaster, Miss Bertha Nickles and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nickles.

PURCHASES SHEEP

From Thursday's Daily—This morning E. A. Oldham, who resides on the Falter farm west of this city, received two car loads of sheep that were driven to the farm where they will be fed and made in proper shape for marketing. A great many of the farmers of the county have in recent years been taken up sheep as a part of their farm program and several specialize in this line. The Warga farm south of this city has a very large number of sheep all through the year and recently their lambs topped the Omaha market in price. They are now feeding a large number and fattening them for the market.

SAYS HAD HELP

From Thursday's Daily—Charles E. Cook, mention of whom was made several days ago in the Journal relative to having cut the hedge along his farm south of this city, was a caller at the office last evening and stated that the article was misleading in that he did not do the work entirely alone as he was assisted by Charles Loveless and does not desire to have Mr. Loveless deprived of any credit that might be due him.

SET A GREAT RECORD

From Thursday's Daily—The H. M. Soennichsen Co., which is conducting a great summer clearance sale at their big store here, established a new record yesterday when they blanketed the entire community in one of the greatest offerings of its kind that has heretofore been offered here. The firm made a record sale on blankets and their showing for the day was one that equaled former records for an entire year in the number of blankets that were sold and to residents from all parts of the county. The sale continued through last evening to accommodate those who were unable to get in during the day to make their purchases and as the result of the sale there will be hundreds of families over the county that have taken advantage of the sale to provide themselves with the best and finest of blankets.

C. L. Pittman to Shoot in National Competition

Local Man Nead as One of State Civilian Rifle Team to Go to Camp Perry, Ohio.

C. L. Pittman, well known American Legion man and active in the Plattsmouth Rifle club, has been designated by Adjutant General H. J. Paul as one of the members of the civilian rifle team that will represent the state of Nebraska at the national rifle tournament at Camp Perry, Ohio, in September.

The team selected also includes two former members of the Plattsmouth Rifle club, E. H. Douglas, now of Lincoln and Clyde Hutchens of North Loup.

This is the first time that Mr. Pittman has participated in the national tournament altho Mr. Douglas was at Camp Perry last year to shoot over the course and made a fine record in his work and led the Nebraska members in the range work.

The shoot will cover several days and will be one that give Cordy a great chance to show his stuff in the shooting line.

BAND GIVES CONCERT

From Thursday's Daily—The Eagles band presented another of their excellent concerts at the court house lawn last evening and which was quite large and marked one of the last concerts of the season. The program was well selected and given and the various numbers were heartily enjoyed.

There will be no concert next week as Director W. R. Holly is to be at Grand Island where he is a delegate to the state convention of the American Legion and therefore will be unable to be in attendance.

The last of the summer program of concerts will be on Wednesday evening, September 5th at the court house lawn, the weather permitting. The band is planning a concert to be presented at the Masonic Home as a compliment to the residents at that place and which will be given after the close of the regular summer concert programs have closed.

These musical entertainments have been very delightful this year and made a diversion on Wednesday evening that has been enjoyed by a very large number of the residents of this part of Cass county as well as many from the nearby towns of Omaha and Glenwood who have driven here for the very enjoyable events.

HERE FROM CALIFORNIA

From Thursday's Daily—Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Rummel of near this city are enjoying a visit from the brother and sister of Mrs. Rummel, James and Dorothy Lister, of Los Angeles. The two young people made the trip from their home by auto and the trip was made in good time and without trouble or annoyance until they were almost near the end of their destination. Near Minden both of the young people became sleepy and dozed off to sleep and the result was that the car ran into a ditch and the occupants were shaken up, but fortunately not seriously injured. They continued on to this city and are having a fine time here meeting the former school friends and also enjoying the pleasant time at the farm home of the Rummel family.

VERY HAPPY OCCASION

From Thursday's Daily—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred I Rea in this city was made very happy yesterday by the arrival of a fine little son that came to make his home with them in the future and bringing a great deal of happiness to the entire family circle. The mother and little one are doing nicely and the parents are receiving the congratulations of the friends on the happy occasion.

Young People Soon to Leave for School Work

Large Number of Young People Planning on Taking Up Advanced Work in Various Schools

From Friday's Daily—The fast approaching days of early fall is bringing the thought of the young people who have graduated from the high school in the last year or in the last few years, toward the lines of education in some of the splendid schools and colleges in this part of the west.

There is each year a larger number of the young people taking up college work in various lines and this year the representation of the last year's class of the local high school that can be ascertained speaks well for the earnest thinking students that are preparing to continue their school work.

Among those who have signified their intention of continuing their school work there are a large number planning to attend the state university at Lincoln and also the state teacher's college at Peru, which have in the past received a large number of the Plattsmouth young people.

In the delegation that will attend the state university are Frederick Gorder, Linville Wiles, Edgar Wescott, Mary Ellen Valley, Gretchen Steger, while the students resuming their work here include Catherine Schneider, Violet Begley, Kathleen Troop, Harlan Gorder, Jean Spangler, Helen Wurl and Jean Tidball. The Peru list this year will include Joe Krejci and Russell Wasley, seniors this year, with Bernard Galloway, Ralph Mason, Marie Sperry and Don Schneider of the 1928 class. Creighton will claim two of the class, Ralph Gansmer and Henry Marshall entering the school of dentistry and Stuart Egenberger also resuming his studies at that school. The Wesleyan students this year will be Helen Wescott and Florence Wiles, a number graduating this year in the senior class at Wesleyan.

Students that will attend outside schools include Ursula Herold, who is returning to her senior year at Smith college, Frances Christ who is to enter Drake college and Martha Gorder who is attend Iowa university at Iowa City.

Several of the young ladies will take up nurse training at the opening of the school year, Misses Ona Graves and Louise Rummel at the Clarkson hospital, Miss Isabel Marshall at the Methodist hospital and Miss Fern Pace at the Lord Lister hospital.

RETIRED FROM BUSINESS

H. Waintroub who has been a familiar figure in the business life of the community for many years, is soon to leave this city to make his home in California and will sell his stock of goods here and be free then to go to the west coast where a number of the members of the family are making their home. Mr. Waintroub is the oldest business man in the city in years, he being in his eighty-eighth year and is still active and alert as men far younger and every day he has been at his place of business to serve the needs of his customers and to carry on the daily routine of the store. When the stock here is sold Mr. Waintroub with his daughter, Miss Henrietta and son, Edward, will leave for the west coast and expect to locate at Los Angeles where three sons, Charles and Louis Kirsh and Joseph Waintroub are now making their home. The many friends here will regret to see this veteran merchant leave the city but trust that he may find enjoyment in his new home in the west.

VISITING IN CITY

From Thursday's Daily—Mr. and Mrs. Francis Parish of York, Nebraska, are spending a few days visiting at the home of Mr. Parish, aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Valley north of town.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Parish are quite well known among the young people of our city who have attended Peru Normal, as they both graduated there last spring and were married a few weeks ago. Mrs. Parish was formerly Miss Enuly Ward of Rulo, Nebraska. They are now making their home at York, Nebraska, where Mr. Parish has an interest in a Rexall Drug store at that place.

LAND BRINGS A GOOD PRICE

From Thursday's Daily—Yesterday the deal was made between George Born and H. W. Young, whereby Mr. Born became the owner of the eighty acre tract of land near this city, which was formerly owned by Adair Stoebr, but was purchased some time ago by Mr. Young. The price was one of the best that has been given for some time, $207.50 per acre or a total of $16,600 for the farm. This is a very good price on the land and an indication of the confidence in the future of the agricultural interests of this section.

LAND BRINGS A GOOD PRICE

From Thursday's Daily—Mrs. Frank Kozacek, aged 23, died in Omaha and the funeral services were held in that city yesterday and were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Smetana and family of this city. The deceased lady was a sister of Mrs. Smetana and was aided in coming to this country six years ago by the sister in this city. After arriving here from her home in Moravia, the sister resided here for a time and later moved to Omaha where she was married. In her passing Mrs. Kozacek is survived by the husband and twin children, a boy and a girl, as well as the sister in this city. The aged parents of Mrs. Kozacek are still living in the old home in Moravia. The two little children have been brought here and will be cared for at the Smetana home by their aunt.

LAND BRINGS A GOOD PRICE

From Thursday's Daily—Little Dorothea Mae Duxbury, daughter of Judge and Mrs. A. H. Duxbury, was taken ill yesterday and seems to be suffering from a case of what seems to be summer flu, a great deal of which is reported over the community at this time. The condition of the little one last evening gave the parents a great deal of worry as the little daughter has only recently returned home from the hospital where she was treated and operated upon.

MRS. FULLERTON HOME

From Friday's Daily—Mrs. Ed Fullerton, who was injured a few days ago, has so far recovered from the effects of the accident that she has been able to return home from Nebraska City where she has been at the home of her mother since the accident. Mrs. Fullerton is quite weak from the great amount of blood that she lost from the wounds and has several severe lacerations that are giving her a great deal of trouble. The cuts on the head of Mrs. Fullerton were very severe and will require some time before they are healed up and the patient able to resume her usual activities. The many friends are pleased to learn that she has so far recovered that she can be home again and trust that her improvement may continue until she is entirely over the effects of the accident.

Apple Crop to be Very Short

Nebraska Will Raise Little More Than Half as Many as Last Year—Foreign Demand Good.

Nebraska's 1928 crop will be but 439,000 bushels, as compared to 850,000 last year, according to indications on Aug. 1, says the state and federal division of agricultural statistics. The commercial crop will be approximately 47,000 barrels as compared to 110,000 barrels last year. The United States crop, however, will be 7,000,000 barrels larger than last year and Canada expects a half million barrels more or a 12 per cent increase over 1927. Present conditions abroad indicate a good foreign demand for American apples and growers need not be alarmed over the predicted production of 33,277,000 barrels.

The five year average commercial apple crop for this country is 33,196,000 barrels and last year's crop totaled only 25,900,000 barrels. Last year's crop in Canada was 2,810,000 but this year will probably be 3,157,359 barrels, making an increase of 7,724,000 barrels for North America over 1927. During the past month orchard conditions in New England and Nova Scotia have declined sharply but prospects in British Columbia and western United States are good enough to overbalance the eastern loss.

ENTERTAINS AT BRIDGE

Mrs. F. L. Cummins and Mrs. H. F. Ous entertained very pleasantly on Wednesday at the Cummins home on Pearl street, the event being an afternoon of bridge and in which a great deal of pleasure was derived.

The home was arranged in a most artistic color scheme of yellow and lavender which was carried out in the Nebraska state flower, the golden rod and the purple being used in this arrangement of the decorative plan.

In the playing Miss Dora Fricke received the first prize, Mrs. L. W. Egenberger, the second and Mrs. J. A. Capwell, the consolation prize.

In the serving the hostesses were assisted by Mrs. C. C. Wescott, Mrs. Kittie Roberts and Mrs. C. E. Hartford.

Mrs. Mary Cline of Omaha was an out of town guest of the afternoon.

LEAVING FOR OLD HOME

From Friday's Daily—Sam A. Moye, well known produce dealer of this city, who is a native son of the state of Indiana, is soon to glimpse the gleam of the candle lights along the Wabash, as he is leaving Saturday evening for a visit back to southern Indiana, his birthplace and childhood home. Mr. Moye is to spend the greater part of his time at Poseyville, Indiana, the family home and from there will journey around among the old time friends and neighbors who knew him as a lad. One of the familiar figures of the boyhood of Mr. Moye, his old time school teacher, Charles A. Greathouse, being absent from the Indiana home, as Mr. Greathouse is at New York City in his capacity as secretary of the democratic national committee. Mr. Moye will spend a week or ten days in Indiana.

DIES IN OMAHA

From Thursday's Daily—Mrs. Frank Kozacek, aged 23, died in Omaha and the funeral services were held in that city yesterday and were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Smetana and family of this city. The deceased lady was a sister of Mrs. Smetana and was aided in coming to this country six years ago by the sister in this city. The condition of the little one last evening gave the parents a great deal of worry as the little daughter has only recently returned home from the hospital where she was treated and operated upon.

Union Man is Killed in Plane Fire on Friday

Elmer Fahrlander, 20, Burned to Death and Ray Fahrlander Seriously Injured in Accident

From Saturday's Daily—Elmer Fahrlander, 20, was burned to death and his brother, Raymond Fahrlander, 23, aviation pilot, seriously injured in an airplane accident at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon at the field a mile and a quarter east of Union that Raymond Fahrlander has been using as a landing field.

The plane was a Curtiss two seated type and was owned by Raymond Fahrlander, who has been taking aviation training at the Omaha air field and for several months has been a licensed pilot.

The pilot who had his brother with him as a passenger, had made one landing in the field and was taking off preparatory for another flight when the accident occurred that resulted in the tragic death of the brother, Elmer and the serious burning of Ray as he tried to rescue the brother from the fuselage of the plane where he was trapped and unable to get out as the plane was a roaring mass of flames a few moments after it had crashed to the ground.

The plane as it was taking off had made two circles around the field for the ascent and as it rose, eyewitnesses state, the wheels of the plane struck the top branches of the large cottonwood tree, a landmark in the field, which evidently damaged the plane and it then crashed to the ground landing across the road from the field with terrific force. The engine of the plane was driven back into the seat that was occupied by Elmer Fahrlander, who was pinned there as the flames swept the machine.

Dan Porter, Nebraska City undertaker, was a quarter of a mile away, saw the plane as it rose over the tree-tops and then watched it burst into flames. He was the second man on the scene, a farmer having preceded him.

Mr. Porter was talking to T. E. Hathaway, Cass county farmer, when the ill-fated plane circled 200 feet above them.

"The plane made two circles of about a half mile," said Mr. Porter. "Then when the plane was descending as if to land, it struck the top of a cottonwood tree. There was an explosion and a burst of flames. Almost instantly we heard a crash."

Mr. Porter and Mr. Hathaway hurried to the spot where the plane fell. When they arrived Raymond the pilot, was frantic in his efforts to rescue his brother from the flames. Owing to the intense heat the pilot was unable to get close enough to the ship to pull his brother away.

The body of Elmer was charred beyond recognition. A farmer residing near the scene of the accident rushed Raymond Fahrlander to the St. Paul's hospital at Nebraska City where his injuries were being cared for and the pilot of the plane is suffering very much from the shock of the accident and the tragic death of the brother.

The injured pilot stated to the hospital attendants at Nebraska City that he thought that he had landed too hard and the plane burst into flames.

The two young men are sons of Herman Fahrlander, well known resident of the vicinity of Union, they living on a farm four miles northeast of Union.

MANY OLD TIRES

The often asked question of what becomes of all of the old autos and tires, can at least be partially answered by the H. M. Soennichsen Co. of this city, they having about all the old tires in this part of the state or Nebraska. The tires were brought in as a part of the contest being held at the big store for the Chevrolet sedan that they are giving away, the contestants being allowed votes on the old tires. All yesterday afternoon and up to 10 last evening, truckload after truckload of the old tires and tubes were being hauled in and deposited in the warehouse on South Fourth street which the company has secured to house the tires and old paper that has been turned in as an inducement for votes in the car contest. The greatest of interest was shown in the event and friends of the candidates were out to see that as many tires as possible were brought in to be credited to their favorite candidate.

WILL HOLD REUNION

From Saturday's Daily—Mr. and Mrs. Will T. Adams, old and loved residents of this community, are to enjoy the pleasure of a reunion here Sunday of the members of their family circle and which will be featured by a dinner at the farmhouse on North Eighth street and for the first time in many months all of the children and grandchildren are to be present. Mr. and Mrs. Max Adams and children, Margaret and Dale of Dannerbrough, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nielson and children, Maxine and Russell of St. Paul, Nebraska, Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Brown of Kearney, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Adams and son, Donald of Beresford, South Dakota, and Mr. and Mrs. Vance Pittman and daughter, Thelma of Murray, are the members of the family party that will be here for the reunion.

State Plans to Test Oil on Main Traveled Roads

Engineers Prepare to Try Out Two Stretches of Road in Effort to Improve Gravel

Oiled roads are to be tried out on the state highway system in Nebraska this fall, Roy Cochran, secretary state department of public works said at Lincoln Friday. Two stretches of highway, each one mile long, will be specially treated with oil as an experiment to see of the oil will stand up, Mr. Cochran explained.

One mile of highway north of North Platte and another mile east of Grand Island will be oil surfaced within the next month.

"We selected the highway north of North Platte to test the oil surface in the sandhill country where we have been trying to find something that would keep the gravel on the road," Secretary Cochran said.

"The mile on the Lincoln Highway east of Grand Island will give the oiled surface a severe test under heavy traffic. I doubt if it will stand up under ordinary traffic, but it may do the work in the sand hills."

Cochran explained that for the experiment north of North Platte gravel, sand and oil would be thoroughly mixed on the road so that there would be at least three inches of the prepared surface.

The Lincoln Highway mile gravel and oil will be mixed in the same way and will be dragged constantly until it is hardened by the travel of automobiles, which at that point average about 2,000 cars a day. For a short distance on the Lincoln Highway crushed stone will be mixed with the gravel and oil as a further experiment.

MAY OIL NEW HIGHWAY

"The department will not extend the use of oil on state roads until after the two experimental miles have been thoroughly tested this fall and winter and next spring," Secretary Cochran said. "We want to know how an oiled road will stand up under the most adverse conditions."

Secretary Cochran said that if the oil surfaced highway proved advantageous in the sand hill country it might be used on the new Polish highway that runs from Ansley through Broken Bow and on to Alliance, as that road ran through the sandy country much of the way.

ENTERTAINS FOR FRIEND

The home of Mrs. Ruth Thomsen in the Wurl apartments was the scene of a most delightful surprise party given by Hope Thomsen in honor of Edward Krug's birthday.

The hostess was assisted by her sister Ruth Thomsen and Mrs. C. A. Young. The dining room presented a beautiful appearance with the lace table cover over yellow. The centerpiece was a large fern but which turned out to be a huge angel food cake after being taken apart.

The color scheme was carried out thru the house, yellow and white being the predominating colors. Yellow home made ice cream and white cake were the refreshments.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Krug, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mullen, Mr. and Mrs. Lon Henry, Mrs. C. A. Young, Dick Marsh, Marie Wright, Edward Krug, John Newton, Mrs. Ruth Thomsen, Hope, Ruth and Saylor Thomsen. The guests departed at a late hour wishing Mr. Krug many more happy birthdays.

The hostess proved to be a royal entertainer.

ENTERTAINS FRIENDS

From Friday's Daily—Miss Helen Libershal was hostess on Wednesday evening at her home on North Fifth street to the members of the W. H. E. L., a bridge club and whose meetings are most enjoyable to every member. In the fascinations of bridge Mrs. L. W. Egenberger received the first prize and Miss Helen Egenberger the consolation prize. The hostess served very dainty refreshments to add to the completion of the evening of the rarest enjoyment.

Mynard Players Delight Audience at the Parmele

Mynard Men and Women Sponsor Clever and Well Presented Farce-Comedy.

From Saturday's Daily—Last evening a large audience at the Parmele theatre was delighted with the clever and well presented farce-comedy, "Safety First" which the Mynard community people has sponsored and which was given a cast of the members of this very live and active organization.

This entertaining play had been given previously at Mynard and it attracted the attention of a number of the Plattsmouth people who were present at the time and the result was that the local people were able to secure the presentation of the play here and the result was a real treat to the amusement loving public of Plattsmouth.

This clever play is from the pen of Sheldon Farmer and is one of the very best offerings of the recent years in a dramatic line, and its many clever situations and humorous lines kept the audience in a very happy mood until the final curtain brought the offering to the close.

The cast of the play included Homer Spangler, Henry Lyons, Ted Carey, Lawrence Leonard, Richard Livingston, Miss Vivian Livingston, Mrs. Henry Lyons, Mrs. Ida Cole, Miss Mary Ellen Valley and Mrs. Charles Barnard, every one of whom were well chosen for their various parts and gave a most entertaining presentation of the farce comedy.

With each succeeding revelation of the plot of the play and the audience was kept deeply interested and the snappy and clever lines of the production kept one constantly in a laughing mood.

The play last evening as well as its previous presentation at Mynard was directed by Mrs. George Weaver, of Mynard, and her very efficient work in this role of director added much to the success of the play.

The members of the cast can be congratulated on their splendid work and the director on the skill in which the production was handled.

Not the least of the features of the evening was the musical program that was given by the Cole orchestra preceding and during the intermissions of the play, the artists that comprise this splendid organization adding new laurels to their work as real artists.

The members of the orchestra at the theatre last evening were, Mrs. Roy Cole, piano; Sherman Cole, trombone; Mrs. Sherman Cole, violin; Mrs. A. D. Caldwell and Miss Jean Caldwell, violins; L. D. Hiatt, clarinet; Roy Cole and E. H. Schulhof, cornets.

The people of Plattsmouth feel very appreciative of the visit of their neighbors here with this play and trust that they may have another of these clever presentations to offer in the future, as the Mynard players are certainly showing a remarkable degree of talent in this line of work.

FUNERAL OF P. H. MEISINGER

From Saturday's Daily—Yesterday afternoon the funeral services of Philip H. Meisinger was held at the St. Paul's Evangelical church of which Mr. Meisinger had been a devout member for many years.

The funeral was one of the largest that has been held in the city as over 500 gathered at the church and in the parkways nearby to pay their last tribute to the memory of the good man that had been called upon to lay aside his earthly activities and enter on the life everlasting.

The great profusion of flowers and the attendance of the friends spoke silently of the deep feeling of regret that his passing had occasioned.

Rev. O. G. Wickham, pastor of the church paid a splendid tribute to Mr. Meisinger and gave to those who mourned a message of hope and consolation in their hour of sorrow and separation.

Mrs. Mike Kaffenberger and Mrs. Otto Pitz gave three of the old and loved hymns, Mrs. Minnie Ketselson at the organ, the members being the German hymn, "The Home of the Soul," "Rock of Ages" and "Face to Face."

The burial was at the Oak Hill cemetery and the pall bearers were selected from among the nephews of the departed.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

From Saturday's Daily—Last evening at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Hell, a delicious birthday dinner was served in honor of little Miss Joan Tickotter, on the occasion of her third birthday. The table was prettily arranged and the large birthday cake with the three glowing candles forming the centerpiece. Those enjoying the occasion were the little guest of honor and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hell, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Tickotter, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Hell, Miss Anna Hell and Miss Lella Piper.
