J. E. Grimes and wife accompanied by their son, of Vera Beach, Pa., have been visiting with friends and relatives in Union for the past week, departed during this week for their home in the south, and expect to stop on their way at St. Louis for a visit before they continue to the south. They formerly resided here and find it a very pleasant visit when they return.

Boys See the West. About three weeks since Pat Roddy and Melvin Toomey departed from Union, going via Lincoln and picked up one of their school mates, Clarence Clement, the boys all then going to the west and finding their route through the northern portion of the United States. They seen the Black Hills, and many of the very interesting places and continuing on to Seattle, they visited in Snohomish, Washington. Here they met Derwood Lynde and family, L. J. Hall both Senior and Junior. Here they found everybody prosperous and happy. At Tacoma they visited Allison Clarke. They also went to Portland, Pocatello, and Salt Lake City, and returned via Denver on their home trip. At Salt Lake City they visited the wonderful Mormon Temple, which the boys say is indeed wonderful.

Investigating the Accident. A. Koerling of Washington, D. C. was a visitor in Union on last Monday, coming as a representative of the government, to investigate the accident which caused the death of Elmer Fahrlander, he being a member of the Department of Commerce and of aeroplanes, and the accident which occurred was being investigated, as the government is seeking to prevent accidents and loss of life or injury.

Funeral of Elmer Fahrlander The funeral of the late Elmer Fahrlander whose death occurred on last Friday, was held at the Baptist church the services being conducted by the Rev. W. A. Taylor, and assisted by the Rev. W. A. Bowden, the latter pastor of the Methodist church, the interment being made at the Cowles cemetery.

Mr. Elmer Fahrlander was born in Mills county, Iowa, and with his parents, Herman Fahrlander and wife came to Nebraska and to Cass county when he was but four years of age. He spent the most of his life on the farm a few miles east of Union, and attended the school near the home or a time, then came to Union to school.

Following the graduation of his brother, Ray Fahrlander, as an air pilot, he became interested in flying and attended the air school at Omaha. They had been at Omaha, and were returning home via the plane, when the accident occurred that caused his death. In the passing of this excellent young man, he leaves to mourn his departure of his own immediate family, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Fahrlander, three brothers, Emil and Edwin Fahrlander of Brule, Nebraska, and Raymond Fahrlander of Union. Two sisters, Mrs. Edward Anderson of Brule, and Miss Helen Fahrlander of Union.

We are amazed and pleased at the wonderful progress which has been made in flying as well as other discoveries and inventions, still we are appalled at the death toll, which the flying has taken. Still do we realize that this young man like many other young men, has sacrificed his life, that the world might make progress. The stry pioneers gave their lives that a better country might result and the forecasts meted and the place which they occupied became homes of a contented, happy, prosperous people. This young man has given his life that the art of flying might be perfected and the nation be made safe from the inroads of a foreign power.

The parents and other relatives of this young man, have the sympathy of a host of friends who have learned to love and respect this young man.

United in Marriage Saturday. Last Saturday at Seward was performed the ceremony which made two of the young people of Union and Liberty, man and wife. Lannie Meade who is an employe of the Pearsley truck line, and who has until recently been making his home at Liberty, and where he met and loved Miss Lucille McKearney, of that place, and on last Saturday, in company with Mr. Harry Albin of near Murray, and Miss Mary McKearney, a sister of the bride, of Liberty, they went to Seward where they were joined in holy matrimony. The newly wedded couple will make their home in Union, where they have made many friends, and who with the Journal join in extending congratulations and well wishes.

Visiting in Union. Mrs. I. M. Gifford of Cedar Rapids, accompanied by her son, Arthur, and daughter, Miss Thelma, drove from their home to Union where they visited for a number of days at the home of G. S. Upton and wife and also at the home of L. R. Upton. Miss Thelma will teach the coming school year at Julian, south of Nebraska City, while Arthur will teach at Cedar Rapids.

Sells House in Union. R. D. Stine, as representative of the estate of his mother who recently passed away and acting under the authority of power of attorney conferred on him had the real estate and personal property sold on last Saturday, the property going to C. F. Harris, and bringing $1,100.

At the Baptist Church On the coming Lord's day there will be Bible school at the usual hour but no preaching during the morning or evening, as the pastor will not be at home.

Return From the West. On last Saturday evening Joe Banning and wife and their daughter, Miss Nola, who have been visiting in the west for the past ten days, returned home and report a very delightful trip at the most important points in the west.

Merry Mixers Club Notes. A good exhibiting of what the boys and girls in Cass county can do was given at the 4-H Junior Fair held at Eagle Tuesday, August 21st.

The girls belonging to the Merry Mixers cooking club of Union, with their leader, Mrs. R. E. Foster, attended the fair and the judging team of the club competed with two other Cass county clubs, the Sunshine club of Alvo and the Happy Hour club of Eagle, for county honors. The girls judged bread, muffins, cake, jelly, canned vegetables and fruit. Helen Watkins, Louise Foster, and Kathryn McCarroll of the Merry Mixers club, were declared county champions, and will represent Cass county in the food judging contest at the state fair. LOUISE FOSTER, Club Reporter.

PLATTSMOUTH WOMEN'S CLUB A few reasons why every woman should belong to the Plattsmouth Woman's club.

The motto is: "Unity in Diversity." Individuals may differ on political question—in religious belief—in the things they enjoy doing—in their manner of living, but in the heart of every mother is the longing to do and be the best for her family.

The Woman's club is the civic organization representing the women of the community. Every woman who craves a broader outlook for herself, a better community in which to live, should affiliate with the Woman's club, no matter in what community she lives. It has been said that the woman's club is the middle aged woman's chance at a college education. We know that when the clubs of the country begin activities this September that there are more than three million women striving for a broader understanding of the world's problems. We shall play and study and work together. Friendships will be formed that will enrich the life. Civic improvements will be attempted that otherwise would be left undone. A richer, fuller life awaits any conscientious member of the club.

There are four departments of work in the Plattsmouth Woman's club:

The Parliamentary—Leader, Mrs. Robert Hayes.

The Better Homes—Leader, Mrs. Erle Teepell.

The Music—Leader, Mrs. James T. Begley.

The Dramatic—Leader, Mrs. William Baird.

The general meeting occurs the first Monday evening in each month. The dues for the year are $1.50. A member may attend any or all of the department meetings. Not many things in this world are equally divided, but to each is given twenty-four hours each day to use. It is up to the individual to plan the days—so there is time for recreation and improvement as well as work.

The first meeting of the year is Tuesday, Sept. 4 (on account of Labor Day falling on Sept. 3) at Sunnyside, the home of Mrs. E. H. Wescott. Every woman who would like to join the club is invited to attend.

WILL GO TO ASHLAND From Tuesday's Daily—Charles S. Johnson, Everett Noble and Everett Gooding, who were formerly engaged here as yard men in the local Burlington yards, will after September 1st be assigned to Ashland and will take up their usual vocation in the yards at that place.

Messrs. Noble and Gooding as switchmen. The change will probably mean that the men and their families will have to locate in that city and which brings a great regret to the host of friends in this city and vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Rissi and family of Collinsville, Illinois, are here to enjoy a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Brown. Mrs. Rissi and Mrs. Brown being sisters.

Badly Damaged; Church Wrecked

Wire Communications to Former City Greatly Hampered—Loss to Farm Crops Heavy

Three persons are dead, one man dying and 28 others injured in a tornado which came from the south-west Sunday afternoon and struck in western Iowa, causing great damage to buildings in Oakland and Elliott and badly damaging Hillsdale and other towns. Crops were greatly damaged.

The dead: James H. Lewis, farmer, of Elliott. James H. Jervis, 5-year-old son of James H. Jervis.

One-year-old son of George Smith Elliott farmer.

The injured: Mrs. James H. Jervis, widow of James H. Jervis, critically injured. William Bressie, Oakland, not expected to live; suffered internal injuries.

Mrs. T. Jansen, Oakland. Mrs. Frank Clayton, Oakland. Tourists at Oakland who refused to give names, slightly injured. Twenty-five persons at Elliott were reported injured.

Home Demolished. The Jervis home was demolished when the tornado struck the farm. The farm of Clark Hall at Elliott was demolished, the house, barn and corral being blown down. The cyclone cut a swath through the corn field. E. Bogue, renter of the Hall farm, and his family were not injured.

The barn on the Bird Bishop farm, near Elliott, was destroyed. The farms belonging to Jervis and Hall are two miles southeast of Elliott. Communication with the city was cut off. At least one person was reported missing from the vicinity and rescue crews were combing the nearby farms for injured or dead.

All communication with Hillsdale was destroyed and no report had been received at a late hour Sunday night. The damage to Oakland was estimated at over 700 thousand dollars when the whole business district was badly damaged. The storm struck Oakland at 5:45 p. m.

Second Storm Comes. Practically every building in the downtown section was damaged and several were demolished. Many of the streets were impassable from debris. Twenty residences were destroyed and the two brick churches badly damaged.

The Masonic temple was destroyed and the Methodist and Congregational were wrecked, according to reports reaching Omaha.

The storm passed between Glenwood and Malvern, wiping out the farms of William Wheeler and Earl Dashner. Hall stones seven and eight inches in diameter fell in Glenwood.

It was reported piercing automobiles tops. The high winds passed high in the air over Glenwood and Malvern to descend on Oakland.

The tornado at Oakland passed through the old residential section and into the business blocks. After the first storm the skies cleared temporarily, but at 6:45 another storm struck. The second storm did very little damage.

Oakland and Elliott were plunged in darkness by the wrecking of the power lines. All communication with the surrounding towns was broken and power lines were laying on the ground, making the rescue work hazardous.

The tornado damaged all crops in its path. The corn crop was especially hard hit.

OBITUARY

Ami M. Grogg was born Oct. 12, 1863 at Kenoye Station, Ill. His father, having been wounded at the battle of Gettysburg, died three months before he was born. His mother died when he was three years old. He then lived with an uncle on a southern plantation until he was six years old.

At that age he went with his uncle to Plattsmouth where he lived until manhood and where he was united in marriage to Addie V. McCraig.

To this union five children were born, all of whom died in infancy. He came to Maywood August 5, 1895 and was in the blacksmith business here for many years, living here from that time until his death last week. Mr. and Mrs. Grogg have occupied the pleasant home, where he passed away, for thirty years.

Mr. Grogg had been a member of the Degree of Honor lodge in Maywood for many years.

He departed this life on Aug. 10, 1928, being 64 years, 9 months and 28 days of age.

He leaves to mourn his loss, his wife and adopted son Paul, his nephew Arthur and two nieces Hawthorne and Edna Campbell, who have made their home with him from their childhood. He had been a kind, loving husband and father, a good citizen and a true friend.

Funeral services were held at the Methodist church Sunday afternoon with Rev. Stanforth in charge.—Maywood (Neb.), Reporter.
