Mrs. Jensen or Ida Smith to be on Committee

Blair Woman and Daughter of Former Omaha Mayor Suggested for Democratic Post.

Miss Ida Smith, daughter of former Mayor Ed P. Smith of Omaha and Mrs. Odessa J. Jensen of Blair, Neb., were suggested Monday to succeed Dr. Jennie Callas as democratic national committeewoman from Nebraska.

Jerry Howard, candidate for the state legislature, proposed Miss Smith in a letter to John J. Raskob, chairman of the democratic national committee. He vouched for her loyalty, and recalled his own services for woman's suffrage.

Mrs. Jensen, who has been active in welfare work for ex-service men, was proposed in a petition to Arthur Mullen, signed by the women members of the Douglas county central committee: Mrs. Grenville P. North, vice-chairman; Mrs. E. W. Johnson, Mary Welsh Schaefer, Bertha K. Wadsworth, Gertrude May, Katherine Connell, Katherine Beister, Mrs. Gertrude Burke and Mrs. James H. Hanley. Mrs. Johnson qualified her endorsement with the proviso that Mrs. Effie Byars is not a candidate.

The women urge that an outstate woman succeed Dr. Callas. Mr. North, in a letter to Mr. Mullen, speaks of Mrs. Jensen's activities in the state and Washington county, and as a dry worker.

Let me add that she is the mother of several children and a lovely mother; that she is loved and almost worshipped by the wounded veterans of this state; that she is a Virginia Carter and that she has effectively for years kept Washington county upon the democratic side of almost every fight.

James H. Hanley Monday night took the pleas for Mrs. Jensen to Arthur Mullen at St. Louis, where the regional committee is to meet today, and where Mrs. Callas' successor may be named.

Mr. Raskob, in a telegram to The World Herald, said the appointment of a national committeewoman would be the duty of the state central committee. Tom S. Allen of Lincoln is chairman of the state central committee.

Donald Pitman Wins Honor at the C. M. T. C.

Best Rifle Shot in the Group of 597
Young Men at Training Camp
at Fort Crook.

From Wednesday's Daily—
Joseph A. Capwell, of this city, who is an officer in the reserve of the 17th infantry, was at Fort Crook yesterday where he enjoyed the visitors day and looked over the boys and their various competitive events. Yesterday was Omaha day and a very large number were present from the big city to look over the drills and the regular camp routine of the C. M. T. C.

Mr. Capwell reports that one of the Plattsouth young men attending the camp, Donald Pittman, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Pittman, has won recognition for his work in the camp by being designated as the best rifle shot in the camp and in which competition there were 597 students taking part and in this large number the Plattsouth representative came through with the best score on the range work.

The course was shot over the rifle range north of this city and where the young men spent several days in their training.

The art of marksmanship seems to run in the Pittman family as C. L. Pittman, the father of Donald, has been named as one of the members of the American Legion rifle team to shoot at Camp Perry, Ohio, in September.

Water Corpora- tion to Appeal Taxation Ruling

Will Seek to Have Order of Board of Commissioners Raising Valuation Set Aside

From Wednesday's Daily—
The Plattsouth Water Corporation this morning filed a transcript of appeal in the office of the clerk of the district court, in which the corporation seeks to have set aside the recent order of the board of county commissioners raising the valuation of the distributing system of the company and increasing the amount of taxes that the corporation was to pay in.

The commissioners proceeded on the valuation of $123,000 as was reported by engineers in the recent suit as the value of the distributing system and advanced the amount of taxes that the company should pay.

The brief filed in support of the appeal of the water corporation states that the corporation denies that the valuation is in excess of the amount that was given to the county assessors.

That the value of the Plattsouth Water corporation for taxing purposes amounts to only $87,725, is presented in the brief in the transcript.

It is claimed that the real estate of the county is not taxed in excess of sixty per cent and the personal property not in excess of fifty per cent in all parts of the county.

The case will be heard at the November term of the district court it is expected and the decision as to advance the amount to be paid in taxes be determined.

Curtis Cites G. O. P. Farm Legislation

Nominee Says Situation "Acute"
When Harding Went Into Office
—Kellogg Pact Praised.

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Republican efforts on behalf of agriculture in the party's seven years of post-war administration were detailed today by Senator Curtis, republican vice-presidential nominee.

Speaking at the invitation of the American Farm Bureau to a New York state fair assemblage, the Kansas senator confined his prepared remarks principally to the agricultural situation. He cited the passage of the emergency tariff act, the extension of farm credits through the intermediate farm credit act of 1923 and through the war finance corporation, and the enactment of legislation of co-operative associations.

Treaty Success Forecast.
The nominee also praised the Kellogg treaty for the renunciation of war, predicting its general approval in this country and adherence to by every nation in the world.

Taking up the recent farm legislation back in 1918, when the republicans won control of congress, the senator described the condition of agriculture then as "acute" and requiring "quick relief."

"When President Harding came into office on March 4, 1921, he and the members of the cabinet and republican members of congress realized that early action on legislation to relieve the farmers should be had," he declared, "so the emergency tariff act was passed and signed."

"Soon after President Harding was inaugurated a law was enacted authorizing the war finance corporation to extend further credits to aid in carrying and disposing of agricultural products and to provide credit for agricultural purposes.

Co-Operatives Authorized.
"A measure authorizing the organization of co-operative associations of producers of agricultural products was passed.

"The farm loan board was unable to meet the demands upon it for loans, and I introduced a bill authorizing 50 million dollars of the bonds, which enabled it to resume loaning on farm property. This bill was passed.

"The act on March 4, 1923, to provide credit facilities for agriculture and live stock industries is of the greatest importance, puts the agricultural producers for the first time on an equal footing with other industries in regard to credit facilities.

"The intermediate farm credit act of March, 1923, gave to the farmer longer credit, and provided for loans on stock, crops and to co-operative associations. Twelve intermediate credit banks were established."—World-Herald.

MRS. ALVIN SAUNDERS DIES AT AGE OF 94

Mrs. Alvin Saunders, 94 years old, widow of the last territorial governor of Nebraska, died Sunday evening at Omaha. Death is attributed to old age.

Funeral services will be held at the home, 212 South Thirty-fourth street, yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial will be in Forest Lawn cemetery.

Mrs. Saunders came here with her husband in 1861, when Mr. Saunders was named by President Lincoln as the territory's governor.

Later her husband was chosen United States senator from the new state and their home in Washington became one of the centers for capital society.

When President Harrison visited Omaha years ago he was entertained at the Saunders home. Her daughter, Mrs. Russell Harrison, married a son of the president. Mrs. Harrison has made her home with her mother at Omaha.

A son, Charles L. Saunders, died 18 months ago.

Mrs. Saunders' maiden name was Martha Barlow. She was born in Greencastle, Ind., in 1834. She was married in Washington D. C., in 1856.

Her husband's last appointment as governor was also the last official signature of Abraham Lincoln. Senator Saunders died in 1900.

WILL STUDY PART IN JAIL

New York, Aug. 28.—A cane has many uses, but one of them is not to emphasize a point in an argument. Emil Hoch, sixty-two-year-old comedian in the musical show "The Vagabond King" learned this today. For the next three days he will rehearse his part for the show's opening in Lancaster, Pa., Sept. 10, in jail.

Hoch, with a cane in one hand and the lines for his role in the other, was bound for rehearsals today when he became involved in an argument on an elevated train.

Frank Aiguier of the Bronx claimed the actor brushed against him on boarding the train. When they alighted at the same station, Aiguier told the judge, Hoch hit him with the cane.

"What shall I do," cried the actor when sentenced. "There are 200 people waiting for me at the theater."

The judge was silent.

MRS. DUXBURY ILL

From Tuesday's Daily—

The A. H. Duxbury family seems to be having their share of sickness in the last several months as little Dorothea Mae has just recovered from several days illness as well as two surgical operations, now Mrs. Duxbury is on the sick list with an attack of what seems to be the summer flu. She has been poorly since Sunday and made necessary Judge Duxbury cancelling his engagement to attend the American Legion state convention at Grand Island.

Smith Puts the Ban upon Open Air Speeches

Candidate Plans Extensive Use of Radio to Give Voters His Views
—Itinerary Not Planned

Spring Lake, N. J., Aug. 27.—Assured by political lieutenants that all's well in New Jersey from the standpoint of his presidential candidacy, Governor Smith started back today to New York, concerned chiefly over the arrangement of his speech making itinerary.

By next week, the democratic nominee believes it will be possible for him to announce where he will strike first, and give some inkling as to the states he will invade before election day.

One thing is certain, the governor will abstain from the open-air speeches to conserve his voice. He has expressed that determination at no outdoor rallies and will make no campaign speeches from the rear end of his train, once he sets out on his travels.

The nominee also is of the opinion that he should make only a limited number of speeches, at strategic centers, utilizing the radio to the utmost to spread his views to the voters of the nation.

Pow-Wow to be Held Friday at the Library

Monthly Meeting of the C. of C. to Be Featured by Commission
Government Discussion

The monthly open meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held on Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the auditorium of the public library and will be an occasion of more than usual interest as there will be discussions of a matter that has been given more or less attention in the past two years, that of the commission form of government for this city.

The officers of the Chamber of Commerce in response to an expression of the members of the organization at the last meeting will have two speakers, one on the affirmative of the matter in the person of W. G. Utterback of Nebraska City, finance officer of that city and Otto W. Meier, well known attorney of Lincoln, who will present the negative of the plan as applying to a city of this size.

The whole evening will not be talk however, as the Cole orchestra of Mynard is to be here and will give several numbers during the opening part of the evening that will be a rare treat and those who have heard this orchestra in the past can fully appreciate just what a treat this will be in every way.

GOLF TOURNAMENT ON

From Tuesday's Daily—

The qualifying rounds of the annual Plattsouth golf tournament are now being played on the local course and a great deal of interest shown with the various members doing their stuff preliminary to the big tournament that will formally open on Sunday.

The promoters of the tournament will give the entries until Friday evening to complete their qualifying rounds and that evening the drawings will be made for the classifications and the first rounds of play in the tournament.

So far in the playing Frank Horsack has the low score of 69 but a greater part of the members of the golf club have not yet played the qualifying rounds.

The opening of the tournament will be Sunday and Monday when the first parings will be played off and it is hoped that everyone that is drawn in the tournament will be able to play.

The entry lists are at the Fricks drug store and the golf headquarters at the Rosencrans barber shop and where the members can pay their entrance fee and get in the biggest sporting event in the city.

The old sharks at the golf game will have some keen competition from the younger members of the club it is anticipated and one of the best tournaments of the club is looked forward to by the golf bugs of the city.

FEELING MUCH IMPROVED

The many Plattsouth friends of
B. A. McElwain will be interested in learning that Mr. McElwain is now regaining his health very rapidly at Long Beach, California, where he is making his home with his brother, Roy McElwain. Bert has regained his strength and is able to be around every day and enjoying the summer on the beaches where the sunshine has had a very beneficial effect on his health and he also finds a great pleasure in meeting the many old time friends who are now located on the west coast.

Tentative train schedules and itineraries are being drawn up for Governor Smith at his campaign headquarters in New York, and while he is there tomorrow he is expected to talk over with the managers the routing of his special train.

There is little doubt that he will devote considerable time to the east, central west and some of the border states. Whether he will go to the Pacific coast remains to be determined, and the advisability of making a speech or two in the south is in the balance.

Surrounded by a cheering throng that had waited until nearly midnight to greet him, Smith delivered his first campaign speech on the steps of city hall at Newark, N. J. Forgetting all about his resolution not to tax his voice with open air addresses, he spoke for several minutes, then resumed his automobile trip back to New York.—World-Herald.
