Golden Text: "And ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free."—John 8:32.

Persecuted for Righteousness Sake

"Blessed are you when they shall revile you and persecute you and say all manner of evil against you falsely for my sake; Rejoice and be exceedingly glad, for so persecuteth they the prophets which were before you."

Paul and Silas had been persecuted while in Philippi, and had been put in prison and had been flogged with thirty-nine strokes, which literally cut into the flesh and was so severe that the blood ran down on the prison floor and the stocks which were used to hold them. Then when it was found that they were Roman citizens (and it was the practice of the Roman Empire to protect its citizens) those who had been guilty of this indignity were frightened lest just retribution would come unto them. They were willing to turn the apostles loose and very pleased to see them depart.

What a great privilege it must have been in those days to lay claim to being a Roman citizen!

There is a greater privilege all of you who read this may enjoy, yet many of us do not even feel grateful for it—the privilege of being a member of the greatest thing in all the world, save one—the privilege of being a real, true American citizen. That privilege is worth more than being a member of any foreign principality, yet do we appreciate the greatness of this privilege?

The lowest of an American citizen is high above that of any other nation on earth.

Withal, there is something higher than even this—it is the citizenship of Christianity. Paul was asked, "With what great price did you purchase citizenship in this Roman Empire?" and he made them this reply, "I was born free." While we are born into the citizenship of Christianity, it is given us to enjoy only through a great sacrifice—that of the Master of all the universe having given his life that we might live, and all we have to do is believe on him and obey his commands and this great boon is ours in exchange.

To be a real Christian we have to be thankful for the things which the Master has done for us. He gave his very life and went all the way for us—are we willing to go all the way for our fellow man? If so time are really and truly followers of the Master. Paul and Silas were willing to go the whole way, and they underwent whatever prosecution and suffering there was that they might be partakers with the Lord in the work which with the faith that Jesus the Christ is the Son of God, is able to save the world.

They Go to Thessalonica

Leaving Philippi, where they had been imprisoned, they sought a town where people would appreciate the good tidings which they were there to bring. They passed two towns because there was no synagogue there, for the Jewish synagogue was the place where they could get an audience in great numbers and they accordingly went thither. Their preaching attracted many people and they were much interested, but Jews who were opposed came from Thessalonica and stirred up the people and they sought to have the apostles arrested and came to the house of Jason, where they had supposed they would be and not finding them, for they were working elsewhere, they dragged Jason and a number of followers of the new faith before the magistrates, where they accused Jason and the others of creating trouble and after a hearing they placed them under bonds and later turned them loose.

Turning the World Over

In the complaint, the Jews recited that "These who have turned the world upside down are here come to us, or also." The testimony came from the enemies of the church, and of all righteousness, for they testified that the Christians had turned the world upside down. And, true, they have done just that. The world was in an awful condition on account of the sin that stalked abroad at noon day, for the people had forgotten God and did not obey or ever remember His commands, and the world was in one awful condition at the time of the coming of the Christ.

Why Was Christ Opposed?

Had there been no sin it would not have been necessary for the Master to come to pay the debt of sin on, but as all had sinned and come short of the glory of God, the world was lost, and something had to be
