Prepared Exclusively for The Journal.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Mapes were Lincoln visitors Sunday.

Earl Niday was attending the state fair for a few days during this week.

David Murray and family spent Saturday afternoon and Sunday with friends in Lincoln.

George Reynolds and family and Lewis Murray and wife were state fair visitors Tuesday.

Ross Niday and Cecil Niday were visiting in Lincoln on last Monday and attending the state fair.

Otto Ehlers and sister, Pauline, and Miss Ethel Becker were enjoying a visit at the state fair on last Sunday.

R. E. Foster and family were attending the state fair on last Monday, they driving over to the capital city in their car.

Jesse Crook and wife took their sons, Paul and Charles, to Hamburg, Iowa, where they had their tonsils removed by Dr. Wanamaker.

Delbert Smith returned on Sunday from a three weeks' visit with relatives at Fairbury, ready to take up his school work Monday morning.

Lee Farris and the family were enjoying the Labor day festivities at Nebraska City on last Monday, they driving over to the city in their auto.

Arthur Foster has two pigs on exhibition at the state fair, they being entered as the product of the pig club of which Master Arthur is a member.

David E. Eaton and the family were over to Lincoln last Wednesday, where they visited with friends and incidentally were in attendance at the state fair.

Ben Anderson was looking after things at the drug store last Monday, while Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Moore were visiting with friends at Lincoln and also in other portions of the state.

While P. F. Rhin and wife were called to Greeley on account of the sudden death of an uncle of Mr. Rhin, Miss Beulah Niday was assisting in the store and made an excellent assistant in the conducting of the business.

J. C. Roddy, while at his home over near the river, noticed four motor boats on their way down the river from Omaha, going to Nebraska City, where they were to participate in the boat races which were featured there on last Monday.

D. R. Frans is assisting with the work at the state fair this week and during his absence the lumber yard is being looked after by Uncle Daniel Lynn. Mr. Frans made a good choice in placing the yard and business in the hands of Mr. Lynn during his absence.

Among those from this vicinity at Lincoln this week assisting with the work of conducting the state fair are Pat Roddy, Melvin Todd, Herbert Ehlers, Clifford Garrison, Fulton Harris, Con Watkins, A. D. Crank, Arthur Foster, Rev. W. A. Taylor, Ray Frans, Hallis and Lucean Banning.

Mr. and Mrs. David Murray took Iowa McQuin and Margaret Murray to the Lord Lister hospital at Omaha Monday, where the girls began nurse training. Both are members of the M. E. Sunday school and Epworth League here and their many friends wish them success in their new line of work.

R. D. Stine, in observance of Labor day, closed the store during the afternoon and with the family went to Nebraska City, where they enjoyed the celebration which was put over by that bustling city. They were also over to Lincoln on last Sunday, driving over in the afternoon for a short stay.

Robinson Turns Fire on Defamers of Gov. Smith

Bitterly Scores Use of "Whispering" Campaign in the South—Raps White Attitude.

Dallas, Tex., Sept. 3.—Speaking in plain language, Senator Joseph T. Robinson, in his opening campaign speech for the vice-presidency on the democratic ticket today, stopped reading a prepared address to launch into a heated attack on the accusers of the party's presidential nominee. Tackling his prepared speech—a discussion of the democratic position toward labor—into his pocket, the senator edged closer to the microphone, and looking squarely into the crowd, began talking of Governor Alfred E. Smith and in a moment said: "The statement has been made that he is a drunkard."

He paused for an instant and then in a voice that carried to the farthest in the crowd, he shouted: "There's not one word of truth in it."

Crowd Applauds Utterance. The crowd, to a large extent a Labor day gathering, applauded and cheered, although up to that time it had not been a very demonstrative audience.

Mr. Robinson said it was regrettable that Governor Smith had been assailed unjustly and declared that within the near future he proposed to speak on what he described as the "whispering campaign" now being conducted in many parts of the south. He said that William Allen White, the Kansas publisher, had brought charges against the democratic standard bearer and sailed for Europe. From abroad, he went on, White issued a retraction and then a retraction, or a part retraction of the retraction. It has been said, he continued, that some official of the republican committee announced that the retraction should not have been given out.

"If Mr. White had been the man he should have been," the senator exclaimed, "instead of making a half-hearted apology, he would have made a full apology."

An American Governor. Robinson also said the statement was made abroad that if Smith were elected he would conduct a government of "priest rule," and that it would be an American government of the priest, by the priest and for the priest.

"He has not been a Catholic governor," Robinson shouted. "He has not been a Baptist governor nor a democratic governor, but thank God, he has been an American governor."

Senator Robinson's references to the democratic presidential nominee were made after he concluded reading a prepared address in which he set forth the attitude of the democratic party on the question of labor, advocating among other things a curb upon the use of injunctions without interference with the "righteous" use of the judiciary.

See Large Majority. Senator Robinson was introduced by Senator Morris Sheppard of Texas, author of the Eighteenth amendment, who said Texas would be a "doubtful state this fall—doubtful as to whether it will give the democratic ticket a majority of 200 thousand or 300 thousand."

This statement was greeted with applause as was the utterance by Mr. Sheppard that "Texas and the south are obligated to the democratic party," which largely was responsible for the admission of the state to the union.—World-Herald.

SPENCER PENROSE BOLTS

Washington, Sept. 3rd.—Spencer Penrose, brother of the late Senator Boies Penrose, republican boss of Pennsylvania for 25 years, and Richard Quay, son of the late Matthew Quay of the same state, have bolted the Hoover-Curtis ticket and will support the candidacy of Governor Alfred E. Smith, it was announced today by Henry C. Hansbrough, organizer of the Smith Independent league and former republican senator from North Dakota.

In both cases, dissatisfaction with the attitude of the republican party and Herbert Hoover toward prohibition was given as the principal reason.

Penrose, a member of the Union League of Philadelphia and the Republican club of New York, staunch party organization, has accepted a vice-chairmanship of the Independent league.

ROCKFORD IS JOYFUL

Rockford, Ill., Sept. 3.—Rescue of Bert Hassel and Parker Cramer from the arctic wastes of western Greenland continued tonight to be the chief topic of interest in Rockford. While full details of what had happened since the co-pilots of the Greater Rockford disappeared two weeks ago were lacking, announcement that they were safe and unharmed was sufficient to arouse Rockford to the greatest pitch of excitement since the armistice ended the world war.

The whole community is waiting anxiously for the full particulars of the rescue and the account of what happened since the morning of August 19th, when the two fliers were heard from as they soared over northeastern Canada on the second leg of their proposed flight from Rockford to Stockholm, Sweden.

LABOR RADICALS EJECTED

Swansea, Wales, Sept. 4.—The trades union congress shut its doors decisively today against all extremists. Tom Mann, a communist leader, was ejected when he attempted to gain admission and was forced to find a seat in the public gallery. Another prominent delegate who had been excluded by his union, turned journalist and thereby won a seat up front at the reporter's table.

The question of communism provoked a long and lively debate which ended in the passage by an overwhelming majority of a resolution instructing the council of the congress to "take steps to purge the trade union movement of the communist element."

James C. Roddy and the family were visiting in Lincoln and also attending the state fair on Wednesday of this week. They were deeply interested in the excellent exhibits which were gathered from all parts of the state, and the excellent display of machinery and the races, which were all worth while.

Made Merry Party

Last Sunday Frank Atteberry and family, of Kansas City, accompanied by Mrs. Atteberry's parents, Clinton Sisco and wife, also of Kansas City, and Jesse Atteberry, of Plattsmouth, making a fine party, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Atteberry, and all went to Lincoln on Sunday, where they visited at the state fair. The visitors after returning, remained for over Sunday night in Union and returned to their homes Monday morning, after having enjoyed the visit very much.

Visited Friends in Union

Last Monday being Labor day, Ben Hyde and wife, with their son, of Plattsmouth, came to Union, where they visited for the day at the homes of W. O. Burbee and Herbert L. Burbee, they driving down from the county seat in their car for the occasion. They were accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. W. A. Frazier, of Omaha.

School Opens Monday

The opening session of the public schools of Union was held on last Monday, when assignments were made and the books obtained and the students sent home to return Tuesday, when the real work of the school year was to begin.

Entertained Members of Family

Mrs. Mary E. Allison on last Sunday, at her home in Union, entertained for the members of her family, and where all enjoyed getting together and having a good time. There were there for the occasion her three daughters in this portion of the country. Mrs. John R. Pierson, of Auburn; Mrs. Will Clintberg and family, of Hastings; and Mrs. C. S. Stone and husband, of Oakdale; A. L. Becker and wife and Ray Becker, and Mrs. D. Ray Frans, of Union.

Hoover Takes Rest from Work on Labor Day

Brushes Aside Custom of Making a Political Address—Plans for Newark Speech.

Washington, Sept. 3.—Brushing aside a custom that calls upon presidential candidates to deliver their views on labor on the holiday dedicated to the country's workmen, Herbert Hoover rested today in the quiet of his home.

The few callers at the home of the republican nominee were intimate friends of the family, coming to welcome Mrs. Hoover from her visit to New England, or to chat briefly with their neighbor. The candidate broke his rest to attend a correspondence that had accumulated over the week-end, and to take a leisurely stroll in the neighborhood, but for the most part he remained at home.

While Hoover turned his back upon the custom of delivering a speech upon Labor day, he already has signified that one of the first speeches he makes after the holiday will be upon that subject in one of the eastern labor centers, probably at Newark, N. J.

Campaign Book Issued

Washington, Sept. 3.—First place in this presidential campaign, as mirrored in the republican national campaign textbook, is given to the farmer and the story of how the party in congress and in the White house for the last eight years has considered the agricultural problem.

The first installment of the textbook, dealing entirely with this subject, was made public today.

"The American farmer under republican administration has been given practically a monopoly of his home market." "In this home market, which is a protected market, he disposes of 95 per cent of his products at prices higher than are paid elsewhere in the world for like products."

Since 1921, it is stated, there has been made available to agricultural borrowers under the four institutions set up by republican administrations, the sum of $2,774,198,646. In the same period under the protective tariff, the farm price of wheat, corn, cattle, wool, etc., have increased from 20 to 100 per cent.—World-Herald.

TELEPHONE A HOUSE-HOLD NECESSITY

The people of Our Country look upon the telephone as a household necessity. As a result no other nation has telephone service comparable with ours.

There are as many telephones in the single state of New York as in the whole of Great Britain and North Ireland. There are twice as many telephones in the United States as in all the countries of Europe.

The telephone began in the United States and, due to American engineering and executive genius, vision and enterprise, has shown its greatest development here.

Union Players Refuse to Go on WOW Program

Remote Control Programs Are Cancelled; Action Follows Dispute Over Studio Group

Union musicians have been forbidden to broadcast by remote control from station WOW.

Orson Stiles, manager of the station, denied Tuesday there has been any break between the radio station and Omaha Musicians' union, but Lee Henderson, secretary of the union, said the order had been issued because the Woodmen of the World refused to employ a union studio orchestra.

"How could there be any controversy if we have not discussed the subject?" was Mr. Stiles' comment.

Missing From Program. But listeners have noted Tuesday that two scheduled broadcasts by union musicians did not take place.

One was the noon program by Randall's orchestra from Hotel Fontenelle. Al Finch's band went on instead. The other was the supper hour organ program from the Riviera theatre.

The union's ukase will prevent WOW from broadcasting the most popular Hotel Fontenelle, Ad Sell restaurant, Riviera, Krug park, Roseland Gardens and other points.

First Bow Settled. Similar differences between Omaha broadcasting stations and the musician's union were settled last winter when it was agreed that musicians broadcasting by remote control should be paid extra.

Now, however, the union feels that WOW should employ a union orchestra in its studio and unless it does so it cannot broadcast from places where union musicians are employed.

Henderson said KOIL, which employs a union studio orchestra, may broadcast from the Omaha remote control points.—Omaha Bee-News.

CREATES NEW POSITION

Foreign freight representative the title of a new traffic position created effective September 10, is announced by C. E. Perkins, president, traffic, Missouri Pacific Lines. H. E. Chonoweth, special representative of the Missouri Pacific in Mexico since February 1, has been promoted to the new post. His headquarters will be at St. Louis.

Mr. Chonoweth, formerly a representative in the United States for National Railways of Mexico, played a prominent part in work that has been carried on recently to re-establish the tourist business and trade and traffic between Mexico and American interests in both countries.

Strengthening the foreign freight section of the Missouri Pacific traffic organization is being done, Mr. Perkins explained, in line with the policies of the Missouri Pacific Lines to improve and extend the service of railroad in every way that can justify. Mr. Chonoweth will report to O. C. Olsen, general foreign freight agent. A successor for the Missouri Pacific post in Mexico has not been announced.

Telephone to Link the Finns with Sweden

New Cable Is Now Being Laid From Norrtelje to Finnviken—Cost 500,000 Kronor

Stockholm—The first part of the laying of the telephone cable between Sweden and Finland, stretching from Sweden to Aaland, which is about halfway between the two countries was started recently. The work begun at Norrtelje, Sweden from abroad the German boat where the Swedish Minister of communications and representatives of the Swedish Telegraph and Telephone departments as well as representatives from Finland, Norway and Denmark, were assembled.

According to calculations the whole sea cable, which is the longest for telephonic use in Europe, will be laid by the beginning of September and the first telephone conversation between Finland and Sweden should take place about the beginning of November. The cost of the Swedish portion which is 153 kilometers long on the sea, is 500,000 kronor. One hundred men are now at work on this cable.

According to an agreement between Finland and Sweden, signed by both countries, Finland will be able to have telephonic connections

FARM BUREAU NOTES

State Fair Exhibits.

The 4-H clubs of Cass county have the following exhibits at the state fair: 40 pigs, 14 baby beavers, 6 dairy calves, 50 chickens, 10 entries of corn, 8 entries of potatoes, 90 pieces of clothing, 14 entries of cooking and 40 entries of canned goods. This makes a good showing for Cass county and we are expecting the club boys and girls to have some of the winning exhibits.

County Fair.

County fair comes a little earlier this fall, Sept. 19-21. If you haven't your exhibit ready let's begin to think about it, for it takes a contribution from one and all to make the fair worth-while. Write to W. Earl Towle, Weeping Water, for entry blanks and information. To make this the best fair yet, be sure that you fill out your entry blank and send it in so that your exhibit may be taken care of immediately upon your arrival.

The Full Dinner Pail.

It will soon be time for mothers to fill the school dinner pail each morning. Perhaps the greatest dread of youngsters starting to school is the same old dried out sandwiches each noon. Different kinds of sandwiches are all right, but why not vary the different kinds of breads. Raisins, dried currants, and nuts may be added to either white or whole wheat bread to give it a different flavor. A sandwich can easily be cut in different shapes with a cookie cutter. This always helps to change the monotony of the noon lunch. Some suggested sandwich fillings are: sliced tender lettuce, celery, cottage cheese, brown or maple sugar, baked beans and lettuce, chopped nuts seasoned with salt, nuts and grated cheese, scrambled eggs and crisp bacon, hard peanut butter alone, sliced boiled ham, pickled eggs and chopped boiled ham, olive oil, lemon juice, chopped pickle or ground pineapple, lettuce and mayonnaise. Sweet sandwich fillings help to make a variety once in a while such as prune, date, fig or raisin pulp, lemon juice and nuts, sweetened chocolate spread on Graham crackers, and honey and ground
