Will Rush Repairs on the Pappio Bridge

State Department of Public Works to See That Structure Is Replaced as Rapidly as Possible.

From Thursday's Daily—

The state department of public works is taking every means to see that the bridge on the King of Trails highway over the Pappio creek just south of Port Crook is replaced and the highway is placed back in condition for travel.

The bridge was washed out by the great flood of water that swept down the Pappio valley Tuesday night and early Wednesday morning, the flood reaching the floor of the bridge at 10 o'clock and the full force of the water striking the bridge after the midnight hour when the heavy rains in Douglas and Sarpy county came onto the east portion of the creek. The bridge gave way shortly after 4 o'clock in the morning when the top and floor of the bridge washed to the east to lodge against the Missouri Pacific railroad bridge, leaving only the pier of the old wagon bridge as a reminder of the fact that there had been a structure there.

The state department learned of the loss of the bridge at once and while State Engineer Cochran was absent out in the state, every resource of the department was turned toward getting the damage repaired. Representatives of the department were sent to the scene and with instructions to see that the bridge was replaced as rapidly as possible and within a forty-eight hour period if possible, although this is quite a task with a bridge of this kind where very heavy traffic is using the structure.

The state department has been hoping that the old bridge would last the use of the travelers until the arrangements for the change of the highway in that vicinity might be definitely arranged and which would then permit the building of a larger and more permanent structure over the Pappio creek and eliminating the grade crossing at Port Crook. However the forces of nature have decided otherwise and the state and federal highway authorities will have to erect a temporary bridge at least on the site of the old bridge until such time as the change in the highway can be made.

HERE FROM SWITZERLAND

From Thursday's Daily—

The Gering family are enjoying the pleasure of a visit from their cousin, Manfred Beyer of Amden, Switzerland. This genial and attractive young man is enjoying a tour of the United States and has been spending a few months in the eastern portion of the country with his relatives in New York City and is now en route to the Pacific coast. The young visitor from our sister republic of the old world is much impressed with the great nation in which so many of his relatives are located and his wonderful opportunity of seeing all parts of the country is one that he appreciates to the utmost. The fact that the world famous Alps are located largely in his native land has caused him to anxiously await the opportunity of viewing the American mountain states where the Rockies raise their majestic head through the western area of the nation. He will spend several days here and then will journey on to Los Angeles and San Francisco with short stays at Denver and Salt Lake City to view the great wonders of the west. Mr. Beyer expects to return to New York in the early part of October and then go to his home in Switzerland. Mr. Beyer was a visitor at the Journal for a few moments today and it was a great pleasure to meet this clever and genial young man.

HOLD FINE MEETING

From Thursday's Daily—

Last evening the members of the Junior Catholic Daughters of America held a very delightful meeting at the home of one of their members, Miss Helen Woolcott on South 8th street.

The first part of the evening was devoted to the business session of the society and was then followed by the general good time in which all enjoyed themselves to the utmost.

Besides the general membership of the society present the young ladies had five guests and prospective members in attendance. Vida Shiffer, Vilis and Josephine Murphy, Igna Reichstadt and Helen Sedlak.

ENTERTAINS MOTHER

From Thursday's Daily—

Mrs. C. H. Carrithers of Long Beach, Calif., entertained very informally at a 6 o'clock birthday dinner, Saturday, honoring her mother, Mrs. Mary E. Valley of Plattsmouth, Nebr., who celebrated her 74th birthday. Color scheme was in two shades of rose.

Guests from afar were Mrs. F. R. Cunningham of Nehawka, Nebr., daughter of Mrs. Valley.—Long Beach Telegram.

RETURNS FROM OUTING

From Thursday's Daily—

Mrs. E. M. Godwin, who has been enjoying a very pleasant visit in the neighboring state of South Dakota, has returned home after a very delightful time with the relatives and friends. Mrs. Godwin was at Merdo, South Dakota, for a short time with her daughter, Mrs. Harry Buffington and family and also stopped at White River and Winner, at the last place visiting at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Briggs and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Miller, former residents of Plattsmouth and who were most delighted to see a friend from the old home and sending back their greetings to the old friends in Nebraska.

City Football Team Organizing for the Season

Fine Array of Huskies Are in Prospect for the 1928 Season and First Game Sunday.

From Thursday's Daily—

The coming of fall has brought with it the decline of the glory of the baseball season and the resurrection of the old moleskins of the football warriors who are soon to flash on the sporting stage for their place in the spotlight of public interest.

The Plattsmouth football boosters met at the Krejci garage on Tuesday evening and started the first steps in the formation of the team that will represent this city on the gridiron in the coming season and started the proceedings by naming Harold Erickson as the manager of the team and who will have charge of the business affairs of the team.

The team this year will have many of the veterans of the last season in the squad and are also pleased with the prospects of some fast and aggressive new players to take part in the games that will soon be scheduled for the season from now until Thanksgiving day.

Among the last year players who will be in the lineup are Walter Reed, Frank Krejci, George and Frank Sedlacek, Kenneth Sullivan, Chet Renner, Louis Svoboda.

The team expects to play the first game Sunday at Malvern when they crash against the huskies of the Mills county town and while the weather is not ideal for the football season it will give the boys a good working out and some experience that will be valuable in the later season.

Games are planned with Blair and Tecumseh, two of the fastest semi-pro football teams in the state.

WORKING ON CREAMERY

From Thursday's Daily—

The brick work on the new building of the Farmers Creamery & Produce Co., is now progressing very nicely under the direction of Emil Walters and the walls of the building are rapidly rising and but a short time will be necessary when this part of the building is completed.

Andy Weinberg, who has had charge of the starting of the plant here has been called to Culbertson, Nebraska, in the interests of his company and will return in two weeks to assist in the final details of getting the plant all ready for operation. During the absence of Mr. Weinberg, A. B. Johnson, who did a great deal of work in getting the creamery started, is in charge of the supervision of the active building operations under the direction of the officers of the company.

The building at the corner of Main and Richey streets will be all brick and concrete and will be absolutely fireproof and sanitary in every way and conforming to the requirements of the state for buildings that are used for creamery purposes.

HAS TIRES CUT

From Friday's Daily—

Deputy Sheriff Rex Young as out to Murdock yesterday where he was called to investigate the breaking into the garage of I. G. Hornbeck, Rock Island agent at that place and the damaging of his car. The deputy sheriff found on his arrival that someone had got into the garage and proceeded to slash the tires on the car of Mr. Hornbeck rendering the tires useless and making necessary the purchase of new tires. No clue was found to the person that had committed the act.

BURIED IN PENNSYLVANIA

From Friday's Daily—

The body of Carroll Neil Baker, resident of the Nebraska Masonic Home, was taken yesterday afternoon to the old home of the deceased at Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, where it was laid to the last long rest. The deceased was born November 2, 1850 in Adams county, Pennsylvania and has since November 29, 1924 been a resident at the Nebraska Masonic Home in this city. He has been poor-ly for some time and died Wednesday night at the Home, the body being sent east last evening on No. 2 over the Burlington.

JOURNAL WANT-ADS GET RESULTS

From Friday's Daily—

The information given Sheriff Reed is that the young man had gone to Alliance and driving a car that had been purchased in Plattsmouth and after being there a short time had entered into negotiations to purchase another car and turn the old one in as part of the purchase price. It is claimed that Mr. Daniels represented himself as a man in the train service of the Burlington and that he wished to purchase the car on payments with the old car being a part of the consideration. To this the garage man it is claimed, agreed, but made a stipulation that the new car must remain in the garage until the matter had been gone into more fully by the garage owner. A short time later it is claimed, Mr. Daniels appeared at the garage and asked the caretaker for the use of the car for a half hour and being granted this permission drove away and has not been seen since, although the car was located yesterday at Glenwood.

Officers Recover Car Taken from Alliance, Nebr.

Car Driven Here by Forest Daniels Located at Glenwood by Sheriff Reed—Will Be Returned.

From Thursday's Daily—

Sheriff Bert Reed has just recovered a car that was driven to this city from Alliance by Forest Daniels. It is alleged, the car being found at Glenwood, Iowa, where it was being driven by a lady and the car was turned over to the Cass county sheriff, but so far Mr. Daniels has not been located.

The sheriff here was informed by the authorities at Alliance to recover the car and hold it for return to the garage at Alliance from which it had been driven by Mr. Daniels without the knowledge or consent of the owner of the garage and who had been negotiating with the young man for the sale of the car.

The information given Sheriff Reed is that the young man had gone to Alliance and driving a car that had been purchased in Plattsmouth and after being there a short time had entered into negotiations to purchase another car and turn the old one in as part of the purchase price. Sheriff Reed was notified today by the sheriff of Box Butte county, that the young man was also wanted in his county for passing a number of worthless checks that would aggregate a large sum and asking that the man be held if apprehended here.

PASSING OF MRS. COATES

W. W. Coates of Kansas City, Missouri, writes to the Journal a short letter telling of the illness of Mrs. Coates and whose death a few weeks ago brought a great sorrow to the many old time friends. In order to reach the largest number of the friends Mr. Coates feels that the message in the paper will cover all of the old time family friends in this section and which is as follows:

During the past eight years, we were advised on several occasions that a major operation would some day be necessary, but in every instance, those advising it, including the doctor who finally operated, informed us that her heart would not stand an operation at that time. We finally built the heart up to where it was pronounced safe, and on Tuesday morning, July 31st, the operation was performed, entirely in accordance with her wishes. Wednesday morning, she seemed to be doing nicely, smiled and talked to us, but Wednesday afternoon an infection set in and she did not rally again. At 4:30 Friday morning, she passed away.

Just before going to the hospital, Mrs. Coates showed me an envelope, which she stated contained a letter for me, should anything happen. Typical to her whole life, this letter was a masterpiece. Among other things, she had made all necessary arrangements for her funeral, requesting that certain poems be read at the funerals, and that she be buried in the cemetery. She was a very devoted wife and mother and during the services, her body should remain on a couch in an adjoining room in the chapel where it was covered with a beautiful quilt made by twenty-seven loving friends, from her former home. The names of the friends are embroidered on the back of the quilt. The services were held Saturday afternoon and during the night that followed, a terrific storm came up and it was comforting to know that her wishes had been carried out and that the storm was not spending its fury on an new grave.

The quilt referred to, had never been used but once before. Mrs. Coates had placed it on the bed to be occupied by our family doctor, who came from our old home to be present during the operation.

It is gratifying to tell you that Mrs. Coates, in spite of her ill health continued to practice her high ideals and unceasing charity to the end, and these qualities were even more exemplified in her last preparation and farewell letter.

Our home will be maintained, as Neligh is soon to be married to a very capable young woman, Miss Olive Todd, who will take charge. Miss Todd possesses many of the high ideals for which Mrs. Coates so staunchly stood and it was her desire, which meet the approval of all, that Olive should keep the home together.

NOT EXPECTED TO LIVE

From Thursday's Daily—

The condition of Father W. L. D. Higgins at the St. Catherine's hospital at Omaha continues very seriously and Plattsmouth friends calling there last evening found that hope of the recovery of this well known priest had been given up and his death at any time was not unexpected by the attending physicians. Father Higgins was taken to the hospital on September 27th and the friends were informed and his condition has been gradually growing more serious until hope of his recovery has been given up. The complications of the case have for several days given but little hope of his recovery.

Christian Church Workers Enjoy a Fine Conference

Local Church Will Have Four Representatives at National Church Meet at Kansas City

From Friday's Daily—

Last evening in response to the invitations extended there were some fifteen of the active department heads in various lines of the church activities of the First Christian church present at the church to take up matters pertaining to the church growth and advancement.

The response to the invitation was most pleasing and the interest shown was unusual and very pleasing to the new pastor, Rev. H. L. Grassmuck, who has just recently taken the charge here, coming from the Greenwood church.

The members of the conference showed the full interest in the work of the church and decided that these workers' conferences be continued once a month in the future in order that a greater action in the general church program might be achieved by the local church and the local organization that has been without the service of a pastor might have fuller stimulation for the plans for membership increase and interest.

It was also decided to hold the regular prayer services in the future during the week to bring a greater spiritual interest to the church organization and offer more opportunity in religious work to the members.

One of the outstanding features of the evening business program was that the conference voted to have the pastor, Rev. H. L. Grassmuck and wife and two lay delegates attend the convention of the Christian church that will be held at Kansas City in the near future.

At the close of the evening there was a very dainty luncheon served to all enjoyed to the utmost and which completed an evening of profit in the religious life.

GIVES SHOWER FOR BRIDE

From Friday's Daily—

Last evening the members of the Catholic Daughters of America gave a very delightful miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Margaret Siltman, whose marriage to Mr. Floyd Sealock of Omaha, will take place on Monday morning.

The pleasant event was held at the home of Miss Margaret Bergmann who with Mrs. Frank Mullen, Mrs. William Woolcott and Mrs. A. W. Viteranik, were the hostesses of the occasion.

The evening was spent in the playing of bridge, as well as rummy and which a great deal of pleasure was derived. In the bridge games Mrs. John L. Hadraba was awarded the first prize and Mrs. Herman Reichstadt was the winner of the consolation prize. In the rummy contests Miss May Rath of Chicago was winner of the first honors and Mrs. W. P. Sisman, the consolation.

The guests of honor was showered with a large number of very beautiful gifts that she will take into her new home as remembrances of the many friends in the organization of which she has been a very active member.

At a suitable hour dainty and delicious refreshments were served that added to the completion of the enjoyment of the evening.

FRED WEYERS HURT

Saturday morning while Fred Weyers was using a ten horse disc the horses became frightened and bolted. Fred got the horses under control when one of the animals started to buck and jerked him in front of the disc. Part of the risk an over him causing several quite severe cuts on his legs and some bad bruises. It was only good fortune that Fred was not more seriously hurt, and he feels lucky that he got out as he did although his wounds are still painful.—Elmwood Leader Echo.

Mrs. Elizabeth Streight Passes 84th Milestone

Highly Esteemed Pioneer Lady of This Community Enjoys Event at Omaha Thursday.

From Saturday's Daily—

On Thursday, September 13th, Mrs. Elizabeth Streight, one of the loved and esteemed ladies of this community and one of the few surviving pioneer residents of Cass county, observed the passing of her eighty-fourth birthday anniversary at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Margaret Jackson, 1923 South 33rd street, Omaha.

This charming lady who is enjoying to the utmost the declining years, had with her on this event all of the members of the family and many of the nieces and nephews as well as old friends from Plattsmouth and Omaha who dropped in for the day and no tender her the many happy returns of the occasion.

The event was observed first with a splendid birthday dinner at the Jackson home and later in the evening the "family" group of some fifteen were entertained at a theatre party at the Orpheum, tendered by William J. Streight of this city in honor of the natal day of his beloved mother, with the guest of honor entering thoroughly into the enjoyment of the occasion.

The dinner and theatre guests included Mrs. Elizabeth Streight, the guest of honor, her sons William J. Streight of this city and Edgar J. Streight of Portland, Oregon, who came to Omaha to be present at the birthday anniversary, Mrs. Mattie Sage of Maywood, Nebraska, a sister of Mrs. Streight, Mrs. Edna Evans of Lincoln, a niece, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wells of Omaha, the latter a nephew, and their three daughters and John E. Evans of Omaha, a grandnephew.

The members of the party are all well known in this city where they were practically all former residents. Mrs. Sage better known here as Mrs. Eugene Sage living here for many years as did also Mrs. Evans and Mr. and Mrs. Wells and Edgar J. Streight who was reared to manhood here and the old friends are delighted to know that they had the opportunity of being at Omaha for the fine birthday observance.

Elizabeth J. Wells was born in Ohio, September 13, 1844, and when a very small child was brought by her parents to the pioneer west and has spent practically her lifetime in Cass county, the family living at South Bend and Plattsmouth, altho the greater part of Mrs. Streight's long and useful life has been in this community. It was in Plattsmouth in 1863 that Elizabeth Wells and Henry J. Streight were married and here they have since lived, the family growing up here and where a number of years ago the husband and father answered the last call. In these long years Mrs. Streight has given her personal efforts in the up-building of the community and she was one of the group of pioneer women who in 1861 prepared the flag that was presented to Co. A of the First Nebraska as the regiment left for the southland to battle for the preservation of the Union. The wonderful personality of Mrs. Streight has made her a world of friends here who rejoice that she has been preserved to carry on her tasks of life for so many years. Of a very cheerful and genial personality she has been the source of cheer to the many friends and assisted them in their darker hours with the love and affection that has been such a marked part of her lifetime.

With the many friends the Journal is pleased to be numbered, and all join in the wish that the future may bring many years of happiness to this loved lady and that she may be with the family and friends to radiate her spirit of affection and geniality that has been such a marked characteristic of her lifetime.

JOE HIBER SHOWS PROGRESS

From Friday's Daily—

Joe M. Hiber, who is at the St. Joseph hospital at Omaha recovering from the effects of his long illness and recent operation for appendicitis, is reported as showing marked progress and seems well on the highway to recovery. Mr. Hiber has had more or less trouble with the appendicitis for the past several years and his condition became such that an operation was deemed necessary.

DOING VERY NICELY

From Friday's Daily—

The reports from the St. Catherine's hospital in Omaha state that Miss Pauline Gradoville, who is there recovering from the recent operation for appendicitis, is doing very nicely and seems well on the highway to recovery and with the present rate of improvement it should be but a short time when she is able to return home and be restored to her former good health. The patient has been in the best of shape for the operation and rallied very nicely from the ordeal.

SHOWS SOME IMPROVEMENT

From Thursday's Daily—

The condition of little Velma Shrader, who was operated on a few days ago at the Methodist hospital at Omaha, is reported as being a little improved but the little one is still in very serious shape and the outcome of her case one of the gravest doubt. Last evening the patient was so bad that there were no hopes for her recovery, she lapsing into unconsciousness must early today she rallied slightly and regained consciousness. Specialists are constantly at her side and every effort to give her relief is being made by the attending physicians.

Happy Hundred Suppers to Start in October

Rev. J. F. Poucher of Omaha Will Be the First Speaker of the Fall and Winter Season.

From Friday's Daily—

The Happy Hundred suppers which have in the past been a very pleasant part of the fall and winter season in way of community meetings for the men of Plattsmouth and the nearby territory, will be started soon for the 1928-29 season, the first supper being on Tuesday, October 9th and the place the Fellowship room of the First Presbyterian church.

The men who have been attending these suppers were very general in their demand that the suppers be continued and it was in response to this demand that the Chamber of Commerce voted to have them run through the late fall and winter months, one being held each month. The committee in charge of the suppers will be the same as last year, E. H. Westcott, L. O. Minor, R. W. Knorr, E. A. Rosenkrans and Waldeemar Seonichsen.

One of the big tasks of the committee is the ticket sale for the suppers and soon the members will start out the drive and hope to dispose of season tickets for at least the first three of the suppers which will make the task of the committee lighter and assure the men of the community of getting in on the fine meetings.

The committee has arranged for the first meeting as far as the speaker is concerned, the Rev. John F. Poucher, well known Omaha man, being the one that will deliver the opening address. The speaker is one that should be a most pleasing start of the speaking season and those who have had the pleasure of hearing this distinguished speaker will be more than pleased to know that he is to be the opening orator of the Happy Hundred season.

The committee has also arranged for six suppers to alternate between the Presbyterian and Methodist churches and the American Legion Community building, at the last named place the Auxiliary ladies serving the suppers while at the churches the various ladies societies of the respective churches join in the events.

WIND DOES DAMAGE

From Friday's Daily—

Arthur Troop, residing south of this city, was in today and reports that his portion of the county was visited by a very heavy wind storm on Tuesday night and Wednesday morning that in several spots reached the fury of a small sized cyclone and did a great deal of damage to crops as well as out buildings.

The wind was very strong all through that section but at several places took the twisting fury of a cyclone and tore roots off of small buildings and broke trees and limbs right and left in the path of the wind.

The corn fields were heavy sufferers from the storm as the path of the wind left many fields badly shattered by the wind with the corn broken down and in some instances broken off and will materially affect the crop in that locality where a very heavy yield was in prospect.

ENTERTAINS AT BRIDGE

From Friday's Daily—

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. James G. Mauzy was hostess at a most delightful bridge party at her home on South 9th street, the first of a series of two of these pleasant events.

The home was attractively arranged in the late summer and early fall flowers ad which gave added charm to the occasion.

In the entertaining and serving Mrs. Mauzy was assisted by Mrs. John A. Griffin and Mrs. John H. Halstrom.

A great deal of pleasure was derived in the playing of bridge and in which Mrs. W. J. Jorgensen was awarded the high score. Mrs. William Schmidtmann, Jr., second and the consolation prize to Mrs. J. B. Livingston.

Dainty and delicious refreshments were served at an appropriate hour that added to the enjoyment of the afternoon for all of the members of the party.

State Elks Vote to Aid Crippled Children Move

L. L. Turpin of This City Re-Elected as Secretary of State Association at Kearney

The convention of the Nebraska Elks association closed their session at Kearney this week on Friday with the election of officers for the year and the selection of Hastings as the next meeting place.

The state Elks named L. L. Turpin of this city as the secretary for the ensuing year, a recognition of the splendid work that Mr. Turpin has given in this most exacting office.

One of the chief features of the state meeting was the aid placed back of the crippled child movement that has been sponsored by the Nebraska Elks and which is one of the outstanding goals of the years.

It is not born of the present state convention of the Elks, having been practiced for the past year and with satisfying success. But members of the Antlered herd, having once launched themselves in this campaign, are determined to keep up the good work and at the business session held Thursday afternoon a step was taken in that direction, to make this effort an everlasting monument to the organization.

It was proposed and unanimously approved that a fund of $10,000 be raised by Elks of the state, the income from which is to be used in aiding crippled children, restoring their physical being and making useful members to society.

It was suggested by the committee reporting that every lodge pledge itself to aid in this effort and to their credit be it said that Plattsmouth, York, Columbus, McCook and Alliance have already, through their representative delegates, pledged themselves for their quota, a matter of about one dollar per member. Other delegates present virtually gave the assurance that it is certain that the proposal will be accepted unanimously by Elks lodges over the entire Nebraska.

Enthusied with the reception given this plan, A. C. McCloud, of York gave the movement further stimulation by pledging himself to make a donation of $1,000 to this fund when the $10,000 objective of the lodges of the state has been attained. He was given a fitting vote of appreciation by his brother Elks.

Under the McCloud provisions the fund must be raised by April 1, of next year and it is expected that the end of the present year will see it subscribed.

A committee composed of Gould Dietz of Omaha, Harry Sidler of Lincoln, Frank Reel or McCook, Dr. C. F. Fall of Beatrice and A. Schneider of Alliance is entrusted with the responsibility of seeing the campaign under way and carried to a successful conclusion.

In making its report, recommendations and appeal, the committee suggests that it is certain that a ten cent cigar, per year, will help one crippled child and give it needed hospital attention." It is a seeming small cost considering the wonderful good wrought and there is not an Elk in Nebraska who, in the opinion of the committee, will not rally to the movement.

The gift made by Mr. McCloud it is believed may lead to further donations on the part of Elks from over the state, financial aid beyond their expectation of one dollar per head and it may be possible, in time, to raise a sinking fund of considerable more than $10,000, the present goal, for perpetual care of these needy children.

SECURE MARRIAGE LICENSE

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 14.—(Special to the Evening Journal)—Marriage license was issued today at the marriage license department of the office of the county judge of Cook county, to Harley L. Becker of Plattsmouth, Nebraska and Miss Frances Kaymarck, of Chicago.

Relatives of the groom in this city were unable to state any definite detail of the wedding or the date of the happy event, pending word from Mr. Becker, who departed a few days ago for Chicago in company with his uncle, P. T. Becker. The many friends of the young people in this city have been anticipating the wedding for some time and the news of the issuance of the license is not unexpected among the close friends of the contracting parties.

VERY PLEASANT NEWS

From Saturday's Daily—

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Peterson of this city received a message yesterday announcing that a fine little eight pound daughter had been born to Mr. and Mrs. Edgar L. Peterson at the Lincoln hospital. The happy event brought a great deal of pleasure to the many relatives and friends of the family in this city where Mr. Peterson made his home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Peterson for a number of years.
