Country Homes Visited by Robbers Saturday

Officers Spend Saturday Night Searching for Burglars—Capture Car and Part of the Loot

From Monday's Daily—
Farm homes along the King of Trails highway from Mynard to Union were made the scenes of visits from burglars Saturday night and which caused W. R. Young, deputy sheriff and Tom Svoboda, acting deputy, to spend all night in search of the robbers or robbers, who were so hotly pursued that they abandoned their car and also the greater part of the loot.

The first robbery occurred at the home of Mrs. Ida Cole near Mynard and where the robbers made their way into the home by breaking a window, Mrs. Cole being absent at Plattsmouth at the time. However, the house was ransacked and the silverware, highly prized by the owner, was taken together with a hand bag which the robbers used to carry off the silverware. The robbery was discovered when Mrs. Cole returned home and the sheriff's office at once notified Mr. Young and Mr. Svoboda responded to the call to investigate the case, Sheriff Bert Reed being the north part of the state on some county business.

While the investigation was on at the Cole home the officers received a call from just this side of Union from the home of E. B. Chapman where the second raid of the burglars was made and where they had a close call from capture. Mr. Chapman and family were at Union and on their return noticed a light in the kitchen and as their car swung into the driveway Mr. Chapman noticed a car with a South Dakota license standing near the entrance to the farmyard. Mr. Chapman jumped from the car to investigate the matter and as he neared the house a man was seen to dart from the kitchen and start running in the direction of the car that had been left standing near the driveway. Mr. Chapman ran to the car and headed off the man who seeing that he could not gain the car, started to run in the direction of a grove and with Mr. Chapman in pursuit. When reaching shelter the man was able to dig in or hide and it was impossible to locate him. Deputy Young and Mr. Svoboda arrived in a few minutes after being called and started in to look over the situation. In the car that was captured was found several overcoats, an extra pair of pants, bundles of socks and shirts and the grip that was later identified as that belonging to Mrs. Cole and containing the silverware that had been taken from the Cole home. Mr. Chapman identified a saw, hammer and monkey wrench as having been taken from his home, these apparently having been placed in the car before the burglar decided on a farther search of the house.

The car and the loot was brought to this city by the officers and is in the custody of the county sheriff and awaiting the investigation of the case.

Deputy Sheriff Young is engaged today in searching for the man who was forced to leave his car and all of the nearby towns have been notified to be on the outlook for the wanted man and it is hoped that he may be located and brought to justice for his offenses.

ARREST DRUNKEN DRIVER

From Monday's Daily—
Last evening Lemon Bates, of Nebraska City, formerly a resident of this county, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Young and Officer Tom Svoboda, on the highway south of Union, where he was arrested after driving his car into the auto of Albert Robertson of Omaha, wrecking both cars and injuring Mr. Robertson very severely and necessitating taking him to the hospital as he was suffering from cuts and injury to his back.

Mr. Bates was found to be intoxicated and driving the car very recklessly with the result that he had crashed head on into the Omaha car. This morning Bates was brought before Judge Duxbury, the defendant entering a plea of guilty and the court giving him the limit of the law for this offense, sixty days in the county jail and a fine of $50 and costs.

This is the second offense of this kind for Bates as he was arrested a year ago in Otoe county for a similar offense and was then forbidden to drive a car for a year, his probation being up in September and he has apparently taken on the same war with the rum demon.

In addition to the sentence and fine here Judge Duxbury also entered an order that Mr. Bates should not be allowed to operate a motor vehicle for a period of one year.

Mrs. Emma Ratke of Tacoma, Washington, a former resident here, who has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ote for a few days, departed this morning for McLean, Nebraska, where she will visit before returning home.

CAR IS WRECKED

From Monday's Daily—
Last evening three Omaha people driving a Buick coupe, were caught in a small wreck west of this city near the Veterans fram. The parties were not familiar with the road and in going at a very good rate of speed the car ran into a ditch and was overturned. The driver of the car, Mr. Dayton, had a severe gash cut on his face and the other members of the party had gashes from the flying glass of the broken windshield as well as bruises. The parties were brought into this city and given first aid at the office of Dr. E. J. Gillespie and later were taken to Omaha and placed in the Lord Lister hospital for treatment.

Arthur Mullen Heard in Address Saturday Night

National Committeeman of the Democrats Here in Place of Congressman Crisp, Georgia.

Saturday evening a very pleasing crowd of the voters of the county, both ladies and gentlemen, gathered at the American Legion Community building to hear the addresses in support of the democratic ticket, both national and state.

The democratic committee and leaders here had been advised that Congressman Charles R. Crisp of Georgia, one of the leaders of his party in congress, was to be the speaker assigned here and the fact that he failed to be able to fill his date was not known until a very short time before the meeting, causing some disappointment to the committee as well as the voters, but the fact that National Committeeman Arthur Mullen of Omaha, came to the rescue and furnished the chief address of the evening served to give the assembled crowd a great speech and one that was to the point and full of logical facts and carrying the message of the issues of the campaign.

The meeting was presided over by J. A. Capwell, chairman of the county central committee.

Preceding the main address of the evening Attorney D. O. Dwyer opened with a few remarks that covered the course of the republican leaders in the cabinets of the past eight years, the traffic in the public domain, the leasing of the oil lands, the revelations of the frauds in the Veterans bureau, the scandals of the alien custodian office, all of which had been brought to light in the investigations of congress.

Mr. Mullen attacked the failure of the republicans to give an adequate legislation seeking to stabilize the farming interests also they had been in full control of the government since 1921 and a republican president had twice vetoed the farm relief bill and offered no substitute measure. Mr. Mullen also touched on the oil revelations and read the remarks of Senator George W. Norris as to the need of the republican candidate for president, Herbert Hoover, telling why he had not protested against the illegal leasing of the oil lands while a member of the Harding cabinet. Mr. Mullen also pleaded for the election of Charles W. Bryan as governor and pointed to the fact that Mr. Bryan had reduced the state's expenses and that the present administration had increased them and also advocated the taxes. In his close Mr. Mullen denounced the intolerance feature of the campaign that had been employed against Governor Smith, attacking the assaults against his religious belief as that of the dark age methods and comparing it with the assaults that had been aimed at the persons of German descent and language at the close of the war when the republican legislature had enacted the Siman law that would prevent the teaching of German in the schools, but which law was later declared unconstitutional and in which case the speaker had appeared as the attorney fighting the law, later had swept a great agitation against the Jews of the country and now the raising of the religious test for office holding which the speaker stated was warned against in the bill of rights of the constitution that has been made a part of the campaign against Governor Smith.

Heinrich Wilhelm Puls, son of Detrich Puls and his wife Frederike nee Franzmeier, was born on the 6th of June, 1845, at Donop near Lemgo in the principality of Lippe-Detmold, Germany. Here he was baptised the 22nd of June of the same year and here he was also trained and confirmed, where he spent his childhood days. He was united in wedlock to Miss Louise Engelke of the same place on the 12th day of February, 1875. Shortly after their marriage they emigrated to America, where they proceeded to make their home in the vicinity of Mt. Pleasant west of where the town of Murray now stands. Here a home was reared and entry made upon a homestead. Their wedded life was blessed with eight children, seven of whom are still living, being named in the order of their agency as follows: Mr. William Puls, of Plattsmouth, Neb.; Mrs. P. A. Hild, Mynard; Mrs. Fred Lutz of Murray; Mr. Otto Puls Murray; Mr. Louis Puls, of Cornish, Colorado; Mrs. Alfred Gansemmer, Murray, and Mrs. Emmet Ringwood, of Minneapolis, Minn.

In peace and happiness they passed their years of wedded life and six years ago they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in the circle of their children. Ever since he broke his limb last year, he had not returned to his former strength, and altho he was ailing a little here and there he never complained. On Wednesday morning, October the 3rd he took suddenly sick, to which he succumbed on Thursday evening, 10 minutes before five, October 4th. The immediate cause of his death was apoplexy. He attained to an age of 83 years, 3 months and 28 days. He leaves to mourn his death his wife, seven children, twenty-four grandchildren; six granddaughters; one brother, August Puls in Germany; one sister, Henrietta; four son-in-laws and three daughter-in-laws and many friends.

He was a true Nathaniel in whom there was no guile and among the still ones of the land. A loving husband, a good father, respected citizen, a good church member and a simple and faithful believer.

May it be true of him.

Blessed are they that die in the Lord from henceforth saith the spirit, for they rest from their labors and their works do follow them. May the eternal light shine upon him. Amen.

At the conclusion of the services the body was borne to the Oak Hill cemetery to be consigned to the last long rest, the pall bearers being selected from the grandsons of this splendid gentleman, they being Lester Gansemmer, Harry Puls, Raymond Hild, Leonard Lutz, Harold Puls and Verner Hild.

RESIDENCE IS BURNED

The fire department was called out early Sunday morning by the alarm from the west portion of the city, where the unoccupied frame residence property on Oak street just east of the Joe Mrasek residence was discovered to be in flames. The fire had gained great headway when discovered and it was impossible to do any effective work in saving the residence and in fact it was very hard work to prevent the flames from spreading to the Mrasek home, a short distance west of the burning house. The fire department had gone out the Louisville road where it was understood the fire was located and had some difficulty in reaching the scene of the fire on Oak street. The house was entirely wiped out by the fire and is only a mass of burned wreckage.

This is the second time that the Mrasek residence has had a close call from destruction as early this spring the fire residence, just west of the Mrasek place was burned and caused some hard work to prevent the flames reaching the Mrasek home.

The cause of the fire is unknown as the house has been unoccupied for many months and it is thought that some hobo or boys that might have gained entrance to the house had dropped a cigarette and which caused the fire.

The case was heard before the court on September 29th and has since been under advisement by the court until the handing down of the decision.

The plaintiffs attacked the legality of the petition filed with the council as representing the sixty per cent of the property owners and the need or the necessity of the paving and the creation of the district as a confiscation of the abutting property.

Happy Hundred Supper Proves a Rare Treat

Dr. J. F. Poucher of Omaha Is the Principal Speaker—Prize Winners of County Present.

From Wednesday's Daily—
The opening of the series of suppers given by the Chamber of Commerce and most appropriately designated "Happy Hundred," was held last evening at the Fellowship room of the First Presbyterian church and was a great success in every way and furnishing an evening of the greatest pleasure to all those who were gathered around the tables to enjoy the pleasant event.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church and arranged the settings and the menu of the occasion in their usual clever manner and the tables with the tall flowers and the glowing candles made a very attractive picture, while the menu was all that the most discriminating taste could wish for.

Searl S. Davis, whose cleverness in the role of toastmaster has given him a permanent place in the Happy Hundred gatherings, was the presiding officer and made the introductions in the usual pleasing manner.

While Hugh Wallace is in the city there is always something doing and the pleasing and talented gentleman was the official song leader of the occasion and gave added zest to the part of the program. One of the outstanding features of the supper was the clever stunt of "Alexander the Mystic," assisted by Mr. Wallace and both showed an uncanny faculty for discerning the past, present and future of the guests and their stunts that kept the audience in a roar of laughter, climaxing when Alexander was revealed as the long lost child of a doting mother, this stunt being the climax of the entertaining features. It was also discovered when the show was over that "Alexander" was none other than John Shields, who as a small boy resided at Plattsmouth and who is now assisting Mr. Wallace in handling the affairs of the Equitable Insurance Co., of Iowa in this state, Mr. Wallace being the state agent of the company.

One of the treats of the supper was the fact that the Happy Hundred had present as their guests the winners from Cass county at the state fair in the judging contests and who received in prizes something like $500 from the state and $300 from the county in prizes for their work since they have served as judging teams. These were the livestock judging team composed of William Brandt, Jr., Nehawks, Harold Wall, Elmwood, Irvin Nolte, Eagle; coaches Clyde Walker, Eagle, Paul Wolfe, Avoca, and which team will represent Nebraska at the International show. The team first in swine demonstration was composed of Jesse Livingston and Glen Hensger with S. Ray Smith as coach, Jesse Livingston was also first in crop judging. The Baby Beef team was composed of Clarence Norris and Robert Chappell and the coaches, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wolph, Clarence also being a high man in poultry judging. The poultry team was composed of Wayne Domingo, Clifford Domingo and the coach, Mr. W. E. Norris, this team winning first and placed champion demonstration team of all the farm demonstration. County Agent and Mrs. L. R. Snipes and Miss Jessie Baldwin, county extension agents were also in the party.

The presenters with the business life of the community were also greeted by the audience with a hearty hand and the names of those unable to attend were also read and applauded. The address of Dr. J. F. Poucher, gifted speaker, was very interesting and in his opening remarks related a great many stories that brought a great deal of enjoyment to the auditors. The subject of the address was "Where Do We Go From Here." In his remarks the speaker traced the advances that had been made in the lines of education, medicine, industry invention and machinery, the speaker tracing the gradual growth in the earlier days and the great and surprising strides that had been made in the last twenty-five years, the development being greater than in all time before and bringing to mind the question in the title of the speakers subject. What the future would bring in development with the strides that mankind was making along the way of progress was a matter that the imagination could not foresee and seemingly nothing was now listed as the impossible in this day and age.
