

Platters Lose to North Omaha High School

Score of 12 to 7 Is Result—Locals Look Good in Punting Game That Nets a Touchdown.

From Monday's Daily—
The Plattsmouth-North Omaha high school football game on Saturday was one in which the Platters showed a strong improvement in form over the game of a week previous against Tecumseh and while they were defeated by the score of 12 to 7, showed a renewed fighting spirit and increasing skill in their aerial attack on the Vikings.

In the opening quarter both teams had opportunities that might have given scores, but costly fumbles on the part of both teams lost the golden chance to cross the line.

The first touchdown of North came early in the second quarter when after an interchange of punts the North team was able to take the ball from the mid-field to the Plattsmouth thirty yard line, from where Raschke, half back of the Norsemen, broke away from the Plattsmouth players around right tackle for a thirty yard gain and touchdown. The try for point failed however and left the Norsemen with a 6 to 0 lead.

The second quarter also resulted in North again crossing the Plattsmouth goal line, in which Raschke also played an important part, he carrying the return of a punt from mid-field to the Plattsmouth twenty-three yard line. End runs then carried the ball to the Plattsmouth ten yard line and on the succeeding play Wargler was able to go over for the counter. The try for point failed.

In the third quarter the air attack of Plattsmouth was successful in bringing their touchdown, as a succession of passes well placed by Hadraba, captain of the Platters, brought the ball to the twenty yard line of North and then the Plattsmouth captain flipped the ball to Bob Hartford, local right end, for a beautiful pass that was good and the touchdown was made. The try for point by Fitch was good and gave the locals seven corners.

The last quarter of the game found North largely on the defensive to retain their margin of lead and they were able to stop the Platters from crossing their goal and winning.
