Up to date no candidate for a state office has ventured an opinion on the ovis poll.

New $10,000-bills will bear the picture of Salmon P. Chase. That's one way to attain obscurity.

More than 100 moving picture theatres have been opened in the British Isles in the past year.

It does seem peculiar, too, that some speakers have to explain that their remarks really are non-political.

One heartrending thing about this election—it will part those two wonderful friends, the Senate and Charley Dawes.

If Gov. Smith can run anything like the Yankees can play ball, he will not have any trouble taking the series from Mr. Hoover.

A telephone operator inherited a fortune and lost it at Monte Carlo. That's what the habit of wrong numbers will do for a person.

The vogue for color about the house is spreading, but there does not seem to be much of anything you can do with a tin cuspidor.

Wouldn't it be tragic if Mable, after rousing all the religious people to vote against Al Smith, didn't get the Federal Judgeship after all?

The following headline appeared the other day: "Boris, 34, ten years king and still unwed, celebrates." A little study in cause and effect?

An Ohio farmer was shot by a hold-up man the other day. He is said to have told the robber that the only thing he had to give was his farm.

Hope springs eternal in our human breast, and before we die we expect to hear Mr. Mable Walker Willebrandt's opinion on the matter.

The name of the new president of Mexico, Emilio Portes Gil, is pronounced "heel." Here's hoping the new president never has to take to his Gils.

There is a hot political fight on in the Carolinas, so far the governor of North Carolina has not wired the governor of South Carolina any interesting message about it.

Don't poke fun at the goat, for he may be an industry getter. Because there are approximately 500 milk goats in the vicinity of Falls City, Ore., the first Roque cheese factory in the west has been established there.

Many a child who was "good for a dime" grew up to be good for nothing.

Another thing, as we recall, that was built for two was the old-style baby buggy.

By the way, whatever became of that fellow who was all set to go to the moon in a rocket?

Still, we need never ask what happens to all the old political signs: They leave them hanging.

Occasionally we wonder what, if anything, the Chinese expected to get for signing some of those old treaties.

Statistics show that Chicago has more than 300,000 visitors every day. The spirit of adventure is not dead yet.

Nature maintains a magnificent balance. Just as watermelons go out, for instance, sorghum and pumpkin pie come in.

Nothing, we believe, so shakes a man's faith in the principle that the majority should rule as having the majority take the other side of the argument.

Still, Senator Fess conclusively proves that there are occasions other than courting a maiden when a man can use all the nice adjectives super-abundantly.

Twenty-four thousand ounces of opium was seized on a ship in New York the other day. Probably what the world series baseball experts had been smoking.

Sometimes we feel that the coaches might do worse than follow the example of the eleven-year-olds and just make up the rules as the game calls for them.

Freshmen were advised by a professor in an eastern university to get plenty of sleep. What most classrooms need, however is more comfortable chairs.

After all these years of trying, you'd think there'd be at least one city in America that would succeed in getting all its downtown streets torn up at once.

Paris says that skirts should be 40 centimeters from the ground. But it's a safe bet that some flapper in this country will wear hers at 41, just to be different.

And if it works out politically that Hoover can do more to alter the prohibition than Smith, logically, Smith can do more about Dr. Work's paramount issue, the tariff, than Hoover can.

WOMEN FOR SMITH

Governor Smith is being supported in his campaign for President by many of the ablest and most brilliant women in America—women who are leaders in numerous lines of activity.

Many of these women know Governor Smith personally, and it is not conceivable that they would be deceived in the man. Intuition, if not reason, often leads women to correct conclusions in measuring men and measures.

"Governor Smith is a practical idealist," says Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, chairman of the Advisory Committee of the Democratic National Committee. We start with Mrs. Roosevelt because her phrase, "a practical idealist," is so happily description of Democracy's great leader.

To quote other distinguished women:

"His mind is as sound as it is vigorous. You can count on Al Smith."—Ida Tarbell, author.

"Governor Smith exercises the powers of government in the interests of all."—Mary Hariman Rumsey, business woman.

"I have always been a Republican, but this year I am for Al Smith."—Anne Nichols, playwright.

"His record both for ability and character is unsurpassed."—Mary Simkhovitch, head of Greenwich House Settlement.

"His promises have selvaige edges—they do not ravel out."—Mrs. Harry Thomas, president of New York City Federation of Women's Clubs.

"Governor Smith has a rare honesty combined with great courage."—Alice Duer Miller, author.

"I admire Governor Smith as a man and as a statesman."—Annelie Rives Troubetzkoy, author.

"He is the greatest humanitarian we have had since Lincoln."—Mrs. Mary T. Norton, Congresswoman from New Jersey.

"We were Republicans. Now we are Al Smith Republicans—all fourteen of us. He keeps his promises," says Mme. Schumann-Heink, the singer, speaking for her family.

"Governor Smith has, as four times Governor, given women freedom and protection in work and wages. He is for human rights."—Gertrude Atherton, author.

"We need in the White House a man of Smith's integrity, independence and forthrightness."—Mrs. Casper Whitney, relief worker with Hoover in Belgium.

"I am for Governor Smith because he promises to meet squarely the issue raised by the shocking and destructive failure of prohibition."—Mrs. Meredith Nicholson, wife of the noted author.

"He has knowledge, sympathy, and statesmanship, which are the needs of the day."—Lillian D. Wald, head of Henry Street Settlement House.

"Governor Smith's record makes him the sort of candidate women can trust."—Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson.

"I am impressed by Governor Smith's intelligence and especially by his stand on the prohibition problem."—Blanche Yurck, actress.

"He is a splendid example of true Americanism."—Helen Hayes, actress.

"I know that thousands of women and children owe happiness and health to him."—Alma Gluck, singer.

"He will work out a truer form of Democratic government than we have had."—Lena Madesin Phillips, president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

"He has based his policies toward labor in first-hand knowledge of condition."—Mary Van Kleek, of the Bureau of Industrial Research, Russell Sage Foundation.

"I heartily endorse Governor Smith's platform. All women should support him on his record."—Cecilia C. Casserly, candidate for Congress from San Mateo, Calif.

"Governor Smith has made an excellent Governor."—Virginia Gildersleeve, dean of Barnard College.

"Governor Smith has secured the advancement of proper social welfare legislation in this state."—Mrs. Norman de R. Whitehouse, of the National League of Women Voters.

"I shall vote for the great Governor of New York State."—Minnie Maddern Fiske, actress.

"I am for Governor Smith because of his interest in education."—Mrs. Henry Morgenthau, Jr.

"Southern women are for Smith because of his progressive record."—Mrs. T. Darrington Semple, head of the Semple School, New York City, and sister of W. A. Gunter, Mayor of Montgomery.

"I approve his position on power, farm relief and efficiency in government." Gertrude Ely, war "Y" worker.

Same Price for over 38 Years. 25 ounces for 25¢. KC BAKING POWDER. Guaranteed Pure. use less than of high priced brands. MILLIONS OF POUNDS USED BY THE GOVERNMENT.

"I am heart and soul for Al Smith." Chrystal Herne, actress. "I am for Governor Smith because I admire courage and straight talking."—Ruth Draper. "He is a man whose character commands respect and whose personality creates enthusiasm."—Genevieve Clark Thomson, daughter of the late Champ Clark. "Governor Smith is the type of man we need in the White House."—Rosamund Pinchot Gaston, actress. "I am for Smith with all my heart."—Ruth Hale, author. "Governor Smith would improve the deplorable conditions that pertain to prohibition and enforcement."—Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, former Governor of Wyoming and a life-long prohibitionist. "I cannot stomach the present state of hypocrisy in our dear land. Therefore I am for Governor Smith."—Ethel Watts Mumford, author. "The ablest statesman of the twentieth century is Alfred E. Smith."—Edyth Totton, playwright. "I am supporting Governor Smith because of his liberal and progressive society policy."—Mrs. Maud W. Swartz, of the National Women's Trade Union League. "These are only a few of the many tributes paid to Governor Smith by representative women. These expressions give a number of reasons why Governor Smith appeals to women—his fine mind, his courage and vigor, his honesty and frankness, his sense of justice and liberty, his humanitarianism, his executive ability, his personality, his strong character, his statesmanlike qualities, his progressive policies and—foremost among the reasons why they should support him—his sympathetic attitude toward women, as revealed by his legislative and executive acts in their behalf. Governor Smith has done more for the welfare of women, more to make life bearable for the poorer classes and to help working women, than any other man in public life."

There is much good sense in the demand of Senator Norris for a constitutional amendment to cut the clumsy and misrepresentative electoral college out of our election procedure; but inertia and tradition are all against his getting much of a hearing for his project. DEFINING YOURSELF. A Democrat is a person who votes the Democratic ticket. A Republican is a person who votes the Republican ticket. There is no middle ground, no half-way station, between the two parties. You are either one or the other. Which are you?

CHESTER WHITE BOARDS. A bunch of good husky Chester White Boars, sired by "Snowbank," first prize boar at the Nebraska state fair, 1928. One good yearling sow to farrow October 23rd. FRED REHMEIER, Weeping Water, Neb.

BISHOP ANDERSON'S WARNING

Bishop Charles P. Anderson, speaking at the general convention of the Episcopal Church in Washington, warned against "the intrusion of politics in the pulpit and on the platforms of the church." Bishop Anderson said the church had more important work to do, adding:

It is one thing, however, to bring party politics and economic theories into the range of church activity. It is a vastly different thing to bring the forces of religious conviction and experience into action in our social and political life. Party politics pollute religion, but religion purifies politics. The church as such does not know political parties nor economic theories.

He might have added that participation in partisan politics by churches and the clergymen vitiates the influence of religion. In this presidential campaign the fezzed political activity at men like Bishop Cannon and Dr. Straton is transforming them from spiritual leaders into politicians. Whether the rank and file of religious persons will or no, these men are dragging them and the churches into politics.

Bishop Anderson voices the same and wise view, the one that in the long run must prevail.

OUR CANDIDATE. Because of the rugged worth, sterling character, and rare personality of its standard bearer, the Democratic party has this year attracted to its ranks men high in the realms of finance and ranks of business who have heretofore regarded Democrats with foreboding or suspicion. Governor Smith has made the Democratic party a broad national party of vision, a party that has definite objectives, a party of constructive purpose, a party in whose hands it will be safe to trust the reins of government. As the people of this nation know him better they will learn to love him more. He is destined to become in other commonwealths, as he is in New York, the idol of the masses, a man who is loved because of his hatred of sham, hypocrisy, and deceit, a man who exalts truth, honor, and justice, and a public official "who respects not the goods of the rich, nor the person of the poor, but who in righteousness renders his judgment."

Born of humble parentage, reared on the sidewalks of New York, fighting his way upward in the face of the most fearful obstacles, Alfred E. Smith deserves the plaudits of all the people for the eminence he has attained.

NOTICE OF SUIT IN FORECLOSURE. In the District Court of the County of Cass, Nebraska. Jennie A. Smith, Plaintiff vs. Frank E. Vallery et al., Defendants. To C. W. Burd, first real name unknown, non-resident defendant: You are hereby notified that on October 9, 1928, Jennie A. Smith, as plaintiff, filed her petition and commenced an action in the District Court of Cass county, Nebraska, the object and prayer of which is to foreclose a mortgage on the following described real estate, to-wit:

A square lot out of the northwest corner of the west half of the northwest quarter of Section 23, Township 11, Range 13, east of the 6th P. M., in Cass county, Nebraska, and more particularly described as follows: Commencing at the northwest corner of the northwest quarter of said Section 23, running thence south 147.58 feet, thence running east 147.58 feet, thence running north 147.58 feet to the place of beginning, in the County of Cass, Nebraska. To have said mortgage, which is recorded in Book 51 of the Mortgage Records of Cass county, Nebraska, at page 696, declared a first lien on said premises, and in default of payment thereof; that said mortgaged premises be sold; that you and all other defendants be forever barred and foreclosed of all right, title, lien, interest or equity of redemption in and to said premises and that out of the proceeds of said sale plaintiff be paid the amount due and for equitable relief and costs of suit.

You are required to answer said petition on or before Monday, November 26, 1928, or your default will be duly entered and judgment obtained in accordance with the prayer of said petition. Of all of which you will take due notice. JENNIE A. SMITH, Plaintiff. W. A. ROBERTSON, Atty. for Plaintiff. o15-4w
