When he found that there was a movement on foot for the building of a bridge on the site he was not much interested for it would require some time to advertise and get business for the proposed line and after this had been done at a good cost, and the bridge installed, it would result in a loss to the owner of the ferry.

She was united in marriage to J. Carl Robertson Dec. 13, 1889, passed away, November 6th, 1928 at her late home in Nebraska City.

The funeral and interment were at Nebraska City, November 8th at 2:30 in the afternoon. The funeral was conducted by the Rev. W. A. Taylor of Union.

Union Gravel Her Streets.
Union has graveled her streets in order that at any time of the year all people may have an opportunity to get to any portion of the hustling city.

They used during the past week some 12 car loads of 55 tons each of gravel, and which is adding much to the betterment of the streets. All towns are beginning to realize that it pays in the long run to have the streets so they can be traveled during all kinds of weather.

Red Cross Roll Call.
Is there a community which can boast that it is immune from any calamity or disaster and that it will never need the willing and helping hand of the Red Cross? Tornadoes, hurricanes, floods, epidemics, and other destroyers, are no respecters of particular communities. They are very impartial when they decide to go on a spree of destruction; they do not notify the communities that they intend to pass through; they come in like a thief in the night and destroy everything before them. They attack rich and poor, old and young alike; they tear the babe from its mother's breast.

Who administers to the sufferers they leave in their wake after the storm is over?
Local relief is usually slow, inadequate, inefficient; but the unselfish agency, the very efficient Red Cross, comes forth like an angel from heaven and alleviates suffering and reconstructs the broken homes.

Those who enroll as members of the Red Cross annually, or who make donations, are really paying a premium for disaster insurance. It is only a tick of fate that epidemics of the elements, strike certain communities and pass by others.

W. C. T. U. Meets.
The November meeting of the W. C. T. U. of Union was held Nov. 13 at the home of Mrs. Ray Frans with Mrs. W. B. Banning as assistant hostess. The meeting opened with all singing "Some Glad Day." Prayer by Mrs. Easter, scripture reading by the president, Mrs. Cross. Roll call and reading of the minutes by secretary Mrs. Ivan Balfour. The leader was Mrs. Allison and her topic "Our State Institutions." She proved a most excellent leader because she had been connected with the Girls Home at Geneva for several years as their matron. She gave reports from each institution as furnished by the State Board of Control. Our state has 17 institutions—the inmate population is 6,587, the most being the State Hospital at Hastings and the least 52 in the State Reformatory for women at York. Out of every $1.00 tax we pay, 19c goes to the State and 81c is spent locally, so you see we are not doing very much for the unfortunate in our state. Only 8c out of the $1.00 goes to the institutions. All our institutions are managed to be as economic as possible, each having their own garden, and a good moral training is given to all inmates. Much information was given to all members by the leader and we felt one afternoon was not enough time to permit dealing with the subject as we really ought to know it. An instrumental number by Mrs. Mae Smith and several clippings by Mrs. Dysart, Mrs. Garrison, Miss Nell Bramblet, Mrs. Cross and Mrs. Moughey. Our next meeting will be a Sunset Tea at the home of Mrs. Allison. The meeting closed with singing Nebraska, My Native Land. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.—Mrs. Ivan Balfour, Secretary.

ATLANTIC WINS GAME

From Tuesday's Daily—
The Plattsmouth city football team which was to have played at Atlantic, Iowa, on Sunday found on their arrival there that the football team of that place had been all "wet" as to the time of the game and the result was that the game was not to be played until Monday as a part of the American Legion Armistice day celebration.

Trouth the kindness of William Baird, superintendent of the local shops, where several of the players are employed, the locals were able to go over yesterday to meet the Iowa team.

The result of the conflict was that Atlantic was the winner by the score of 13 to 0 in a hard fought game and in which the penalties imposed on the Plattsmouth team by the referee caused them to lose several good scoring chances.

In the opening portion of the game the locals played a much better game than the Iowa team but on one occasion when in striking distance of the Atlantic goal, Frank Krejci was hooked by the referee for roughing and the ball moved back twenty-five yards and lost the chance to score.

In the Atlantic lineup was "Cowboy" Katsch, for two years one of the stars of the University of Iowa team and one of the leaders in the Big Ten and who was the chief factor in the winning of the game at Atlantic Monday.

OBSERVES HOLIDAY

From Monday's Daily—
Peace and quietude was the order of the day at the Cass county court house today as the various offices were closed for the day and the officers and the employes in the various departments of the county government were enjoying the Armistice day holiday and resting from their labors.

The only exception to the general holiday was at the office of County Clerk George Sayles where the clerk was on hand as usual with Deputy W. T. Adams looking after the clearing up the claims allowed at the meeting of the board of commissioners.

The canvassing board consisting of James Hall and Walter Probst were also engaged in the clerk's office in the checking up of the final count in the vote cast at the election last Tuesday and making their tabulations of the final result. The count of the mail ballots was made Saturday afternoon and gave no particular difference in the result. In the close congressional battle Congressman Morehead gain one vote in the mail ballots and now has 311 majority over Elmer J. Burkett in Cass county.

VERDICT FOR BERGMANN

The jury in the U. S. court at Lincoln which has been hearing the case of the First National bank of this city against John Bergmann, returned a verdict on Tuesday afternoon in which they found for the defendant Mr. Bergmann and against the plaintiff bank and its receiver. The suit was over $5,000 of bank stock which was alleged to have been placed on the bank books and under the name of Mr. Bergmann. Mr. Bergmann had denied the ownership of the stock and that it was held by him merely as collateral for a loan made the stock being given by George O. Dovey, former cashier, and that the defendant Bergmann had no knowledge of the fact that the ownership of the stock had been transferred on the books of the bank. The contention of Mr. Bergmann as to the fact that he had no knowledge of the stock other than as collateral was borne out by the evidence and the verdict of the jury
