

Suit to Recover Money from Cass County People

Claim Made That Executor Who Died Owed the Estate $12,003.14

From Wednesday's Daily—
An appeal in the case of the estate of George W. Harshman from a ruling of the county court in which Judge Reid held that Elmer Hallstrom, the heirs of Roscoe C. Harshman and the Massachusetts Bonding company, should pay $12,003.14 to the estate of George W. Harshman is being heard before Judge Shepherd of the district court. Roscoe Harshman was appointed executor of the estate of George W. Harshman and died before he had made a report. The county court held that Roscoe Harshman had invested $10,000 in worthless securities and had concealed the act and had not made an accounting before his death.
The action in the county court was brought by R. Unzicker, administrator of the estate of George W. Harshman, after the death of Roscoe Harshman. Roscoe Harshman's estate was probated in Cass county and Mr. Hallstrom was the executor of the estate. He claimed that the estate of Roscoe Harshman showed no evidence that any of his estate had come from the estate of George W. Harshman.
Anna Harshman and her sons, Ralph and Wilmer, are made defendants. The Massachusetts Bonding company gave a surety bond for Roscoe Harshman as executor of the estate of George W. Harshman. It is claimed by the insurance company that claims should have been filed against the estate of the former before it was probated in Cass county and there is now no redress.—State Journal.

Good Plurality for Amendment

Official Returns from Twenty-Three Counties Indicate That Proposal Carried.

No further doubt remains that the constitutional amendment submitted at the election a week ago, to transfer the state schools for blind at Nebraska City and for deaf at Omaha from the board of control to the regents of the state university, has been adopted with a large plurality of the votes cast for and against it and more than 40 per cent of the entire vote polled.
Official returns have reached the secretary of state's office from twenty-three counties. These show the amendment to have more than 9,000 plurality—43,427 for and 34,087 against—out of a total vote of 98,351 in the same counties. The affirmative vote exceeds 44 per cent of the total, where only 34 per cent is required.
Lancaster county, not included in the foregoing, gave the amendment 16,043 votes on the unofficial count, while 15,513 were polled against it. Douglas county rolled up a majority of 10,000 or so for the proposition.
As the university regents have no organization for administering such institutions, it has been suggested that they might, after appointing the superintendents and staffs of the two schools, make a contract with the board of control to buy the supplies and look after the physical properties and general management.

HOLD PRAISE SERVICES

From Wednesday's Daily—
The Presbyterian Women's Missionary society held a very fine praise service yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Stephen Wiles south of this city. There was a very large number of the ladies in attendance at the meeting.

The program that had been arranged was exceptionally strong and gave a very inspiring part of the afternoon.

The report of the synodical held in Omaha at the North Presbyterian church in October was given by the members who had attended the meeting and gave their viewpoints of the gathering.

The pastor, Rev. H. G. McClusky held the closest attention of the ladies as he reviewed the life of Dr. Hall Young, the pioneer missionary to Alaska.

During the afternoon Mrs. Arthur Troop gave a very beautiful piano solo with Miss Ruth Lindsay being heard in a charming vocal selection with Mrs. H. P. Goos as the accompanist. Miss Catherine McClusky, one of the clever musicians of the city gave a delightful flute solo with the accompaniment by Miss Estelle Baird.

Delightful refreshments were served by Mrs. Wiles and Mrs. Fred Nolting and Mrs. John Wolf, the assisting hostesses and a part of the afternoon was devoted to the social hour.

Happy Hundred Enjoys Talk by Judge Rhodes

Meeting Is Electrified by the Announcement of Final Steps for Missouri River Bridge.

From Wednesday's Daily—
The second of the series of Happy Hundred suppers was held last evening at the parlors of the First Methodist church and was a very pleasant event for those who were in attendance altho other attractions served to hold the attendance down to less than the usual number of men of the community.

The ladies of the church had prepared a very fine menu and which made their part of the entertainment all that could be asked and put the members of the supper party in the best of humor for the happy occasion that followed and this part of the evening program was all that anyone could ask.

The evening program was presided over by Searl S. Davis in his usual pleasing manner and who introduced the various participants of the evening most cleverly.

Rev. H. G. McClusky, pastor of the First Presbyterian church was called upon for the invocation of the evening.

As the occasion was near the Armistice day holiday the members of the supper party had the pleasure of the musical setting of the poem of Dr. Henry VanDyke, "Home Again" given by Joseph A. Capwell in his usual pleasing manner.

The Chamber of Commerce had invited guests of the evening from Myriad, Cedar Creek and Louisville, but as the roads are uncertain of travel and not surfaced between this city and Louisville the members of the Cedar Creek and Louisville party were unable to attend. The toastmaster remarked that the struggle to secure the graveling of the Louisville road had one very satisfactory result and that was the securing of gravel for the highways near Weon Water and Avoca and had helped to that extent and left the Louisville road as the main county highway yet to be surfaced.

Those who attended the supper from Myriad were W. F. Nolte, president of the Community club at that place, W. T. Richardson and Rev. George B. Weaver.

The toastmaster called upon H. A. Schneider who gave the members of the party one of the finest statements that has been offered at the Happy Hundred and that was the fact that the final details of the construction of the wagon and auto bridge over the Missouri river had been completed and that the bridge work would start in the next few weeks and be pushed until the bridge was completed and open for travel.

Judge Herbert Rhodes of Tekamah, one of the judges of the fourth district was the speaker of the evening and was accompanied by his balliff, James Cameron, who is a native son of Scotland and who also was born in the same city in the Scottish highlands as our own distinguished townsmen, James M. Robertson, who with William Baird, also a son of Scotland, were seated with Mr. Cameron.

The address of Judge Rhodes was along the lines of the keeping to the old land-marks, taking the biblical quotation as his text and giving a very fine address along this line. The distinguished speaker pointed out the notable happenings of the nation and of this pioneer community in the west, the necessity of the preservation of the great historical incidents of the past and the following closely of the old time landmarks in the national life as well in both political, social and business life as the best guide to the future of the country.

John Frazier of Bellevue was present and invited the members of the Plattsmouth Chamber of Commerce to Bellevue on next Monday evening to attend the Men's club at that place and at which Judge James T. Begley of this city, will be the main speaker.

The benediction was pronounced by the Rev. George B. Weaver of Myriad.

Santa Claus Will be Invited Here Christmas

Old St. Nick Soon to Start From Northland to Have Invitation From Merchants Here

While Christmas is still more than a month away, the retail section of the Chamber of Commerce of this city is urging that when Santa Claus, the merry patron of the children gets ready to leave the northland with his sleighs, reindeers and equipment for the United States that he visit Plattsmouth as one of the places in the central west and interview in person the boys and girls.

The Cass county visitation of Santa will be held probably on Saturday, December 15th and will be the occasion of the formal welcome to the representative of the Christmas good cheer and also when Santa will be given the keys of the city and be made the guest of the little folks of the community.

It is expected that the next week will probably bring some word from Santa as to his plans and whether or not he will be able to reach here and the date for the happy event for all of the boys and girls in this part of Cass county.

SHOWS SOME IMPROVEMENT

From Monday's Daily—
The reports from the University hospital at Omaha are to the effect that Mrs. W. P. Stizman of this city who was operated on there Friday is doing just as well as could be expected in the nature of the operation and the patient yesterday seemed to be showing some improvement and which it is hoped will continue until the patient is definitely on the highway to recovery.

IT WAS A BOY

In the announcement made in the Journal a few days ago relative to the birth of a child at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hild, it was stated that it was a little daughter, which is untrue, as it is a real fine and husky boy and a pleasing addition to the Hild family, and of which the family is justly proud.

The St. Paul's Evangelical Sunday school will hold a bazaar and bake sale in the church parlors, Saturday, November 17th, beginning at 2 p. m. Lunch will be served.

GOOD CROWD LAST NIGHT

From Tuesday's Daily—
The attendance at the American Legion's Harvest Festival last night was very good and included numerous out-of-town people, several coming up from Nebraska City.

The Happiness Boy, radio entertainer from Omaha, was secured to take the place of Wilson Doty, KOLL, accordion player, who telegraphed cancellation due to the re-arrangement of the station's broadcasting schedule under the new wave allocation.

Play was brisk at Bingo throughout the evening and the receipts went well over those of the opening night. The number acquiring coupons is increasing rapidly, indicating a continued patronage of this popular and fascinating attraction.

The Country Store, operated by Smith and Sandin, also went well over the opening night's receipts. Tonight's door prize is the Premier Duplex Vacuum Sweeper; the Orioles play for the dance, and O. D. Temple, Omaha's "Singing Barber" in a modern day program will be the entertainment feature. Tomorrow night, Temple will present an old time and popular request program.

TWO MORE CONTRIBUTIONS

Two hitherto unacknowledged contributions to the Legion Harvest Festival are those of John Tidball, Jr., lumber and coal dealer, who gives a half ton of coal; and Kroehler's hardware, with the gift of a silver-toned cow bell that is used to attract attention at Bingo.

All the Plattsmouth coal dealers—Hartford, Clويد and Tidball—have given half tons of coal, these being among the prizes to be won at the Country Store.

DELPHIANS HOLD MEETING

From Tuesday's Daily—
The Delphian chapter met last evening at the home of Mrs. C. C. Wescott and a very interesting study period was enjoyed with Mrs. J. M. Roberts as the leader of the meeting.

The class took up the study of the "New World," the causes in the old countries of Europe that brought about the colonization of the countries of the new world.
