Platters Scalp the Pawnees in a Muddy Field

Score of 12 to Rolled Up in Gruelling Game in Mud at Pawnee City Friday Afternoon

From Saturday's Daily—
In a field that was slippery and muddy at Pawnee City yesterday afternoon, the Plattsmouth high school team swept victorious over the Pawnees and came home elated with the 12 to 0 victory that was hard earned in the playing conditions that marked the day.

The first score of Plattsmouth came early in the first quarter when the blue and white mustering their strength, smashed the lines of the Pawnees for repeated gains and with the assaults bringing the ball into the Pawnee territory, Bob Fitch, acting captain slipped around the left end of the enemy to register the first score of the game and to give his team added confidence in the ultimate outcome.

The second and third quarters were scoreless for either side, both teams settling back and forth in the mud of the field without any marked gains, altho the Pawnee team showed increasing steadiness in their defensive plays.

The last quarter saw the air attack of the Pawnees opened up and they were able to make some ground gains by this form of attack in the slow field, but which form of playing was also the cause of their downfall.

The Pawnees advancing with the pass as their chief power of offense were in mid-field and attempted a pass, which missed the destination in the hands of the young redman and instead found lodgment in the palm of Chet Wiles, Platter player and who having made several records in the field day sports proceeded to add to his record by a dash down the field for sixty yards and another touchdown. The locals organized a good defense for the feet looted runner and held open his line to the goal.

Both tries for the extra points failed by narrow margins of success. The Platters will play on next Friday with Peru Prep on the local field and will close their season on Thursday, November 29th at Nebraska City in the annual Thanksgiving game.

In the games in the southeastern Nebraska high school conference the Platters have won one, tied and lost one and have two more conference games to play that they should be able to annex.

The Platters lost to Tecumseh, one of the outstanding school teams of the state, won from Pawnee City and tied with Auburn in a scoreless game.
