Will Serve Fine Eats
The ladies of the Baptist church, who are always alive to the situation have made the requisite arrangements for feeding the hungry and making them glad, on Thanksgiving day, when they will serve dinner at the church basement, and also will serve supper in the evening. All who wish to get away and not have to look after the cooking for that day can be served as well and at a cost less than what it would cost to put up a good meal at home and be freed from the work as well. See the ladies on that day and enjoy a real dinner and supper with them.

Uncle Myron Lynde Poorly
Uncle M. Lynde, who has been a familiar figure in Union for many years and who went with the good wife to St. Louis, Washington, to make his home a year or so since, with his son D. B. Lynde, is reported as being in very poor health at this time. One day last week, Mesdames L. R. Upton and C. W. McIntire, the latter of Bethany, departed for the west to visit the parents and brother and family, and were taken to Omaha to catch their train by L. R. Upton. They will remain while the father is so sick and will expect to remain for about a month anyway.

Methodist Church Notes
The celebration of the 50th anniversary of the dedication of the Wyoming Methodist church, the country point on the Union-Wyoming circuit, will be held Sunday. An all day service will be held. The morning service at 11 a. m. and the afternoon service at 2 p. m. will be held in the church. The Rev. E. T. George, of Omaha; the history of the church will be read by William G. James and short talks will be made by visiting ministers. The Epworth League service at 7 p. m. will be led by Mr. Donald Harris and the final preaching service will be held at 7:45 p. m. There will be special music by the orchestra, the double quartet and ladies quartet and choir at all of the services.

The service will be of unusual interest as the Wyoming church was the birthplace of sermons held in farm houses and school houses on the first Methodist work established in Nebraska in 1878. This work extended from old Fort Kearney (now Nebraska City) north to Rock Bluffs, and included the greater part of what is now Otoe and Cass counties. A basket lunch will be held at noon and evening, being served by the ladies of the church.

Everybody invited to this Golden anniversary celebration.

The Union Sunday school will be held as usual, but please be on time, so that services can be closed in time for the folks to get to Wyoming at 11 a. m.

WILLIAM A. BOWDEN,
Pastor.

Join the Red Cross for 1929
Only a few days left to enroll. Do not forget. Ten years since the Armistice. The Red Cross still carries on for the world war veterans, providing comfort and entertainment for him in hospitals, aiding his family when necessary, securing for him claims for insurance compensation or disability. The first to give aid in time of disasters. The Red Cross flag flies in 58 nations. Not all carry the Red Cross as a symbol, but all stand for help in distress when SOS is broadcasted. It is an international, national and local organization, serving humanity in distress.

The birth of the Red Cross dates back many years. J. Henri Dunant, a native of Switzerland, suggested the founding of permanent societies of volunteers in all countries to give service to the wounded after witnessing the horrors of the battlefields, which broke the spirit of Napoleon III. Solferino causing such horrors. Dunant, with the help of peasant women and children set up first aid stations to save lives of the wounded soldiers. This led to the first conference at Geneva, in 1863.

When Clara Barton, superintendent of nurses, for the "Army of James," in our Civil war, went to Switzerland after the civil war, she studied the new Red Cross, devoting seven years to persuading the government to adhere to the Geneva conference, which we did in 1882.

The Red Cross emblem being the reverse of the Swiss flag, the cross on red ground, was chosen in compliance to Dunant's native land and the first meeting place. Down through the years this organization has become world wide in service.

We are all a part of this when we pledge our membership each year. Let it be a pledge never to be broken for the American Red Cross is our organization, chartered by congress to carry out the objects of the international treaty of Geneva and other humanitarian purposes.

Some have answered the roll call. The invitation is to all citizens. Let not Thanksgiving day come and go without being thankful for such an opportunity to enroll for service to suffering humanity.

Roll call workers in Union are Mrs. Rihn, Mrs. Atteberry, Mrs. W. H. Porter, Jane Robb, Nola Banning and Augusta Robb, who is local chairman.

All enjoyed a fine supper and pleasant evening.

Parent-Teachers Meet.
The Parent-Teachers Association had a very interesting and instructive meeting at the Swan school last Thursday evening.

Owing to corn husking not so many were out as usual yet there were a very good attendance and every one seemed deeply interested in the work.

Due to the resignation of the former secretary, Mrs. Chas. Swan was elected to take her place.

One of the goals of the association is to bring a library to every home in the district so that they and their families may have good reading thru out the winter. More details as to how this will be arranged will follow in another article.

For a number of years through the efficient work of their teacher, Miss McQuinn and the cooperation of the parents, they have had the hot-lunch at this meeting the new "Print Method" was discussed to be decided upon at the next meeting when it is hoped that will not be so busy a time and every one will come and help make this school the very best school in the county.

Find Two Men Beneath a Car

Road Engineer Finds Men En Route to Union Who Couldn't Explain Road Accident.

Finding a Ford touring car overturned on its top and with the motor running, Herbert Schwaderer, highway engineer, stopped on highway 75 at the turn east of Union late Monday to investigate.

He found a man lying beneath it, dragged the man to safety. The man was a stranger and appeared dazed but soon "came out of it" and inquired what had become of his partner. With the assistance of Mr. Schwaderer the car was righted and the other man found beneath it in a semi-conscious condition. After a short time both men had recovered sufficiently to drive the car away.

The men, whose names were not learned, told Mr. Schwaderer that they were on their way to Union from Missouri, where they lived. They did not explain what caused the car to overturn in the manner in which it did. The car was only slightly damaged and was driven away easily.
