RIVERVIEW CLUB MEETS

The Riverview club held their December meeting with Mrs. John Kaufman on Thursday afternoon. The lesson was "Christmas Sweets."

The ladies were soon busy at candy making. Ten different kinds were made. When finished, they were placed upon the table, being very attractive and Christmas-like in appearance.

Each member was allowed to sample the different kinds, which of course proved very delicious.

The candies are pure and wholesome and the members expect to make candy for their families at Christmas time.

Plans were made for a Christmas party to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Creamer.

The January meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. John Kettelhut. The meeting will begin at 1 o'clock, and the members are urged to be there as promptly as possible.

Arrest Man for Breaking Into Elmwood Home

Ivan Plymel of Near Eagle Brought Here to Face Charges of Breaking and Entering.

From Friday's Daily.—Yesterday afternoon Deputy Sheriff Young brought in Ivan Plymel, a young man of near Eagle to face the charge of breaking and entering, which offense occurred on Wednesday at the home of a man named Racer, owner of the filling station on the "O" street road two miles south of the town of Elmwood.

It is alleged that the young man made his way into the home and purloined a number of articles, among which was a wrist watch, which was later recovered at Eagle by Sheriff Reed where it is claimed the young man had sold the watch.

Sheriff Reed was notified of the breaking into the Racer home hurried to the scene and after an investigation in the locality and at Eagle was able to get trace of the missing watch and locating it was able to trace the goods to the person of the young man whom he had placed under arrest and brought to this city for trial in the district court.

HEARD CARNIVAL REPORTS

From Thursday's Daily.—At the regular monthly meeting of the American Legion held last night in the Building and Loan directors' room at Brown's jewelry store, report was rendered on the recent indoor carnival sponsored by the Legion. The net profit, according to the report, was slightly over $600—the smallest return ever realized on an indoor carnival given by the Legion.

A motion to apply $500 of this on outstanding building indebtedness was promptly carried. Since the building was opened 14 months ago, a total of $1,600 has been paid off on the outstanding notes, reducing the amount to approximately $4,000. In addition interest has been kept up on the entire borrowed principle, taxes and operating expenses.

Another matter acted upon was the proposal to purchase a Blizard ventilating fan for use in the back furnace room, and which will give much greater heating efficiency.

The post directed the adjutant to send a letter of thanks to the American Legion Auxiliary for their contribution of $50, being half of the net profit realized from their home made candy booth and lunch room at the carnival. Some time ago the Legion Auxiliary made a contribution of $25 from its treasury to be applied on the purchase price of the new grand piano.

ESTIMATES TEN THOUSAND ILL OF GRIP IN OMAHA

From Friday's Daily.—Ten thousand Omaha people are ill of grip, it is estimated by Health Commissioner Pinto.

Although he believes the epidemic is not dangerous, he asks people to take all possible precautions to prevent its spread. His advice is: "Keep away from crowds; get plenty of rest; keep warm; do not over-eat; if you become ill go to bed immediately and stay there until you are well."

Although grip, colds and other respiratory diseases are common, there is less pneumonia than usual this season of the year, Dr. Pinto said.

The epidemic has not yet run its course, it is believed. Forty-four of the city's three hundred firemen are on sick leave and many replacements have been necessary in the streets and parks departments.

Well Known Farmer Victim of Assault

Trio of Hunters from Omaha Lay Out Victim with Blow from Behind—Lost Several Teeth.

William Pankonin, living south of town, was the victim of a murderous assault by three hunters driving a No. 1 license car on Sunday, November 26th. He heard shooting on his farm and went out to see who the hunters were when one of them struck him a terrific blow on the right side of his head and face with a club, felling him to the ground.

When he asked them if they had permission to hunt on his land, they hunters went out to see who the hunters were when one of them struck him a terrific blow on the right side of his head and face with a club, felling him to the ground.

After regaining consciousness, the injured man returned to the house and came to town. It was found that hunters going on the land if they had to have a permit. They hurriedly made their getaway, leaving Mr. Pankonin lying on the ground.

Most farmers would not object to hunters going on their land if they go to the house and ask permission. It is gangs like this that are ruining the recreation of the true sportsmen. Most farmers in this locality are posting notices on their land prohibiting trespassing and they are wise in doing so.—Louisville Courier.

HOLD A FINE MEETING

The Social Circle club held their December meeting at the home of Mrs. S. Y. Smith on Tuesday and the occasion was one of the rarest enjoyment and despite the cold and unpleasant weather conditions there was some sixteen of the ladies present for the all day meeting.

The members of the club had come with a covered dish that contained some dainty for the wonderful dinner and Mrs. Smith and the associate hostess, Mrs. Meta Hanni, made the occasion one of the rarest pleasure.

In addition to the members of the club several of the gentlemen dropped in to enjoy the dinner with the wives and friends and making the event one of the greatest enjoyment.

After the dinner had been disposed of, the ladies spent the time in making candles for the Christmas season, some ten different kinds being prepared by the club members and making a wonderful array of the dainties which, on being tested were found to be as delicious as they were tempting in appearance.

The next meeting of the club will be at the home of Mrs. Eve Sudduth, a half mile from the Lewiston schoolhouse, on January 22nd and at which it is hoped to have all of the members present.

ORDER BLANKS EATEN UP

Washington, Dec. 7.—Grant B. Miller, chief postoffice inspector and his corps of sleuths, like little Bo Peep, are puzzling over a sheep tale.

Because the postoffice at Tempo, Ark., got very hot during the summer months, Postmaster Willard L. Clemmons moved out to the sheep lot to sleep one night taking with him sixteen money order blanks, eleven of which, Mr. Clemmons thinks, the sheep got hold of and ate.

Writing the department, Mr. Clemmons said of the sheep: "They are all the time pulling at the bed when I am there, and at other times, I think they ate the missing orders."

Basketball to Occupy Center of the Stage

High School Team Getting Ready for Opening Game Which Will Be With Blair High

From Thursday's Daily.—With the passing of Thanksgiving the sport throne, once occupied by King Football, has a new occupant, in Basketball, the midwinter sport of the indoor courts.

The Plattsmouth high school which has had some very fast teams in the past few years and in the last two have been in class A of the state tournaments, is now getting down to the training period and each afternoon are working out to set for the season and to permit the selecting of the regular squad that will be carried for the season.

In the first workouts there were thirty-five of the boys out for practice and from this collection of speed and brawn will be selected the regulars and subs for the season.

Many of the younger players are showing great promise and offers a good outlook for future P. H. S. teams in the next few years.

Of the 1928 regular quintet there remains but one in the coming season, Robert Hadraba, guard on the 1927 team and who is figured as the best bet at the center job this year.

John Hartford and Bob Fitch, John Galloway and Robert Hartford who were members of the squad last year will also be available as will Hershel Dew.

Several new players who were not out last year for practice have been showing a great deal of interest in the sport this season and may prove a great aid to Coach Rother in solving the problem of building a winning machine. Among the new players is Allen McClanahan and whose work may lead him to a place on the regular quintet.

The first game of the basketball season will be on Friday, December 14th when Blair high school comes here for the opener and the Plattsters will journey up to Creighton Prep on Tuesday, January 8th for one of the tough games of the season.

HAPPY HUNDRED DEC. 11TH

From Wednesday's Daily.—The December supper of the Happy Hundred will be held on Tuesday evening, December 11th at the American Legion community building, the members of the committee state.

The speaker at this supper is expected to be former governor Henry J. Allen of Kansas, now the manager of the Omaha Bee-News and the Hearst interests in that city, the committee expecting the reply of Mr. Allen to the invitation in the next few days.

The meeting will be largely attended it is expected as there has been a large number from the Men's club at Bellevue to make reservations for the supper party and in addition an unusually large number from this city are expected to be in attendance.

SANTA CLAUS HAS VISITED THEM

Mrs. L. G. Todd entertained the Union Women's club at her home on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 4th.

The ladies enjoyed playing the Christmas games planned by Mrs. Louis Burbee. At the close of the games the ladies were asked to gather in the dining room. To their surprise, Santa Claus came to give out the presents that had been placed on the Christmas tree.

In observance of the one hundredth anniversary of the death of Franz Peter Schubert a short sketch of his life was given by Mrs. Ivan Balfour and a musical composition by Mrs. C. B. Smith.

Mrs. Louis Mougey gave a vocal solo, "The Land of the Sky Blue Water."

WILL RECEIVE SANTA CLAUS

For the reception committee to greet Santa Claus on his visit here next Saturday, December 15—one week from today—there will be representatives from the various rooms of the city schools, either boys or girls, who will extend the official greeting to the jolly Santa.

In furtherance of the plan for the fitting reception of Santa, Superintendent R. E. Bailey has addressed the following letter to all of the teachers of the city as well as the parochial schools to see that they are out to participate in the pleasures of the occasion.

December 7, 1928.

To Teachers and Pupils of Plattsmouth Public and Parochial Schools:

Inclosed you will find a letter from Mr. C. C. Wescott, president Plattsmouth Chamber of Commerce, telling you of the proposed visit of Santa Claus to Plattsmouth. I would like to have each teacher read this letter to the pupils of the room.

Since receiving Mr. Wescott's letter, arrangements have been made for each room in the public and parochial schools to have an official representative on the Santa Claus reception committee. This representative must be a pupil enrolled in your room and is to be elected by members of his class by ballot. Send the name of your representative to my office not later than Tuesday, December 11, so that an official badge may be issued. No pupil will be eligible to be on the reception committee unless he holds a badge.

All pupil representatives must be at the American Legion Auditorium at 9:45 Saturday morning, December 15th.

Santa Claus will have a gift for every pupil in Plattsmouth. Be sure you are there to get yours.

Sincerely yours, R. E. BAILEY, Superintendent Public Schools.

DEATH VEILED IN MYSTERY

Canton, O., Dec. 7.—The slaying of Venard E. Fearn, thirty-five, coal mine operator, remained a mystery tonight with authorities unable to trace the young woman who shot him or establish a motive.

Fearn was fatally wounded last night when a woman, between twenty and twenty-five years old, called him to the front porch of his home south of here and emptied the contents of a small revolver. Six of the seven shots took effect. He died in the arms of his wife. The slayer was seen a short time after when she boarded a bus for Canton, but authorities lost her trail. Fearn did not know who shot him, he told his wife before he died.

Mrs. Fearn said the killer came to the door while she was preparing the evening meal and asked for her husband. The woman declined to enter the house, and then Mr. Fearn went to the door while his wife fent back to the kitchen. In a few minutes Mrs. Fearn heard the shots and ran to her husband, who died in her arms.

NEW CLAIMANT APPEARS

Hastings, Neb., Dec. 7.—The $125,000 John O'Connor estate which seems more than ever likely to escheat to the state of Nebraska because of absence of heirs who can prove their claims, has another new claimant. He is Michael O'Connor of Liverpool, England.

A recent decision in the supreme court of Nebraska and in the United States courts announced within the past two weeks, has eliminated practically all the alleged heirs that have survived the litigation which has been going on for the past fifteen years. But the Liverpool claimant in writing to the clerk of court here states that he and two nephews and a niece are the right owners of the property and are going to claim it.

He asks if the O'Connor will can be republished and "fair chance given to everybody." He says the claimant is Charles Champion, Ennis, county of Clare, Ireland, is the best newspaper in which to republish the will.

LABOR TROUBLE DISCUSSED

Chicago, Dec. 7.—Six arbitrators met here today to discuss again the differences between the Chicago & Northwestern railroad and the Brotherhood of Railway Maintenance of Way Employees.

The controversy has been going on since August, 1927, when the board of arbitration made an award affecting twenty-three departments of railroad employes. In the case of some groups, the wage scales were raised, while in others it was lowered. The brotherhood and misinterpreted the meaning and application of the award to particular groups of employes and the United States board of mediation instructed the arbitrators to meet today here.

The arbitrators are Judge Homer Dibble of Duluth, justice of the Minnesota supreme court, and Dr. E. C. Davies of the college of commerce of Northwestern university; who were appointed by the United States board of mediation as neutral arbitrators; J. J. Farnan, attorney of LaPorte, Ind., and E. E. Milliman, Detroit, secretary and treasurer of the Brotherhood, who represent the employes, and William Walliser, vice president of the railroad; and C. H. Westbrook, its auditor, representatives of the railroad.
