Mr. and Mrs. Louis Plybon were visiting with friends as well as looking after business matters in Plattsmouth for the afternoon last Tuesday and have to report a very heavy rain at the county seat.

J. H. Steffens was kept to his home and bed with an attack of the flu for the early portion of this week, and during his absence, his sister, Mrs. Albert Anderson was assisting in the conduct of the store.

Albert Anderson and wife were over to Lorton for the day last Sunday, where they were guests at the home of the parents of Mrs. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. C. Steffens, at that place, and where all enjoyed the day very pleasantly.

Reports from the bedside of Mrs. W. O. Troop, who is at the Immanuel hospital at Omaha, is to the effect that this lady is feeling much improved and hopes are entertained that she will be able to return to her home in a few days.

Olaf Lundberg has gladdened the homes of Otis Barnes, living north of Nehawka, and Alba Ingwerson as well as E. J. Woods by the installation of all electric radios in their homes, and which are giving these families very fine service.

Mrs. John Opp who returned from the hospital but a short time since, and had been feeling pretty well from the troubles which had beset her, was attacked with a case of neuralgia, which is causing this good woman much suffering at present.

At the homes of E. M. Pollard, Mrs. Gertrude Carper and George Pollis all have been sick and keeping all looking after the other members with none well to care for the others. They are however wearing out the malady and are gradually getting better.

Frank Robb, who conducts the pool hall and who is a worker and able to do his quota of work, has, with the flu attacking him and the other members with none well to care for the others. They are however wearing out the malady and are gradually getting better.

At the home of Walter J. Wunderlich, during the latter portion of the week the place was nearly turned into a hospital, as all the members of the family were down with the prevailing flu. Mr. Wunderlich and son Bobbie seemed to have the malady the most severe and although they are out hustling again, they are not feeling any too good.

Beet Growers Upheld in War on Sugar Firm

Department of Justice to Act Unless Company Changes Its Tactics in Nebraska.

Washington, Dec. 11.—Legal proceedings shortly will be taken by the department of justice against the Great Western Sugar company, charged by the Nebraska Co-operative Beet Growers' association with monopolistic practices, it was learned today.

While no official statement was forthcoming, it was decided by department officials that officials of the sugar corporation had been given an opportunity to appear at a conference Thursday and accept a consent decree in lieu of prosecution.

Large Losses. The complaint alleged that an agreement existed between the Great Western Sugar company and the American Beet Sugar company by which they divided the Nebraska beet crop and fixed beet prices. All the beets produced west of Hershey were taken over by the Great Western, while those produced east of Hershey were bought by the American, it was claimed.

Growers Upheld. It was further alleged by the co-operatives that when the Holly Sugar company arranged to build a refinery and contracted for a large portion of the beet crop, the Great Western forced the Holly company to abandon the project by reducing the price of sugar 85 cents a bag and subsequently lowering the price of sugar beets when the independent company was forced to withdraw. The transaction cost the North Platte Valley growers a $1,000,000 this year and will hit them as hard again in 1929, it is contended.

Inte intentions of the farmers' complaint have been borne out by investigations of the department of justice, it was stated at the department. It is understood the government is ready to take action against the sugar company unless it speedily and voluntarily changes its tactics.—Omaha Bee-News.

Flu Epidemic Spreading Over Entire Nation

Five Major Schools in Far Separated Regions are Closed—California Recovering

Washington, Dec. 11.—Although in the epidemic stage in some sections, public health service officials do not believe the present outbreak of influenza is as widespread as those that swept the country in 1918 and 1920. Nor is it considered as virulent in character for the death rate thus far is considered low.

Nevertheless, influenza is held responsible for the closing of five schools in widely separated sections, though the approach of the Christmas holidays might have contributed to that.

The University of the South at Sewanee, Tenn., Culver Military academy, Culver, Ind.; the University of Missouri, Columbia, the Seminary at St. Therese near Montreal, Q.; and Levis College, Levis, Q., have suspended classes because of outbreaks of the disease.

No deaths were reported at any of the schools, but at Sewanee half the students were said to be ill. One hundred and fifty had the disease at Columbia and at Culver 68 had reported to the infirmary since Saturday.

Classes Continue at Iowa.

Three other schools also reported that influenza had made its appearance on the campus. It was characterized as an epidemic at the University of Iowa, but classes have not been ordered to suspend. Classes are also meeting at Virginia Polytechnic institute, Blacksburg, Va., but students may leave for home after procuring the permission of health authorities. At the University of Georgia, Athens, 37 were in the infirmary with 67 cases reported, but classes are being held.

The latest deaths attributed to influenza were reported from Kansas where 13,956 cases are on record. Mild forms of the disease generally prevail, but three deaths at Wichita and one at Parsons are said to have taken place. Five thousand cases alone were reported from Kansas city, and the absence of 2,400 pupils and 42 teachers at Wichita was laid to the disease.

Movie Stars Recover.

Health service officials said last night that the malady was first noticed in epidemic form on the Pacific coast, particularly in California, where 9,000 cases occurred during November. It was first called generally to the attention of the public when a number of motion picture stars took to their beds. None appeared to be seriously ill and the majority has recovered.

From California it moved eastward and now is widely scattered though no virulent outbreaks have been reported along the Atlantic seaboard. The malady spread along lines of travel, according to health officials here, and warnings have been issued to physicians and health officials generally to be on their guard.

Advice given the public has been to advise those stricken to "go to bed and stay in bed."

REJECT MINE PROPOSALS

City Council Discusses Sixth Street Paving

To Meet With Property Owners on January 18th and to Discuss the Matter at Length

From Tuesday's Daily.—The city council held a very interesting session last evening with not a great deal of legislative matters coming up but a great deal of interest in the way of street improvements that were discussed by the councilmen and which will later be taken up in the course of time with the people most interested—the taxpayers, in the Sixth street district from Vine to Pearl street.

The reports of the various officers of the city were received for the month of November. Chief of Police A. R. Johnson reported that in the month there had been $42 in fines and costs collected, this also being the tenor of the report of Police Judge Charles L. Graves.

City Clerk H. L. Thomas reported that in the past month he had received the sum of $802.31 and which had been turned over to the city treasury.

City Treasurer John E. Kirkman reported that at the close of business on November 30th the funds overdrawn amounted to $27,054, the balance in the treasury $15,497 and deposited in the various banks as follows: Plattsmouth State $5,938.03; Farmers State, $6,812.15; First National, $2,747.52. The registered warrants outstanding amounted to $79,800.

The street, alleys and bridges committee, which had had under its wing the investigation of the petition for paving on North 11th street, reported that the committee found that there had been the required sixty per cent of the resident property owners sign the petition and under the law it was mandatory for the city to order the district to be created. On motion of Smith seconded by Blunt, the report was accepted and the district ordered created as under the state law, all of the councilmen present voting, except Hayes who opposed the motion.

There was a general and informal discussion of the matter of the resurfacing of Sixth street from Pearl to Vine and which the city engineers had prepared an estimate of the cost which was read, showing that of reinforced concrete to be $9,421 and that of three inch brick block and concrete base to be $12,834.30. The question of widening the street was also discussed but as many of the buildings have area ways that would have to be changed by the city, the box sewers extended and the electrical system changed, did not meet the approval of many of the councilmen. The question of the present form of the street or a slightly crowned street was also discussed.

Council Kunsman thought that the matter should be thoroughly discussed by the council with the property owners before any definite action was taken and accordingly it was decided to hold a meeting on Monday, January 14th at the city hall with the property owners as to their wishes in the matter.

Mayor John P. Sattler then presented the name of Charles L. Graves as police judge to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge William Weber and which was unanimously confirmed by the council.

The matter of the indiscriminate buying of stuff and charging it to the city was brought up by Councilman Kunsman and after some discussion it was ordered that all purchases must be approved by the chairman of the committee in whose department the purchasing was to be done. Mayor Sattler reminded the council that this was about the twenty-fifth time that this resolution was passed and that the city had order blanks printed that were never used and approving strongly the sentiment of checking the city purchases he thought the council should see that the rule was rigidly enforced to the letter.

The following bills were ordered paid by the council: Platts Water Corp. $627.09 Iowa-Neb. Light & Power Co., electroliners 130.41 Iowa-Neb. Light & Power Co.

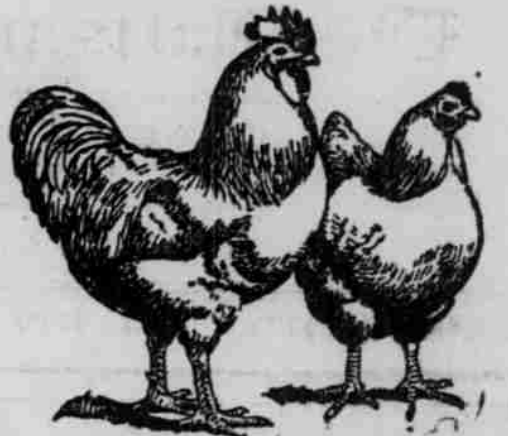

Washington, Dec. 6.—The interstate commerce commission in a report to the senate today declared that while rates on wheat and other grains moving to export from the American northwest were upon a higher basis than like rates from Canadian producing territory a lowering of the American scale was unwarranted.

The commission's report was made after a special investigation requested by the senate last May. Among instructions in the proposal was one directing the commission to make rates over American roads on grain shipments equal to those prevailing on Canadian railroads, if such reductions should be found possible, and the commission responded that railroad revenues would not stand any such reduction.
