Death of Mrs. C. L. Elliott
Word has been received by Cass county friends of the death of Mrs. C. L. Elliott, at her home in Sebring, Florida, after an extended period of ill health. She was the wife of Rev. Cuthbert L. Elliott, former pastor of the M. E. church in Union as well as at Louisville.

Burial was at Marshall, Texas, the former home of Mrs. Elliott before coming to Nebraska. Her ill health in this part of the country caused them to move to Florida several years ago, and this no doubt prolonged her life considerably.

Rev. Elliott is a native of Ireland, but his wife was born in Texas. She was a charming woman and one well qualified for the wife of a minister and she was loved and highly respected by all who knew her and her many friends in this vicinity will be grieved over the news of her demise.

Mrs. Mary S. Meade Dies
Mrs. Mary S. Meade, who has been ill for some time at a hospital in Lincoln, died on last Sunday and was buried at the Wyoming Methodist church on Tuesday, December 18th, the services being conducted by the Rev. W. A. Taylor, pastor of the Baptist church of Union. Mrs. Meade, who was Miss Mary S. Peterson, was born February 22, 1859, at Bolliver, Mo., and was united in marriage with A. S. Meade at that place, July 13, 1879. To this union thirteen children were born, eight of whom preceded the mother to the other world. The husband also died a short time since. There are left to mourn this excellent woman a daughter, Florence, making her home near Nehawka; Agnes, at Lake Wilson, Minnesota; Leatha, of Plattsmouth; a son, Monroe, of Union, and Mark, at Plattsmouth. Mrs. Meade early in life united with the Baptist church and has ever been a consistent member of the church.

F. A. Burch and wife, accompanied by their two daughters, were over to Lincoln on last Tuesday, and also visited at a farm which Mr. Birch owns several miles west of Lincoln. They made the trip in their auto.

Edgar A. Cole of the Cole Motor company who is spending the winter in Tucson, New Mexico, writes that they are enjoying a very fine variety of summer weather there and that there is flowers blooming on every side.

Jacob Lehnes, who was so long confined in his home and bed by an attack of typhoid fever was able to be down town again early this week and is feeling much improved, although he is still very weak from the results of the fever.

Frank H. Baldwin has been on the sick bed for a number of days and not able to work, but as the roads were so they could not be traveled the things came out all right, as there was not much for Frank to do. He is getting along some better at this time.

The Cole Motor company recently disposed of two very fine Universal cars of the coach pattern, one going to Clarence Tefft, and the other to Edward Slattery on last Tuesday. Fred Rhodweld going to Omaha where he secured the new wagons for delivery the following day.

Jacob Renner who was taken sick with a very severe attack of the flu on November 8th and who has been kept to his home and bed since, until late last week, was able to be down town early this week, but sure he was not feeling the best for he looked thin and weak from his continued struggle with the disease.

Enjoyed the Dedication.
Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Binger of the Binger Lumber and Coal company of Weeping Water, accompanied by Lincoln one evening last week, their son and daughter, were over where they were in attendance at the dedication of a home for the nurses of the Lincoln General hospital, which has been erected by M. R. Teeter and donated to the hospital for a home for the nurses, and which is to return a certain per cent to the donor, Mr. Teeter, during his life time, after which the home reverts to the nurses of that hospital for permanent home. A very appropriate and worthwhile program was given with the dedication of the home. Mr. and Mrs. Binger have their daughter, Miss Lelia, in the hospital as a nurse and are much pleased with the gift of Mr. Teeter.

Likes Cass County.

N. C. Christensen who was born in Denmark about 75 years ago, left the five soil some forty-one years ago, and came to America and located in Cass county, near Weeping Water, and has made his home here since.

Mr. Christensen says if he had only known when he was born what he found after coming to the vicinity of Weeping Water to live he would have been born here. He says also that he is glad that he found so wonderful a place to reside as Cass county and would advise any one wanting a new home to come to Cass county.

Are for Improvements.

E. F. Marshall is not satisfied with the old office at the elevator but feels times are to close to embark in a building campaign, but as he has had some good offers from patriotic citizens among which are T. L. Davis, who offered to give five dollars and two days work, and J. I. Corley has made the offer of two days work, and as well Frank E. Woods said he would give two days work, they all wanted to put in their labor tearing the office down, but would not assist in building a new one. Everyone is willing to do their portion, but where it will end we do not know.

Commercial Club Meet and Eat.

Last Friday night at the Best Haven hotel were gathered members of the Commercial club of Weeping Water and by the way a very live bunch of boosters for the town, in the center of the county, where they ate of the excellent supper which was prepared by the general landlady. The club considered the matter of graveling the roads leading east and west into Weeping Water, leaving the road running north to the higher powers to look after, which is in reality a state and national highway anyway. With the caring for these roads Weeping Water will be very fairly provided for. They extend thanks to the county commissioners for their aid in the building of the road leading into the city from the south.

Flu Peak Over.

In conversation with Dr. F. W. Kruse regarding the prevailing epidemic of flu which has been very severe for the past several weeks, says that the old cases are getting along nicely and that fewer new ones now are appearing, and that he is certain that the peak of the disease is over and that we may look for a subsidence of the malady.

Will Farm Next Year.

Lawrence Colpert will farm the coming year on the farm which Fred A. Birch recently purchased from Ralph Kackeler, and in February Ralph will take over the filling station as he will get the affairs which have held him on the farm adjusted by that time and all will have their new possessions.

Meets With Severe Accident.

Last Sunday at the home of Clarence Tyler, where John Little had gone to join with the Tyler boys in shooting pigeons, which had been completely excluded from the barn, John was endeavoring to enter the barn and had set his gun down which in some way had become fastened in a crack where the large door worked, and in endeavoring to extricate the gun it was discharged, with the result that the little finger of the left hand was torn away and a greater portion of the fleshy part of the right hand as well as the thumb of that hand. The wound was a most severe one and the young man was rushed to the St. Catherine's hospital at Omaha, where he was cared for. All was done possible for the young man, to alleviate his suffering which was intense, and to save as much of the hand as possible. The left hand suffered the loss of the little finger, while the right hand, which was the most mangled, it was thought would have to be amputated. All intelligence was being used to save the hand, but it was not known on Tuesday where they would be able to save it or not.

Will Celebrate the Yuletide.

The people of Weeping Water who are sure there and over when it comes to doing the thing handsomely, have arranged for a community Christmas tree and program, which is to be given on Friday night of this week. The business men provided some hundred dollars for the purchasing of the treats for the kiddies, while the Western Limestone company provided the tree. Westley W. Davis who always is willing to do his portion and a little more, dressed the tree and erected it in the middle of Main street, where it still stands and will be loaded with goodies and gifts for both young and old. The Nebraska Power company smiling and with their usage had the tree wired, lighted and supplied the price necessary for all illumination, at their own expense as they desired all to have a good time and were willing to contribute their quota for the occasion. Troy Davis who is ever alert to the best interests of Weeping Water hustled around and secured the funds necessary for the purchasing of the candies for the kiddies, thus saving the expenditure from the funds of the city, which was expected to be used for the purpose. This is manifesting the proper community spirit and a spirit which makes a bigger and better city.

The program will be held which is being prepared. In the Philpot hall at the exercising about the tree will be on the street.

John E. Kreider, Fifer.

We met John E. Kreider, a fifer of the Civil war, and when he found we were connected with the Journal he had a message to send to Col. M. A. Bates whom he has known for a long time. Mr. Kreider was a member of the Grand Army of the Republic in the dark days of the rebellion, and came out of the conflict smiling and is still in a happy condition. He has a drum and fife which he has had since 1867, which he purchased at Prairie City, Ill.
