CHRISTMAS STARS

May shine brightly as they did on the night when Christ was born, or drifting clouds or falling snow may obscure the chandeliers of the sky; it will not greatly matter, for when Christmas is here we love the light of hearthfires, the light of joy in the faces of dear ones and friends, good deeds that we are able to do become stars to brighten our own hearts, and Christmas is always full of joy light. May yours be the brightest hours of the season.

CLARIFIES POWER POLICY

Washington, Dec. 19.—A bill to amend the federal water power act "to more clearly define the federal water power policy," was introduced today by Representative Hull, democrat of Tennessee.

The purpose of the measure, he said, was to clarify and classify the laws, regulations and practices, applicable to water power development under joint and separate jurisdiction of the states and the federal government. This, he declared, in his opinion would expedite the development of water power in this country with a minimum of waste. The bill also would determine the share of ownership of a state in hydro-electric power projects.

Hull declared the measure had nothing to do with the question of government ownership of power projects, but was an effort to straighten out what he said was a hap-hazard policy followed by the federal and state governments in regard to water power.
