

Alvo News

Mrs. John W. Banning was a visitor with friends in Lincoln for a couple of days last week. Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Miller who have been down with the flu for some time are reported as being much improved at this time and hope soon to be entirely well again. Jack Morris and wife drove to Kansas City a short time since where they went to look over a business proposition regarding a few pieces of land which they had in view. Otto Reichman and the family were over to Omaha on last Thursday where they were shopping and also visiting with friends driving in their auto and found the road anything but good. John Coleman was assisting with the work at the Reimeyer elevator with the reception and caring for the corn which was being shelled by the farmers as much as they could get in for the roads. Clayton Ingersoll, formerly of Alvo, when a lad but for the past ten or more years making his home at Pawnee City, was visiting with friends and acquaintances in Alvo and vicinity. He was guest during his stay at the home of J. H. Forman. Arthur Dinges who underwent an operation for the removal of his tonsils, which has been giving him some trouble, and with his health not the best for some time is still kept from his work at the garage, and the work there is being looked after by Lee Coatsman. Mrs. Carl Rosenow who was for a time at an hospital at Lincoln where she was being treated for pneumonia, was able to return home last week, and is now at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Snively where she is making very satisfactory improvement. L. R. Snipes, County Extension Agent, was a visitor for a short time in Alvo on last Friday when on his way to Lincoln to attend some farm meeting and to visit at the legislature where some farm problems were pending. He stopped here for a short time to visit with some of his friends. August Johnson who injured one of his legs away last summer, while he was engaged in plowing, and which later required that he go to the hospital at Lincoln for treatment, and having been there for several weeks was able to return home last week and is getting along nicely at this time. W. J. Anthouse who has been busy shelling corn had to confine his operations on the road running north from Eagle to Greenwood, and that was the only road that could be traversed, and in face the side roads were so bad that he could not get his shelled corn away from the north and south roads. Mrs. Charles Peacock and daughter Florence of Lincoln purchased a new Buick auto, and a short time since departed for Los Angeles where they are spending the winter. Miss Florence being the driver, but was somewhat handicapped in her driving on account of the injury which she received some time since when her car was struck by another one in Omaha. They will remain in the west for the cold weather, and enjoy the milder climate. During the meanwhile Mr. Peacock who was wanting to go, but concluded he had better stop at Colorado Springs for the present and take treatment and baths there for his health which is not the best, and later join the folks on the coast. Still Very Poorly. Uncle George Forman who it at the hospital in Lincoln where he is receiving treatment, since his injury several weeks since, still remains very poorly, notwithstanding he is getting the very best care and medical treatment. It is hoped that he will soon be able to return to his home. Reports from the bedside of Charles Godbey, who was so severely injured when a car was left on the highway which was struck by his car, is that he is very ill now with pneumonia and a white fever which has been and is being done for his recovery he still remains quite ill. An abscess had formed on one lung, and it was found necessary to drain the lung with the hope that this might assist in his recovery. His many friends in Alvo and throughout the county are anxious that he shall soon be well again. Corn Looking Better. The farmers were greatly encouraged as on last Friday the price of corn at Alvo was seventy-five cents, and as the deliveries have been scanty and the visible supply diminishing they had reason to believe that the price would even be much higher. A good price for the farms corn would be a very fine thing for the living expenses and the cost of production is very high, and especially when the cost of farm implements maintain so high a level. Will Make Home in Havelock. Herman J. Lowe who has been farming west of Alvo, for a number of years and who is to conclude his operations on the farm will hold a sale on January 22nd, and will move to Havelock where he will make his home in the future. On last Wednesday at Council Bluffs, where Mr. Paul Coatsman and Miss Laverne Fithee, had journeyed, they were united in marriage and later returned to their home at Elmwood. They will make their home south of Alvo and the Wm. Coatsman farm, where Paul has farmed for the past year. This very popular couple is well known by all in this portion of the county and have the best wishes of their host of friends and which the Journal joins in extending congratulations. Enjoyed the Evening. On last Friday evening the Ladies Aid society of the Methodist church met at the basement of the church, where they prepared and served to all a most bounteous supper of pancakes and oysters, as well as providing excellent music and an excellent time as well. Mrs. Arthur Heier, their daughter, went and cared for them and nursed them back towards returning health, when their son, Martin Bergquist and wife, of York, came and are now caring for the parents. COMMITTEE HEARS EXCUSE. Washington, Jan. 10.—Attorney General Sargent and Dr. Hubert Work, former secretary of the interior and now chairman of the republican national committee, appeared before the senate Indian affairs committee today to explain why a grand jury investigation of the administration of Commissioner Burke of the Indian affairs bureau was halted last summer. Dr. Work testified that while head of the interior department he asked the attorney general for a "stay" in the proceedings against Burke which involved the administering of funds of Jackson Barnett, wealthy Creek Indian, to permit a further review of the case. Burke had told him, Dr. Work said, that the charges in the case were the result of a "political feud." The proceedings were to have been started by a grand jury in Oklahoma. Attorney General Sargent, in his testimony, explained that at Dr. Work's request, he asked Solicitor General Mitchell to make a study of the case and decide on its disposition.
