House Votes Down Change in the Rules

Stands by Provision Permitting Any Section of Bill Being Killed in Committee

ASSEMBLY LOG
Sixteen bills introduced in house and six in senate. House adjourned until 10 a. m. tomorrow and senate until 2 p. m.
House debated and advanced house roll 3, providing method of obtaining legal service on residents of Nebraska, operating motor cars in state, by making secretary of state agent for such service.
Senate committee on privileges and elections decided to recount ballots cast in eighteenth district senatorial election contest between Charles Meacham, jr., Dorchester, and A. J. Welch, Milford, who was elected by three votes.

Lincoln, Jan. 15.—Considerable discussion was caused in the floor of the house when a proposal which would have changed the rules so that a section of a measure could not be stricken when the bill was being read section by section in the committee of the whole.

Representative Victor C. Hoies of Lexington made the motion which would have authorized the rules committee to consider the addition of a rule embodying such a provision. He declared bills were considered in the committee of the whole for the purpose of amending them and the striking out of a section was no way to amend a bill.

"The time to strike a section," he continued, "is after the bill has been considered by section and when amendment on the bill as a whole are asked for."

Motion Defeated
Representatives Treasurer Cone of Benson, W. O'Malley of Greely, George M. Staats, Fremont, and John Havestof of Dodge opposed the motion. They contended such a rule would cause more work and time in amending and revising a measure.

Mr. O'Malley, who is a member of the rules committee, said he believed if the house adopted such a motion, it would virtually be ordering the committee to recommend such a rule.

After much desultory and confused discussion, the motion finally was defeated by a 45 to 42 vote.

Sixteen bills were introduced, among which was one by Representative Stanley Wright of Alliance, providing for normal training and junior college course in all accredited high schools and for the operation thereof with an outlined course of instruction.

Another measure by Representative Wright provides a schedule of taxation for trucks using the public highways for hire, and also for the bonding of the same. The taxes would range from $40 on light trucks not exceeding 2,000 pounds, to $80 on those above 2,000 pounds. The penalty for operating such trucks without licenses and bond would be a fine of from $50 to $1,000 for each day's offense.

Municipal Bills
A measure by Representative Henry P. Hansen of Norfolk, Platte, and Arthur Bowring of Merriman, provides that where proper petition has been filed, county boards may provide a system of inspection of cattle and horses, before being shipped and appoint inspectors to be paid from the fees. Our attention is called to a head on cattle and 10 cents on horses.
Three more measures pertaining to the municipal affairs were introduced by Representative A. E. Allyn of Hastings and Ralph J. Buck of Sutton. One would require officers of municipalities to first offer to the state board of educational lands and funds all bonds issued by them of such character as the board can lawfully buy, before offering them elsewhere.

Another would empower cities of the second class to employ an efficiency expert in municipal affairs and the third would empower cities of the second class and villages to issue intersection, curb, gutter or graveling bonds. All these measures also have been introduced in the senate.

Crow's Egg Bounty
Representative Fred Maddox of Loup City, introduced a measure which would provide a bounty of 5c on every crow's egg found in counties and brought to the county clerk.

JURY PICKING IS DIFFICULT
Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 14.—With only four jurors chosen from a panel of thirty-three the trial of Walter Leggett, local grain dealer for the murder of Turney Cunningham, adjourned late today until tomorrow. Five hundred names were drawn and given to sheriff's deputies for the formation of a new panel.
Leggett, seven feet tall, who will face the state's demand of the death penalty for killing Cunningham, manager of the Andrew Jackson hotel, was nervous today. The compulsion he maintained yesterday was gone.
Mrs. Cunningham, the widow, attentions to whom by Leggett, led up to the slaying was not in court. She will aid in the prosecution.

English Motorcar Plant Sought by New Hampshire

Legislature Takes First Step by Naming Committee of Business Men

Concord, N. H.—Unprecedented action was taken by the New Hampshire Legislature on Thursday in unanimously passing a resolution providing for a committee to select the establishment of an English motor car company in this State. The industry, which the Legislature will endeavor to attract to New Hampshire, is the Tustin Motors, Ltd., of Stonebridge, Birmingham, Eng.

The resolution was introduced by Representative William B. Parker of Albany, recently returned from England, where he investigated the industry in question on finding that the company was desirous of coming to the United States.
The English company manufactures a small automobile of seven horsepower, said to be able to travel 50 miles on a gallon of gasoline, and to attain a speed of more than 50 miles per hour.
The Legislature appointed a committee of business men to communicate with the company and try to induce them to establish in this State. No such action on the part of the Legislature has ever been recorded before.

50 Schools to Get Two Cents

Weak Institutions Take All of Appropriation of $50,000—Need of $15,000

The total sum of 2 cents is all that is available this year for apportionment among some fifty rural high schools and consolidated schools and the inability of State Superintendent Taylor to pass around approximately a half mill to each of these schools will deprive them of any aid to which they are entitled under the provisions of the Mallory act.

Under the statutes, the rural high schools and consolidated schools are entitled to an apportioned share of funds left over after a distribution is made of the appropriation made biennially for aid to weak schools in the state.

Two years ago the legislature appropriated $50,000 for aid of weak school districts. After the qualifications of each needy school were checked by the state superintendent it was found that they were entitled to $50,899.74, or $899.74 more than the legislature had provided.

State Superintendent Taylor reduced proportionately the amount each school is to receive and ordered warrants issued to the weak schools in the total amount of $49,999.98. This left a balance of 2 cents in the fund.

In 1927, a $50,000 appropriation was also available but the weak schools required only $48,824, thus leaving $1,176 for distribution under the Mallory act. In 1926 there was $8,548.33 available, and in 1925 $11,245.94.

For 1925 and 1926, however, the legislature had appropriated $55,999 for weak rural schools.

If each school were to receive the full amount it is entitled to under the Mallory act, the total sum distributed would be $13,050.

Commenting on the situation, Monday morning, Superintendent Taylor said:
"This office feels that the appropriation for state aid to weak schools should be at least $15,000 larger for each year so that the state may fulfill its obligation as expressed by statute toward reimbursing those consolidated and rural high schools that are ambitious and progressive enough to meet the Mallory act requirements."

"A study of the distribution of state funds for the last four years shows that the weak districts have been making increasingly greater demands upon this appropriation while the appropriation has been decreased rather than increased."

Suggestions for Sticking a Hog.
Shooting or knocking a hog that is to be butchered is unnecessary, dangerous and often cruel unless the hog is in a large pen, is wild or vicious. Shooting may actually retard bleeding.

The hog should be rolled squarely on his back, one man standing straddle of him and holding his forelegs. Bearing down on the point of the chin, the sticker makes a short incision in front of the breast bone. The point of the knife is slipped back under the point of the breast bone, then cut is made downward and forward. This severs the forks of the vein and artery which carry blood between the heart and brain. Care must be taken to keep squarely in the center. It is unnecessary to twist the knife. It is not desirable to stick the
