The revival meetings which have been conducted at the United Brethren church in Nehawka for the past month closed with last Sunday, and they have to report very satisfactory success in their efforts.

Paul Swan of north of Union was a visitor in Nehawka for a short time on last Tuesday afternoon and was having some work done by Mr. T. E. Fulton, one of the very best blacksmiths of Cass county.

The Sheldon store was taking their annual inventory during the present week and are well pleased with the excellent business which they have been enjoying during the past year, which has been a banner year for the institution.

Mr. and Mrs. Ephriam Oaks of near Fairbury, are visiting with friends in and about Nehawka for a number of days during the present week. Mr. Oaks is the administrator of the Mrs. L. Rusterholtz estate. Mrs. Oaks being a daughter of the late Mrs. Rusterholtz.

Morris Pollard, who has been sick for several weeks at his home in Nebraska, was taken to Nebraska City where he was placed in the hospital for treatment as it was thought that he would receive more careful treatment, and since it is hoped that he may soon be able to return to his home here greatly improved in health.

Mrs. Albertina Ost received a letter from her daughter, Mrs. Alfred Anderson a few days since, telling of the weather being very severe for that climate. As a usual thing it never gets cold enough to freeze, but last week there was a snow of several inches and the water which was put out for the chickens was soon turned to ice.

Wm. Dow will make his home at Burns, Wyoming, the remainder of this winter and during the coming summer. His two nephews Lawrence and Nelson Weyneberg of that place who were visiting in this vicinity for a number of days during the present week, departed for the west on Wednesday morning, taking their uncle with them, they driving in their car.

Mrs. C. W. Snyder, who has been at the hospital at Nebraska City for some time past, taken there on account of an affected limb, which resulted from an ingrowing toe nail which caused a gathering in one of her feet, and which became so serious that it was found necessary to resort to an operation on one of her feet, which was done on last Tuesday.

James Miller, her son-in-law, was down to be with the patient during the ordeal. Following the operation Mrs. Snyder is reported as being some better. Her many friends, whom are legion, are hoping she may soon be able to return home entirely well.

Will Hold 7th Annual Sale. In the columns of the Journal appears an ad for Harry M. Knabe who will on the seventh of February at the Pollard sales pavilion give the seventh annual sale of bred sows and gilts of the celebrated Hampshire hogs. Mr. Knabe, who has proven a breeder of this celebrated strain of porkers far above and beyond that of the ordinary breeder, has made a success of the business, because he has always had more than the money's worth in all their purchases. Some of the outstanding offerings are Knabe's Hot Shot, who won second prize at the Nebraska state fair in 1928. Claus Revelation was first junior at the state fair of 1928; Yankee King Jr., is a better sire than his father, which is saying a lot, but he proved it this year. Golden Hawkeye who is sired by Hawkeye. He is a real boar of the highest class and plenty of snap. The only way you can fully realize the worth of the hogs is to be at the sale, which occurs at the sale pavilion on Thursday, February 7th.

It is possible for one to make the same success which has come to Mr. Knabe.

James J. Pollard Very Ill. Some time since James J. Pollard received a light scratch on his right hand and which soon developed into a very sore hand. He had it treated and on last Wednesday was taken with the pneumonia, and later on Saturday the hand became very serious and Mr. Pollard was taken to the Clarkson hospital at Omaha, where he was treated for both. The pneumonia soon succumbed to the treatment and he was better. The hand and arm which was thought had blood poisoning, was very serious. Blood tests showed no blood poisoning, for no pus appeared. However it did show affection of some nature. On last Tuesday V. P. Sheldon and Messrs. George C. Sheldon and R. C. Pollard were over to see him. Mr. Sheldon, returning while the ladies stayed over to see after his condition. Mrs. J. J. Pollard who is also in the hospital at Omaha is reported as being some better.

U. B. Church Notes. The revival meeting that has been in progress at the Nehawka church the past two weeks closed Sunday night, and in spite of the winter weather and sickness which interfered with regular attendance, the meeting was a success and six souls were converted to a saving faith in Christ and five of them and two others joined the church. The whole church is revived and built up in the faith and inspired to render more and better service to the community. On Thursday night of last week the members and friends of the church pounded the pastor and family in a way that deserves to be told. They came over to the parsonage immediately after church while the pastor and wife were detained at the church, and were waiting there when we came in and surprised us with pounds of provisions and cash that valued $19.50.

We appreciate the way everyone helped by contributing liberally to the offerings. We took only two offerings outside of the regular Sunday services and without any personal soliciting we had $48.00 to give to Rev. McKain and his daughter as a token of our appreciation of the service they gave us.

Services at Nehawka. Sunday school at 10:00 a. m. Preaching at 11:00 a. m. Praying at 7:30 p. m. Special music. Prayer meeting Wednesday 7:30 p. m.

Burial Vaults You care well for your loved ones while alive. One of our concrete vaults protects their remains when buried. An absolute guarantee. MILLER & GRUBER, NEHAWKA, NEBR.

SUFFERING FROM THE FLU From Wednesday's Daily—The work of the driver for the American Express Co., seems to be an unhealthy job as Paul Henderson, baggageman at the local Burlington station, who has been looking after the work during the illness of Lester Burrows, regular driver, has been forced to remain at home by the flu bug, being taken sick Monday evening and not able to be out and on the job. Paul was feeling badly for several days but remained on the job as long as he could and then had to give up the battle.

Mr. Burrows, who has been confined to his home for the greater part of the time since the first part of December, is able to be up and around and trying to regain his strength but is still unable to take up his usual activities. Mr. Burrows returned to work the first of January but after a week had a relapse and has since been confined to his home in the north part of the city.

TO PUNISH TEXAS BOLTERS Austin, Tex., Jan. 29.—The state senate committee on privileges and elections today refused to approve five election measures offered by State Senator Thomas B. Love of Dallas, bolting demobro in the November general election, and voted to report favorably a bill which would keep supporters of Herbert Hoover from running for office in the next democratic primary.

Under the terms of the bill, demobros who voted for Herbert Hoover would not be permitted to run for office on the democratic ticket until 1932.

House Spurs Senate's Bank Inquiry Plan

Refers Joint Resolution to Committee After Naming a Probe Body of Its Own.

Lincoln, Jan. 29.—The house of representatives Tuesday switched its private investigation of the banking situation on to the main line, and "bumped" the senate's proposed investigation onto a side track. In the most heated skirmish of the session, the lower branch referred the joint resolution asking the governor to name a committee of five members to conduct a thorough investigation and audit of the bank guaranty fund commission to the house committee on finance, ways and means. This action was taken after that body had adopted the report of the house banking committee, which named representatives L. D. Spencer of Barnstead, Earl Hasselbalch of St. Edward and Walter M. Burr of Junata as a subcommittee to investigate the banking situation.

Party Lineup. The fight on both the report and resolution brought the most straight party alignments. Representative George W. O'Malley of Greeley, minority leader, led the fight against the committee report and for the adoption of the joint resolution as passed by the senate. He objected to the committee report, but it was adopted by a large majority. When the resolution was taken up, he moved its adoption. Forthwith Representative Allen G. Burke of Bancroft, majority leader, offered the substitute motion referring the resolution to the finance committee. Subsequently there ensued a lengthy discussion which was finally halted by a motion of Representative L. H. Aurd of Chapman to shut off further debate.

Thorough Probe. By a 67 to 30 vote, the substitute motion referring the resolution to the finance committee, was adopted. Six republicans voted with 24 democrats against that disposition of it. There were no democrats supporting the substitute motion, but representative Burrof the minority side passed and did not vote at all. Republican opposing the motion were Representatives Harry A. Foster, Omaha; George H. Moyer, Madison; Henry Oelkers, Eustis; Obed Raasch, Norfolk; George M. Story, Plainview; and Stanley Wright, Alliance.

The resolution, over which the party fight occurred, was introduced in the senate by Senator Kenneth S. Wherry of Pawnee City, a republican. It was adopted by the strongly republican senate by a slender margin. Under the provisions of the resolution, a thorough investigation and audit of the bank guaranty fund commission would have been made entirely outside the legislature and primarily for the purpose of making public all transactions of the committee since its creation.—Omaha Bee-News.

Big Farm Plan Called a Return to Peasantry

"Corporation" Propaganda Vigorously Assailed by H. J. Baker Extension Service Director

New Brunswick, N. J.—Theories and propaganda in favor of big corporation farming in place of the small individual farmer were severely criticized by H. J. Baker, director of extension service of Rutgers University and a nationally known authority on farming and farm problems. In a statement just released, Mr. Baker holds that extensive development of large scale corporation farming in this country would result in a serious social problems, in that it probably would lower standards of living in rural communities and lead ultimately to peasantry.

Mr. Baker's views are regarded in agricultural circles here as particularly timely, coming, as they do, when the question of farm production costs is a national one and when many engineers hold that big corporations are better able to fully develop the nation's agricultural resources and produce food supplies more cheaply than the small individual farmer. Among the nationally prominent men who have, in effect, voiced this latter view is Henry Ford.

Mr. Baker holds that the proponents of this scheme are wrong and that corporation farming will not, as its proponents assert, establish an equilibrium between supply and demand. Evidence is lacking to support these assertions, he declared, and added that the so-called farm problem would be aggravated, rather than aided, by corporation farming. Agreements between corporations on crop acreage would overcome the problem of crop surpluses, he said, because weather plays a more important part in total yields. Referring to the assertion that corporations can produce food cheaper than small farms, Mr. Baker said that the most conclusive evidence in support of this contention came from the West and Southwest, where thousands of Mexican laborers work for a very low wage. Production on that basis, he said, would force this country to sacrifice its social standards for cheap food.

Yankee King, Jr. is a better sire than his old dad was. Now that's saying a lot, but he proved it this year. He sired state champion litter (shown by Chilcott Bros.) He also sired Trail Blazer, top pig in my fall sale and is at the head of R. L. Pemberton's herd. He is the sensation of next year's shows.

Golden Hawkeye

Golden Hawkeye is sired by the Hawkeye, the big boar of Boyd G. Weidien. He is an outcross of blood to most any one's herd. He is a real high class boar with lots of snap and style. He will make them step for the high honors in the junior yearling class of 1929. Be ahead of the game and get a sow bred to him at our sale, Feb. 7th.

Knabe's Hot Shot

Knabe's Hot Shot was second prize boar at Nebraska in 1928, being defeated by his litter mate Nehawka Whirlwind, the grand champion boar. Knabe's Hot Shot is the sire of that good gilt, Hot Shot Lady 15th (shown below). We had the misfortune to lose him last fall, so get one of his good gilts now while you have the opportunity.

KNABE'S HOT SHOT LADY FIFTEENTH

Hot Shot Lady 15th was the junior champion gilt of Nebraska in 1928. Judge Pemberton said she was perhaps the greatest gilt he had ever tied a ribbon on. She is No. 31 in catalogue and sells bred to Golden Hawkeye for a March 22nd litter.

DICTATOR 183367

The wonder son of Defender Lass and by Eureka. The top pig selling in 1927. We kept this pig to replace Knabe's Hot Shot after he died. A few sows in this offering bred to him.

DEFENDER'S LASS

Defender's Lass (shown above) was grand champion sow at Nebraska in 1928, defeating the world's champion sow for this honor. She is the dam of Nebraska's Whirlwind, grand champion boar at Nebraska. He is a litter mate to Knabe's Hot Shot. She is also grand dam of Lucky Whirlwind, the junior champion boar at Nebraska, also world's junior champion boar. She is the grand dam of Hot Shot Lady 15th (shown at left). There is one of her good sows in this sale sired by old Yankee King, and incidentally the last litter the old boar sired.

Where five or more hogs are bought in a community we'll deliver free up to 40 miles. Half of express charges will be paid on animals bought for pig club members. Don't fail to attend this sale.
