WILL CONTINUE RIPRAPPING

The Woods Brothers who have been looking after some rip-rapping for the Missouri Pacific north of this city along the Platte river, are preparing to resume their activity in placing protective mats along the river bank west of the new bridge of the railroad company. The railroad has had a great deal of work done at this point to protect the property of the company from possible effects of the high water in the spring.

The great amount of snow and the extreme winter that has prevailed over all of the west for the past several months has resulted in a great deal of water in the spring in all of the rivers of the west and protective measures taken now will save a great deal of loss later.

FARM BUREAU NOTES
Copy for this Department furnished by County Agent

One hundred farmers of the county met with Ralph Cole and Art George of the agricultural college and with Mr. L. R. Snipes, Co. Ext. Agent to finish up their 1928 farm record books last week. Ninety-six of them are going on with another book in 1929.

The idea of individual conferences worked out fine. It gave each farmer a chance to talk over all his record and to also ask suggestions about farm management.

The 1928 books kept by these men will be summarized along with several hundred others from other counties. It may be several weeks before the work can be completed but a report and the completed books will come back to this county in due time.

"It pays to keep records," is the first lesson that a good many farmers have learned this past year. "More farmers ought to be doing this," is another thing they have found to be true. "It isn't so hard," is another decision they have reached.

Neighbors of a few of the farmers who kept books in 1928 came with them to the meeting. Several of them started their 1929 books.

Good Seed Day.

The coming Good Seed Day exhibit of seeds for sale locally will be the greatest display of the kind in this county this year. L. R. Snipes, county agent who has charge of the arrangements, believes.

Local farmers with seed for sale and local dealers in the business have shown an interest in showing their samples to the public. The show will not be for prizes, but just to let prospective buyers know what is available right here in this county.

Some seed may change hands that day, but further advertising will be discouraged in order that those who do not get to the show and meeting may know where they can buy the best seed and save the shipping charges on seed from other places. Seed produced right at home is generally the best for the locality, anyway.

Uniform containers will be provided by those in charge of the show. It is suggested that samples of threshed grain include at least a quart of seed that samples of seed corn be in the ear and that a half bushel be shown in each sample.

In addition to this show, the other feature of the Good Seed Day will be the afternoon meeting to discuss questions of interest to local farmers. They may ask questions themselves, or a prepared set will be followed. The questions will probably deal with farming practices in producing corn, handling legumes, or small grains.

The real value of machinery in corn production, the real value of hog lot sanitation, the real value of sweet clover as a soil boiler, the real cost of portable hog equipment are among the questions that will be discussed at the coming Corn and Hog Day to be held at Plattsmouth on Friday, February 5th.

Most farmers agree that big machinery, hog lot sanitation, sweet clover, etc., are profitable additions to their farms, but how much these newer things are worth is not yet known.

Cass county had a winner the past years in the corn contest. Mr. Otto Schaffer will be at the meeting to give his experiences and to receive the award he won from the Crop Growing Association.

In addition to this local experience, P. E. Stewart and O. O. Wazgen of the agricultural college who have charge of the state contests, will be there to summarize the results and give the conclusions that fit this section of the state.

Corn and hogs are Nebraska's best crop combinations and the discussion of the modern methods of producing both should interest every man in this community.

T. B. in Chickens.

The government and local veterinarians who are testing our cattle report 70% of the flocks of chickens in Cass county are infected with more or less T. B.

Some of the veterinarians have been in many counties and they say the infection here in Cass county is greater than in any county in Nebraska in which they have been.

We would like to give you all the assistance possible in cleaning up your flock. This spring or early summer is the correct time to do this.

Women's Part in Butchering

Have you taken care of your meat for summer use? If not, write the farm bureau office for extension circulars 9-26-2, which gives you special directions for canning meat.—L. R. Snipes and J. H. Baldwin, County Extension Agents.

GIVE FINAL PERFORMANCE

From Friday's Daily—

Last evening the final offering of "Aunt Lucia," collegiate comedy, presented under the auspices of the Women's club, drew a very large audience to the Farmers' theatre to witness the second night of this very clever entertainment. The members of the cast as well as the various choruses showed greater familiarity with their roles and made the event one of the greatest pleasure and fun for all of the audience. In the presentation of the girl's chorus Miss Marjorie Ann one of the young musicians of the city served as the accompanist.

Clan's Revelation was first junior yearling boar at Nebraska in 1928 in a class of 19. He is sired by Clan's Perfection, the grand champion boar owned by Klein & Granzow. You can't go wrong on a litter sired by Clan's Revelation. He will be a very strong contender in the aged boar class of 1929.

Yankee King, Jr.

Yankee King, Jr. is a better sire than his old dad was. Now that's saying a lot, but he proved it this year. He sired state champion litter (shown by Chilcott Bros.) He also sired Trail Blazer, top pig in my fall sale and is at the head of R. L. Pemberton's herd. He is the sensation of next year's shows.

Knabe's Hot Shot

Knabe's Hot Shot was second prize boar at Nebraska in 1928, being defeated by his litter mate Nehawka Whirlwind, the grand champion boar. Knabe's Hot Shot is the sire of that good gilt, Hot Shot Lady 15th (shown below). We had the misfortune to lose him last fall, so get one of his good gilts now while you have the opportunity.

Golden Hawkeye

Golden Hawkeye is sired by the Hawkeye, the big boar of Boyd G. Weidlien. He is an outcross of blood to most any one's herd. He is a real high class boar with lots of snap and style. He will make them step for the high honors in the junior yearling class of 1929. Be ahead of the game and get a sow bred to him at our sale, Feb. 7th.

KNABE'S HOT SHOT LADY
FIFTEENTH

DEFENDER'S LASS

Hot Shot Lady 15th was the junior champion gilt of Nebraska in 1928. Judge Pemberton said she was perhaps the greatest gilt he had ever tied a ribbon on. She is No. 31 in catalogue and sells bred to Golden Hawkeye for a March 22nd litter.
