

GREENWOOD

Clyde Newkirk, who is a hustler, has been assisting at the Farmers elevator for the past week.

A number of families of Greenwood and vicinity are reported as being afflicted with scarlet fever, some being quite ill with the malady.

Albert Leaver was looking after some business matters in Lincoln for a short time on last Wednesday, he driving over in his car for the occasion.

Mrs. Ella Marshall, of Ashland, was a visitor in Greenwood for some time last week and a guest of her sisters, Miss Catherine Coleman and Mrs. E. A. Landon.

Walter Palling, Jr., was over to Lincoln on last Wednesday, driving in his car, and had for his companions his father, W. E. Palling and Fred Ethrege.

Earl Hightshue who held his sale last week, was well pleased over the way things sold and while he received good prices, the goods were of the best quality as well.

Mrs. Lulu Hurlbut is reported as being kept to her home and a good portion of the time in bed, by reason of some stomach trouble with which she is afflicted.

Mrs. A. W. Hudson was so ill with an attack of the gripe that she was not able to get down to the store for a number of days, but at this time is reported as being some better.

John Ballinger, who was kept to his home and bed with an attack of the flu the past week, was able to return to his work at the shop during the middle of the past week.

Louis Wright and M. R. Hibbart, who have been picking corn at the home of John Meyers, were also visiting for the day last Wednesday at Lincoln, making the trip via the bus.

Henry Elkerman was shelling and delivering corn to the Farmers Union elevator company of Greenwood and enjoyed the very good price which the yellow cereal brought early last week.

Walter Palling, Jr. and sister Anna have arranged to attend the state university, they making their last registration on last Friday and will become students in this institution the beginning of the coming term.

With the pressure of corn on the market, which has been in evidence for the past week, the local elevators have been getting their share, and both institutions have had to have additional help to get their work done.

Believing that the grinding of feed for stock is a very good idea, and that the same amount of feed does more good for the stock and goes farther, Ed Burkholder has been practicing this plan. He was assisted last Wednesday by E. M. Jumper, who was also grinding some for himself.

Harold Nichols, who has been assisting in the picking of corn for Harry Schrader for the past six weeks, departed last week for Union, where he was expecting to visit for a few days, after which he will depart for Ponca City, Oklahoma, where he will accept a position.

The Dorcas society of the Christian church met on last Thursday with Mrs. E. A. Landon, who was assisted in the entertaining by her sister, Mrs. Ella Marshall, of Ashland, who was a guest at the Landon home for the past week. The ladies of the society enjoyed their meeting very much with Mrs. Landon and did much good work for the church. Mrs. Landon, assisted by Mrs. Ella Marshall, served dainty refreshments at the proper time which were much enjoyed by all present.

Named County Commander

At the division conference of delegates from the American Legion posts in the four counties—Cass, Otoe, Lancaster and Seward—held at Lincoln Monday, Col. Phil Hall was named as county commander, succeeding W. R. Holly, of the Plattsmouth post. Col. Phil is commander of Greenwood post this year and now has had further Legion honors thrust upon him. The Plattsmouth post and others over the district and state have declared for him for state commander next year and hope to put his candidacy over at the state convention in August. Greenwood will entertain the First Congressional district of the Legion in May and is preparing for and anticipating a large attendance.

their home at Davenport, Iowa, but for some time Mrs. Welton has been at Omaha and there on Friday of last week the stork made a visit and presented this couple with a very fine baby girl, who, with the mother, are doing very nicely at this time. Mrs. G. W. Holt, who is a very close friend of Mrs. Welton, was over to Omaha on last Wednesday to visit with Mrs. Welton and see the new comer.

Attended Conclave

On last Saturday night, Walter E. Palling, Fred Ethrege and Sophus Petersen, all of whom are members of the Canton at Lincoln, were enjoying a meeting of the Lady Miltant of the order, who had the membership of the Lincoln Canton as their guests and these three Greenwood Odd Fellows being members of the order in this branch at Lincoln, sprouts, while none of the varieties there. They also enjoyed the banquet which was provided for all those present at the gathering.

Corn Makes Excellent Test

W. E. Palling, who has been making extensive experiments as well as growing corn for seed for many years, has just propagated a new corn that is known as Palling's Early Yellow. This is a large yellow dent seed corn, being very hardy, and an early variety that matures in this climate in 95 days, which brings it well out of the way of early frosts. Mr. Palling has had this, with seven other varieties which he has for sale, tested by the Nebraska Experimental station, this particular brand testing 100 per cent germination of strong, healthy sprouts, while none of the varieties tested under 98 per cent. Mr. Palling is very well pleased with the new variety, the Palling's Early Yellow, and will have much of it for sale this spring.

Meets Peculiar Accident

While John Meyers, living north of Greenwood, was looking after his stock and was endeavoring to place a calf in the barn, which was in an open shed, the calf became frightened and started to run, also frightening a horse, which also ran and as Mr. Meyers was passing a small gate he and the horse came into collision with the result that the horse ran over John, knocking him down and trampling him very severely. No bones were broken, although Meyers is feeling very sore from his unpleasant experience.

SOME BIG SHIRT

The Wescott clothing store has a shirt at their store that is of a size sufficient to cover two good full sized men, one of the celebrated Brody shirts, manufactured by the firm of F. Brody & Sons of Des Moines, Iowa. The shirt has a neck of thirty-four inches, 104 inches around the chest, forty-eight inch sleeves in length, twenty-four inches around the cuff, and pockets of 11x11 inches with a length of seventy-four inches. The firm would be pleased to find a man capable of fitting the shirt but there is little likelihood of any calls being made by prospective wearers for the "Big Boy."

Oliver Schneider, who is attending the state university at Lincoln came in this morning to visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Schneider at Cedar Creek and also with his brother, Lloyd Schneider at the hospital at Omaha.

Another Scrap Over the Control Board in Sight

Appointment of Mrs. Benson Arouses Opposition; Weaver's Second Appointee to Job.

Lincoln, Feb. 1.—Another senate scrap over Governor Weaver's board of control appointments loomed Friday when members of that body declared considerable opposition prevailed against Mrs. Nellie Benson of Silver Creek, the governor's second appointee. Just a week ago the senate refused to confirm the appointment of Mrs. Charles G. Ryan of Grand Island, and Thursday the governor submitted the name of Mrs. Benson.

The only direct action taken on the appointment Friday morning came when Senator Rickard of Guide Rock moved that a committee be named to investigate the qualifications of Mrs. Benson. Senator Rickard was appointed chairman of the committee, and Senators Kennedy of Broken Bow and Schepman of Falls City were named as the other two members.

Man Favored.

Questioning of nearly half the members of the upper house uncovered that the opposition is not so much to Mrs. Benson, personally, since practically none of the senators are acquainted with her, but because there is a general feeling that a man should have been appointed. This opinion was expressed by practically every member interviewed.

Furthermore there is considerable dissatisfaction among the democratic members because of the report that Mrs. Benson bolted the party ticket for Hoover. One democrat asserted that he would rather "a republican had been appointed than a bolter."

It was also rumored that the W. C. T. U., which led the opposition to Mrs. Ryan, would also oppose Mrs. Benson, though it could not be learned on what grounds. No messages of protest have been yet received by the members of the senate so far as could be learned.

May Go Through.

It is predicted, however, that unless some serious objection is raised the appointment will be confirmed. This prediction is based on the assumption that a number of the members who are more or less on the line, will vote for the confirmation in order to save the governor the embarrassment of having a second appointment turned down, even though they are not entirely satisfied.

Senator Harry K. Easton, Omaha, democrat, said he would insist on a thorough investigation of Mrs. Benson's qualifications.

The senate went into the committee of the whole for a short time before adjourning and advanced S. F. No. 88 to third reading. The bill provides for state inspection and supervision to be paid by bee owners.

The body then adjourned until 2 o'clock Monday afternoon.—Omaha Bee-News.

Happy Hundred Supper on Next Tuesday Night

Coming February Gathering Will Be Held at Methodist Church—Adrain News Speaker

The February meeting of the Happy Hundred will be held on Tuesday evening, February 5th at the parlors of the First Methodist church, the committee in charge reports and will be ready to hop off at the 6:30 on Tuesday night, so those who have not as yet secured their tickets should get busy and arrange for a reservation.

The speaker for this meeting will be Adrain News, dean of the University School of Music, who has been heard here on several occasions in the past and proved a very entertaining and pleasing speaker and one that holds the close attention of his audience from the opening until the close.

Not the least of the features of the evening will be the fact that many of the leading farmers and agriculturalists of the county as well as representatives from the state agricultural college will be in attendance, they being here for the big hog and corn show at the court house on that date and remaining over to attend the supper in the evening when the prize winners will be announced.

This will be a meeting of great interest in the community as Otto Schafer, the winner of the state prize for growing the largest amount of corn per acre will be here as well as Nelson Berger, second to Mr. Schafer in the county contest, these enterprising farmers being given state-wide recognition and will now be with the home folks at this very fine meeting.

The committee in charge of the music and the usual trimmings are getting busy and Earl Davis will be on hand to handle the harpoon as toastmaster.

ARREST TWO COUSINS IN $50,000 ROBBERY

New York, Feb. 1.—Two cousins, who described themselves as liquor salesmen, were arrested Friday as two of the four men who held up and robbed the G. Mauboussin jewelry shop in Park avenue of $50,000 in gems two weeks ago. The men are Roderick Ryan, 30, and Matthew Cantwell, 26.

JURY BELIEVES BLIND MAN

Chicago, Feb. 1.—A jury today believed the story of a blind organist that he could recognize persons by their voices and in ten minutes found Fred Leonard guilty of robbery, carrying with it a sentence of from one to twenty years imprisonment.

Richard Boehler, the organist, testified that Leonard had been his best friend. He said he and Leonard were driving home in an automobile when Leonard stopped the car. A few seconds later a voice commanded him to hold up his hands and he was robbed of $100 and his watch. The blind organist said he recognized the robber's voice as Leonard's and declared he could not possibly have been mistaken.

Asks Twenty Thousand a Year to Boost State

Bureau of Immigration Proposed to Attract Peopie to State—Club Met Here Friday

That Nebraska should have a publicity and promotion bureau doing the work that the Chamber of Commerce does in each city is the belief of the 50 members of the Greater Nebraska club which met Thursday noon at the Ad-Sell restaurants at Omaha.

"All possible effort should be expended to induce the state to appropriate 20 thousand dollars a year for the establishment and maintenance of a bureau of immigration under the state department of agriculture," L. P. Carpenter of Hastings told the club members. He pointed out that numerous inquiries were received by the secretary of state regarding conditions and descriptions of various counties by people desiring to move to Nebraska, but that there was no state bureau especially designed to handle these requests.

"People will only realize the opportunities offered by Nebraska when they are told about them," said Mr. Carpenter.

In a study of the similar bureaus in other states, Mark M. Shaw, secretary, said that "in 1925 Oregon spent 35 thousand dollars for publicity and brought 650 new families to the state who invested $1,950,000.

"The taxes alone on this new money would more than maintain such a bureau of immigration," he said.

"The six New England states have banded together in the realization that they must 'sell New England' and have appropriated 300 thousand dollars a year for a period of three years. California and Florida have been at it for a long time."

Mr. Shaw read a letter received from Harry K. Eastman, state senator. He wrote: "The co-operation between all civic, commercial and benevolent clubs and kindred agencies is most important, but to my mind the greatest object of your club would be to undertake to induce our legislature to establish and adequately maintain, by a liberal yearly appropriation, a state department of publicity and development. Such a department properly functioning can be on the average, $5 to the value of every acre of farm land in Nebraska."

The club is headed by W. F. Poff of Omaha. Hugh Meyers is vice-president.

ELKS TO HAVE MINSTREL

The Elks lodge of this city are arranging to present a minstrel show here after Easter, sometime in March, which from the advance dope should be a real knockout.

Many of the public will recall the big minstrel that the Elks staged here back in the days "before the war" when Jim Pollock and the chorus of some thirty or forty assorted varieties of singers and comedians staged and which proved a real success in every way.

This year the minstrel will lack many of the features of that of yesterday. Fred Dawson not being here to supply the explosions for the climax of the first part, but Sidney Bell, the exalted ruler, states they will have many features equally as good and lacking the danger.

The forthcoming production will be under the direction of L. D. Hiatt, veteran of the stage and the musical program will be arranged by B. A. Koenigsman while L. L. Turpin will serve as the interlocutor—and how.

If you are planning a trip to Florida or some other winter resort cancel all reservations as the Elks minstrel will be plenty hot.

ELECTION COSTS RUN HIGH

New York, Feb. 1.—The New York City board of elections reported today that its expenses for 1928 totaled $2,298,656, which is more dollars than there were votes cast here for all the presidential candidates in the November elections. There were 1,973,758 such votes. The money spent by the board of elections, however, cannot all be charged up against the one election, almost $85,000 for instance being spent for new voting machines which will serve in future elections also.

The largest single item was $733,249, the pay for election officers.

There are many reasons for the ease of steering the new Ford

THE new Ford is exceptionally easy to steer because of the well-proportioned weight of the car, the steel-spoke wheels, the co-ordinated design of springs and shock absorbers, the size and design of the steering wheel, and the simple mechanical construction of the steering gear.

The Ford steering gear is of the worm and sector type used on high-priced cars and is three-quarter irreversible.

In simple, non-technical language, this means that the car responds easily and quickly to the steering wheel, yet there is no danger of the wheel being jerked from the hands of the driver by ruts or bumps in the road. A light touch guides the car, yet you always have that necessary feel-of-the-road so essential to good driving.

Strength of materials and careful workmanship give unusual stability to the Ford steering gear and housing.

The steering worm, for instance, is splined to the steering worm shaft and is stronger, of course, than if a single key were used to hold the shaft and worm together. The steering worm sector is forged and machined in the same piece with its shaft.

The housing of the steering gear mechanism is made of three steel forgings, electrically welded together. This housing is then electrically welded to the steering column. Such a one-piece steel unit is naturally much sturdier than if several parts were used and bolted or riveted together.

Throughout, the new Ford steering mechanism is so simple in design and so carefully made that it requires practically no attention.

The only thing for you to do is to have the front steering spindles, spindle connecting rods, and drag link lubricated every 500 miles and the steering gear lubricated every 2000 miles.

For this work, you will find it best to consult the Ford dealer. He has been specially trained and equipped to help you get the greatest possible use from your car over the longest period of time at a minimum of trouble and expense.
