Bad Roads are Order of Day in This State

Stretches of King of Trail Highway Are Impassible in Many Places to the South

The King of Trails highway, No. 75, from Omaha south to Kansas City seems to be one of the hardest hit highways in the west according to the reports from the various sections of the territory through which the road passes and the gravel surface of the highway has been cut by the heavy trucks and busses so that it is impassible in many places.

The highway was damaged very much recently by the melting snows and frost coming out of the ground and in the vicinity of the Pappio north of this city the road was overflowed by this small but troublesome stream and which has made necessary the filling of many places with crushed rock, this being used in places north of Fort Crook as well as just north of the Fort Crook railroad crossing and along the stretch south of the Pappio bridge.

In this immediate section bad places have developed near the Glen Valley place north of this city and south between this city and Mynard and while the road department has done work with the crushed rock to alleviate the worst of the condition travel is still far from pleasant. However, this section of the highway is open for travel and in better shape than many places farther south along the highway.

North of Union a very bad place has existed since the melting of the snow and which has been made more serious by the rain of Sunday and requiring planking to permit travel and through this stretch the lighter cars have been able to move but checking the heavier motor vehicles.

From Nebraska City to the south the highway has been cut up very bad and travel by the busses has been at a standstill and Sunday service on the Omaha-Kansas City line was abandoned and most of the smaller and lighter busses are able to get through on the detours.

Many places on the "O" street road have also been poorly for the past several days and made necessary repairs on some 300 feet of the highway but owing to the condition of the ground the road will not be in good condition until the gravel has been dried up and repacked again.

The state department of public works is studying the problem of the heavy travel on the highway from the extremely large trucks and which operating over the highway in the wet and sloppy weather seem to have done a great part of the damage to the surface except in cases where overflows have served to wash off the gravel or soften the surface of the highway by the accumulation of water and mud.

HELD FAMILY REUNION

Sunday the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Lohnes was the scene of a very pleasant family reunion, which marked the passing of the 37th wedding anniversary of this estimable couple.

The day was very pleasantly enjoyed with a dinner prepared by the family.

Among the gifts was a complete set of silverware from the children, also a linen set from Mrs. F. B. Shopp and daughter, Marjorie, who, with Miss Olive Jones, were visitors for the afternoon. The song "Sweeter as the Years Go By" was a dedication for the family sung over the radio by Mrs. Earl May, of Shenandoah, Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. Lohnes have a family of seven children and seven grandchildren. The children are Martin, Elmer and Louis Lohnes, Mrs. George Hennings, Mrs. J. B. Kaffenberger, Mrs. Ralph Hilt and Mrs. Elmer Chamberlain. The grandchildren are Dale and Darlene Hennings, Marvin and Evelyn Lohnes, Ralph, Jr. and Kenneth Gene Hilt and Shirley Louise Chamberlain.

The day will long be remembered most pleasantly by those in attendance and in the coming years it is hoped that the blessings and congratulations of their friends may be received on many more such anniversaries.

Employe of New Bridge Suffers a Fractured Skull

Frank Ferris Badly Injured and Ed Schliscke Receives Scalp Wound when Struck by Timbers

From Tuesday's Daily—
Another very serious accident occurred late yesterday afternoon at the site of the new auto and wagon bridge over the Missouri river at this point, when Frank Ferris, of St. Louis, received a fractured skull and Ed Schliscke, of this city a scalp wound when a part of the wooden forms fell in on them.

The two men were engaged in working on the interior of one of the piers on the Nebraska side of the river as the wooden forms were being removed and a part of one of these fell inward and onto the two men.

Mr. Ferris was dangerously injured. It was thought last evening as he was brought to the office of Dr. J. S. Livingston, apparently suffering from a fracture of the skull just above the right ear and was in such condition that it was thought best to have him removed to the Immanuel hospital at Omaha for an X-ray examination of the head and for treatment.

The injury to Mr. Schliscke, fortunately was not dangerous and consisted of a cut on the scalp, which was treated and dressed and the injured young man was able to be around as usual, aside from the soreness and some pain caused by the injury.

These accidents are the second and third in a two day period, as John Stett was fatally burned in the caisson on the Iowa side of the river Sunday night and died at the hospital at Omaha yesterday morning at 10 o'clock.

Both Mr. Stett and Mr. Ferris are from St. Louis and came here with the Union Bridge & Construction company force in late December to work on the new bridge that is being erected by the Plattsmouth Bridge company to connect the states of Iowa and Nebraska at this point.

Elks to Give Minstrel at the Parmele Soon

April 10th and 11th are Dates of the Big Entertainment—50 Local People Busy Rehearsing

It has been a long time since Plattsmouth theatre goers have had the opportunity of attending a real old fashioned Minstrel Show. Whether its because the boys of 1911 Minstrel Show fame have never recovered, or absence of William Fredrick Dawson is not known, but this much is certain, everything is in readiness, and from the raising of the curtain on the Olio you'll get the biggest fifty cents worth of entertainment ever.

The Elks lodge is the greatest benevolent order in existence. Right at this time the local lodge is doing its share in raising a $19,000 endowment fund for helping crippled children to help themselves. When this amount shall have been raised the Grand Lodge matches the amount with another $19,000.

This is the one big reason for this Minstrel show to do its part in putting over this $20,000 for work in our state alone. If 50 people of Plattsmouth, and not all of them Elks by any means will give their valuable time in night after night rehearsal, surely you will want to do your bit by attending a production of this kind. Sure you will.

The funny men—the inevitable end of a minstrel; Messrs. Chas. E. Martin, Raymond Cook, Wayne Bennett and Lyle Hervey are on their toes with jokes, songs and fun without limit. The town has been combed for best voices for the chorus, and the solo work of the few will be a notable one.

A minstrel could not be complete without the usual Olio, and several "tip-top" side splitting acts have been perfected, among them being "Percy" the wonder horse raised, owned and trained by B. A. Rosencrans. A real live horse appearing on the stage, his intelligence is unganny.

The slick Brown Brothers a saxophone sextette of young musicians under the direction of W. R. Holly is worth the price of admission. Millie Bulla accompanying little Dorothy Ann McCarthy on her latest musical creation, a $599 piano accordion. And when Wayne Bennett discusses their "wealthy problems" you'll say you've closed the page on the best and most novel musical treat, it has been your pleasure to witness.

The entire production is under the personal supervision and instruction of L. D. Hilt, the most master of things this way. It must be good, for Benny says so, and Benny knows, and you know he knows.

BUSY ON CLEANUP

The residents of this city are responding in fine shape to the call for the beautifying of the city and there are many many that have been busy in the trimming up of trees, raking and seeding the lawns and preparing for the coming season that will add to the beauty of the surroundings of the home.

The response is very pleasing and it is hoped that every home owner and persons who own rented property or their tenants will get into the movement for a larger scope of the improvement program and do all possible to make the surroundings of the homes the very best in any town in the state. The program of beautifying is one that is not costly to the residents as a little work and a few seeds will go a long way towards making the city most attractive to the eye in the summer season and much more pleasant in every way for the home owner.

WILL ASSIST IN PROSECUTION

From Tuesday's Daily—
George H. Heinke, county attorney of Otse county, will be here to assist in the trial of the State of Nebraska vs. George O. Dovey, former local banker, against whom complaint was filed several weeks ago. Mr. Heinke has been secured by County Attorney W. G. Kieck of Cass county to aid in the trial against Mr. Dovey as the Otse county attorney. He has had a large number of cases of this nature arising from the closing of the Murray bank at Dunbar. Mr. Heinke was here yesterday to confer with Mr. Kieck in regard to the case and to arrange for the preliminary hearing which will take place Wednesday.

SHOWING SOME IMPROVEMENT

From Monday's Daily—
The condition of Mrs. W. F. Gillespie at the Immanuel hospital at Omaha has shown some improvement since Sunday morning and today Mr. Gillespie who has been with the wife at the hospital was permitted to return home and given the encouragement by the attending physicians that there were much brighter hopes for the recovery of the wife. Mrs. Gillespie is suffering from an infection of the blood and last week was forced to undergo the amputation of her arm.

SUFFERING FROM FLU

From Monday's Daily—
Harry Leosis, manager of the Royal cafe, is confined to his home today by a very severe attack of the flu and which caused the patient to have to be placed under medical care Sunday and remain in bed under the orders of the doctor until his health is better as this is the second attack that the patient has suffered.

Urge Paving of King of Trails at Gas Tax Expense

Omaha Chamber of Commerce Recommends Paving From Douglas County to This City

The Omaha chamber of commerce in making a number of recommendations of road work that is badly needed and desired in this part of the state in the ensuing year and which the increased gasoline tax will make possible, has urged the paving of the King of Trails highway from Douglas county line south to this city.

This stretch of highway, some fourteen miles in extent carries a great amount of very heavy travel from busses and trucks as well as thousands of private owned cars every day of the year and as a consequence the gravel surface is given a terrible strain that is costly in maintaining and in wet weather suffers very much from the heavy travel that makes the road rough and keeps the state busy in getting repair work on the road.

The amount of travel that passes over the King of Trails highway is making the question of paving only the matter of time as the traffic is constantly on the increase and with this growth is coming the general demand for a heavy permanent surface on the highway and which will in time be forced on the highway clear to Kansas City.

While the initial cost of the paving will be heavy it will assure a roadway that will not have to be constantly repaired and save money in the long run for the state department of public works and the federal road department as the highway is one of the federal-state highways of the west.

The highways where the traffic is from automobiles and the smaller trucks stands up in fine shape with the gravel surface but the immense trucks and heavy loads that are hauled over the main highways

VALUE GIVING CLOTHIER

REX ON THE AIR

From Wednesday's Daily—
Last evening a meeting of the auctioneers of Nebraska and Iowa was held at Shenandoah, Iowa, and Rex Young of this city, was the representative of the Nebraska auctioneers at the meeting. A very fine gathering was enjoyed and all of the members of the party were invited to radio station KFNE where Henry Fields presides and the members of the party were called in front of the "mike" to give short talks and extend greetings to the friends over the west.

Mr. Young was called upon for a short talk and gave a fine talk on Plattsmouth and Cass county, the great section of country there this city lies and also told of the fact that a new bridge will soon span the Missouri river at this point and connect the states of Iowa and Nebraska and bring in closer touch the residents of the two states.

As a radio speaker Rex was as appealing as an auctioneer and the remarks that he made were much enjoyed by the friends here and especially A. W. Smith to whom he extended greetings.

VISITING PLATTSMOUTH FRIENDS

Mr. Glenn Starkey, of Des Moines, Iowa, spent Sunday and Monday in the city, a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Christ. Mr. Starkey is a Drake college friend of Miss Frances Christ, while she was attending college in the Iowa capital, and this is his first trip to Plattsmouth. He is at present located at Des Moines and is in the employ of the C. C. Holly Co., one of the large printing and office supply houses in that city.
