

GREENWOOD

Mrs. Ella Marshall, of Ashland, was a visitor last Friday and Saturday at the home of relatives in Greenwood.

Ervin Conn was a visitor in Lincoln on last Saturday, driving over to the big town in his car to look after some business.

J. T. Anderson and sons, Alvin and Carl shelled and delivered corn on last Thursday at the Farmers Union elevator of Greenwood.

Paul Straite and Jess Olson were looking after some business matters in Lincoln on last Wednesday, they driving over in the car of Jess.

J. C. Lemon and Sons, who have been having a saw mill make lumber from some trees which had grown on their farms, completed the sawing of the lumber late last week.

Henry Greer, who last week returned from a stay at the hospital in Lincoln, is making good improvement and was able to be over to town from his home one day last week for the first time.

Our friend, A. Jardine, who has been so seriously sick for the past two weeks, is reported as being slightly improved at this time, and hopes are entertained that the improvement will continue.

Wayne Lindorff commenced the planting of his corn on last Wednesday and will keep hustling until he has gotten the entire planting done, which will consist of some one hundred and thirty-five acres.

Ervin Conn has just added a new two row lister to his farming equipment and will be after getting the corn in the ground soon. The lister was purchased through the implement house of P. A. Sanborn.

Last Thursday John Kelly began the planting of his corn. He has been in readiness for some time past, but now he has concluded he will plant and do the waiting afterwards.

Vernor Schulling, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Schulling, and more popularly known as "Bud," is at this time wrestling with a case of scarlet fever. He is, however, getting along nicely and it is hoped by his many friends that he will soon be all right again.

The fight is on—that is between our friend, Orison Johnson and the beautiful flower the Dandy Lyon. We saw Orison with his artillery, a garden hog and an instrument which goes down into the ground after the roots, and we know there will be a merry fight when they come together.

Mrs. W. E. Palmeter, living northeast of Greenwood, has been very poorly for a number of weeks and has been kept to her home and bed for the greater portion of the time. She is feeling some better at this time however and it is hoped will soon be able to resume her work with less discomfort.

Mrs. A. Homer Whitney, sister of Mrs. A. W. Hudson, of Narka, Kansas, while returning from a trip that she was making to Omaha, stopped for a visit with her sister, and when she went to her home, was accompanied by Mrs. Hudson, who visited for a number of days with their mother, Mrs. J. W. Griffin.

Olaf Olsen, who has been so ill for the past several weeks, still remains serious and every care is being taken to give him an opportunity to regain his health. The best of nursing and medical attention is being given that he may have every opportunity to regain his health. His many friends are hoping he may soon be well again.

Crede, the fourteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Johnson, who has been troubled with appendicitis for some time, was taken with an acute attack on last Wednesday and accompanied by Dr. W. H. McFadden and her parents, was transported to the state hospital, where she underwent an operation and was reported as doing fairly well following the ordeal.

Greenwood Transfer Line We do a general business—make trips regularly to Omaha on Monday and Thursday, also to Lincoln Tuesday and Friday. Pick up loads on these trips. Full loads at any time. FRED HOFFMAN.

Enjoying New Home Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kyles, who have been having constructed during the winter and spring a new home north of Greenwood, have gotten the home finished and moved in early last week. They have worked hard for the home and have been rewarded by one of the very finest possible.

Probably Meet Early in June When the location of the district convention of the American Legion for 1920 was allotted to Greenwood at the convention held at Nebraska City last year, all knew that a good time would be in store for everyone who might attend the meeting. The definite date has not been set as yet, but will be in a short time, and is expected to be some time in June, the most pleasant month in the entire year.

Preparations are being made by the Greenwood post for one of the best meetings of all the good ones that have been held in the First congressional district, beginning with an evening meeting at Auburn in 1924, Falls City, 1925; Plattsmouth, 1926; Schubert, 1927, and Nebraska City, 1928. Watch for announcement of that date of this gathering and some of the novel features the boys will have in store for you and do not fail to be present, for you will surely miss a lot if you aren't.

Picnic Committee Busy Rex Peters, Phil Hall and George Bucknell had a meeting in regard to the picnic. The above named gentlemen comprise the concession committee and they are out after a merry-go-round.

Look for developments in next week's issue of the Journal. Greenwood will have a big picnic this year, we are sure. Next issue we will be able to give more information as to dates and other details.

Prospects for Corn Show Good Since Ray Frederick and Rex Peters have been busy with the farmers, putting out certain varieties of seed corn and contracting between 2,000 and 3,000 acres, there has been considerable talk of staging a real corn show in Greenwood this fall. We have heard the buzzing of the above fact from several boosters of Greenwood, who will undoubtedly make the corn show come to pass. We are for it—let's have a corn show.

All Backing the Band The city electrician has put the band stand in shape for band concerts as soon as the weather settles and Greenwood will offer to the public some real music one evening each week throughout the summer.

The band leader, Mr. Dietz, of Lincoln, has gotten the band up to where we will have some mighty good music this year.

This band is kept up by the business men and a few other people of our community. Practically all of the business men of Greenwood are contributing to the support of this fine movement, which means enjoyment for everyone. What a fine thing can be done by co-operation.

Shoes that Wear A. W. Hudson has just added a line of WEARUWELL shoes which are guaranteed in every way as being the very best. Drop in and see them. No trouble to show and explain them.

A. W. HUDSON.

The Seed Corn Proposition Rex Peters, of the Peters Grain company, in company with Ray Frederick, have made a proposition to the farmers of this community in which they furnish seed corn and contract the corn raised, which must be graded, at a premium of ten cents above the prevailing market price, when delivered. This will be sold for seed and will give the farmers here an opportunity to realize better prices for what they grow, as well as make Greenwood a leading seed corn center. It looks like a good proposition all around.

Will Arrive Here Soon Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Peters, who have been spending the winter in the Pacific coast, write that they were starting from California on May 6th and would stop enroute for short visits, and expected to arrive in Greenwood about May 20th. They have enjoyed their stay in the west very much.

win Over Murdock On last Wednesday afternoon the High school ball team of the Greenwood schools went to Murdock, where they played with the team of that hustling city and where an excellent game was had. The results were that the Greenwood team won over the lads of Murdock by a score of 9 to 3. Ollie Sayles was over, taking with him a load of the Greenwood boys.

Had a Trip, Sure Sophas Petersen and Walter Brackhage were over to Newman Grove a week ago Sunday, where they went to play ball, or rather Walter did, and pitching for the team of that town he easily won the game. The boys put in four hours going over to Newman Grove and as it rained it required them seven hours to return. On this last Sunday they tried it again and as to their luck you will have to ask them.

Entertain Order Nicely Mesdames W. A. Armstrong, E. A. Landon, Ella Marshall and H. R. Wright, the latter of Ashland, entertained at the home of Mrs. Armstrong on last Thursday, having as their guests the Eastern Star Kensington. A most enjoyable time was had and a large amount of good work done, which they had in hand. The social hour was one of the very best.

Return the Compliment A week ago the I. O. O. F. lodge of Greenwood had three candidates for the second degree and also two from Louisville, which also were explained the mysteries of this degree, and a very enjoyable and worthwhile time was had. In return, the Louisville lodge asked that the Greenwood lodge with their three candidates for the third degree, come to Louisville on this (Monday) evening and be the guests of the Louisville lodge, which has been accepted and at Louisville this evening the third degree will be given to the five candidates—three from the Greenwood lodge and two from the Louisville lodge. Following the conferring of the work, there will be a banquet and a general good time provided by the cement city Odd Fellows.

Gave First Concert The Greenwood band gave its first concert on last Wednesday evening, and which was enjoyed by a large number of people. During the summer there will be a concert given each week, which should attract a large number of people to Greenwood on concert nights. Get behind this proposition all you who are lovers of your home town and in this way do all you can to make Greenwood the very best place in the U. S. A. in which to live.

Making a Beauty Spot Railway companies are often accused of being soulless corporations with no idea but to grab the almighty dollar and sixteen and two-thirds cents all the time, but the assertion is indeed an error, for the company and its officers are desirous of seeing that the employees are treated equitably and have good homes and good livings. The company is equally desirous that all patrons have all the comforts and conveniences of public travel and the carrying of the products of the people to and from the markets. Not so-called business alone, but as a demonstration of the love of the beautiful and the pleasure and enjoyment of the traveling public. The Burlington is to considerable expense at this time creating a flower garden in front of the passenger station at Greenwood, which will be a real beauty spot and will carry a remembrance of the beautiful city of Greenwood to the farthest corner of our fair land.

Louis Wright Doing Nicely Louis Wright, who was so severely injured when his mules ran away with him with a disc and cut him badly as he got tangled up in the discs, and who was taken to the hospital at Lincoln has so far recovered that he is able to return to his home on last Monday. He is getting along nicely and will it is hoped soon be entirely well.

Decorations Day Program Services May 30, 1920 at M. E. church 10 a. m. "America," Song by Assembly; Invocation; Music; Speaker of the day, Judge James T. Begley; "Star Spangled Banner"; Benediction; Taps. Services at the Cemetery, 11 a. m.; Placing of wreaths at Soldier's Shrines; Decoration of the graves; Prayer; Salute to the dead; Taps. Details: Vice-Commander M. E. Peterson, Commander of the day. Velette Calfee Music; Legionnaire Earl Stradley, in charge of flowers; Legionnaire Geo. Trunkenboltz, Transportation; Legionnaire H. W. McFadden, Commander of Firing Squad.

All Legionnaires and ex-service men meet at Stradley's garage at 9 a. m. No uniforms required, wear dark civilian suits and Legion caps. PHIL HALL, Com. Post 173.

City Schools to Present Fete Next Tuesday Extensive and Colorful Pageant Will Be Featured at Garfield Park Tuesday Afternoon. From Saturday's Daily—The Plattsmouth city schools will hold their May festival on Tuesday, May 18th at 2:30 at Garfield park. The event promising to be one of the most colorful events of the school year and in which all departments will be represented in the various features.

There will be over 600 of the pupils participating in the program and which will be a very attractive and beautiful presentation staged in the woodland setting of the park, which will provide an ideal background for the riot of color and action that will dominate the scene.

The pageant will be based on "Mother Goose's Garden" and which the little folks will be seen and heard in dances, songs, group singing and clever specialties.

Another of the features will be the crowning of the May Queen, the identity of the queen, a member of the senior class, being kept a secret from the school and the public until the time for the processional at the fete.

To add to the coronation and dancing features the high school orchestra of 33 pieces will furnish the music.

The event has been looked forward to for some time by the young people of the school and the parents and the teachers have been busily arranging for the costumes for the various groups that will be participants in this very pleasant feature of the school year.

In case of bad weather the festival will be postponed and the public is urged to watch for further announcement in case the weather interferes with the program.

RECEIVES A FINE From Friday's Daily—As the result of the arrest of several Omaha members of an auto party here yesterday afternoon by Constable Tom Svoboda, Fred Clark, the driver of the car who stated his residence was South Omaha, was given a fine of $10 and costs amounting to $15.80, which was paid and the parties sent on their way rejoicing.

RECEIVES A FINE From Friday's Daily—As the result of the arrest of several Omaha members of an auto party here yesterday afternoon by Constable Tom Svoboda, Fred Clark, the driver of the car who stated his residence was South Omaha, was given a fine of $10 and costs amounting to $15.80, which was paid and the parties sent on their way rejoicing.

RECEIVES A FINE From Friday's Daily—As the result of the arrest of several Omaha members of an auto party here yesterday afternoon by Constable Tom Svoboda, Fred Clark, the driver of the car who stated his residence was South Omaha, was given a fine of $10 and costs amounting to $15.80, which was paid and the parties sent on their way rejoicing.

RECEIVES A FINE From Friday's Daily—As the result of the arrest of several Omaha members of an auto party here yesterday afternoon by Constable Tom Svoboda, Fred Clark, the driver of the car who stated his residence was South Omaha, was given a fine of $10 and costs amounting to $15.80, which was paid and the parties sent on their way rejoicing.

RECEIVES A FINE From Friday's Daily—As the result of the arrest of several Omaha members of an auto party here yesterday afternoon by Constable Tom Svoboda, Fred Clark, the driver of the car who stated his residence was South Omaha, was given a fine of $10 and costs amounting to $15.80, which was paid and the parties sent on their way rejoicing.

RECEIVES A FINE From Friday's Daily—As the result of the arrest of several Omaha members of an auto party here yesterday afternoon by Constable Tom Svoboda, Fred Clark, the driver of the car who stated his residence was South Omaha, was given a fine of $10 and costs amounting to $15.80, which was paid and the parties sent on their way rejoicing.

RECEIVES A FINE From Friday's Daily—As the result of the arrest of several Omaha members of an auto party here yesterday afternoon by Constable Tom Svoboda, Fred Clark, the driver of the car who stated his residence was South Omaha, was given a fine of $10 and costs amounting to $15.80, which was paid and the parties sent on their way rejoicing.

RECEIVES A FINE From Friday's Daily—As the result of the arrest of several Omaha members of an auto party here yesterday afternoon by Constable Tom Svoboda, Fred Clark, the driver of the car who stated his residence was South Omaha, was given a fine of $10 and costs amounting to $15.80, which was paid and the parties sent on their way rejoicing.

RECEIVES A FINE From Friday's Daily—As the result of the arrest of several Omaha members of an auto party here yesterday afternoon by Constable Tom Svoboda, Fred Clark, the driver of the car who stated his residence was South Omaha, was given a fine of $10 and costs amounting to $15.80, which was paid and the parties sent on their way rejoicing.

RECEIVES A FINE From Friday's Daily—As the result of the arrest of several Omaha members of an auto party here yesterday afternoon by Constable Tom Svoboda, Fred Clark, the driver of the car who stated his residence was South Omaha, was given a fine of $10 and costs amounting to $15.80, which was paid and the parties sent on their way rejoicing.

RECEIVES A FINE From Friday's Daily—As the result of the arrest of several Omaha members of an auto party here yesterday afternoon by Constable Tom Svoboda, Fred Clark, the driver of the car who stated his residence was South Omaha, was given a fine of $10 and costs amounting to $15.80, which was paid and the parties sent on their way rejoicing.

RECEIVES A FINE From Friday's Daily—As the result of the arrest of several Omaha members of an auto party here yesterday afternoon by Constable Tom Svoboda, Fred Clark, the driver of the car who stated his residence was South Omaha, was given a fine of $10 and costs amounting to $15.80, which was paid and the parties sent on their way rejoicing.

Mother's Day and Its Origin in America

Miss Jessie Robertson Prepares Fine History of This Beautiful Observance

Mother's Day probably has its origin in England, for a good old custom there many many years ago was celebrated as "Mothering Day" and came in Mid-Lent. On that day visits were made to the old home and the mother was the recipient of gifts from her children.

Before 1890 Miss Mary Towles Sassen of Kentucky suggested such an observance to the teachers of her state. She suggested April 20, the anniversary of her mother's birth, or the Sunday nearest that date. In 1902 Frank E. Herring, South Bend Ind., began to agitate for a national mother's day thru the Fraternal Order of the Eagles.

The Universalist Church of Our Father in Baltimore has held an annual service for motherhood since 1892. On May 22, of that year the death of Mrs. Emily C. Pullman, the mother of the late Senator, and of Robert K. Cummins, superintendent of the Sunday school, suggested that the service be made a memorial one for her. Later he proposed that the service be held each year (not in memory of Mrs. Pullman in particular, but in tribute to mothers in general. For many years the Sunday nearest May 22 was observed, but after Congress designated a different date the local service was changed to conform to it.

In 1907 a Miss Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia invited a friend to spend the second of May at her home to commemorate the date of her mother's death. It was then that the daughter disclosed her desire to dedicate a day to all mothers.

The following year, May 10, 1908, Philadelphia celebrated Mother's Day in church and home. The year had been a busy one for Miss Jarvis and when the great day arrived she was to ill to carry out all of her plans for its celebration.

Had she so desired Miss Jarvis could have told of thousands of letters written to men prominent in public life, clergymen, influential leaders in the business world, philanthropists, and others whose interest in the project she was desirous of gaining. She could have related her experiences when visiting reform schools, asylums, and other institutions, and could have told of her personal pleas to senators, judges, and professors and of immense sums from own private income expended in furthering her endeavors.

Even in that first year of its existence Mother's Day was observed in many cities, for Miss Jarvis had bravely brought a resolution before the senate of the U. S. to make the second Sunday in May a national holiday dedicated to the memory of "the best mother in the world, your mother." It was a difficult thing for the quiet, home-loving little lady to take this step, but she finally succeeded in persuading Senator Burkett of Nebraska to propose the resolution on May 8, on the floor of the senate.

When the senator voiced the proposed resolution his colleagues greeted him at first with jeers and sarcastic derision. "Why not a Father's day?" shouted one. "I have a dear old aunt," yelled another. "Let's have Auntie's Day." And within a few moments Senator Burkett's voice was drowned in an ocean of laughter; but the good old man from Nebraska continued to speak until his earnestness compelled more serious attention. Then, also the resolution was slated until a later date, the purpose of the senator's words had its effect; and next morning the newspapers the country over told of the new movement, some even commenting editorially upon Miss Jarvis' laudable project. And on the following day Mother's Day was celebrated not only in Philadelphia but in various cities and communities throughout the union. Miss Jarvis also appeared to A. R. Talbot of Lincoln, Nebraska, head consul of the M. W. A.

"He was not afraid of being laughed at, as were some others," said Miss Jarvis, and he did not wait to see who else was going to celebrate. Without solicitation he issued a Mother's day proclamation to the Modern Woodmen which touched the hearts of members in every part of the country; and every year since his first proclamation he has issued a similar one. Now most of the fraternal societies of America are interested in Mother's Day.

During the World War the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy issued orders for the observance of Mother's Day. And 200,000 letters were written.

At Nebraska state penitentiary the day has been appropriately observed since the inauguration of Mother's day in 1908. It is under the direction of Mrs. Allie M. Jackson of Lincoln, state director of prison reform of the W. C. T. U. Thousands of Mother's day postcards and bits of scripture have been distributed at this time. After the close of the services each man is given a spray of lilies.

Special services are also held at the Nebraska state reformatory for men.

Nebraska was the first state in the union to pass legislation on the display of the flag on Mother's Day. This was the result of Mrs. Max A. Hostetler of Shelton, a friend of Miss Jarvis.

Since the war it has been a custom of Miss Jarvis to observe Mother's day by placing a wreath on the tomb of the unknown soldier. In 1923 she was unable to go so Mrs. Hostetler placed the wreath for her and also purchased and placed a wreath of pink rosebuds bearing a card upon which she had written "From the Mothers of Nebraska."

Last week the Commanding Officer at Fort Crook issued a proclamation that the soldiers there should observe Mother's Day by attending some religious service and by writing a letter to mother.

Mother's Day is not a legal holiday in any state as it is fixed on Sunday, which is already a holiday.

Generally a red carnation is worn in remembrance of a mother who is living and a white carnation in memory of a mother who has died.

ASKS FOR DIVORCE From Thursday's Daily—This morning in the office of the Clerk of the District Court an action was filed in which Conley C. Tschakert is the plaintiff and Olive Tschakert the defendant. In the petition filed by the attorney for the plaintiff, it is stated that the parties were married on June 23, 1917. The cause of action is given as cruelty. The defendant is now a resident of Douglas county.

ASKS FOR DIVORCE From Thursday's Daily—This morning in the office of the Clerk of the District Court an action was filed in which Conley C. Tschakert is the plaintiff and Olive Tschakert the defendant. In the petition filed by the attorney for the plaintiff, it is stated that the parties were married on June 23, 1917. The cause of action is given as cruelty. The defendant is now a resident of Douglas county.

ASKS FOR DIVORCE From Thursday's Daily—This morning in the office of the Clerk of the District Court an action was filed in which Conley C. Tschakert is the plaintiff and Olive Tschakert the defendant. In the petition filed by the attorney for the plaintiff, it is stated that the parties were married on June 23, 1917. The cause of action is given as cruelty. The defendant is now a resident of Douglas county.

ASKS FOR DIVORCE From Thursday's Daily—This morning in the office of the Clerk of the District Court an action was filed in which Conley C. Tschakert is the plaintiff and Olive Tschakert the defendant. In the petition filed by the attorney for the plaintiff, it is stated that the parties were married on June 23, 1917. The cause of action is given as cruelty. The defendant is now a resident of Douglas county.

ASKS FOR DIVORCE From Thursday's Daily—This morning in the office of the Clerk of the District Court an action was filed in which Conley C. Tschakert is the plaintiff and Olive Tschakert the defendant. In the petition filed by the attorney for the plaintiff, it is stated that the parties were married on June 23, 1917. The cause of action is given as cruelty. The defendant is now a resident of Douglas county.

ASKS FOR DIVORCE From Thursday's Daily—This morning in the office of the Clerk of the District Court an action was filed in which Conley C. Tschakert is the plaintiff and Olive Tschakert the defendant. In the petition filed by the attorney for the plaintiff, it is stated that the parties were married on June 23, 1917. The cause of action is given as cruelty. The defendant is now a resident of Douglas county.

ASKS FOR DIVORCE From Thursday's Daily—This morning in the office of the Clerk of the District Court an action was filed in which Conley C. Tschakert is the plaintiff and Olive Tschakert the defendant. In the petition filed by the attorney for the plaintiff, it is stated that the parties were married on June 23, 1917. The cause of action is given as cruelty. The defendant is now a resident of Douglas county.

ASKS FOR DIVORCE From Thursday's Daily—This morning in the office of the Clerk of the District Court an action was filed in which Conley C. Tschakert is the plaintiff and Olive Tschakert the defendant. In the petition filed by the attorney for the plaintiff, it is stated that the parties were married on June 23, 1917. The cause of action is given as cruelty. The defendant is now a resident of Douglas county.

ASKS FOR DIVORCE From Thursday's Daily—This morning in the office of the Clerk of the District Court an action was filed in which Conley C. Tschakert is the plaintiff and Olive Tschakert the defendant. In the petition filed by the attorney for the plaintiff, it is stated that the parties were married on June 23, 1917. The cause of action is given as cruelty. The defendant is now a resident of Douglas county.

ASKS FOR DIVORCE From Thursday's Daily—This morning in the office of the Clerk of the District Court an action was filed in which Conley C. Tschakert is the plaintiff and Olive Tschakert the defendant. In the petition filed by the attorney for the plaintiff, it is stated that the parties were married on June 23, 1917. The cause of action is given as cruelty. The defendant is now a resident of Douglas county.

Mother's Day and Its Origin in America

Miss Jessie Robertson Prepares Fine History of This Beautiful Observance

Mother's Day probably has its origin in England, for a good old custom there many many years ago was celebrated as "Mothering Day" and came in Mid-Lent. On that day visits were made to the old home and the mother was the recipient of gifts from her children.

Before 1890 Miss Mary Towles Sassen of Kentucky suggested such an observance to the teachers of her state. She suggested April 20, the anniversary of her mother's birth, or the Sunday nearest that date. In 1902 Frank E. Herring, South Bend Ind., began to agitate for a national mother's day thru the Fraternal Order of the Eagles.

The Universalist Church of Our Father in Baltimore has held an annual service for motherhood since 1892. On May 22, of that year the death of Mrs. Emily C. Pullman, the mother of the late Senator, and of Robert K. Cummins, superintendent of the Sunday school, suggested that the service be made a memorial one for her. Later he proposed that the service be held each year (not in memory of Mrs. Pullman in particular, but in tribute to mothers in general. For many years the Sunday nearest May 22 was observed, but after Congress designated a different date the local service was changed to conform to it.

In 1907 a Miss Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia invited a friend to spend the second of May at her home to commemorate the date of her mother's death. It was then that the daughter disclosed her desire to dedicate a day to all mothers.

The following year, May 10, 1908, Philadelphia celebrated Mother's Day in church and home. The year had been a busy one for Miss Jarvis and when the great day arrived she was to ill to carry out all of her plans for its celebration.

Had she so desired Miss Jarvis could have told of thousands of letters written to men prominent in public life, clergymen, influential leaders in the business world, philanthropists, and others whose interest in the project she was desirous of gaining. She could have related her experiences when visiting reform schools, asylums, and other institutions, and could have told of her personal pleas to senators, judges, and professors and of immense sums from own private income expended in furthering her endeavors.

Even in that first year of its existence Mother's Day was observed in many cities, for Miss Jarvis had bravely brought a resolution before the senate of the U. S. to make the second Sunday in May a national holiday dedicated to the memory of "the best mother in the world, your mother." It was a difficult thing for the quiet, home-loving little lady to take this step, but she finally succeeded in persuading Senator Burkett of Nebraska to propose the resolution on May 8, on the floor of the senate.

When the senator voiced the proposed resolution his colleagues greeted him at first with jeers and sarcastic derision. "Why not a Father's day?" shouted one. "I have a dear old aunt," yelled another. "Let's have Auntie's Day." And within a few moments Senator Burkett's voice was drowned in an ocean of laughter; but the good old man from Nebraska continued to speak until his earnestness compelled more serious attention. Then, also the resolution was slated until a later date, the purpose of the senator's words had its effect; and next morning the newspapers the country over told of the new movement, some even commenting editorially upon Miss Jarvis' laudable project. And on the following day Mother's Day was celebrated not only in Philadelphia but in various cities and communities throughout the union. Miss Jarvis also appeared to A. R. Talbot of Lincoln, Nebraska, head consul of the M. W. A.

"He was not afraid of being laughed at, as were some others," said Miss Jarvis, and he did not wait to see who else was going to celebrate. Without solicitation he issued a Mother's day proclamation to the Modern Woodmen which touched the hearts of members in every part of the country; and every year since his first proclamation he has issued a similar one. Now most of the fraternal societies of America are interested in Mother's Day.

During the World War the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy issued orders for the observance of Mother's Day. And 200,000 letters were written.

At Nebraska state penitentiary the day has been appropriately observed since the inauguration of Mother's day in 1908. It is under the direction of Mrs. Allie M. Jackson of Lincoln, state director of prison reform of the W. C. T. U. Thousands of Mother's day postcards and bits of scripture have been distributed at this time. After the close of the services each man is given a spray of lilies.

Special services are also held at the Nebraska state reformatory for men.

Nebraska was the first state in the union to pass legislation on the display of the flag on Mother's Day. This was the result of Mrs. Max A. Hostetler of Shelton, a friend of Miss Jarvis.

Since the war it has been a custom of Miss Jarvis to observe Mother's day by placing a wreath on the tomb of the unknown soldier. In 1923 she was unable to go so Mrs. Hostetler placed the wreath for her and also purchased and placed a wreath of pink rosebuds bearing a card upon which she had written "From the Mothers of Nebraska."

Last week the Commanding Officer at Fort Crook issued a proclamation that the soldiers there should observe Mother's Day by attending some religious service and by writing a letter to mother.

Mother's Day is not a legal holiday in any state as it is fixed on Sunday, which is already a holiday.

Generally a red carnation is worn in remembrance of a mother who is living and a white carnation in memory of a mother who has died.

ASKS FOR DIVORCE From Thursday's Daily—This morning in the office of the Clerk of the District Court an action was filed in which Conley C. Tschakert is the plaintiff and Olive Tschakert the defendant. In the petition filed by the attorney for the plaintiff, it is stated that the parties were married on June 23, 1917. The cause of action is given as cruelty. The defendant is now a resident of Douglas county.

ASKS FOR DIVORCE From Thursday's Daily—This morning in the office of the Clerk of the District Court an action was filed in which Conley C. Tschakert is the plaintiff and Olive Tschakert the defendant. In the petition filed by the attorney for the plaintiff, it is stated that the parties were married on June 23, 1917. The cause of action is given as cruelty. The defendant is now a resident of Douglas county.

ASKS FOR DIVORCE From Thursday's Daily—This morning in the office of the Clerk of the District Court an action was filed in which Conley C. Tschakert is the plaintiff and Olive Tschakert the defendant. In the petition filed by the attorney for the plaintiff, it is stated that the parties were married on June 23, 1917. The cause of action is given as cruelty. The defendant is now a resident of Douglas county.

ASKS FOR DIVORCE From Thursday's Daily—This morning in the office of the Clerk of the District Court an action was filed in which Conley C. Tschakert is the plaintiff and Olive Tschakert the defendant. In the petition filed by the attorney for the plaintiff, it is stated that the parties were married on June 23, 1917. The cause of action is given as cruelty. The defendant is now a resident of Douglas county.

ASKS FOR DIVORCE From Thursday's Daily—This morning in the office of the Clerk of the District Court an action was filed in which Conley C. Tschakert is the plaintiff and Olive Tschakert the defendant. In the petition filed by the attorney for the plaintiff, it is stated that the parties were married on June 23, 1917. The cause of action is given as cruelty. The defendant is now a resident of Douglas county.

ASKS FOR DIVORCE From Thursday's Daily—This morning in the office of the Clerk of the District Court an action was filed in which Conley C. Tschakert is the plaintiff and Olive Tschakert the defendant. In the petition filed by the attorney for the plaintiff, it is stated that the parties were married on June 23, 1917. The cause of action is given as cruelty. The defendant is now a resident of Douglas county.

ASKS FOR DIVORCE From Thursday's Daily—This morning in the office of the Clerk of the District Court an action was filed in which Conley C. Tschakert is the plaintiff and Olive Tschakert the defendant. In the petition filed by the attorney for the plaintiff, it is stated that the parties were married on June 23, 1917. The cause of action is given as cruelty. The defendant is now a resident of Douglas county.

ASKS FOR DIVORCE From Thursday's Daily—This morning in the office of the Clerk of the District Court an action was filed in which Conley C. Tschakert is the plaintiff and Olive Tschakert the defendant. In the petition filed by the attorney for the plaintiff, it is stated that the parties were married on June 23, 1917. The cause of action is given as cruelty. The defendant is now a resident of Douglas county.

ASKS FOR DIVORCE From Thursday's Daily—This morning in the office of the Clerk of the District Court an action was filed in which Conley C. Tschakert is the plaintiff and Olive Tschakert the defendant. In the petition filed by the attorney for the plaintiff, it is stated that the parties were married on June 23, 1917. The cause of action is given as cruelty. The defendant is now a resident of Douglas county.

ASKS FOR DIVORCE From Thursday's Daily—This morning in the office of the Clerk of the District Court an action was filed in which Conley C. Tschakert is the plaintiff and Olive Tschakert the defendant. In the petition filed by the attorney for the plaintiff, it is stated that the parties were married on June 23, 1917. The cause of action is given as cruelty. The defendant is now a resident of Douglas county.