Vaccinate Your Pigs Now.

Pigs that are eight weeks old can be vaccinated successfully and are immune for life. That is the cheapest time to vaccinate them. Club members buying pigs want them immune from cholera.

Save Your Baby Chicks.

Several have reported good results from changing feed when the baby chicks begin to die. Baby chicks are like little babies, they must have food that agrees with them. If you are having trouble change the feed. Also feed green feed and sour milk. Feed the sour milk in earthenware.

Dairy Field Day.

Never before have Nebraska dairymen had the opportunity to hear the abortion problem discussed as it will be handled on Dairy Field day at the agricultural college, Friday, May 24.

Dr. Van Es will talk an hour regarding the disease side of the question. R. F. Morgan will follow him immediately with the figures and facts from 30 years of experience in one herd.

Dr. Van Es is chairman of the department of animal pathology and hygiene. Nebraska people who have heard him talk about any disease problem believe what he says. In the first place, the Doctor has had the experience. In the second place, he has been a great student of his life work. In the third place, he mixes a lot of ordinary common sense and everyday occurrences in with his technical facts. His sense of humor is keen. Even tho his talk be an hour long, those who will hear will want more.

Mr. Morgan has studied the breeding records and milk production of a herd over a thirty year period. He knows what the owner of that herd lost in calves, what he lost in milk production, and upsets of his breeding program thru the one disease, abortion. It is said to be the most serious problem of the industry.

Other speakers already listed on the tentative program include Chancellor T. A. Burnett, of the University; W. H. Brokaw, director of the extension service; and L. I. Frisbie, state club leader in the extension work. These men will talk immediately after noon. The first two o'clock and noon.

Ere and a Half to Club Work.

Club members and local leaders may attend the coming Club Week at Lincoln on a special fare and a half rate for the round trip on any railroad, according to an announcement sent to County Agent Snipes during the past week.

This is the first time the excursion rate has been offered. It will be the fourteenth annual club week. Tickets will be purchased at any depot beginning June 1 and ending June 8. Return tickets are good until June 9.

The rate should be particularly attractive to delegates from clubs and to local leaders. Monday, June 3, has been local leaders day each of the last few years. About a hundred leaders attended last year. Several of them stayed during the week for special conferences arranged each forenoon for them. The conference were really round table discussions, and exchanges of experiences between the Nebraska leaders and the director of the conference.

Leadership is one of the biggest problems of the club work or any other community work. Those who have attended Club Week before say they received many suggestions that have made their leadership easier and better.

Club Week is the annual celebration of county and state winners of the previous year's work who have received honors and prize trips from individuals and business organizations interested in better club work. Between 150 and 200 of these winners attend the usual club week and about 150 more come in as delegates and representatives local leaders on their own expenses.—L. R. Snipes, County Extension Agent, Jessie H. Baldwin, Asst. County Extension Agent.

Track Meet on Friday to Mark Close of Year

Local Tracksters Have Made a Fine Showing in Past Season—Will Meet County Contenders

The track season started out with about 35 ambitious boys reporting for practice. After a week or so this number diminished as most of the boys ambition had cooled down and they didn't seem to take to the hard work that track requires. However, about 12 boys have stayed with it and have done very well.

Blair was to have been the first meet of the season, April 11, but due to rainy weather the meet wasn't held until April 25. The meet was very close throughout. Up to the relay, Blair was leading by 4 points, but the Plattsmouth relay team took first and won the meet by one point, 61 1/2 to 60 1/2.

On April 19 in the rain we met Ashland over there and they beat us 72 to 49 mainly due to the individual performance of Hugo Hoffman who scored 37 points.

On April 26, we attended the Wesleyan relays but came home with nothing except a little more experience.

On May 1 we took part in a quadrangular meet at Nebraska City with Nebraska, Syracuse, and Peru Prep. Nebraska City won the meet with 76 points, Plattsmouth second with 46 points, Peru 33 points, and Syracuse 6 points.

On May 4, a few of our athletics took part in the MINK meet at Peru. Homer Spangler took first in the mile run setting up a new record of 4 minutes 45.7 seconds. He also took second in the half mile.

On May 10 and 11 a car load of our athletes went to Lincoln where there is all kinds of competition. Homer Spangler again took first in the mile run with a time of 4 minutes 45.5 seconds in group III. His time was the best of the 4 groups so he gets an extra gold medal. He took second in the half mile again receiving a second place medal.

We still have the County Track and Field Meet on Friday May 17, to look forward to and we hope to win this meet.

Those who have stayed out for track the greater part of the season are Meisinger, J. Spangler, R. Spangler, Wiles, Galloway, Warner, Hennings, McCleary, Warren Bros., Herold, Yelick, Hiner, Dew and Lutz.

Great Sutton Shows Booked by the Legion

Amusement Company to Exhibit Here Week of May 27 to June 1—Proceeds for a Ceiling

The Great Sutton Shows, an amusement aggregation carrying four up-to-date adult rides and ten shows described in letters of recommendation from points in the east and south where they have played in the last few years, as being exceptionally clean and refined, has been booked by the American Legion for appearance here the week of May 27 to June 1, inclusive.

The proceeds from this enterprise will be set aside in a separate fund to provide a ceiling for the assembly room in the partially completed community building, something that has been greatly needed ever since the building was opened to the public a year and a half ago. The ceiling will not only keep out cold in the winter time and permit of more efficient heating, but make the building much cooler in summer.

The attractions will hold forth in the Tourist park, which the Legion boys gave their time and the merchants provided teams to have graded down back in 1921.

CARD OF THANKS

To the members of the Plattsmouth fire department I wish to express my deepest feeling of appreciation of the services that were rendered in the recent fire in the Baking building and when their services prevented the spread of the fire into our store and other parts of the building.—Andrew Kroehler.

American Schools Enroll 2,000,000 in Dramatic Work

Little Theater Groups Prove Valuable Ally to Art, Professor Smith Says

Chapel Hill, N. C.—Asserting that there are more than 65,000 schools and little theater groups in this country, and that a total of 2,000,000 students are actively engaged in dramatic work, Milton Smith, Columbia authority, declared in an address before students of the University of North Carolina that "never before in the history of the world has there been such interest in the non-professional theater, nor has play production been wider and better."

Speaking at the final session of the Carolina Dramatic Association's annual spring festival, Professor Smith urged a large audience of school and community dramatic directors to consider themselves a big part of this great art movement.

"We of the little theater," he said, "shouldn't think of our art as any different from the art of the professional theater. We are really the first in the field, and we shouldn't apologize for being amateurs. We should be proud of it."

Professor Smith told of a new and bigger conception of dramatics, and showed what it would mean educationally. "The new conception is the regarding of dramatic art as a synthesis, a putting together of all arts to make a play."

W. R. Wunsch, Asheville senior high school, was named president of the Carolina Dramatic Association; P. C. Farrar, Chapel Hill High School, was elected vice-president, and Nattian Strapach, state representative of the bureau of community drama, was elected secretary-treasurer.
