E. A. Kirkpatrick Dies at the Masonic Home

Prominent Resident of County Since Pioneer Days Passes Away After a Long Illness.

From Saturday's Daily—
 Yesterday afternoon at the Nebraska Masonic Home where he has been since April 26th, Hon. E. A. Kirkpatrick, one of the pioneer residents of the county passed to the rest reward after an illness that has covered the last few months and in which the patient has been gradually sinking until death came to his relief.

Mr. Kirkpatrick, who has resided in Nebraska since 1855 when his father, Hon. S. M. Kirkpatrick came to Nebraska to settle on a homestead in that locality, was one of the best known residents of Cass county and the news of his death will bring a great regret among the hundreds of old friends over the entire county.

For some time Mr. Kirkpatrick had been very ill and was treated for a time at the hospital at Nebraska City and later recovered sufficiently to be brought home to Nebraska, but owing to the poor health of the life he was brought to this city and has been at the infirmary at the Nebraska Masonic Home for care and treatment.

The deceased was a native of the state of Iowa, where he was born at Wapello, on August 27, 1844, and when a boy came with his parents to Cass county where they settled near Nebraska. Mr. Kirkpatrick was a veteran of the civil war, serving in the Second Nebraska until the conclusion of the war. After the return of peace Mr. Kirkpatrick was for some time engaged as clerk in the office of the surveyor general, then located at Plattsmouth and while residing here in the seventies Mr. Kirkpatrick suffered the loss of one arm as the result of an accident while hunting. He was married in this city to Miss Oella Black, a daughter of Dr. John Black, a pioneer resident of the county and who with several sons survive the passing of Mr. Kirkpatrick. The family later returned to Nebraska where they have since resided. For a number of years Mr. Kirkpatrick has been a member of the soldier's home of the commission of Cass county and active in the G. A. R. circles of the county.

The deceased has long been identified with the Masonic order in this county, having been a charter member of McCoy lodge in this city, organized in the early seventies, and later was a charter member at Weeping Water and when the lodge was established at his home town of Nebraska, he was enrolled as one of the first members. He was also a member of Nebraska chapter No. 3, Royal Arch Masons of Plattsmouth.

Danley to be Memorial Day Orator Here

Public Ceremony Honoring Heroic Death of All Wars to be Held at Community Building

Dr. R. C. Danley, eminent physician and surgeon, World War veteran and District American Legion commander, of Hamburg, Iowa, has consented to make the Memorial day address in Plattsmouth this year.

The public ceremonies participated in by all patriotic organizations of the city will, as usual, be held in the afternoon, taking place in the assembly room at the American Legion community building.

In the forenoon the different organizations will participate independently in the task of decorating the graves of veterans at Oak Hill cemetery, the Legion firing squad being expected to fire the customary volley over the G. A. R. memorial plat, as well as its own plat. This and other details of decorating G. A. R. graves will be participated in by the Legion and Legion Auxiliary as a mark of respect to the thinning ranks of Civil War veterans, who find themselves no longer able to personally look after the duty of keeping fresh in the memory of mankind the deeds of valor performed by their sleeping comrades when this nation was rent in twain by the dark clouds of civil strife.

Then, in the afternoon, every patriotic organization and society in the city will join hands in paying further tribute to the brave deeds of all our soldier dead.

The program committee is busy arranging the program, which will be ready for publication in the near future.

Dr. Danley, who is owner of the Hamburg hospital, is a prominent Legionnaire in Iowa and is a potential candidate for state commander of the American Legion, having established a great record as district commander. He has frequently been heard on Legion radio programs broadcast from KMA, at Shenandoah.

Legion to Give Last Banquet of 1929 Season

Annual Table Spread and Talk Fest of Hugh J. Kearns Post Expected to be Last Until Fall.

What will probably be the last of the popular banquets or suppers that have been held throughout the fall and winter season will be the annual Table Spread and Talk Fest of Hugh J. Kearns post, American Legion, booked for Wednesday evening of next week, May 22nd.

The Legion is laying plans for making this spread the climaxing one of the year, so far as fun and entertainment is concerned and it will be pretty much devoted to the lighter forms of entertainment, in line with the season, when everyone is pretty much bored with long-winded after-dinner speeches.

The program arrangements are in the hands of Frank Smith, who will be toastmaster, and who will be ably assisted in "putting it over" by several of Plattsmouth's leading jesters and fun-makers, both from within and outside of the Legion.

There will be some genuine surprises in store for the banqueters during the serving of the dinner by the ladies of the American Legion Auxiliary.

The principal (and only) serious minded speech of the program will be that of John Curries, chairman of the state railway commission and a past national vice commander of the American Legion—and anyone who heard John speak at a Happy Hundred banquet at the Methodist church two years ago knows that while his speech will contain much "food for thought" it will be far from dry.

Special emphasis is being laid on the cuisine and one of the best banquets ever served in the new Community building will be provided. Instead of the customary 75 cents per plate paid to organizations serving former banquets, the Legion is paying 95 cents out of each dollar ticket sold and will pay incidental costs out of its own treasury. This will insure a real feed, with all the trimmings, including a round of good smokes during the after-dinner portion of the program.

The ticket committee headed by W. T. Distell and comprising John Turner, Harrison Gayer, Dr. Heinemann and Leslie Niel are out today getting lined up on the number who will attend, and as this banquet, like Happy Hundred suppers is open to the general public, with the addition-

AFTER ELUSIVE FISH

From Saturday's Daily—
 County Attorney W. G. Kleck, Frank A. Clodt, cashier of the Plattsmouth State Bank and Henry Stark-John, are leaving Sunday for a fishing trip that will cover some two weeks and in which this trip of experts anglers expect to snare a great many of the early fish of the season. The party are planning on going to the Ozarks in Arkansas, after their original plans of fishing in the Minnesota lakes were upset by the statement that the fishing season in the northern state does not open until in July. The fishermen are anticipating a real trip in the southland and many startling stories from Fort Smith, Little Rock, Hot Springs or Eldorado may be looked for in the next week.
