

Alvo News

John W. Banning was looking after some business matters in Elmwood driving over to the hustling city in his auto.

On last Wednesday Frank Daugherty and Roger Reeves were shelling and delivering corn to the Rehe-meyer elevator.

George Hardnock was on last Wednesday afternoon unloading a car load of cement for the lumberman, John W. Banning.

Charles Godbey, the care taker of the Alvo cemetery has been cutting the grass and weeds and placing the grounds in excellent condition.

C. M. Jordan lost one of his best horses last week and with the crippling of another put him to the back as he was farming with only two teams, and is now compelled to purchase another team.

Joe Armstrong has been constructing a cistern at the home of C. D. Ganz, which will afford soft water for the household use and thus solve a very serious problem which some times comes to Alvo, when it is very dry.

Charles E. Cook, of Plattsmouth, was a visitor in the vicinity of Alvo on last Saturday, being a guest at the homes of E. M. Stone and J. H. Weychel and family. He was accompanied by the Journal representative.

Mrs. E. B. Coon of South Omaha and a sister of George Hardnock of Alvo, was a visitor on last Monday for the day and evening at the home of her brother where all enjoyed the visit very much, returning to her home on Tuesday.

W. H. Warner has been very busy during the past week getting his threshing outfit ready for service as soon as the work of harvest is over and has about completed the work necessary to get the outfit ready for the active work which is so soon to come.

Mr. and Mrs. George Voss and their son, Edward, and daughter, Lillian, of St. Joseph, Mo., were visiting for the past week at the home of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Stone, of near Alvo. They returned to their home on last Wednesday morning.

The Rev. George H. Warner of Arkansas and brother of W. H. Warner of Alvo was a visitor in Alvo for a number of days with his brother during last week and the gentlemen enjoyed the visit very much. On last Wednesday morning Rev. Warner departed for Plattsmouth where he is visiting with another brother, C. H. Warner and family for a time.

Joseph Armstrong has invented a filter which cares for water and purifies it before it gets to the cistern, as it has three compartments through which the water passes before getting to the cistern. From the down spout of the house comes the water being deflected two times and thus doing away with the sudden splash which is so often the cause of faulty working of a filter, and the first is to pass through a compartment of charcoal, then through a like one of gravel and finally through one of wool, which leaves the water nice, clear and pure on entering the cistern.

Protected His Customers.

With the continued decline in corn which has prevailed for the past few weeks, the farmers have asked Simon Rehmeier to keep them posted when corn should reach 80 cents again and when a sudden spurt carried the price to that point, Mr. Rehmeier immediately called all who had asked and many of them sold at that figure. The following day the cereal declined three cents but all who had sold were protected. Mr. Rehmeier is very careful in giving protection to the farmer when ever he has the opportunity.

American Baby Chicks

We have a number of American strain White Leghorn baby chicks, very lusty fellows, for sale. Call or come.—Mrs. Aug Klemme, 3 miles north of Alvo.

Entertained the Woman's Club

Mrs. E. M. Stone, at their beautiful country home northeast of Alvo, on last Thursday entertained the members of the Alvo Woman's club, there being in all some thirty-eight at the meeting and where all enjoyed the day most pleasantly. Mrs. Stone proved an excellent entertainer and not alone was there an excellent program had, but the afternoon was made the more pleasant by the very fine luncheon which was served by the genial hostess.

BUS COMPANIES PROTEST

The four big intertown bus companies operating in Nebraska filed objections with the state railway commission Thursday and appeared in support of them when representatives of the Missouri Pacific Transportation company urged that body to grant it permission to operate bus lines between the state line on the south and Omaha and between Nebraska City and Lincoln, paralleling their lines of that railroad.

These objections raise two questions that are to be submitted later to the courts, whether the present lines, by reason of having had their schedules and routes approved, have acquired a right of user to the highways and streets traversed that cannot be invaded by the railroad subsidiaries, and whether the commission does not have the power to deny permission to use streets and roads when the public convenience is adequately served by existing lines.

Commissioner Curtis and Randall have held that the commission has no such power while Commissioner Miller holds that it has and should exercise it.

Miss Alice Cook and Mr. George Bornemeier Married at Home of Bride's Parents

On Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Cook, near Alvo, occurred the marriage of their daughter, Miss Alice, to Mr. George Bornemeier of Elmwood, the ceremony being attended by the immediate members of the families of the contracting parties.

The beauty of the Cook home was enhanced by the charming floral settings of the wedding, the color scheme of pink and white being carried out in the summer flowers whose delicate colorings added much to the scene of happiness as the young people were joined in the bonds of holy wedlock.

Preceding the wedding Mrs. Perry Ruhlau, of Alvo, sang very sweetly "I Love You Truly" and as the bridal party entered for the ceremony the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" was played by Miss Clara Bornemeier, sister of the groom.

The bride was most charming in a gown of the orchid silk with a arm bouquet of the Bride roses, she being attended by Miss Lillian Bornemeier, sister of the groom, who wore a modish frock of yellow silk and carried a shower of the pink roses. The groom was attended by Fay Stolz, of Milford, an old friend, both gentlemen being garbed in the conventional dark suits.

The marriage lines were read by the Rev. Perry Ruhlau, pastor of the First Methodist church of Alvo, the beautiful and impressive double ring service being used in the wedding ceremony.

Following the wedding Miss Mildred Joan Cook, sister of the bride, gave two very charming vocal selections, "Paradise" and "Always."

The members of the bridal party enjoyed a most delicious refreshment of ice cream, cake and punch following the wedding ceremony. Miss Betty Woolcott of Elmwood presiding at the punch-bowl.

Both of these estimable young people are well known and very popular among a large circle of friends in and near Alvo and Elmwood where they have made their home from childhood. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Cook and has been educated in the schools at Alvo, while the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. August Bornemeier, prominent residents of near Elmwood and he has spent his lifetime in that locality and was graduated from the Elmwood high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Bornemeier left at once after the wedding reception for their home on the farm of the groom west of Elmwood where they are to reside in the future and where the cozy and attractive home is awaiting the coming of the bride.

The many friends of these estimable young people over the county will join in their well wishes to these estimable young people for many years of success and happiness that they so well deserve.

AIRPLANE FRIGHTENS TEAM PULLING MOWER

Wednesday morning while Everett Richmond was mowing hay near the R. H. Ingerson farm home, an airplane swooped down from the sky, made a couple of circles around the plane which frightened the team and caused it to run away. The mower was badly damaged and fortunately no other damage was done.

The plane was recognized as the Travelair machine owned by the Richardson & Hebard Transportation Co., of Nebraska City which had been here for several days a couple of weeks ago taking up passengers. The young men were notified by phone of the damage they had caused and at once flew to Nebraska where they settled for the damage done when the Team became frightened and ran away. They were very sorry for the trouble caused Mr. Ingerson and their settlement was satisfactory to everyone concerned.—Nebraska Enterprise.

Miss Helen Williams Wedded to Karl Schneider of Indianola, Nebraska, Wednesday

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Williams of Elmwood, Nebr., occurred a beautiful wedding, Wednesday afternoon at 3-00 o'clock, when their daughter, Helen, became the bride of Mr. Karl Schneider, of Indianola, Nebr. About seventy guests assembled at the appointed hour. Miss Oaul Turner of Elmwood sang, "Because." The wedding march, "Lohengrin," was played by Miss Mary Louise Bohacek, of Wilbur, accompanied by Miss Anna Williams, sister of the bride, on the violin. Mr. Vernon Clements served as best man and Miss Cora Williams, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid. Ring bearer was little Darline Cool and flower girls, Dorothy Moore and Pearl Anna Kuehn.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Frank Lenz of Lincoln, brother-in-law of the groom. The bride wore a blue chiffon dress and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses, the bridesmaid was dressed in pink and white and carried pink roses.

The living room was decorated with an arch of roses and peonies, under which the wedding group stood for the ceremony, the decoration of the dining room were the same. The guests were almost exclusively relation. Mrs. Grace Slogget of Broken Bow, Nebr., Mr. Harry Clements, of Lincoln; and Mrs. Wm. Bohacek and daughter, Mary Laurie, of Wilbur, were out of town guests.

After the ceremony a lunch of ice cream and individual cakes with mints and punch was served, and a brides cake cut by the bride was served.

Mr. Schneider is one of the most exemplary and highly esteemed young men of Elmwood. The bride is a popular and most estimable of Elmwood young ladies. Both have grown up in Elmwood and have a host of intimate friends. Miss Williams has been especially active in church work and musical services. She has been a high school teacher in Wilbur, Nebraska, the past few years. Mr. Schneider was employed in the Elmwood State Bank of this place for ten years, but is now in the same work in Indianola, Nebr.

After the ceremony the bridal couple departed for that place, where the groom has a home in readiness. Best wishes and congratulations are extended by the many friends. The bride and groom were the recipients of many beautiful gifts and were honored by a number of showers.—Elmwood Leader-Echo.

WILL ATTEND GRADUATION

From Saturday's Daily—Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hartford and son, Robert, departed this morning for Ames, Iowa, where they go to attend the commencement exercises of the Iowa State college, on Monday, Willis Hartford, the second son of Mr. and Mrs. C. # State Crops Yielded 300 Million Last Year

Corn Brought Nearly Half of Total Values—Wheat Worth $65,000,000.

Lincoln, Neb., June 6.—A third of a billion dollars was the cash value of primary products grown on Nebraska farms during 1928. Taking into account only 10 principal field crops, this figure reckons neither the less important produce nor the live stock.

The 382,336,000 bushels of grain included in the total would alone feed an empire, while potatoes and two or three varieties of hay, are thrown in for good measure.

Corn Leads All. Corn is king among the Nebraska crops, with a $151,107,000 valuation, nearly three times as great as that of any other grain or produce whatsoever. Yet its per acre value of $16.90 is considerably less than that of several other items. Its average yield was 23.8 bushels, but the year was not entirely favorable.

Wheat, including the minor branch of spring wheat, was valued at $65,498,000. Its yield was 19 bushels per acre and its acre value was $17.86.

Even more bushels of oats—78 million—were grown than wheat, but the total value naturally was lower, or only $29,500,000.

Potatoes Worth $5,000,000. On fields but one fourth as extensive as those 10,080,000 were dug. Their per acre valuation of $48 was far above that of any other principal crop.

FARM BECOMES THERAPEUTIC MECCA

Wakefield, June 5.—The therapeutic qualities of a clay discovered on the Simon Lessman farm, five miles west of Wakefield and put to medical use a little more than a year ago, continue to attract attention. More than 800 persons during the last year have visited the Lessman farm to obtain some of the clay. From miles they have come and scores have declared it has helped them control rheumatism, neuritis, sciatica, kidney trouble, high blood pressure, Bright's disease, diabetes, insomnia, pyorrhea, ulcers and other disorders. Many cases of cures are claimed.
