

GREENWOOD

W. E. Pailing was a visitor in Lincoln on last Wednesday, where he was called to look after some business matters for a short time.

John Mefford was assisting in the shelling of corn at the home of W. E. Pailing, which was delivered to the Greenwood elevators on last Tuesday.

Fred Wolfe has been painting and papering the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Peters and getting it ready for their moving in as soon as it is completed.

J. M. Wells and the family, who have lived in Greenwood for some time past, moved to Lincoln last week, where they will make their home in the future.

George Bucknell, E. A. Leesley and E. L. McDonald will go to Plattsmouth this week to serve on the jury at the June short term of the district court.

Mrs. O. F. Peters and son, Norman, were visiting in Lincoln last Monday, they driving over to the big town in their car to look after some business for a short time.

Marcus Hand, a brother of Judge W. E. Hand, of Greenwood, and who makes his home in Illinois, was a visitor in Greenwood with his brother for a number of days last week.

Wm. Franks, E. A. Leesley, J. E. Lambert and Ole Olson each purchased new two-row machines that they might hurry along the cultivation of their corn, which is ready at this time.

Martin Mahar purchased a piano of G. W. Holt, which is to be used by his daughter, Miss Marie Mahar, in the study of music, and who will make a specialty of music on the piano.

Philo Buskirk and family, from southeast of Elmwood, were visiting at the home of Phillip Buskirk and with the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dora Buskirk, for a time last Wednesday afternoon.

Alfred Anderson and Ole Olson are getting ready for the coming harvest, which is hurrying along rapidly, each of these gentlemen having purchased a new binder from the P. A. Sanborn Implement company.

Ole Olson, who has been in poor health for some time, was able to be down town on last Monday and after having gone to his farm home, was not so well and was compelled to keep to his bed for some time.

Ervin Conn shelled and delivered corn to the Peters elevator on last Monday and Tuesday, getting it in while the fever of excitement was on over the Farm Relief bill now pending in the national congress.

Mrs. P. A. Sanborn was a visitor in Omaha for a few days last week, where she was a guest of her little granddaughter, Margaret Moon, who recently fell while at play at school, fracturing her leg for a second time. At the regular meeting of the I. O. O. F., which was held last Monday, following the regular business and the election of John Armstrong as the N. G. and Max Tudor as V. G., these gentlemen had the other members out to ice cream and other light refreshments.

June 3rd was the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Peters, and although they both worked hard all day, they went to Lincoln in the evening, where they attended a very fine play at one of the popular theatres there and came home in their auto, in the moonlight afterwards.

Taking the initial step to make Greenwood look the very best, A. F. Welbke, of the Welbke cafe, got out with a paint brush and personally painted the front of the building, making it look very fine. This is a good example and one which it would be well for other lines of business to follow.

The continued rains of the past few weeks settled the dirt in the trenches which were dug for the water mains at the time of installation of the plant. It is probably that when filled this time, the ground will not settle any more, but become solid like the other ground around it.

Mrs. Guy James, formerly of here, but who has been making her home at Waverly for some time past, was a visitor in Greenwood for a short time last week and was calling on her many friends here, as she is to move to Grand Island soon to make her home. Mrs. James will be missed by her many friends here and there.

Judge W. E. Hand, who has not been in the best of health for some time past, and who was at Savannah, Mo., for consultation regarding his health, returned home last week and is making an excellent fight for the restoration of his health, which his numerous friends in Greenwood and elsewhere are hoping that he may soon be feeling much better.

John Schilling was called to Humboldt on last Wednesday to look after some business matters for the telephone company for whom he works. Having completed his business there, he returned via Beaver Crossing, where he enjoyed a banquet given by the Commercial club of that hustling little city, where he formerly lived and has many warm friends.

Dwight Talbot and Fred Wolfe are painting the Appham building and making it look fine and a credit to the hustling city of Greenwood. Sure, it would be fine if all the business and other houses could be painted up and decorated before the coming of the American Legion convention on Thursday of next week, and would be a fine advertisement for the town.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. McDonald entertained at their home for dinner and the day last Sunday and had for their guests Mr. and Mrs. Walter Barwick, of Omaha, he being the manager of the Middle States creamery, of Omaha, and the parties are very close friends. Mr. McDonald was at Omaha last week to see his friend raised to the degree of a Master Mason.

With the vacating of the home in Greenwood, of Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Peters, which has been occupied by Prof. Maxwell during the time when Mr. and Mrs. Peters were in California and with the moving of Mr. Maxwell, Mr. and Mrs. Peters are having the property redecorated and put in condition and they are moving into it again, where they expect to soon be at home, thank you.

Eastern Star School Mrs. Bennett, of Lincoln, district deputy of the Order of Eastern Star, was in Greenwood last Wednesday and during the afternoon held a school of instruction in the secret work of the order, and met with the order in the evening, when initiatory work was put on and a very fine banquet held. A most enjoyable evening was had.

Hears Grandmother Had Died Fred Hoffman received the very sad news of the death of his grandmother, Mrs. Sophia Spanole, who passed away at Walton on last Tuesday at the advanced age of 83 years and whose funeral was held at the South Lutheran church at Eagle Wednesday of this week. Fred was over to attend the funeral and was accompanied by the family. Ivan Schulke was driving the truck for Fred during the time he was away, making a trip to Omaha for Mr. Hoffman.

Give Farewell Reception The members of the American Legion gave their fellow member and very close buddy a pleasant farewell reception last week—Prof. Maxwell, departing superintendent of the Greenwood schools, who is leaving for Liberty, where he will teach the coming year.

Band Concerts Saturday The holding of the band concerts, which have heretofore been held on Wednesday evening, have been changed to Saturday evening, and was so held on last Saturday for the first time. These band concerts are features of the entertainment of the city which will do much good in attracting many people to Greenwood.

Will Teach at Liberty Prof. D. N. Maxwell, who has had charge of the Greenwood schools for the past year, with the completion of the school year is removing to Liberty, where he will teach the coming year. Prof. Maxwell did good work while here and we are certain he will succeed in his new field.

New Superintendent Arrives The newly elected superintendent of the Greenwood schools, Professor Hughes, who comes from Rulo, arrived a few days since and moved into the William F. Laughlin property, where he will make his home during Attended Alumni Banquet Mrs. Phil L. Hall, who is a graduate of the Nebraska School of Music, of Lincoln, visited in the capital city last week and attended the banquet given by the Alumni of the school, which was held at the Cornhusker hotel and was attended and enjoyed by a large number of the old grads. The peculiar arrangements of the tables of the banquet was in the formation of a gigantic letter "M," signifying music, and with the decorations very tastefully arranged, the setting was a most enjoyable one. A fine chicken dinner was served, followed by a program of reminiscence that recalled to mind many of the school day occurrences.

Legion Convention, June 20th The date for the district convention of the American Legion has been set for Thursday, June 20th, and judging from the active preparations that are being made by the local post of the American Legion, assisted by the business men of the town, Greenwood will play the part of host city in regal fashion.

Preparations for handling the big crowd that is expected to attend the gathering are rapidly being worked out and all arrangements for a good time from arrival until departure are being perfected. It is hoped to make this one of the best of the successful district conventions that have been annual events in the First congressional district ever since 1924.

and a wonderful time is assured all who attend. Come, and have a good time, all you ex-service men of southeastern Nebraska. You will meet many of the buddies whom you have not seen for some time and you will surely enjoy the occasion immensely.

Greenwood post members made a bid for the convention last year at Nebraska City, and we are sure no one will be disappointed at the fine time provided the veterans by our flourishing little town.

Two years ago the convention was held at Shubert, a town of about our size, and there as here, it was proved that it isn't the size of the town that makes a convention successful, but the spirit of hospitality extended by the people. Greenwood will do its part to see that the veterans are well entertained at this the seventh annual district meeting.

Calling of Democratic Dinner Brings Signs That Discontent Still Lingers in South.

Washington—Calling of a dinner for democrats here next week in honor of Joutet Shouse, newly named assistant of chairman John J. Raskob of the national committee, has developed some signs of discontent in the party ranks in the southland. Several democratic senators from the south have said they have "other engagements" on the night of the dinner.

Mr. Raskob will be one of the speakers at the affair, which has been organized by the Jefferson democratic association of Washington.

Few of the senators who will be absent at the dinner have not given any reason for their absence. Senator Simmons of North Carolina, who resigned as democratic national committeeman for his state after Raskob was named chairman, did describe the dinner, however, as "very inopportune and instead of bring about the desired harmony is likely to have the contrary effect."

Senator Smith of South Carolina, whose state was in the democratic column again in the presidential election, said he was not going to the dinner and did not care to make a statement about it in the interest of party harmony.

Senators Swanson and Glass of Virginia had made other arrangements for the night on which the dinner will be held. The same is true of Senator Harris of Georgia.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the democratic leader and the running mate of Alfred E. Smith, is not in the city and it is not known whether he will be here for the dinner. Other democratic leaders are making no comment.—State Journal.

Hoover Asks Transfer of Prohibition Unit

Wants Investigation Made by Committee of Congress and Department—Offer Resolution

Washington, D. C. June 6—President Hoover today took the second step in carrying out his law enforcement observance program by recommending to congress appointment of a joint committee of the house and the senate to frame legislation transferring the major activities of prohibition enforcement from the treasury to the justice department.

Coincidentally, his recently created national law enforcement commission in its first hearing—a secret session—heard Secretary Mellon, upon whom the major responsibility for the enforcement of the Volstead and other dry laws now rests.

A demand for open hearings by the commission was made in the senate by Senator Hawes (dem., Mo.), who asserted that secret hearings "will defeat the object of the commission: will destroy confidence in the thoroughness of its work or the impartiality of its conclusions."

The commission leaders moved swiftly to carry out the recommendations the president submitted in a brief special message which disclosed a comprehensive program for unification of federal agencies dealing with enforcement of the laws. Senator Jones (rep., Wash.), a leader of the dries, offered a resolution authorizing a joint committee of seven, three to be appointed by Vice-President Curtis and four by Speaker Longworth.

The resolution was referred to the judiciary committee, and Chairman Norris said it would be considered at the regular meeting next Monday. An early favorable report is expected.

Hoover's Message. President Hoover outlined his reasons for appointment of the joint committee in this message read in the house and the senate by the clerks:

"In order to secure the utmost expedition in the reorganization and concentration of responsibility in administration of the federal bureaus connected with prohibition enforcement so greatly needed to improve their effectiveness, I recommend that the congress appoint a joint select committee to make an immediate study of these matters and to formulate recommendations for consideration at the next regular session.

"I shall be glad to appoint a committee from the departments to cooperate with such a committee of the congress. The national commission on law observance and enforcement will also co-operate through their studies of the departmental organization.

"The subject involves the transfer of parts of various bureaus and agencies from certain departments to others and includes as well the necessity for the unification and strengthening of our border patrols both in connection with prohibition and illegal entry of aliens.

"As the question embraces numerous laws and regulations in several bureaus, it will require extensive consideration which if given jointly by such committees of the congress and the departments prior to the regular session will save many months of delay."

Administration officials explained that the president regards unification of the enforcement agencies as highly important and that he asked congress to make a joint committee at this time so that a program can be made ready for consideration by congress early in the regular session, which begins December 2.

An interdepartmental committee had been making a preliminary survey of this question under the direction of James M. Doran, prohibition commissioner, and it will cooperate with the congressional committee as well as the national law enforcement commission, which in the course of its work will make a study of this whole question.

As administration officers explain it the transfer of the enforcement machinery to the justice department involves an extensive study of existing laws and regulations as well as of policy in dealing with the coast guard and customs services, which now are integral parts of the treasury and were created early in the life of the republic to deal with the administration and enforcement of the customs laws and regulations.

Whether these units can be administered to better advantage in the treasury or the justice departments is one of the major decisions which must be made in determining upon the whole transfer program. Another important question is where the alcohol permit divisions of the prohibition unit is to go.—World-Herald.
