SCHOOL TEACHER

Adopted by the Sioux Indians

Miss Josephine Altmann, Former Teacher Here, Receives Very High Honor

Miss Josephine Altmann, who was four years ago a member of the Plattsmouth high school fraternity, and is here visiting for a few days at the C. A. Rawls and E. H. Westcott homes, has had a rather unusual honor conferred on her by the members of the Sioux Indian tribes of the Black Hills of South Dakota, in being adopted into the tribe and given the title of Zi-ika-zi-win, which translated into the English means Miss Singing Bird.

Miss Altmann is now located at Elmo, Illinois and has been largely interested in the recent years as an interpreter of Indian folk songs, has just come west and visiting at Hot Springs and other points in the Black Hills was able to secure some very pertinent facts and given the title of Zi-ika-zi-win, which translated into the English means Miss Singing Bird.

The Indians to show their appreciation of the efforts of Miss Altmann in developing the Indian folk songs for preservation to the future by the members of the very impressive ceremony of adoption at the Hotel Evans at Hot Springs where a group of the Indians numbering several hundred gathered and where Chief White Man Bear formally adopted the teacher as his daughter for the tribe. She was presented by Paul White Magpie and Charley Eagle Louse.

On this occasion Miss Altmann was also presented a buckskin gown which has been for many generations in the Sioux tribe and held as an heirloom of one of the families of this tribe. The gown was given to Miss Altmann and she has brought it to this city with her and it is now on exhibition in the window of the C. E. Westcott's Sons store.

The gown is more than one hundred years old, one woman made each horse which is a part of the ornaments of the gown and each of these represents a memorial to some horse shot down in battle.

The wars that are referred to in the gown ornaments are not those with the whites but represents the struggles with the Arapahoe, Cheyenne and Crow. The gown reflects the many owners in the past as it has been frequently altered, some of the seams being sewed with sinew and others with the white man's thread.

The belt is an heirloom passed down on the maternal side of some Sioux family tree. It being made to refer to the first generation or the beginning of the family. A mother would give it to her daughter and she in turn would hand it down to her daughter. It is very old.

Years of service in Model T Fords

THE Model T was so strongly and sturdily built that it is still rendering reliable, economical service to motorists in every section of the country. Hundreds of thousands of these good old Model T Fords can be put in shape for two, three and five more years of use at very small cost.

The following list gives the approximate labor charges for reconditioning the Model T Ford—

Table with engine and rear system categories, listing items like Tune motor, Grind valves, and Replace rear axle assembly with prices.

Table with front system category, listing items like Overhaul front axle, Rebuild spindle bodies, and Replace or straighten spindle connecting rod.

Table with chassis category, listing items like Tighten all nuts and bolts, Replace rear fender, and Overhaul steering gear.

These prices are approximate and are for labor only, because the need and number of new parts depends on the condition of each car. The charge for these parts is low, however, because of the established Ford policy of manufacturing and selling at a small margin of profit.
