

Quickly Regains Energy, Strength

"After all other medicines and treatments had failed to help me, I started taking Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills and my improvement was immediate.

"My usual strength and energy had left me completely. I was tired and worn out in the day time and could not sleep well at night. I had very little appetite, could not relish my food and practically everything I ate disagreed with me. Even the slightest exertion tired me out completely. Headaches made me suffer so much at times that I simply had to give up and go to bed.

"Almost with the beginning of the Sargon treatment I felt better. My appetite picked up and my strength and energy with it. In two weeks I was so strong and energetic I didn't feel like the same person. Now I eat and enjoy my food, I never have headaches, and I sleep well at nights and feel rested and refreshed in the mornings. The pills stimulated my liver and regulated it without the slightest nausea or bad after effects.

"The Sargon treatment is simply wonderful and I can never say too much for it."—Mrs. Etna D. Mohler, 5726 Walker Avenue, Lincoln, Neb.

Cattle Values in State Vary

One County to Protest Equalization Board Assessments—Higher Figures in the East.

Are cattle in Nebraska worth an average price of $52 per head, counting in adult animals and calves, pure-blooded stock and scrubs on the range, fine dairy herds and plain beef steers?

If that is a fair figure the state board of equalization will be able to justify its assessment of cattle at $39.44 apiece for the state as a whole, that being approximately 75 per cent of the market value, the ratio at which property in general is said to be valued for taxation.

Only one county in the state has manifested discontent with the board's action raising cattle 10 per cent over the returns made by county assessors in order to bring them up to that basis. The Stanton county board has given notice of its intention to appeal therefrom to the Supreme court.

A wide variation in the assessment per animal is found in different counties, but Stanton's is by no means the highest. There are 25 counties in which bovine stock is listed above the $44.28 fixed for Stanton. Three of these are counties which border it on three sides—Madison, Wayne and Cuming. In Madison county the rate is $44.28; in Wayne, $46.24; and in Cuming, $45.66.

Reasons for Difference—In a state spreading out over 400 miles east and west and approximately 200 miles north and south, with a wide variation of soil, climatic conditions, vegetation and altitude, there is bound to be great diversity in agricultural products and live-stock.

Well-developed farming territory, such as that in eastern Nebraska naturally produces more purebred and high grade cattle than the ranching territory further west, where beef animals run at large a good portion of the year and receive no such attention as that bestowed upon milk herds and breeding stock in the eastern area.

Another factor which enters into the value of cattle is proximity to live stock markets. Here, again eastern Nebraska has the advantage. This is undoubtedly the reason and the only reason, why Sarpy county, which is right in the back yard of the South Omaha stock yards and packing houses, has the highest assessed valuation of cattle in the state—$55.94 per head, or 20 per cent more than Stanton.

These other counties also are rated higher than Stanton in the state board's tabulation: Boone, Burr, Cass, Dixon, Douglas, Fillmore, Greeley, Hall, Hamilton, Howard, Jefferson, Johnson, Lancaster, Nance, Nemaha, Otoe, Polk, Thayer, Washington and York. Gage and Seward, besides, are only a shade below Stanton, and quite a number are assessed within a dollar a head of Stanton.

All the counties, without exception lie east of the 99th meridian, which is seemingly the boundary line for lower priced classifications.

Biggest Bovine Wealth—Because of its immense size and the great herds of range cattle fed within its boundaries, Cherry county is far ahead of all others in the number of animals assessed and the total valuation placed upon them, although its average per head is only $35.12. It has over 180,000 bovines, valued at more than $6,200,000.

This exceeds Custer, its nearest competitor, by more than two to one, both in numbers and value. Custer is credited on the grand assessment roll with almost 82,000 cattle at a gross worth of slightly above $3,950,000. The average per head is $36.04.

Next come in order, Holt, Cuming, Lincoln and Sheridan. Of these, Cuming is the only eastern county and the only one rated above the state average of $39.44 per head. Its rating of $45.88 is due to the large number of breeding and dairy cattle raised there, while in the other counties named, ranch stock predominates and brings down the average value.

HELP STRANGERS ALONG

A strange man who has been in the Nebraska City hospital for the past three weeks suffering from broken ribs sustained when his car which he was trying to crank started in gear and ran over him, was passing through Plattsmouth Tuesday, when the same car gave a couple coughs and stopped. Luckily he was directly in front of the barber shop owned by O. F. Smalley and Mr. Smalley seeing the predicament which the man was in, went out and with the help of his nephew, Russell Payne, soon had the old relic back in running order, sending the old man rejoicing on his way. He was bound for Davenport, Iowa, where he would stay a few weeks with his brother before going on to Illinois, his final destination.

Fire Hits the Business Section of Alliance, Neb.

Estimate Loss at $35,000—Occupants of Building Barely Able to Make Their Escape.

Alliance, Neb., Aug. 20.—Fire of unknown origin swept through the second floor of a large business block owned by W. D. Rumer, causing a loss estimated at more than $35,000 here Tuesday. The fire spread rapidly from room to room, terrorizing occupants of the building, some of whom barely escaped to the street after flames had cut off their retreat down a back stairway.

Mrs. Alice A. Poer, a waitress who roomed on the second floor, discovered the blaze after she had been awakened by a crackling noise. She entered the hallway to find flames spreading from a vacant room where furniture had been stored. She beat on the doors of other tenants, notifying them of the fire and all made a hasty exit down the smoke filled corridor to a front stairway. The fire had gained great headway before discovered and firemen battled for three hours before bringing it under control.

The store of Rulers, Inc., containing large stocks of women's wearing apparel, suffered the heaviest loss. The G. F. Leiter department store was damaged to the extent of several thousand dollars by smoke and water.

Tuesday's fire is the second disastrous blaze in the Rumer block in recent years. Two and a half years ago fire gutted the ladies' wear shop of Abe Isaacson in the same building with a loss of $35,000.—State Journal.

Mr. Nickles with his large acquaintance over the county should make a very successful representative for this auto which has been without an agency here for some time.

Local Golfers Low Score Men at Nebr. City

Donald Pittman in Qualifying Round Scored Medalist with 73 Displacing Other Locals.

From Tuesday's Daily.—The Plattsmouth golfers who have been in the qualifying rounds at Nebraska City, have the honor of being the three lowest score men in the qualifying round and this showing should result in the local players, if they do not top the southeastern championship, making the going plenty tough for the winners.

In the qualifying rounds Sunday, Dr. R. P. Westover, former southeast champ and Frank Ebsack, one of the real young golf players of the state, playing around in seventy-four and trying for the low score of that day. Monday Donald Pittman, also one of the youngest members of the local golf club, did even better than his associates and clipped off a seventy-two to reach the medalist honors if he is not displaced.

The match play will start Wednesday and with the three local people assured of being in the championship flight there is a great deal of interest attached to the results here and if the players are in their best form the coveted cup should decorate the Plattsmouth golf club.

The opening of play will attract a large number from this city and the event will be one of the largest tournaments in the southwest with players from the nearby counties in attendance either as players or in the gallery that will watch the championship battle.

A. there, and the nearest is at McCook, he sent the bill into the general officers at Lincoln and the association paid the amount due.

Wiles just west of this city, is the original tract of land first settled by the members of the family and has since remained in the family. C. L. Wiles, being a grandson of Luke Wiles, the original settler of the land. At the meeting this year the members of the family will take up the plans for the 1930 reunion which will mark a quarter century of the family reunion and will be made more elaborate than usual.

Find Trace of Nebraskan of 150,000 Years

Stone Found on John Larsh Farm Near Union May Be Pre-Drift Period of World

A piece of quartzite stone about eight inches in diameter and two inches thick was found Friday by E. E. Blackman, archaeologist of the State Historical society, near Union and which in the opinion of Mr. Blackman, may be proof that man lived in Nebraska 150,000 years ago. Blackman is at Nebraska City for the week going out with groups from the Nebraska City Lion's club, at whose invitation he came. He received the stone Friday from John Larsh, who lives near Union and who found it on his farm some time ago.

"It gave me quite a shock to see that stone bearing the amazing revelation which I think it bears," he said. "I want to submit it to Dr. E. H. Barbour, paleontologist of the university, and get his decision before I entirely make up my mind, but I am convinced as far as I can be now that the marks are glyphs made by a Nebraskan 150,000 centuries ago."

Blackman is the guest, while he is at Nebraska City, of N. C. Abbott, superintendent of the Nebraska school for the blind. It was suggested (by night by Editor J. W. Sweet of the News-Press, who examined the stone, that it was probably an "antidiluvian poker chip."

Blackman has also examined some Indian mounds and townships which he will excavate and explore later.

CHARGE THREE IN LAND FAKE

St. Paul, Aug. 19.—L. L. Drill, federal district attorney, today announced he would issue warrants for three Minneapolis real estate men on charges of obtaining money under false pretenses and of using the funds to defraud in connection with an alleged California fruit land swindle. Drill made the announcement after receiving a request from Albert E. Sheels, acting district attorney for northern California, to begin criminal proceedings against three St. Paul officers of the Sacramento Sa-urb Fruit Lands Co.

An indictment accompanying the request named M. A. Crinkley, Edward E. Amblat and C. W. Whitcomb, all of Minneapolis, and charged that land offered for sale by the company is unfit for agriculture. The land is described as approximately 9,000 acres of 5-inch clay and 4 1/2 feet of hard pan, composed mostly of sandstone, and was used for grazing prior to its sale to the company.

FIRE MENACES ENTIRE TOWN

Lloyd Minister, Sask.—Fire threatened to wipe out the main business section of this town. With water supply short, the fire fighting equipment was unable to cope with the situation.

The blaze started in a pool room at noon, and within two hours a meat market, a jewelry store, a drug store, a barber shop and a cafe were in ruins, and the Bank of Commerce was burning.

The fire also spread to the Royal George hotel, the Royal cafe, across the street and then to the Royal bank, the postoffice, Agricultural hall and Britania hotel. A number of other buildings were in the path of the flames which was still spreading. No lives have been lost.

All mail in the postoffice was destroyed.

THE WORLD USES TELEPHONE

Though the United States has 55 per cent of the world's telephones and the rate of expansion continues about the same year after year, the percentage, as compared with which previously have been backward.

This is a good sign. Development and perfection, through American engineering and executive genius, of world-wide telephone communication, has opened a hitherto closed door to better foreign relations, and understanding between peoples. Americans want the rest of the world to progress. And as the number of telephones in foreign places increases, the great web of communication wires that is binding the civilized world together in importance and possibilities for progress.

ROADS FOR THE FUTURE

It is common for roads that were built a comparatively few years ago to become dangerous because of the amazing increase in motor travel. Narrow surfaces, overly steep hills and unbanked turns constitute a serious menace in these days of congested, high speed traffic.

Progressive communities are protecting their own futures by building wider roads to care for the still greater traffic of tomorrow. It is said on good authority that all highways of importance should be broad enough to carry two lanes of traffic in both directions.

Even in rural districts, where expense of road building is preeminent, low cost oil and asphaltic surfaces are providing the farmer and rural dweller with high grade highways, reasonable to build and maintain. In this modern age, civilization follows the highway and a community with insufficient or poor roads must exist in an undeveloped state.
