Old Settlers Reunion Brings Out Old Timers

Gathering at Union Proves Interesting to the Old Time Residents of Entire County

Forty-one years ago, when the town of Union was young, but the Liberty precinct was an established institution, and had been settled by a prosperous and progressive people for years, the idea was conceived of getting together and celebrating the fact of living in a good portion of the world, the United States, Nebraska, Cass county and especially Liberty precinct, and the newly established town of Union.

The idea grew and germinated forty years ago in the Old Settlers picnic, which was perpetuated by the holding of one every year, and this year on last Friday and Saturday at the picnic which has been an annual affair, in the old picnic grounds met thousands of people who like in the days of yore came to visit and to renew the associations which have been made the stronger by the passing years. There were the amusements, there always are, the refreshment stands, and the speakers and entertainers, but best of all was the friendly meetings of the old timers and others who had not met for many years. A good time was sure had, and the address by Governor A. J. Weaver was listened to with much interest. This was supplemented by a very fine program made up of local talent and which was enlivened by the music which was furnished by the Farmer's Union band of Louisville. The success of the meeting was in a measure caused by the working of the committee and others who worked very energetically to make the gathering the success that it was.

PASSES 83RD ANNIVERSARY

Last evening Officers Pickrel and Hadraba apprehended a stranger in the main section of the city and who was somewhat under the weather and suffering from the result of an over-indulgence in the Omaha brand of the corn extract. The man was found to have a bottle of the liquor upon him and was placed in the city jail to await the coming of morning and Judge Charles L. Graves to sit in judgment on the case. The man gave the name of Nelson and stated that he was engaged in some grading work on one of the local projects near Union and had started from Omaha with a party of friends but he had gotten out of the car and the rest of the party had drove away and left him.

Death Comes to Civil War Veteran Early Today

Asbury Jacks Passes Away at Home of Daughter, Mrs. Dora Trively — Was 85 Years Old.

From Monday's Daily—
This morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Dora Trively, in the south part of the city occurred the death of Asbury Jacks, one of the few remaining veterans of the Civil war and who has for the past few years been in gradually failing health owing to his advanced years and weakened physical condition.

Mr. Jacks was lacking but a few weeks of reaching his eighty-fifth year and has made his home here for the past twelve or fifteen years, coming here from Hamburg, Iowa, where the family resided for a number of years.

Mr. Jacks has been active in the affairs of the local G. A. R. as long as his condition would permit and was one of the few surviving members of the Grand Army of the Republic in this community. The deceased was but a boy of sixteen when the Civil war broke out and called him from his home in Indiana to the service of his country and he served gallantly in the cause of the Union until the close of the war. Mr. Jacks later came west to Iowa and there spent his best years. The wife passed away a number of years ago and since that time Mr. Jacks has made his home with the daughters and who have tenderly ministered to him in the declining days and all have borne their part in his care and providing for his comfort.

Of the family circle, one daughter, Mrs. J. N. Elliott and two sons, Will, who was electrocuted in Council Bluffs a number of years ago while engaged in his work as lineman, and Robert H. Jacks, who was killed in action with the A. E. F. in France in 1918, have preceded him in death. The surviving children are Mrs. Florence Elliott of this city, Silas Jacks, of Dallas, South Dakota; George Jacks, of Omaha; Mrs. Dora Trively and Miss Myrtle Jacks of this city; Mrs. Ruth Cram, of Craig, Nebraska, and Miss Leota Jacks, of Denver.

The family have not definitely decided on the date for the funeral services, awaiting word from relatives at distant points, but the interment will be at the cemetery at Hamburg, Iowa, where the wife and the son, Robert H. Jacks, are buried.

SOON TO LEAVE CITY

The equipment of the Union Bridge and Construction Co., is now being loaded preparatory to shipment from this locality where for several months the company and its force of workmen have been engaged in the work of constructing piers for the new Missouri river traffic bridge. The equipment is being sent to Wellington, Missouri, where the company has the contract for the erection of a large bridge for a railroad company spanning a deep draw near Wellington and this work will take several months for completion.

The bridge work here has brought several families here to this city who have made this their home for the past seven or eight months and who have made many friends who will regret to see them leave for the scenes of their new activities. The bridge workers and their families have been a part of the community life and are a fine group of people and who will be missed a great deal by their many friends over the city when they depart southward for the new homes where the duties of the construction work have called them.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Miss Beula Mae Beins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Beins, celebrated her fourth birthday last Friday, a very lovely party being arranged for her by her mother. A fine group of children were present, and the afternoon passed rapidly and pleasantly, what with the playing of all kinds of games and pranks common to gatherings of young blood. Many very beautiful gifts received by Miss Beula, and at about 4 o'clock in the afternoon came the refreshments. These consisted of delicious sandwiches, together with ice cream and cake, and were served in unlimited quantities.

Those present at the party were: Jimmie Mauzy, Doris Nelson, Jack Hadraba, Marjorie Wohlfarth, Ruth Gaines, Margaret Bruce, Betty Bruce, Arthur Bruce, Roy Price, Richard Price, Jacqueline Distell, Betty Distell, Billy Distell, Mildred Wilson and Roy Wilson.

Sortor, pastor of the First Methodist church and then returned to their home in Falls City.

SMALL RAINFALL HERE

Sunday this immediate vicinity was treated to a much needed rainfall and while it was but sixty-five one hundredths of an inch it did a great deal of good in the freshening of the crops and the general relief from the protracted dry spell that has been very much in the past few weeks. Northwest of this city the rain was about the same as here but south and west there was very little reported and the showers seemed to have been purely local in their nature and very scattered. The rain fell over the state in scattered areas and brought relief to corn in many localities where some slight loss had been feared in the late corn.

Sunday six families, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Byers, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Basill and son, Arthur, Mr. and Mrs. William Grimm and two sons, John Schwartz and Mrs. Helen Fredrickson and son, all of Ithica, Nebraska, and Miss Helen Hoffman of Omaha, motored down to enjoy the day here at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Funk, old time friends.

The Funk family were residents of near Ithica for some years and became well acquainted with this fine group of colts and a great deal of pleasure to all to be able to enjoy the reunion here Sunday at the hospitable Funk home.

The members of the party came with many baskets of the good things and which served to help provide a sumptuous dinner served in picnic style at the noon hour and to which all did ample justice and a joyful day was spent in visiting and having a great time in the renewal of the ties of the past years.

During the afternoon some pictures were taken of the group and it is reported that it will take a good eye to figure out just who was who in the group, as the picture taken was on a negative on which another picture had already been taken and which Mrs. Fredrickson, the photographer had forgotten to change and the result was that the picnic party was badly mixed with a group of colts and a great deal of merriment is due when the negative is developed and the identification of the members of the party is made.

AID SOCIETY ELECTS

The aid society of the Methodist church held their meeting at the church on Thursday afternoon and enjoyed the earlier portion of the afternoon in a covered dish luncheon and in which all found a great deal of pleasure. The chief business of the meeting was the election of the officers and Mrs. William Baird who has filled the office for president ten times, was again re-elected, the members feeling that her splendid services were such that the society could not well afford to allow her retirement much as she might wish for. In the election of treasurer Mrs. William Howland, who has filled this position for twenty years, felt that she could not serve longer in this capacity and the society very reluctantly was called upon to name her successor. Mrs. M. E. Buttery was named as the treasurer. For the position of secretary Mrs. Harry Schultz was named by the society.

The ladies enjoyed a short period of group singing and it was a great leading this feature of the afternoon.
