He spoke for some time explaining that the matter of the new building was a matter of where the city would pay sufficient to justify the outlay. He explained that they would like for a sufficient number of the patrons which Mr. Ojers represented.

AIR CARRIER FORCED DOWN
Houston, Tex.—Forced southward by a storm which prevented its landing at Brownville, at Lockheed Vega monoplane owned by the Texas company and carrying four prominent Texas business men as passengers, made a forced landing late Saturday night in heavy jungles near Soto La Marina, Mexico. The plane was badly damaged, but none of the occupants were injured.

First news of the ship, which had been missing more than twenty-four hours and for which searching parties had been sent out, was contained in a telegram from Soto La Marina to Burt Hull, president of the Texas Pipe Line company here. The message was signed by Jack Hott, manager of the Fort Worth association of commerce. The monoplane was a part of the Fort Worth aerocade which is touring south Texas. It was piloted by Bert Picoke.

Besides Mr. Hott the passengers were James D'Arcy, manager of the Clover Land company; A. L. Ford of the Cooke-Teague Motor company, and Frost Lynn, chairman of service for the Texas company.

Brownsville, Tex.—Five Fort Worth men and women in a Texas company airplane for whom an extensive search was started Saturday night, were reported safe Sunday from Soto La Marina, Mexico, 169 miles south of Brownsville. The ship was forced down when the gasoline ran out.

RUSSIANS DELAY FLIGHT
Seattle—Unfavorable weather was believed by radio officials Monday to have forced the Russian plane, Land of the Soviets, to remain on Attu island instead of hopping for Dutch Harbor, Unalaska, as planned.

A radio message received here from Captain Cochran, commander of the coast guard Bering sea fleet, said the plane was to leave Attu, most westward of the Aleutian islands, at 5:30 a. m., on the next leg of its flight from Moscow to New York. Lack of word on the takeoff led to the belief that rain and fog had delayed the start.

The Russians arrived at Attu Saturday from Petropavlovsk, Kamchatka, Siberia, after crossing Bering strait. The scheduled flight of 752 miles from Attu to Dutch Harbor Sunday was postponed because of the weather. Conditions were unchanged Monday.

The plane left Moscow a month ago Monday. After reaching Dutch Harbor it has only one more hop to bring it to the American continent at Seward, Alaska. From Seward it is to fly to Sitka, Alaska, and then to Seattle, where its pontoons will be replaced by wheels. The Russians will go to New York by way of San Francisco.

BELLEVUE CARRIES ON
More students are expected shortly at Bellevue junior college, which opened this fall, John Frazier, secretary of the board, asserted Monday night after a meeting of the executive committee of the school.

Referring to rumors that the fate of the school is in doubt, Frazier stated, "There has not been any question about the college going ahead. The enrollment is not as large as we had hoped, due to our late start, but there are workers in the field, and indications of more students shortly."

"We have an excellent staff of five, and it is possible for us to give the students unusual individual attention," he declared.

The school had 12 students when it opened this fall. It was pointed out that Scottsbluff Junior college has 25 students in its second year.

Game License Battle Looms; Iowans Taken

Arrest of Iowa Deputy Sheriff by Nebraska Warden May Result in Retaliation

Council Bluffs—Iowa and Nebraska authorities between Council Bluffs and Blair were "at war" Monday as the result of the arrest near Blair Sunday of Deputy Sheriff Frank Owen of Council Bluffs.

The warfare was being waged in the form of a campaign against Iowa and Nebraska duck hunters who venture out on the Missouri river without first equipping themselves with non-resident licenses.

Owen and his son, Buster, former Northwestern university football player, were arrested by Deputy Game Warden Mickey Gray of Nebraska. The sheriff and deputies at Blair tried in vain to effect the release of Owen and his son.

County Attorney Bernard F. Lundt, and Deputy Warden Gray insisted that the Iowans be required to pay for Nebraska nonresident licenses costing $10 each. Justice of the Peace Chambers dismissed the two Owens on their promise to buy licenses.

Sheriff Lainsou of Council Bluffs was indignant over the affair. One of the shotgunners seized by the Nebraska game warden was Lainsou's property.

"Nebraska will pay dearly for this outrage," said the sheriff. "It has been a custom for years that a hunter in the Missouri river was in neutral waters or on neutral land and could hunt there as long as he had a license for either state."

"A lot more hunters from Nebraska edge over the channel to the Iowa side than Iowans get on the Nebraska side. I'm going to lay for them. Our non-resident license fee is $15, and our fines are just as stiff, so Nebraska hunters better beware," warned Lainsou.

Owen and his son were arrested on a sandbar, which, due to the low stage of the river, was left connected with the Nebraska shore, they said. State Journal.
