Order a Rail Embargo on All Perishables

Roads Refuse Produce Consignments to New York City Because of Strike.

New York, Oct. 7.—An embargo on shipments of all perishable produce to New York was laid down tonight, effective at midnight, by the New York Central, Pennsylvania, Central of New Jersey, Lehigh Valley, the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, and Erie railroads. The action was taken because of the congestion in freight terminals resulting from the strike of two thousand market truck drivers.

The action was taken by the railroads despite an earlier announcement by Miss Frances Perkins, state labor commissioner, who said W. W. Smith, secretary of the Fruit and Produce Trade association, informed her agreement probably would be reached tonight to end the strike.

Miss Perkins transmitted Smith's announcement to Acting Governor Herbert H. Lehman, who then authorized her to cancel arrangements he had made for a meeting of interested parties at his home tonight in an effort to settle the labor dispute.

The embargo action was announced first by the Pennsylvania railroad, followed quickly by the Erie, New York Central and the three other lines. Shipping agents in cities through the country were notified by the railroad lines to accept no further shipments for this city.

It was announced that all cars containing the class of goods banned and moving toward New York from points east of Chicago at the time the embargo becomes effective, will be rerouted to Boston, Philadelphia or Chicago. Shipments west of Chicago intended for New York will be held on sidings, refrigerated and returned to the shippers.

Perishable produce has been arriving in New York in a steady stream since the strike became effective Saturday. As a result more than three thousand cars, loaded with perishable fruits and vegetables valued at six million dollars have accumulated at the various freight terminals.—World-Herald.

MELLON INTENDS TO STICK

Washington—To end the frequently recurring rumor of the resignation of Secretary Mellon, President Hoover revealed Monday that the treasury head has promised to remain at his post until the close of the present administration, March 4, 1933. Such reports have been given wide circulation at intervals in the last several years. Since the inauguration of the Hoover administration they have become almost weekly occurrences and have been denied as quickly as they bobbed up by both the treasury and the white house.

Monday the rumor was heard again. It was denied by Secretary Mellon himself and was called to President Hoover's attention. The white house announcement followed.

In the event that ill health and advancing years do not intervene, Mellon will have held office over a longer period than any of his predecessors. He entered the cabinet at the outset of the Harding administration and, serving continuously, has held the place in the cabinets of three presidents.

WOODMEN CIRCLE TO MEET

From Wednesday's Dally—District Deputy Mrs. Ida B. Kennedy of Lincoln, is here to spend the rest of the week in the interest of the Woodmen Circle, of which she is a very active leader, and while here is making her home at the Oscar Gopen residence. The Junior Woodmen Circle will hold their meeting on Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Buttery and it is hoped to have a very large attendance of the young people.

JOHN, FLORENCE BACK AFTER HONEYMOON

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 7.—With the ingenuous enthusiasm of two children starting off on a picnic, John Coildge and his bride motored 28 miles Monday to take up the honeymoon duties of husband and wife. They breakfasted at daybreak in Governor Trumbull's home. John was at his desk at 8:30, precisely, and Florence was in their four-and-a-half room apartment in Westville, a few minutes later.

Federal Farm Board Firm on Crops Control

Say Surplus Plan Would Cause Increased Production of Surpluses

Washington—Control of farm acreage is a requisite to control of crop surpluses. This fundamental made plain to members of the Senate Agricultural Committee by members of the Federal Farm Board appearing before it for confirmation, acted as an irritant to Republican and Democratic members who supported the McNary-Haugen bill, and who still want the Government to intervene to relieve the farmer by buying up the big crop surpluses, no matter how large they may be.

Every member of the Farm Board so far examined by the Senate committee has either directly or indirectly advocated control over production and limitation of acreage as the method of reducing the surplus and aiding the farmer. In this they have individually come in opposition with members of the Senate committee.

Nevertheless, the Farm Board appointees of Mr. Hoover have insisted that if the United States stood ready to buy up and hold indefinitely all crop surpluses, no matter what their size, the farmers would produce constantly larger crops, regardless of world consumption.

This has been the thread running through the entire series of hearings, beginning with testimony of Alexander Legge, the chairman, down to Samuel R. McKelvie, former Governor of Nebraska, who represents wheat on the board.

Members of the board have expressed various degrees of hope over the possibility of extending help to the farmer. Mr. McKelvie believes that the proposed grain purchase program to back the co-operatives of the United States will be able to duplicate what should be done in Canada within a few years. In fact, he believes that the next year's wheat crop may be controlled by this agency.

Carl Williams, the cotton expert on the board, is less hopeful of success in controlling his commodity, because of backward conditions in the South, tenant farming and the ignorance which makes co-ordinated, large-scale effort difficult. Relief will not come, he believes, in any event under his forecasts. A farmer-engineered decrease in cotton acreage is one of the plans which he fosters.

The hearings have contrasted the fundamental differences of the two viewpoints. The first still calls for government purchase of surplus plus. The other would lend federal funds to co-operatives, in the effort to get the farmers to cut down surplus by co-ordinated action. On the support given by farmers themselves, the success of the second plan is believed to depend.

In three months the Farm Board has been asked for $70,000,000 of the $500,000,000 made available by Congress, with every prospect that requests for funds will far outdistance the money in hand. This was disclosed in evidence submitted to the committee by Mr. Legge.

Additional testimony by Mr. McKelvie coincided with news of the President's transfer of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics from the Department of Agriculture to the Federal Farm Board.

Governor McKelvie's testimony carried previous opinions of the board's membership expressed as to the cotton and corn crops, into the realm of wheat. The board, it was stated, is following the policy of bringing farmers into a gigantic co-operative by which it is hoped the price of wheat will be stabilized within reasonable limits of supply and demand.

National Grain Group Soon to Start Business

Chicago—The National Grain Marketing Corporation, a $20,000,000 concern, proposed to co-operate with the Federal Farm Board, may be operating within a week, William H. Settle of Indianapolis, chairman of the committee authorized to effect the corporation's set-up, indicated.

Mr. Settle's statement was made as he and a special sub-committee went into session with Alexander Legge, chairman, and other members of the board. The purpose of the meeting was to iron out differences of opinion the Farm Board and co-operatives might hold on the corporation's bylaws.

No major changes in the set-up, already outlined by the sub-committee, were anticipated. The sub-committee was authorized to make minor changes and was expected to complete its work soon.

In the event the Farm Board demands no major changes, the special committee of 16 co-operatives will be reconvened immediately as a board of directors and the new farm organization will be incorporated under the laws of Delaware, he said.

Mr. Settle said he expected the corporation to be functioning within 30 days, providing the members of the Farm Board agreed at the present conference on the major policies.

Bank Men Find Nation's Credit on Sound Basis

Think That New Problems, Under Changed Conditions, Need Close Study.

San Francisco—Describing the Nation's credit situation as sound but presenting many new problems and calling upon the Federal Reserve Board to conduct a technical investigation into the growth of brokers loans, the American Bankers Association completed the work of its fifty-fifth annual convention here.

The convention, by unanimous resolution, took a firm stand against any change in the present method of taxing national banks, saying changes proposed by Congress would weaken such banks.

National banks as agencies of the Federal Government may be taxed by states the same as other property, and some states have sought a chance whereby a special class tax on national banks would be established. The resolution set forth that such a levy would tax national banks out of existence.

The Federal Reserve Board was urged in another resolution to cooperate with the authorities of the New York Stock Exchange to promote such changes as may relieve the national credit situation. While it was stated that credit in the United States is fundamentally sound, it was pointed out that hand-to-mouth buying, reduced inventories, increased production, higher earnings, smaller capital requirements and installment buying had tended to bring about a fundamental change.

John G. Lonsdale of St. Louis, in his address accepting the presidency of the association, pledged aid to the Federal Farm Board in its effort to solve the agricultural problem.

Discussing international finance briefly, Mr. Lonsdale said:

"Appointment of two American bankers to help institute the International Bank brings the American Bankers Association face to face with the necessity for an active committee on international finance. This is America's manifest duty. We must create a cabinet to work out world banking and problems pertinent thereto, possibly the greatest work ever done by the American Bankers Association."

John W. Barkon, newly elected president of the National Bank Commission, announced the appointment of a special committee on national bank research with George H. Hamilton, Wichita, Kan., chairman, and including Edmund S. Wolfe, Bridgeport, Conn.

PRISON TERMS FOR KIDNAPERS

Detroit, Oct. 7.—Sentences of from 30 to 50 years each in a state penitentiary were given Frank Hohfer and Edward Wilds Monday after a recorder's court jury had pronounced them guilty of the kidnaping of Matthew Holdreith, Jr., 24, Sept. 20.

Wilds and Hohfer were captured by police after a gun battle when the officers sought to arrest them for driving a stolen taxicab.

They had almost $4,000 in their possession, the remainder of the ransom of $5,000 they had earlier received from Matthew Holdreith, Sr., father of the missing youth.

The next day young Holdreith was found in an apartment chained to a bed. He had been held there six days without food or water, he told officers.

Hoover Sets Fire Prevention Week October 6 to 12

Secretary Hyde Issues Statement—Makes Special Plea to Farmers

The week of October 6-12 has been designated by President Hoover as Fire Prevention Week. The annual observance of this week, says Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde, undoubtedly has contributed materially to the cause of human safety and well-being.

Following the President's announcement on fire losses in general, Secretary Hyde called attention to farm fire losses in the following statement:

"Every farmer has as much reason as the city dweller as any other owner of property to interest himself in these special annual campaigns against fire."

"The loss on farms and in rural communities due to fires has been estimated to have been as high as 3,500 lives and $150,000,000 worth of property in a single year. The rural population of our Nation should give serious and constructive thought efforts to eliminate needless fire losses."

"Lighting, defective chimneys and 'flea' sparks on combustible roofs, matches, smoking, spontaneous ignition and agricultural products, careless use and storage of gasoline and kerosene faulty wiring and improper use of electric appliances, continue to be the principal known causes of fires on farms."

"The individual has it in his power to combat these hazards and I urge that he do his utmost to safeguard his family and property against the fire menace. Periodic clean-up and inspection of premises will remove any serious fire hazards."

"The U. S. Department of Agriculture has a special committee on farm fire protection, which is actively co-operating with interested national organizations in an effort to reduce the losses from fires on farms and in rural communities."

"Rural volunteer fire departments, equipped with modern motorized apparatus, are receiving merited and widespread attention, and represent investments which pay dividends in fire protection, especially where good roads have been provided."

"The rural fire prevention and control movement calls for concerted and continuous effort by all concerned with the common end in view of conserving national resources, both in lives and materials."

ASK COURT TO RECONSIDER

Washington—New York, California, the American Bankers Association and the Massachusetts National Bank association Monday asked the supreme court to reconsider its decision last term holding invalid an excise tax imposed by Massachusetts on corporations. Oregon and Washington had already joined Massachusetts in urging that the case be reopened.

New York, California, Oregon, and Washington have laws similar to that of Massachusetts which was declared unconstitutional. These laws imposed taxes on corporations and banks measured by their income. The highest tribunal declared such taxes invalid, in effect, a tax on income from tax-exempt securities.

The briefs submitted Monday contended states have the right to tax net incomes derived from all sources, and that such laws equalize the tax burden between banks and corporations. The inclusion of income from tax-exempt securities as a part of the measure of the tax being only incidental to carrying out that object, and not in violation of the well established principle that states cannot tax the bonds or income derived from tax-exempt securities.

IOWA BANDITS ELUDE POSSE

Sioux City, Ia., Oct. 7.—Two bandits who Monday held up employees of the Farmers' bank at Salix, Ia., and escaped with about $700 in cash, were still at liberty Monday night.

The bandits, traveling in a car driven by a third person, were trailed by W. F. Pinney, Sergeant Bluff vigilante, to South Ravine park in Sioux City, where he found their abandoned automobile. Authorities expressed the belief that another car awaited the arrival of the men in the park and that possibly a fourth man was involved.

The robbery took place about 10:45 a. m. Unmasked but heavily armed, the men entered the bank and ordered A. J. Granger, cashier, and his son, Maurice Granger, assistant cashier, to lie face downward on the floor. After scooping up all the cash in sight they forced the bank officials into the vault and closed the door.

After checking the license plates of the abandoned car, Sheriff Davenport said the automobile had been reported stolen in Omaha Saturday night.

Granger said that in their haste the bandits overlooked several hundred dollars in cash in one of the tills.

GUARDS $8 WITH GUN; FINED $100 FOR PAINS

Chicago, Oct. 8.—Frank Foote, 29, brought a rusty and antiquated revolver with him from Fond du Lac, Wis., to guard his $8 cash. He walked into the arms of North Western railroad police and was relieved of the $8 and allowed time in the Bridewell to work out a fine of $100 and costs for carrying concealed weapons.

To Our Friends

After Saturday, Oct. 12th, we are discontinuing our lower store, merging our stock with the Black and White Grocery.

Those of our customers who have even traded at Black and White once in a while are familiar with the money-saving price policy maintained by this well-known Cash and Carry store, which we have operated in our upper Main street building during the past two years.

Those of you who have never bought at Black and White—all we ask is a trial. The merger of these stocks means but one thing our concentrated effort to serve you better and more economically—cutting all unnecessary expense and adhering strictly to a cash and carry plan, thus being fair to every one. We will continue as in the past, to give you only well-known nationally advertised quality products, at a price that defies city chain store competition. We ask that you read our Black and White ads regularly and come to our merged store to trade just as regularly as you have patronized us at the lower store location in years past.

We wish to thank you for your patronage and confidence, and particularly invite you to make our Black and White store your daily source of supply for Foodstuffs.

Railroad Pays Two Thousand for Death of Grigor

Burlington Settles $50,000 Suit in Which Jake Bird Was Witness; Contended Boy Beaten.

The 50 thousand dollar damage suit filed against the Burlington railroad because of death of Gordon D. Grigor, 17-year-old son of a Cleveland banker, as result of an injury in the yards at Ashland, Neb., July 12, 1928, has been settled out of court for two thousand dollars.

Verne W. Vance, administrator of the boy's estate in Omaha, Monday filed in county court an order permitting him to disposed of the claim against the railroad for this amount and said that the lawsuit would be dismissed.

Chief witness of the Grigor estate in the suit was Jake Bird, the Negro who is serving sentence in Iowa as Omaha's "ax-man" attacker of Mr. and Mrs. G. Harold Stribling last fall.

The suit was based on Bird's testimony and young Grigor's alleged dying statement that Conrad Barth, special agent for the railroad, had beaten him and that he had fallen under the train in trying to escape Barth.

The railroad exonerated Barth in a private hearing and charges of manslaughter filed in Saunders county were quashed.

FALL IS FATAL TO IOWA JUDGE

Des Moines, Oct. 7.—Judge Herman F. Zeuch of the Polk county district court was killed here late Monday when he fell through a panel of a glass canopy over the entrance to the Register and Tribune building.

Judge Zeuch and Governor John Hammill, former Judge Utterback and Judge Zeuch had stepped from the window ledge to the canopy.

The central portion of the canopy where the reviewing stand was located is of much stronger structure, the glass panel portions flanked either side.

Judge Zeuch was appointed to the municipal bench in 1925 by Governor Hammill. The next year he became a candidate for the district bench and was elected. He was about 40 years old.

Other occupants of the canopy deserted the reviewing stand after the accident.
