WAGONER TO SERVE 10 YEARS
New York, Oct. 28.—Charles Delos Waggoner, Telluride, Colo., banker, who pleaded guilty to mail fraud in connection with the scheme by which he mulcted six New York banks of $500,000, was sentenced Monday to 10 years in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta after his counsel had asked a reconsideration of the 15-year sentence first imposed.

The new sentence was imposed by Federal Judge Frank J. Coleman, who imposed the original prison term on the small town banker. A motion to withdraw the guilty plea, which had come as a surprise when Waggoner was arraigned here Oct. 18, but he took under consideration at that time the plea of Waggoner's counsel that the 15-year sentence was excessive, especially in view of much lighter sentences received by the Clarke brothers and other financial malefactors.

In commenting on the motion at that time, Judge Coleman said he had not intended that Waggoner serve more than five years and had written to the parole board suggesting that when at the end of five years of his term he became eligible for parole that it be granted him.

Robert Norton, the senator's secretary, said, "It is only a matter of hours until he passes away. There is no hope left for his recovery."

He added that specialists had been called into consultation with the senator's personal physician.

Auto Licensing Revenue Drops

Revised Scale Adopted By Last Legislature Cuts Receipts Less—Registrations Larger

A material falling off in motor vehicle license revenues under the revised scale as fixed by the last legislature, which went into effect last July 25, is revealed in the records of the state registration bureau for the time elapsed since then. The decrease will be more in evidence after January 1, when licenses are to be paid for the year 1930.

In the period that has elapsed since the reduced rate schedule came into force, the total income from that source has declined $42,242, or 10.7 per cent, in comparison with a year ago; and this notwithstanding that the number of registrations increased by 15,258, or 22.3 per cent, above last year's figures.

All collections made thus far in the calendar year of 1929 are well ahead of the like period in 1928, but this is due to the fact that the great bulk of automobile and truck licenses were renewed in the early part of the year at the same rates as in the preceding annum. Thus the effect of the lowered fees has been felt up to the present time in only a minor degree.

This number of licenses of all kinds issued up to date for the current year is 464,874 as against 459,832 in the same portion of 1928. Revenue collected upon them was $4,094,401 this year, compared with $3,862,765 last year, in the corresponding period.

Third Quarter Tells the Tale.
It is in the separation of the account for the third quarter of 1929—the months of July, August, and September—from the balance of this year that a big difference was seen. When a normal growth of 22.3 per cent in registrations is set off against a 19.7 per cent drop in total fees, the net shrinkage of income is found to be roughly 33 per cent.

It may be assumed that enough more money will come in during the rest of the year to boost the aggregate to $4,200,000. But when motor vehicle owners pay their 1930 fees to county treasurers, they will contribute a great deal less than before. Even after allowing for the usual increase per year in number of registrations it is altogether likely that the year of 1930 will fall a million dollars below those for the present year.

Should this expectation be realized the state will be deprived of $30,000 for maintenance of its highways, while the various counties will lose $700,000, taken altogether. The law allows 30 per cent of such fees to the state and 70 per cent to the counties.

Changes in Fee Scale.
Prior to last July, license fees on passenger cars were based on a minimum of $8, plus 50 cents for every additional 100 pounds of net weight, including chassis, body, cab and load did not exceed 3,000 pounds; $15 for all weighing 3,000 to 4,000 pounds; and 50 cents for each 100 pounds above 4,000. Farm trucks with a load capacity up to 4,000 pounds were given the benefit of the $8 rate.

Now the weight of the truck itself is not figured in, and commercial trucks carrying up to 2,000 pounds load weight get in for $8, while all others up to 3,000 pounds are listed at $12, with a graduated scale above that which is lower than the one formerly in effect for farm trucks, regardless of weight, remain in the favored $8 class.

BURTON SINKS IN DEATH FIGHT
Washington, Oct. 27.—Friends of Senator Theodore E. Burton of Ohio gave up hope of his recovery Sunday night following a sinking spell late in the afternoon from which he only partially recovered.

The senator lapsed into unconsciousness and remained at the point of death for about two hours when he began to rally. He remained unconscious.

Robert Norton, the senator's secretary, said, "It is only a matter of hours until he passes away. There is no hope left for his recovery."

He added that specialists had been called into consultation with the senator's personal physician.

Every Night Had to Take Laxative

"I was a farmer for sixty-four years and there were mighty few mornings during that time that I didn't see the sun rise. But when I retired five years ago to take things easy, my health began to fail. "I blame all my troubles on constipation, brought on by lack of my usual outdoor exercise. I had to take laxatives almost every night. Then my stomach got all out of fix and nearly everything I ate disagreed with me. I was bilious, felt no account and just had to force myself to keep going."

"Four bottles of Sargon put my stomach in fine shape and the Pills got rid of my constipation and biliousness entirely. I'm through taking laxatives now, but stay regulated just as good as when I was working twelve hours a day on the farm. I've got a big appetite, everything agrees with me, and I'm so much stronger and better in every way, I feel like a new man."—John M. Duncan, 2109 S. 46th St., Omaha.

RUSSIAN FLIERS ARE FETED
Chicago—The four Russian fliers circling the world in their dual-motor plane, Land of the Soviets, made final preparations Sunday to take off Monday for Dearborn, Mich., where they will be feted by Henry and Edsel Ford. Five hundred gallons of gasoline, one-third of the capacity of the plane's fuel tanks, were put on board in the afternoon and the four soviet aviators intend to leave Curtiss field between 6 and 7 o'clock in the morning.

They concluded a week-end of festivities in Chicago, featured by a mass meeting of more than 10,000 members of the friends of the soviet union Sunday afternoon. There is a possibility, according to L. G. Gershevich, of the aviation department of the Antorg Trading corporation of New York who has acted as spokesman for the fliers since they left Seattle, that the four—S. A. Shetakov, Philip Bolotov, Boris Sterligov and Dmitry Fufaev—may ship their plane to Moscow from New York and make the ocean crossing by steamer.

"It is as yet undecided whether the men will attempt the trans-Atlantic flight," Gershevich said Sunday.

READY TO AID UNIVERSITY
Grand Island, Oct. 26.—Members of the Loup Valley Editorial association at a meeting here Friday expressed willingness to give the University of Nebraska a boost, but at the same time entered a protest against publicity used by the schools to obtain publicity.

At present the university's publicity comes to editors from five different sources, it was pointed out, and the biggest share of it is tossed in the wastebasket. The association voted to request the board of directors of the state press association to confer with university officials in an effort to co-ordinate the publicity bureaus and turn out readable "copy."

Complimentary tickets to the state fair, university football games and the like were discussed and the sentiment was expressed that publishers of Nebraska would improve their standing if they refused all such tickets.
