Truck License Action Viewed as Necessary

Making Nebraska Truckers Buy Missouri Plates to Be Expected, Says Governor Weaver.

Nebraska officials were not particularly alarmed Friday over a report from Jefferson City, Mo., that all truck owners from this state operating there would be compelled to buy Missouri licenses nor were they apparently surprised at the edict. In fact, they said, the truck reciprocity problem between states has assumed more than a Missouri complex for Iowa truck operators and owners were recently informed of the same determination upon the part of Nebraska officials.

Governor Weaver, as head of the department of public works, tho not officially advised of the Missouri ultimatum, expressed the belief there was no other way out of the situation. "The new law," he said, "is very clear and concise and there appears to be no loop hole for any reciprocity."

He said he expected to investigate all angles of the situation, however, with Roy Cochran, secretary of the department, and Attorney General Sorenson. Cochran, author of a Nebraska ultimatum which stirred Secretary of State Becker of Missouri to action, was not in Lincoln to discuss the situation, tho he is known to have assigned road patrolmen to the task of confronting the truck situation.

Iowa became embroiled in the truck controversy just recently. Governor Weaver pointed out, authorities bringing the situation to a head when southern Iowa cattle truckers were halted at the Nebraska City bridge. The law, revised by the 1929 legislature, compels the licensing of all foreign trucks for commercial purposes in Nebraska, and also one clause exempts buses in interstate traffic, another paragraph includes them under the license order.

Enforcement of the new law, Sorenson said Friday, is entirely up to Governor Weaver as head of the public works department. "There is apparently nothing to be done. The law is very plain and precise and the action on the part of Missouri officials is easily expected." In each instance where the law has been called into action, he said, the case at hand involved the use of commercial trucks or buses.

NOT DICTATOR, WOODS STATES

Lincoln, Nov. 15.—George W. Woods, state banking commissioner, accused by County Attorney Kelliger of Auburn, of being a "dictator" in handling affairs of the closed Julian bank, Friday sent a verbal volley back at the county official.

"Why, I had scarcely heard of this fellow until he barked out through the newspapers. His assertion is scurrilous and unfounded," Woods retorted. In a dispatch from Auburn Kelliger was quoted as accusing Woods of forcing the dismissal of Deputy Sheriff Peterson following a tangle in which the latter served a writ of replevin in a transaction between the bank and a group of farmers who wanted to recover sight drafts in the hands of the bank when it closed.

Commissioner Woods, Kelliger held, directed the deputy to refrain from levying on the drafts but that he did so anyway and was later released from duty. In defense of the state department today, Attorney Skiles of the legal department, declared the commissioner had the law behind him in ordering officers to refrain from serving the writ.

Property in the hands of a department examiner in charge of a closed bank, he said, was immune from any legal processes, according to a strict interpretation of the law. Inferences that he was instrumental in the dismissal of the officer were discounted entirely by Mr. Woods who declared he had nothing to do with his discharge in any way.

FOOTBALL GATE SETS RECORD

Lincoln, Nov. 11.—Nebraska's share of the "gate" at the Missouri football game last month will be $21,576. This will be the largest check ever received by the Cornhusker business management for a game played at the rival Big Six institution. The previous record was $16,438 for the Oklahoma game last fall. In 1927 the return from Columbia was but $6,554, while Missouri's share last year at Lincoln was $33,714.

The official attendance count at the Nebraska-Missouri freshman game Saturday was 4,026. On the same day in Manhattan, the Kansas Aggies and Iowa State teams played before only 3,000 spectators.

Woman's Club Aids in Children's Book Week

More Books in the Home Is the Urge of This Movement—Urge Support of Local Library

From Saturday's Daily— This week was originally called Children's Book week—but was changed by the National Library Association to Book Week, and is observed in all our public libraries to a greater or less extent. The National slogan is "More Books in the Home." And the hope of the library workers is that there may be more books in our homes, and more Book Week but all through the year. That parents may have an interest in and a knowledge of what their children are reading, and that they may give a helpful co-operation. These are some of the things the observance of Book Week will help to bring about. Our Library is fourth in size in the state, but is near the first in circulation and the work is heavier now than it has ever been. Often more than 200 books a day are given out for home use. In addition to this there is a very large amount of reference work and supplementary reading for our schools. The public schools of Plattsmouth have no reference library, depending entirely on the public library for the necessary reference work and supplementary reading, which is absolutely indispensable if the pupils do the required work of the schools of today. The history classes often have 20 to 25 books out at one time, for the necessary reference work. English Literature requires almost as many and all departments must have many books not furnished in the schools. Our library has far less money to use for the necessary supplies than any library of our class in the state. Therefore, we are asking each person who can do so, to give magazines in good condition, a good book, or its equivalent, to the library, this Book Week. Thus helping this busy place to be even more efficient than it is now.—Library Committee of the Woman's Club.

ARE REAL ARTISTS

The posters which have been prepared for the junior class play, "Little Women" are placed in various business houses of the city, have attracted more or less attention by their beauty and originality and the school feels very proud of the posters which represent the work of the young ladies of the local high school—Misses Patricia, Rose and Ruth Ferris. These young ladies have a wonderful natural talent for art work and their friends who have had the opportunity of viewing their productions realize the fact that the work is watercolors and oils is of a very high standard.

While in the grade schools at Wattertown, South Dakota, the young ladies became interested in art work and when a national contest was staged by Louis E. Meyer of Valparaiso, Indiana, the young ladies decided to enter the contest and were supplied with the material by the Hy-San Paint Co., of the Indiana city and their completed work was sent into the national contest. The fact that the contest prizes from all parts of the United States, Miss Rose received the second prize, Miss Patricia the third, and Miss Ruth the fifth.

The ladies have received many commendations for their work from the many people who have seen their efforts and they have been able to supply many orders for their painting and sketches which show both artistic ability and originality.

ACCIDENTS IN NEBRASKA

The accident statistics for Nebraska compiled by the Nebraska Press association for the two week period ending November 5, 1929, shows that in the state there were 242 accidents with 34 deaths and 245 injured. In the list of accidents the motor vehicle accidents top the list with 156 in which there were 13 deaths and 178 injured. In agricultural employment there were 19 accidents with two deaths and 17 injured.

Of the 245 injured persons, 21 were permanently disabled. Gunshot injuries and fatalities went over the top for a high record during this two-week period with 6 serious injuries, 1 disability and 8 deaths. Football, too, is going strong with 8 serious injuries in which 2 or 3 are probably disabilities.

Of the 25 pedestrians run down by car during the past two weeks, 19 were school children—4 times as many children as adults. Yet, in Nebraska, we have 3 times as many adults as children. This indicates that the chances for school children being struck by autos are 12 times as great as for adults. What do these facts indicate with regard to present programs of safety education in our schools?

CALLED ON SAD MISSION

From Saturday's Daily— R. H. Patton departed last evening for Chicago where he was called by the death of Mrs. William C. Walker, wife of Dr. Walker, a brother of Mrs. Patton. This funeral of Mrs. Walker will be held today at Chicago. Mr. Patton after a short stay with the relatives at Chicago will go on to Baconton, Georgia, near where he has a large pecan farm and will also spend some time at Albany, one of the larger towns in that section of Georgia.

A HOT DANCE

The entertainment committee of the Elks have secured Simen Herald and his band of eight ebony knights of melody for the dinner dance here on next Thursday November 22nd, at the Legion building. This dance is what may be well termed, "hot and sweet," in the rendition of the latest of dance melodies. Mr. Herald at the piano is a mean ivory tickler while the drummer and traps operator of the orchestra is one of the best in the state. This orchestra has played here at the American Legion dances and is a real up to the minute dance orchestra and was selected out of many for the Elks "blowout."

Changes May be Made in 'Q' Schedule

Number of Adjustments in the Train Service Seem Probable for New Time Card

From Saturday's Daily— The Burlington railroad is to issue a new time card on its passenger service by the first of December and in which a number of important changes are reported as contemplated on the lines that operate in this section of the west.

One of the changes that will be made according to the dope will be the routing of train No. 12 which now leaves Omaha and goes via the Council Bluffs line and which will leave Omaha for the east at 8 or 8:15 p. m. and will be sent via the Plattsmouth line to Pacific Junction instead of crossing at the Bluffs.

The fast express that comes from the east at 10:15 a. m. and returns in the evening will under the proposed plan be made a through passenger train in addition to the express and make a "hot shot" between Chicago and Omaha. Heretofore the train has not carried passengers but the plans that are rumored will make this a passenger carrying train and prove a real train for those who are anxious for a fast through train.

Other minor changes will be made in the schedule that will balance the service and provide the connections on the through trains at the more important points along the line.

SEEKS A DIVORCE

From Thursday's Daily— Action was filed in the office of the clerk of the district court today by Mrs. Nellie V. Estelle in which she seeks a decree of divorce from Jack Estelle, a former restaurant keeper of this city. The petition states that the parties were married on July 28, 1927, and that on August 1, 1928, the defendant deserted the plaintiff and their infant child. The petition alleges that the defendant is a cook by profession and capable of earning $150 a month and requests that the court grant the plaintiff suitable alimony.

BIRTH OF LITTLE DAUGHTER

From Saturday's Daily— Yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Harold Willis of this city had the pleasure of a visit from the stork that left in their care a charming little five and a half pound daughter. The little one was born at the home of the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dasher, where the Willis family is residing. All are doing nicely. Mrs. Willis was formerly Miss Naomi Dasher.

Holy Rosary Church Receives Very Fine Gift

Statue of St. Wenceslaus, King and Martyr of Czechs Placed in the Local Church.

The Holy Rosary church in the west part of the city was the recipient in the last few days of a beautiful work of art—especially made for this church in Moravia. The art work comprises a wooden carved statue of St. Wenceslaus, patron saint of the Czechs.

The statue has been placed on the altar of the church which was previously embellished with decorated electric lights. All of these have been the donation of one of the members of the Holy Rosary church. St. Wenceslaus, the patron saint of Czechoslovakia, is one of those figures of the Middle Ages with a hold upon the people of Czechoslovakia that Charlemagne has upon the hearts of Frenchmen.

This year is the thousandth anniversary of his death, and it is being celebrated in a manner befitting the national hero of a people. The anniversary began on May 15. The anniversary program commenced with the opening of an exhibition of St. Wenceslaus Worship. In this are shown all existing personal possessions of the saint—his jeweled sword, his banner with the black eagle that was the national symbol of his day, his armor and helmet, his bronze shirt of self-discipline, his hair-cloth garment of chastity. There are also many paintings of him that have been done during the centuries, besides a diamond crown that Charles IV made to place upon the fleshless skull of the four-centuries-dead saint. During the month of August the anniversary took the form of special Masses in the City of Prague and in the hundreds of St. Wenceslaus churches scattered all over the country.

The height of the celebration took place during September 26 to 30. There was a grand illumination of the city of Prague and a nightly display of fireworks. On September 26 there was a solemn oratorio, in the ancient but just completed St. Vitus Cathedral of Prague. This was followed the next day with a governmental religious celebration in front of the monument of St. Wenceslaus in the St. Wenceslaus Square in Prague. The president and other officials took part. On September 28, the anniversary of the death of the saint, the Cathedral of St. Vitus was consecrated.

From Saturday's Daily— The hearing of the divorce action of Christine Hill against George M. Hill which was on trial in the district court practically all day Friday had hardly gained a good start into the taking of evidence when it was continued last evening until next Tuesday, Judge Begley having fixed a date at Nebraska City, Mo. for his court and the opening of the term on Monday will be taken up with other matters so that the case must rest until the Tuesday session.

The evidence as taken so far in the case was that of the plaintiff, Mrs. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Melnick, son-in-law and daughter of the parties, and Miss Minnie Hill, another daughter. These witnesses testified as to the charges made against the defendant in which it was claimed the association of the defendant with other parties and drinking.

The witnesses were given a very grueling cross-examination by Attorney W. R. Patrick of the defense as they were handed over for the defendants questioning. The case attracted a great deal of attention and the court room was practically filled at the afternoon session of the court, there being a very large number of the ladies present to listen in on the testimony. With the rate made in the case Friday, it is very probable that it will require at least two more days for the completion of the case as there are a very large number of witnesses yet to be heard on both sides of the case.

WILL HEAD SERVICE GROUP

As the head of the community service in the Nebraska Federation of Women's clubs, Mrs. E. H. Wescott of this city has been named as chairman of the department of community service in the state. This department is to be featured on the federation program for the next two years during the administration of the newly elected president, Mrs. A. F. Nuquist of Osceola, Nebraska.

Mrs. Wescott has been a very active leader in the club work in recent years and has served as the department chairman of music in the past two years and aided very much in the growth of the musical portions of the club activities. The many friends here are pleased to see Mrs. Wescott selected for this position and it is needless to say that with her usual energy and interest she will make a most efficient worker in the new department. As president of the local club Mrs. Wescott has been much interested in community programs of various kinds.

Veteran Engineer at Nebraska City is Stricken

B. P. Butt, Veteran Railroader and One Time Engineer on Steamboat at This Place

The news of the serious condition of B. P. Butt, veteran Burlington railroad engineer at Nebraska City, Mo. of much interest here, as this old timer handler of the throttle was a resident here some fifty years ago. Mr. Butt has been for a number of years engaged in the "rum" from Nebraska City to Hamburg, and Wednesday he started out with his train and had made the trip and was returning home when a sudden attack of acute indigestion was suffered. Mr. Butt was stricken just before the train reached Payne for the bridge run and he sank unconscious with his hand on the throttle and at first it was thought that he had died. J. P. Skellett, fireman of the locomotive ran the train into Nebraska City where the stricken man was removed and taken home in an ambulance and at the reports late Wednesday was slowly recovering from the attack.

The Butt family came to Plattsmouth in 1871 from Burlington, Iowa, the husband and father, Oliver Butt, being one of the early day captains on the Mississippi river and he came to Plattsmouth to take charge of the transfer boat, "The Vice-President" and continued in that line of work until in 1881 when the completion of the Burlington bridge at this place did away with the necessity for the use of the boats. Later these boats were taken to Nebraska City and the Butt family removed to that place to make their home and where they have since resided. When living here B. P. Butt was but a boy of some thirteen or fourteen years of age. Mr. Butt after locating at Nebraska City served as fireman for his father on the "Vice-President" until that boat was placed out of commission and he then took up the work of railroad engineer.

PUBLIC SPEAKING CLUB

From Saturday's Daily— Last evening the some twenty-five members of the public speaking club which is conducted by the American Educational Service, met at the district court room for the purpose of getting started on their work in public speaking. On this occasion there was present E. H. Potter, vice-president and field manager of the organization, of Ithica, New York. Mr. Potter was accompanied here by some twenty-five members of the association at Lincoln and who enjoyed the opportunity of meeting with the Plattsmouth members.

GEORGE STOHLMAN HONORED

Mrs. Louise Stohlman, who visited in Omaha recently with her children and their families, had the pleasure of hearing her son, George Stohlman, direct a choir that sang at the Brandeis theatre one afternoon that was made up of singers from every Lutheran church in Omaha, the best voices of each church being selected. Mr. Stohlman is a fine musician and is meeting with the best of success in his church work along musical lines and his friends are very proud of him and are wishing him continued honors and success.—Louisville Courier.
