Morse of Union representing the Standard Oil company and an Independent Oil company representative from Nebraska City, all being here at the same time.

The musical capabilities of the young people of Nehawka is being looked after well, for a band and an orchestra have both been organized, and are operating in good shape, for they are both practicing and developing much skill and showing aptitude for music, and we are sure they will make good progress in their studies in this line.

Mrs. John Hanson was taken with the measles and as this malady goes very severe with grown persons, she was seriously ill with it, and following was so sick, that it was deemed advisable to have her taken to the Clarkson hospital at Omaha where she is being treated. Her many friends are hoping for a speedy and permanent recovery of this excellent woman.

Stewart Rough, and Fred Dow were looking after the mixing of concrete at the Farmers Elevator on the early portion of this week, which they were running into the lower portion of the elevator to rebuild some walls, and which was being done by the masons who were out of sight.

Historic Building Burned.
Monday afternoon, at about 3:30, fire broke out in the attic of the Isaac Pollard home which was built in 1858, 71 years ago. This place is now owned by Roymond C. Pollard and was occupied for the past four years by Melvin Sturm who farmed most of the Pollard farm. The origin of the fire remains a mystery, and was when discovered under considerable heatway. Most of the furniture was saved, with the exception of two beds and furnishings which were in the attic and a few closets and some money of a man who was picking corn for Mr. Sturm. Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Pollard and the good wife came to Nehawka and settled at Nehawka here at that time. There was one house, which was built by Mr. S. M. Kirkpatrick, and which was built in 1856. He was father of the late F. A. Kirkpatrick, this house was consumed by fire some nine years ago, and was that time the property of Nelson Berger. Another house was the Lawson Sheldon home, where the Sheldon family all were born and grew up, and is now owned by A. F. Sturm and is near the home of Frank P. Sheldon. This house was built in the year 1857. In 1858, the Pollard home was built, they having lived in a log house for two years. In this historic home, was the children of Mr. Pollard born. The oldest of the children being Mrs. Hattie Willis of Long Beach, California, another sister, now Mrs. Shotwell, who resides at Seattle, Ernest M. Pollard of Lincoln, Mrs. Ella Hilbon of Long Beach, two having died, they being Herbert and Mary, and the youngest being R. C. Pollard of Nehawka who owns the place and lives just over the way from this historic home. Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Pollard, who served their country well and assisted in bringing this county and state from its raw nature into the very finely cultivated territory which it is at this time. With the burning of this house which was built over three score and ten years ago, there is removed two of the three of the oldest buildings which have distinguished this portion of the state from many others with its early day improvements. There are a number of other old buildings, but not dating back to the time when these were constructed. The brick were made near Nehawka which were used in the manufacture of the home, and the lumber was sawn from walnut logs which grew along the Weeping Water creek, near where the building stands. The entire wooden portion was built of black walnut, even to the doors, the floors, the inner casings and the dimention as well.

NEHAWKA HOME BURNED
The home of Raymond Pollard at Nehawka, was considerably damaged on Monday evening when fire swept the building and caused the gutting of the interior of the house.

The blaze broke out early in the evening and the small fire fighting apparatus available while holding the fire in some check, the building burned for several hours before it was finally subdued.

Mr. Pollard has lived in this family home which is one of the oldest residences in Nehawka, for his lifetime.

The inside of the house was gutted but the brick exterior of the building was not so severely damaged.

Committee to Assist in Welcome to Santa Claus

Local Business Men Will Look After the Arrangements for the Gifts for Youngsters

The Chamber of Commerce is going ahead with their plans for the visit of Santa Claus here on Saturday, December 14th and will have their plans all made when the response of Santa is received to the invitation to come to this city to pay a visit to the youngsters.

The committee appointed to look after the arrangements for the remembrances that will be given out by Santa on his visit here through the presentation of cards that are redeemed by local business houses.

Some of the professional men with suitable gifts, will get busy in the next few days in the soliciting of the business houses.

The committee selected will consist of W. L. Gabriel, Carl Ofe, A. G. Burt and Harry Kruger and who will make canvasses of the business and professional men of the city to see just what can be lined up in this part of the program.

Court Ruling on Tax of Cattle Makes Much Work

County Officials Over the State Will Have to Revise Much of Personal Tax Schedule

The decision of the Nebraska supreme court a few days ago in which that held that the rules of the tax board that prescribed an increase in the taxing of cattle in the state was invalid, will mean a great deal of additional work to the county clerks and assessors over the state in the revising of the personal tax schedules of the state.

The tax lists have been prepared and turned over to the county treasurers over the state and a large number have already paid their personal taxes for the year at the ten per cent advance in cattle and which will now make it necessary to make refund of the taxes on the cattle which was under the 1929 law.

TIME IS DRAWING SHORT
The date of the presentation of the Handel oratoria, "The Messiah" at the Omaha auditorium, will be on December 16th and the date is now fast approaching for this event which will be one of the outstanding musical offerings of the season in this part of the west. The oratoria is of especial interest aside from the wonderful beauty of the offering, in the fact that a large number of the residents of this city will take part in it.

The outstate cities that have persons taking part have given the preference in the seat reservations and L. O. Minor is the Plattsmouth representative who is to handle the reservations. Those who are planning on attending the event should get busy at once while there are still excellent seats to be secured, as the auditorium will be taxed to its capacity in to accommodate the crowds that will wish to hear the offering.

ASKS FOR DIVORCE
From Tuesday's Daily—
This morning an action was filed in the office of the clerk of the district court entitled Erna V. McCrary vs. Patrick A. McCrary, in which the plaintiff asks that she be granted a decree of divorce from the defendant and an allowance for the care of a minor child. The petition recites that the parties were married at Emporia, Kansas, on May 7, 1928.

A restraining order is also asked against the defendant to prevent him from trespassing at the family home and also from any act of violence toward the plaintiff. The hearing on the order has been set for November 29th and pending which time a temporary order has been issued.

MRS. BURROWS HOME
From Tuesday's Daily—
Mrs. Lester Burrows, who has for the past two weeks been at the Wis. Memorial hospital at Omaha recovering from an illness of some duration from throat trouble that necessitated an operation, has so far recovered that she was able to be brought home yesterday and is now recuperating here at the family home in the north part of the city.

Mrs. Burrows has gained in strength in the last few days and it is thought is now on the highway to permanent recovery. This will be most pleasing to the many friends in this community who have been quite anxious in the past few weeks as to the condition of this estimable lady.

CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY
From Tuesday's Daily—
Just about the time that the world was rejoicing over the signing of the Armistice eleven years ago, a large and jolly gentleman was taken into the service of the then Adams Express Co., in this city and yesterday he was celebrating his eleventh anniversary in this line of work.

This gentleman was Lester Burrows, whose faithful service in the work of delivering the express is only surpassed by that of "Dick" the horse that has for many years hauled the express wagon over the city streets. Mr. Burrows has been an efficient and faithful worker for the express company.
