High School Orchestra in a Fine Concert

Musical Offering Enjoyed by a Very Large Number at School Auditorium Last Night

From Friday's Daily—Last evening the high school orchestra under the direction of B. E. Woodward, gave a most delightful concert at the high school that was enjoyed by an audience that filled the auditorium and evinced their delight at the offerings by the very generous greeting given the young people.

The orchestra part opened with "The Toy Maker's Dream" by Golden and in which the various instruments of the orchestra was heard most effectively.

The Minuet from the E Flat Major Symphony of Mozart, was presented by a group of violins comprising Lucille Albert, Marie Valley, Vivian Lightbody and Madge Garnett, in a very fine manner.

The popular selection from "Mile Modiste" by Victor Herbert, "Kiss Me Again," was presented by the ensemble of the orchestra and who gave a very fine rendition to this always pleasurable number.

The cornet quintet composed of Marvin Tritsch, James Comstock, William Henriksen, Francis Libershal and Robert Mann, presented the sparkling number, taken from "Marianita" by Wallace, "Seems That Are the Brightest," the selection reflecting the greatest credit on the young men comprising the quintet.

The saxophone section of the orchestra comprising Edward Egenberger, Robert Hall, Herbert Minor, Arthur Kopp, Donald Cotner and Aulton Rolland, presented the swinging strains of "The Soldiers Chorus" from Faust, the young men giving a very fine presentation of this number.

One of the delightful features of the concert was the baritone solo offered by Stuart Porter, one of the talented young musicians of the orchestra, who gave the beautiful selection, "One Fleeting Hour" by Lee.

The ensemble of the orchestra gave three numbers, "Bowl of Panis," "Norwegian Dances" by Grieg as well as the finale, the intermezzo from "L'Arlesienne" by Bizet.

During the concert two of the talented little ladies of the city were presented in special numbers, Janet Westover being heard in a very clever reading while Dorothy Jean Turner was presented in a charming little vocal selection, Mrs. J. A. Capwell serving as the accompanist of the two young artists.

The fine work of the clarinet section of the orchestra was shown by James Robertson and Lawrence Rhodes in "Evening Star" from Wagner's "Tannhauser," the young men giving a fine rendition of this beautiful number.

Two of the young violinists of the orchestra, Wallace Terryberry and Billy Evers were heard in that entrancing old Irish melody, "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms" and the work of these two artists was of a finished nature.

The personnel of the orchestra that offered the concert is composed of the following: Violins—Don Rainey, George Adam, Lucille Albert, Marie Valley, Madge Garnet, Alice Hiatt, Vivian Lightbody, Rose Woster, Wallace Terryberry, Billy Evers, Calvin Swick.

Cornets—Marvin Tritsch, James Comstock, William Henriksen, Francis Libershal, Robert Mann.

Piano—Marjorie Arm.

DEATH OF FORMER RESIDENT

Friends of the Phillip Baiser family in this city have received word of the death of Mr. Baiser on November 15th at Edgar, Nebraska, where he has made his home for the past several years at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Lester Dalton and family. Mr. Baiser has been in failing health for several years as the result of an attack of stomach trouble and gradually grew worse until his death. He was seventy-eight years of age at the time of his death. The funeral was held at Farnam, where Mrs. Baiser was buried several years ago.

Christmas is Evidenced in Local Stores

Displays of the Holiday Season Offerings Are Now on Display Throughout Stores

From Thursday's Daily—The coming of Christmas which is but twelve days away, is marked in the various stores of the city with the offerings of the holiday season and gives the shopper a real opportunity to select their gifts whether of the beautiful art gifts, practical remembrances, jewelry, and the more practical gifts for "her" or "him."

The offerings of the 1929 season in all lines is very beautiful and embraces almost anything that might be desired in any kind of a gift and with an array of offerings in the local stores that furnished a large assortment for the shopper to select from and find real satisfaction in their purchases in business houses that are standing back of their sales to the customers.

Not only are the stores displaying the special Christmas gift goods of all kinds but the groceries of the city are displaying all of the delicacies that go into the making of a real Christmas feast as a part of the day's observance of the greatest holiday that the christian world has.

The early shoppers are finding the lines large and complete in every way in making their selections early they avoid the rush and confusion of the last minute shopping and find satisfaction in making their selections at leisure so that when the Christmas time comes they can rest and feel that they have remembered their loved ones with gifts that are appropriate and well selected.

When selecting your Christmas gift or the daily needs of life the merchants of Plattsmouth are prepared to give you real satisfaction in every line that you might desire and at the very best prices that you can find anywhere in the world.

FINE CHURCH HISTORY

Father George Agius, pastor of the St. John's Roman Catholic church of this city has proved himself not only a strong and efficient preacher of the gospel but his work as a writer of religious documents and history and his publications rank high in the line of religious literature.

The "Union" of Carnegie, Pa., has the following review of his work that certainly gives the fullest appreciation of the work, "Tradition and the Church," the review being from the pen of a minister of one of the protestant churches of that section of Pennsylvania, Rev. S. H. Cunningham, D. D. of Carnegie.

"Tradition and the Church," by George Agius, D. D., J. C. D. Pub. by The Stratford Co., Boston, Mass. Pub. 1928. $3.50.

A book for Catholic and Protestant to read and enjoy. This book covers a wide field of facts in the history of the Church. It shows that much, in fact most, of the tradition in the Protestant Churches is inherited from the Roman Catholic Church. Then the author shows the source of the tradition in the Catholic Church in a most interesting way. We would like to see this book widely used. I am recommending this book to the ministers in the brotherhood of which I am a minister, and I would like to see all those interested in religion and the Church read the book. All will agree with the position taken by the author, but the historical content must be faced, and there is a basis for the remedy of many religious problems. The reviewer of this book promises you this, that you will learn many things from this volume that are worth while.

ROADS GROWING WORSE. From Thursday's Daily—The arrivals in this city from outside points and especially those who are living in the localities served by dirt roads, are reporting that conditions of the roads are gradually growing worse following four days of wet and disagreeable weather and in many cases it is difficult for teams and wagons to get through the mud let alone autos. The roads had been getting in fair shape following the long wet period several weeks ago. This latest visitation of the wet weather swept down on this section and now the roads are being made just that much worse as the result of the rain and continued damp weather.

To add to the general disagreeableness of the situation the torn up and unsettled road conditions help to make travel had in and out of this city and but little prospect of any great improvement until spring when the work can be opened up to allow the completion of the road and again restore good roads to this section. As the situation now stands the residents of the city and the nearby territory are traveling as little as possible.

HELD FOR TRIAL. From Thursday's Daily—At Omaha Wednesday before U. S. Commissioner Mary Mullen, was heard the complaint against George Stoll, Sr., of this city, who was charged by the district attorney with violation of the Mann act.

The government took the testimony of the woman who Stoll is alleged to have taken to St. Paul, Minnesota, last July and remained there two months. In this testimony it was added that the woman was the mother of seven children and that Stoll had induced her to leave home last July and go to St. Paul, she stating that she was tired of drugging the home she had left. The woman claimed that after the two months she had run away from Stoll and returned to her home. The witness alleged that Stoll had later tried to get her to go back to him and had beaten her on several occasions.

After the taking of the testimony in the case Miss Mullen held the defendant, Stoll, for trial and fixed the amount of the bond at $500.

Smetana-Dashner Wedding at Sedalia, Mo.

Ceremony That Unites Plattsmouth Young Lady and Well Known Young Man of Glenwood

The wedding of Miss Ann Smetana of this city and Mr. Frank Dashner of Glenwood, Iowa, occurred on Wednesday at Sedalia, Missouri, for which city the young people departed on Tuesday.

The marriage occurred at 6:30 in the evening at the parsonage of the First Methodist church of Sedalia, the marriage lines being read by the Rev. R. Emerson Hurd, pastor of the church.

The bride and groom were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smetana, the former a brother of the bride.

The bride wore a very attractive traveling dress of the dark brown georgette with hat, hose and slippers to match while the matron of honor, Mrs. Smetana was gowned in the dark blue georgette with picture hat to match.

The newly weds will spend a short time at Sedalia, before returning to Glenwood where they will make their future home, the groom having a very fine residence awaiting the coming of the bride.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alois Smetana and was born and reared to womanhood in this city and received her education in the local schools being a graduate of the class of 1925. Since leaving school she has been engaged in office work and has been with the Walling Abstract Co., up to a short time of the wedding. She is a lady loved and highly esteemed by a very large circle of friends and in the new home both Mr. and Mrs. Dashner will carry the well wishes of a large circle of friends.

The groom is a member of one of the prominent families of Mills county, being a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dashner of Glenwood and where Mr. Dashner has grown to manhood and has been largely engaged in farming near the city of Glenwood and where the newly weds will make their home in the future on their return from the honeymoon.

SUFFERING FROM BURNS. Mrs. E. G. Shellenbarger and daughter, Miss Margaret, are confined to their home as the result of a very painful accident that they sustained on Wednesday when they were both severely scalded.

The accident occurred at Miss Margaret was removing a kettle of boiling water from the kitchen stove, the steam or a small portion of the water splashing out on her hand causing her to drop the kettle and the contents was thrown over the young lady and her mother as well.

Being several very bad burns and which will keep both of the ladies inactive for several days. The scalding water splashing on the lower limbs of the ladies caused severe burns that necessitated the service of a physician to dress and the ladies were made as comfortable as possible.

The aged father of Mr. Shellenbarger, who is making his home with his son and family, excited by the accident also suffered a severe heart attack and was in very serious condition for some hours but rallied nicely and is now showing some improvement.

TO RESIDE IN U. S. John H. Hallstrom of this city is looking forward for a very pleasant Christmas season in a visit from a nephew, Times Bondberg, who is coming here from his home in the south portion of Sweden, to meet the uncle whom he has never seen.

Bondberg is a son of a sister of Mr. Hallstrom and is a young man of twenty-three years of age and who is now on his way to the United States to make his future home, leaving Sweden on December 7th and is due at New York City on December 17th and will reach here a few days later in time for the Christmas season here with the uncle and the members of the Hallstrom family.

The visit of the nephew will bring to Mr. Hallstrom many memories and news of the old world whom he has not seen since as a very young man he came to this country to reside.

BACK TO THE HORSES. From Saturday's Daily—Yesterday afternoon one of the residents of near Pacific Junction arrived in the city via the old time route of horseback and drove over on the new bridge to look after the trading with the Plattsmouth stores.

He secured his supply of groceries for the week end at the A. G. Bach store and loading them in sacks slung them over the back of the horse and proceeded back to his home, the horse being able to go where autos feared to tread. He was much pleased with the fact that the bridge was in shape so that it could be traveled over and enthusiastic over the means that is now afforded the residents of that section to come over and visit their Nebraska friends.

DOINGS IN DISTRICT COURT

From Saturday's Daily—In the district court today an action was filed entitled the Prudential Ins. Co., of North America vs. Michael J. Tighe, et al. The action covering a mortgage held by the plaintiff against the defendants in the sum of $10,000, due in 1925 and on which it is claimed that the interest is now due and unpaid for 1928 and 29.

Another action filed was that of Mrs. Ida Schlieske vs. Gustav Schlieske, in which the plaintiff asks a decree of divorce on the grounds of desertion and nonsupport.

Poultry Show Closes a Very Fine Exhibit

Despite the Bad Weather the Attendance Has Been Very Plentiful and Exhibits the Best

From Friday's Daily—The Tri-County Poultry and Pet Stock association, comprising some of the largest poultry raisers of Cass, Sarpy and Saunders counties, closed their annual show which was held at the American Legion community building in this city, this morning and at noon the exhibits were being removed by their owners.

The show has attracted the attention of a very large number from all parts of this section of the state and despite the fact that the weather conditions were most unfavorable the attendance has been very good and the universal expression has been one of delight and surprise at the fine showings made and the wonderful birds that are being produced in this state.

The officers of the association are well pleased with the welcome received in this city and the fine manner in which the local business men responded in the providing of a great array of premiums of all kinds for the show and in which also the business men of Weeping Water co-operated.

The location of the show for 1929 has not as yet been decided upon but everyone here would be pleased to see the show come here next season when a great array of exhibits from neighboring county of Mills county, Iowa would be available with the communications of the new bridge to allow them being brought here and for the attendance of the Iowa chicken fanciers.

CHARLES WRIGHT DIES

From Saturday's Daily—Charles E. Wright, 60, resident of this city for the past several years, died very suddenly late yesterday afternoon at the farm of Carl Kraeger, near Mynard, where he has been employed for the last few weeks in the corn shucking work.

Mr. Wright had apparently been in his usual health and had finished his work on the farm for the day and came to the house about 5:30 to partake of the evening meal and after washing up had seated himself at the supper table and as the members of the Kraeger family were starting supper Mr. Wright apparently coming as the result of a sudden attack of heart trouble.

The Kraeger family notified the members of Mr. Wright's family in this city and the body was brought here to the Sattler funeral home and will later be taken to the home of the daughter, Mrs. Harvey Burk, where it will remain until Sunday when the family will go with the body to Oakland, Iowa, the old home where the services will be held.

The deceased is survived by the widow of this city, one son, Wilson Wright of Chicago and three daughters, Mrs. John Benedict and Mrs. Newton Benedict of Afton, Iowa, and Mrs. Harvey Burk of this city.

The deceased was a member of Cass Camp 332 of the Modern Woodmen of America of this city.

ANNOUNCE GAME

The Plattsmouth and Havelock basketball teams who have not clashed in recent years will again meet on the court this year, according to statements from that city, the date of the game being on January 10th. Coach Delaporte has five veterans on the team this season who will bear the brunt of the season campaign for the Lincoln suburb. Creighton Prep, Plattsmouth and Norfolk are some of the teams to be on the schedule of Havelock. The Platters will journey to Havelock for the game.

CAPTURES COONS

From Friday's Daily—Last night Henry Klingner, well known produce and chicken dealer, threw aside the cares of his business and with his two hound dogs and John T. Porter and his flock of hounds as well as a party of hunters, journeyed down along the Missouri river where they captured several racoons, a very toothsome animal and which will serve to add to the menu of Mr. Klingner as well as the Porter family.

Basketball Opener Goes to North High

Coach Jackson's Team of Omaha Wins By Score of 31 to 12 in Season Opener

From Saturday's Daily—The basketball season opened last evening at the local high school gym with North high of Omaha being the guests and victors over the Platters by the score of 31 to 12, but despite the large score the local team showed well and gives promise of a good season as they hit their stride.

For the Platters, Captain Roy Turner looked the best and the veteran guard was the most effective of the locals in penetrating the line of the Vikings giant team, as Coach Jackson this year has a team of huskies that made it impossible for the locals to get anywhere effectively.

John Galloway, left forward, was the most successful in the scoring as he garnered three field goals, with Turner taking one and Garland McCleary one field goal and two free tosses. McCleary showing up exceptionally well for his first year.

The Norsemen had Mason, veteran forward as their skipper and this player again was the high point man for North with six field goals, Elliott at right guard was one of the effective cogs in the machine of North as his passes were swift and accurate to his fellow players and with their height made the interference of the Platters of little effectiveness.

In the opening of the game the Platters drew first blood when Deyer of the visitors fouled McCleary, who made the shots good and then Potter of the visitors rang up a field goal to tie, but hardly had this happened than Galloway was away from the enfolded defense of North and plunger a ringer that placed the Platters in the lead. Mason and Deyer each scored a goal with two free throws that made the North total at the quarter 8, while Turner dropped in a fine basket to bring up the Plattter score to 6.

In the second period the North team ran their score up to 15 at the half while the Platters remained at 6 and the visitors also in the third act of the drama were able to hold the locals scoreless and garnered in three more baskets to have a 21 to 6 advantage as the last period opened up.

In the last quarter the Platters led a desperate attack on the visitors and McCleary scored a field goal and Galloway two to bring up the local score to 12 at the final whistle.

The showing of the Platters was such, however, as to give the fans hope that in the succeeding games the fast battling aggregation of the blue and white will be in the scoring as they have the making of a real team.

In the curtain raiser of the big game the North seconds trimmed up the local second team by the score of 14 to 2 with Sam Arn enfolded the distinction of scoring the only local tally.

The tabulated score of the game was as follows: Plattsmouth—

	FG	FT	PF	TP
McCleary, rf	1	2-6	0	4
Galloway, lf	3	0-2	3	6
Hartford, c	0	0-1	1	0
Turner, rg (c)	1	2-1	0	2
Wiles, lg	0	0-1	2	0

North High—

	FG	FT	PF	TP
Potter, rf	3	2-2	1	8
Mason, lf (c)	6	0-1	2	12
Deyer, c	3	2-4	2	8
Elliott, rg	0	0-1	0	2
Horak, lg	1	1-1	2	3

Substitutions—Plattsmouth: Hershel Dew for McCleary, McCleary for Hartford, McCleary for Wiles, North: Zerbe for Potter, McLeod for Deyer, Stevenson for Elliott, Referee—Geo. Parish, Omaha, Timekeeper, Smith of North, Scorekeeper, Hubert Dew, Plattsmouth.

SERENADE NEWLY WEDS

A very jolly crowd of the friends and neighbors gathered on Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hendricks south of this city, the occasion being a charivari arranged in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Hendricks, the latter formerly Miss Theresa Donat of this city.

The party came well prepared with noise producing instruments and gave the newly weds a fitting greeting and while the parents were anticipating the visit they were almost as badly shocked by the noise as the newly married couple.

The party enjoyed the evening at the Hendricks home where they were delighted to shower the young people with their well wishes and congratulations and candy and cigars provided served to help pass the time very pleasantly.

In honor of the happy occasion Mr. and Mrs. Hendricks were presented with a very handsome gift from the friends which they will appreciate in their new home and for which they are very grateful.
