Nebraska Gold Star Mothers First to France

State Drawn by Lot by Mrs. Hoover to Avoid Any Favoritism: Will Receive First Invitation.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Gold star mothers from Nebraska will receive the first invitations from the government to make a pilgrimage to the graves of their loved ones in France as a result of that state's name being the first drawn today by Mrs. Herbert Hoover.

The ceremony took place in the red room of the White house this afternoon in the presence of General Pershing, Major General Wells, representing General Summerall, chief of staff, Major General B. F. Cheatham, who will be in charge of the trip, and Lieutenant Colonel C. H. Hodges, military aide to the president.

The states were drawn in the following order:

Make Our Bank Your Bank Two Open Invitations

When you are absent from your home—for an hour or for a year—leaving your valuables unprotected except by ordinary locks and bolts, aren't you really issuing an open invitation to thieves and to the destruction a fire could create? Wouldn't it be better, instead, to accept our open invitation to place your jewelry and important papers where you know they will be safe—in our strong vault? And wouldn't the cost of this safety—less than one-half cent a day—be extremely well worth while?

Greenwood Legion Post Holds Feast

Live Wire Post in the West Part of County Has Large Number of Guests at Meet.

From Saturday's Daily—

The Greenwood post of the American Legion last evening held one of their meetings and "feeds" for which they are justly famous and on this as on other events of a similar nature, the boys of the west Cass county town proved royal entertainers and how well they did the job was nobody's business.

The meeting was held in the I. O. O. F. hall and a very large number of the Greenwood members were present as well as a number from Plattsmouth, Lincoln and Eagle to join in the event.

The feed committee was on the job and had a real treat in store for all and this was enjoyed as the members from the different posts gathered around the festive board.

To hold a Legion gathering at Greenwood and leave out Col. Phil Hall would be out of the question and Phil was the official toastmaster of the evening and introduced the various speakers.

The visitors were welcomed to the festive gathering by Commander Peterson, who is one of the leaders in the veterans work in the county and who gave the keys of the city of Greenwood to the visiting members of the society and gave words of welcome to all.

Attorney Carl Ganz of Alvo, who is also a banker and one of the leaders in the state bankers association, was called upon and made a most enjoyable and witty discussion altho departing from the subjects, "The M. P.'s in the War," long enough to leave a most impressive message in the serious portion of his address.

George E. Bucknell, past commander of the Greenwood post and present chaplain, was called upon and gave one of the usual clever talks that "Buck" is noted for having stored up and gave a resume of some of his wartime experiences.

The members of the banquet party also extended a greeting to Emory McDowell, who had a notable war record and paid very dearly in his personal sacrifice of health for his country.

H. D. Hughes, superintendent of the schools at Greenwood was heard in a very able address and which covered the recitation of some of the experiences of Col. Phil Hall on the hunting field.

On behalf of the visiting delegations Frank Smith of Plattsmouth was heard in a few brief remarks and in which special tribute was paid to Dr. McFadden and Col. Hall, as well as the Legion gang.

Col. P. H. Bartholomew, head of the medical regiment of the Nebraska national guard, was introduced by Col. Hall as the author of GO, 45, which was however, denied by the able and distinguished surgeon and soldier.

Dr. H. W. McFadden gave a very fine plea for the rehabilitation of the ailing and suffering service men of the nation and in whose behalf he has labored long and very earnestly.

The members of the party had the pleasure of hearing a few remarks from Marcus L. Potest, district commander, and "Mike" was at his best and gave a real rousing talk on the good of the Legion and particularly that part of the Legion in the best part of Nebraska—the southeastern district.

Judge Comstock of Lincoln, paid high tribute to the members of the Legion and its principles.

The main address of the evening was by Judge P. Cosgrave of Lincoln, who was eloquent and forceful in his plea for the standing of the service men for the defense of their country in peace as well as war and for the bringing about of a higher citizenship and love of country.

Those from Plattsmouth who attended the meeting were Fred Lusch, Frank Smith, M. D. Brown, G. R. Holcomb and George Conis.

Platters Drop Game to the Schuyler Five

10 to 8 Is the Score in a Contest That Featured Close Guarding Tactics

From Saturday's Daily—

The Plattsmouth high school basketball team last evening ran into disaster when they journeyed up to Schuyler to engage the quintet of that place and at the end of the night Coach Gradoville's team men were able to check up 10 points to 8 for the locals.

The Platter quintet seemed to be unable to break through the defense of the Schuylerites, the narrow gym permitting an air tight defense to be played by the disciples of Gradoville.

In the opening half Plattsmouth garnered but one point, Galloway securing one free throw while G. Higgins with a field goal and Fishler with two field tosses put the Schuyler five out in front by the score of 6 to 1.

In the last half Turner and McCleary each secured a field goal while Galloway, McCleary and Hartford were able to ring up a free toss. For Schuyler, Schmid was the only one able to secure a field toss in the last half.

The game was refereed by Morrison of Nebraska, and the game was enjoyed by a very pleasing group of the fans.

The tabulated score of the game was as follows:

Plattsmouth	FG	FT	PF	TH
Galloway, f	0	2	2	2
McCleary, f	1	1	0	3
Hartford, f	0	1	1	1
Dew, f	0	0	0	0
Mumm, c	0	0	1	0
Turner, g	1	0	0	2
Wiles, g	0	0	1	0

Snowball Fight Injuries Fatal

Kearney, Feb. 6.—Viola Peterson, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Peterson of near Elm Creek, died Wednesday from blood poisoning which developed after she had been struck on the right cheek during a snowball battle between rural school children last Thursday. The girl's cheek was incised by a snowball hurled by a playmate and infection set in. Efforts to check the infection were to no avail.

Possibly New Masonic Temple for Elmwood Very Soon

It is with great pleasure that we can say this week that the Masonic Order will in all probability commence very soon the erection of a handsome Masonic Temple on the lots where the old building was recently destroyed by fire. Elmwood knows what it means to have a fine building here and the entire community will rejoice to know that this prediction comes as quickly as it did. We are sure that this building place is a dear spot in the heart of every one of the Masonic boys who put in so much time in making the former building the fine place that it was and they are anxious that the building and equipment be replaced as soon as possible. The building will possibly be some 48x50 feet with basement and a store on a half high. We hope to give particulars very soon as the nature of the fine building which the lodge has in mind.—Elmwood Leader-Echo.

Makes a Fine Address

From Thursday's Daily—

The members of the local Rotary club at their meeting on Tuesday had the opportunity of hearing a very scholarly and splendidly arranged address on "Fellowship," which Superintendent R. E. Bailey of the city schools gave to his fellow members. This is one of the basic foundations of Rotary and in his masterly handling of the subject Mr. Bailey brought home to the members the true value of fellowship, the uplifting and inspiring ideas that mankind had gained in the associations of fellowship and which tended to bring closer together the individual as well as nations in the fullest appreciation of the teachings of the love of their fellowmen that they gained through the associations in organizations such as the Rotary.

M. P. Has Derailment

From Thursday's Daily—

This morning a freight train on the Missouri Pacific caused the blocking of the Omaha-Kansas City line at Todd's, just south of Murray. A box car had a derailment that required over an hour to overcome and as the result the traffic was held up for a short time. Passenger train 105 was sent around by way of Union and Weeping Water into Omaha.

Death of Babe

From Friday's Daily—

The death of Doris, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Friel occurred yesterday afternoon at the family home here following an illness of a short time. The little one was a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Boetel of this city and her death has come as a very great shock to the members of the family circle.

Funeral Services of Mrs. M. A. Street Held

Body Taken to Red Oak, Iowa, for Interment Besides Husband—Many Attend Services

From Saturday's Daily—

This morning at the home on Locust street where for many years she has lived a happy life and surrounded by her family and old friends had passed the final years of life, was held the funeral services of Mrs. Mary Amelia Street. A number of the old friends and neighbors came to pay their last tokens of respect to this excellent lady whose passing at a ripe old age has taken away a well known and loved figure from the community.

The services were conducted by Rev. H. E. Sortor, pastor of the First Methodist church of which the deceased had long been a member and the pastor gave words of comfort and cheer to the sorrowing relatives and friends. In his remarks Rev. Sortor read a poem by Mrs. Mary A. Rude of Mendota, Illinois, a girlhood friend of Mrs. Street and whose advanced age of 84 years prevented her being present.

How oft, when comes the evening hour of rest,
The sun is low descending
In the west,
The stars so brilliant, in its colorings bright,
Of red and gold, as nearing evening light.

We've pictured in our mind a planet, where,
Beyond this world of love and joy and care,
We'll meet with loved ones in the days to come,
And all be gathered in God's beautiful home.

No tears, no sorrows, in that heavenly land,
But pleasures evermore at God's right hand,
O' keep Thy children, Lord! nor let them stray
Away from paths that lead to endless day.

During the services Mrs. E. G. Shellenbarger gave two of the loved songs of the departed, "The Child of a King" and "When Jesus Comes." At the close of the service the body was taken to the Burlington station accompanied by the funeral party departed for Red Oak, Iowa, where the last rites were held and Mrs. Street laid to rest beside the husband, W. L. Street, who preceded her in death in December 1910. The pall bearers were J. W. Crabb, Elmer Taylor, R. A. Bates, G. L. Farley, C. C. Westcott, H. F. Goos, all friends and neighbors.

Obituary

It was on June 5th 1849 at Zoar, Massachusetts that a baby girl, Mary Amelia, came to bless the home of William and Hannah McCulloch. Born in the beautiful Berkshire Hills in the land of the Puritans, this child seemed to imbibe something of the rugged character of her forbears—she was ever a Puritan at heart, ever a pioneer in thought and action.

When seven years of age she with her parents migrated to Illinois. They lived on the prairie near Mendota. Transportation was extremely difficult, schooling facilities were meagre—but she was enabled to attend Dover Academy and at length secured a certificate to teach school.

The Civil war came on—and soon after its close at Rutland, Illinois, January 7th 1868, she was united in marriage to a young soldier, William Lewis Street.

In 1874 they removed to Red Oak, Iowa, where they lived on a farm until March 1888, when they, with their three children removed to Weeping Water, Nebraska. In 1896 the family residence was again changed to Plattsmouth, where for many years she conducted a millinery business, retiring in 1906.

At an early age she united with the First Adventist Church which membership she still holds at Mendota, Illinois. She was ever a devout follower of the Christ. Her ideals were high, she was Puritanical in her demands upon herself and those whom she held near and dear. An unflinching good nature was an outstanding characteristic, and with indomitable energy and will she hewed a straight course from the cradle to the grave.

Mrs. Street was a descendant in direct line on her mother's side of the family, from Miles Standish of Mayflower fame. She was a member of Fontelle Chapter, Daughter of American Revolution—in fact it was largely through her efforts that this chapter was organized. She has long been a member of the Woman's Re-

HAS HIS DEGREE

Last week Howard Royer completed his course in Medicine at the State University School of Medicine, at Omaha, and has received his degree. He will remain in Omaha until July 1st, when he and his wife will go to Columbia, Ohio, where he has a position in the Grant hospital at that place. Howard is a son of Mrs. Nora Royer of this city and his many friends are proud of him and feel confident that he will make good in his chosen profession. Roland Tyson completed the course of medicine at Omaha some time ago, and has a position in a large hospital at Takomah, Washington. He is another Elmwood boy making good and of which all are proud.—Elmwood Leader-Echo.

WILL BE CANDIDATE

It goes without saying that George R. Sayles will be a candidate for reelection as county clerk. George has cared for the tax payers' interests so faithfully and is so accommodating and obliging that his hundreds of friends over the county are insisting that he remain where he is. The Courier believes that George will be nominated and elected without turning his hand over.—Louisville Courier.

Belief corps, taking an active part in that organization up to the time of her falling health.

There is left to cherish her memory, one son, Walter Street, of Portland, Oregon. Two daughters, Mrs. Mae Morgan and Mrs. E. H. Westcott of Plattsmouth. Three grandsons and three granddaughters—three great-grandchildren. Two brothers, Henry McCulloch of Grinnell, Iowa, and Marsena McCulloch of Red Oak, Iowa.

She passed peacefully from this life at dawn on February 6th 1930, triumphant in the faith of the Christian, and in joyful hope and expectation of immortality thru Christ, her risen Lord.

A granddaughter, Clara Mae Morgan, has given a very beautiful tribute to the grandmother:
She walked the common way of life,
That way of service staunch and true,
Accepting burden, toil and strife
That home and country might endure.
She fought the fight and kept the faith,
A loyal mother, wife and friend,
In simple dignity and grace
She mingled with her fellow men.
And now her pilgrim age is done—
Quiet those restless hands and feet
Hushed is the heart that loved its own,
Gone is that tender smile and sweet,
A weary traveler home at last,
A searching soul at rest in peace,
She strayed along the memory trail
Until she found the gate "Release"
And we to whom she is most dear,
Must know that death can never part,
That spirit of the pioneer
Will keep her ever near our hearts.
CLARA MAE MORGAN.
