R. D. STINE
Union, Nebr.

Fred Clarke was a business visitor for the afternoon in Murray on last Saturday driving over in his car.

Ruben E. Foster was a guest of the Union Business Men's club, at their weekly dinner on Monday of this week.

J. M. Clarence of Rock Bluff and Forest Taylor of Omaha, were in Union last Monday looking after some business matters for a short time.

W. L. Havenridge and wife of Omaha were visiting for the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Becker, also remaining for a few days during the fore part of this week.

A. L. Becker was loading and shipping two cars of wood which he gets as he is clearing off land over next the Missouri river. He is shipping the wood to Lincoln where he finds good sale for it.

The folks of John Erwin, who have the small post and who have been under quarantine for some time past are reported as getting along nicely at this time and are hoping soon to be entirely well of the malady.

Monday morning early, Henry H. Becker, Herman C. Ross and W. L. Havenridge, the latter from Omaha, departed with a truck load of clover seed, bound for Shenandoah, where they are disposing of the seed to Henry Fields Seed company of that place.

Harley Morton and sister, Mrs. Sherman Hathaway, are reported as being feeling rather poorly at this time. The physician seems disposed to wait for a little time before he shall say just what the malady is as he is looking for development of the disease.

Delbert Lindsay who has been farming on the J. S. Pitman place for the past year, will move soon to the farm of Robert Willis, where he will farm. Mr. and Mrs. Willis will move to Plattsmouth where they have purchased a home. Bert Willis who has been farming on the place will engage in other lines during the present year.

Firemen Hold Meeting.

The Union Fire Department met last Wednesday and discussed the matters pertaining to the fire company, and looked over the field of the fire fighters. Among other things which came before the company was the need of funds, and one was accumulated that they might have what would be needed for postage, correspondence and what would be necessary for other things.

Town Board Meets.

The Union town board met on last Friday and looked after what business came before the body and kept a look out for the bills which must of necessity come in for payment, disposing of all which came in and devised ways and means for the better condition of town generally, always looking to the future for the welfare of the citizens.

Has Many Fresh Cows.

Ben Martin who last summer went to southern Missouri where he made the purchase of some thirty-eight fine Jersey heifers, is being rewarded at this time with some fifteen new milk cows and fine ones at that. There are many being added every week to the number and he hopes to have twice as many or more in the present month.

Builds Fine Trailer.

Having as his base a Model T Ford chassis, Otis Keene has constructed for Joe Dare, a trailer for his auto which will hold about fifteen cans of cream and will hold nearly a ton of merchandise, and can also be operated with a team. Curley sure did a fine job on the conversion of the Ford into a fine trailer.

New Son Has Arrived.

On Thursday of last week, Mrs. Sherman Hathaway, a very fine young American, with the mother and young man doing nicely. The father is also doing well and is still doing the chores.

Much Coon Hunting.

That is, many of the people about Union are putting in much time in the search, if not the chase, for they are not finding many of the fuzzy animals to give chase to. Still, as the season is nearly out in which they are allowed to hunt the coon, the hunters of which Ben Martin seems to be moving spirit, are out searching for evidences of a coon in the neighborhood. W. A. Hicks from Nehawka, who was over looking after some wells was considerably excited also with the prospect of getting into the game.

A Three Cornered Contest.

Horace Griffin, who conducts a blacksmith shop, makes a speciality of sharpening discs, and is bidding pretty strong for the work. Harry McCornell and Ray Becker, have a machine which they have installed in a truck which they take to the farmer and sharpen the discs on the farm. Victor Clarence also has an outfit of the same kind, this making three for the sharpening of discs. Looks like the farmer might have it much his way, during the contest for the business. With three in the field it does not look like anyone would make any money out of the campaign. However, every one has a right to get as much of the business as possible.

Better Keep the Dentist.

Dr. W. H. Ackenbach, the dentist who came from Nebraska City to Union about a year ago, and engaged in business, also purchasing a lot on which to build an office and laboratory, has been here nearly a year, and has not done as much business as he should to justify the keeping of the office here. He has made up his mind to see if he cannot find better business elsewhere, and has so said. It looks like Union should exert all their influence to keep the doctor in town, for he is an excellent dentist, and why not keep an industry here which is now here and not lose it. Dr. Ackenbach has done much to solidify the business houses here that a better plan of working together may be had than in the past. By all means keep Dr. Ackenbach in Union.

Joe Banning Home Again.

Joseph Banning who was taken to the hospital at Omaha some time since where he suffered an injury, the breaking of his leg and also the crushing of a shoulder, has been making good progress towards recovery while away and was so far recovered that it was thought well to bring him home this week. Lucean with an ambulance, on last Monday, bringing him home. The many friends of this excellent citizen, will be pleased to have him home again.

Hears Sister Has Died.

Albert Carr, the third trick operator at the Union station for the Missouri Pacific railway, received the sad news of the death of his sister, Mrs. Mabel Newton, last week. The sister has six children. Mr. and Mrs. Carr departed for Baser, Kansas, where their father resides and where he is engaged in the chicken hatchery business. Mrs. Albert Carr will look after the business for the father-in-law, while he and wife and also Albert Carr go to California to attend the funeral. During the first two days following the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Carr, Messrs Opp, the agent, and Whitworth, the second trick operator, looked after the work, taking twelve hours about, which made them plenty of work to do. However, on Monday, H. S. Vaughn arrived to take the third trick, thus relieving the other from the excessive strain.

Surprises at the Dinner.

There were some surprises at the dinner of the Union Business Men's club on last Monday, as the members arranged themselves about the table they found a Valentine greeting placing each at a certain place. This was in honor of the farewell of Dr. W. H. Ackenbach, who will expect to remove from Union in the near future and enter practice of dentistry at Nebraska City. E. G. Stutz of Omaha, representing the Pickwick Greyhound Interstate bus transportation company, was present and explained their workings. They followed the election of officers, which resulted in the selection of P. F. Rihn as president, Ben Anderson as vice president and Clifton B. Smith as secretary. The committees and minor officers will be named by the president at the next regular meeting. As the meeting was preparing to close, Ray Frans asked for a word and said that in honor of the retiring president, Dr. W. H. Ackenbach, who has done so much for the Union Business Men's Club, that Mr. Whitworth had composed a song which he would sing. With Miss Ora Clarke presiding at the piano the following song was sung, and which was enjoyed by the entire crowd assembled:

There is one in our midst
that's going to leave us
He seeks other fields he may serve,
He seeks other places of employment,
Where he can pull the teeth
and kill the nerve.

The one whom we desire to hold in memory
Has been at the head of the class,
He has been in the thickest of the battle
And has given us his service to the last.

(Chorus)
Farewell to three, farewell to three,
We ask your promise to forget us never,
We'll think of you each day day or two,
Although we now say good-bye.

We ask a vote of thanks be shown for services
For the good that has come to the town,
By the banding of the business men together,
A better way of living has been found.

So depart our brother and may peace go with you
May you prosper in the land where you will work,
May your fellowmen in business seek to help you
For we know your helping hand will never shirk.

(Chorus)
Then the boys offered another which was also composed by "White"
Boost boost boost, and make your town a corker,
Boost boost boost and beat the old New Yorker
Boost boost boost, quit knocking, start to boost
You'll be filled with pride and be satisfied,
If you boost boost boost boost boost.

WORK ON UPPER MISSOURI WILL BEGIN MARCH 1

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 10.—New work on the Missouri river this year will be carried on at 31 points in a schedule of operations to begin about March 1. Major Gordon R. Young, in charge of the corps of engineers' office here, said today. The work will be at 22 points on the lower river and at nine on the upper river.

The war department expects to employ five thousand men, the same number used at the peak of the 1929 season, and more than that will be used by private contractors, he said. Experimental channel dredging conducted successfully last year, Major Young said, will not be continued until commercial navigation starts. Five government parties and 17 contractor parties will be employed between Kansas City and the mouth of the Missouri. All nine projects on the upper river are to be carried on by contractors.

Approximately 250 thousand feet of structure, including pile dikes and nettings, have been planned for the lower river and 100 thousand feet for the upper river.

Papillion Banker Claims No Forgeries

Charles Marshall, Serving From Six to Forty Years Asks Release on New Evidence

Charles E. Marshall, former cashier of the failed State Bank of Papillion whose closed doors left the state guaranty fund holding the sack to the extent of $418,500, told the state board of pardons and paroles Tuesday that he was not guilty of the forging of promissory notes for $1,500 and $2,500 as charged, and for which he was convicted and sentenced to six to forty years. He was sentenced Oct. 25, 1927.

He was pictured by Ralph J. Nickerson of Papillion and C. F. Reavis of Lincoln as having been guilty of nothing more than negligence. The master mind, they said, was E. C. Goehrke, bank president, who disappeared and has not been heard from. Newly discovered evidence, Mr. Nickerson said, had it been available and put before the trial jury may have changed the verdict. Of three handwriting experts, he said, two have held that the signature on the notes has more of the characteristics of Goehrke's writing than that of Marshall.

The newly discovered evidence, as pointed out, places grave doubts on the matter of whether or not Marshall even posted the notes. These were dated May 15, 1926. A Des Moines hotel register together with five affidavits, counsel pointed out, shows that the notes were cashed on May 14 and that Marshall left by auto for Des Moines on the night of May 13 and did not return to the bank until May 16. It was claimed that Marshall had never recalled posting the notes.

No Criminal Instinct.

Mr. Reavis said that all of the acts of Marshall—his remaining on the job to help the banking department while Goehrke made his getaway, was compatible with innocence while all that the bank president did was compatible with guilt. All the transactions of Marshall in which Goehrke had no hand, he said, was clean. Nothing of record, he added, shows criminal instinct. Both Mr. Reavis and Mr. Nickerson presented in their arguments the unlikelihood, in the light of Goehrke's disappearance of his having forged the notes and had them posted by another. Mr. Reavis pictured an aged and broken father in California on the verge of the great beyond.

"He doesn't want to go out of this world leaving his son in the penitentiary," he said, "the father lost heavily thru the bank's failure."

All members of the trial jury urged commutation of sentence. Sheriff Oldberg, Judge Begley, Former County Attorney Collins whose son appeared in behalf of the prisoner, T. J. McGuire who assisted in the prosecution, R. E. Stout who also assisted in prosecuting county officers, Congressmen Howard and Sears, members of the Papillion board and hosts of others urge clemency. The only dissenting voice coming from C. G. Stoll of the department of trade and commerce.

FAILS IN HIS STUDIES, BOY, 15, LEAVES HOME

Lincoln, Feb. 11.—Because he failed to pass all his subjects in school at Chillicothe, Mo., Oscar Randall, 15-year-old high school sophomore, ran away from home last Saturday and came here. Tuesday he was being held at the city jail, pending word and arrival of a railroad ticket from his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Randall. The Randall boy was found in a local garage where he had been given a place to sleep over night.

MARKETS DODGE CHICAGO SCRIPS

Chicago, Feb. 10.—Another day, another $150,000 added to the growing total of back salaries in Chicago and Cook county, and the auction block for tax anticipation warrants loomed a little clearer on the salty financial horizon.

No sale has been recorded by the purveyors of the various governmental tax scrips, but all retained their optimism that the warrants would be marketed although a discount might be necessary.

The result appeared to be diminishing hope that the moneyless governments in Cook county can sell scrip without offering a premium attractive to the bankers.
