Remains Very Poorly.
 Nicholas Opp, who has about rounded out a three-quarter century of life, and much of this time being spent in Nehawka, has been very seriously ill at his home in Nehawka, and where he has been receiving the very best of care as well as medical attention, but notwithstanding this, is very critically ill, and but slight hopes are entertained for his recovery.

Rawleigh Products.
 I have the agency for the celebrated Rawleigh Products for the east half of Cass county. I shall call at all farm homes with samples and shall appreciate your patronage. The excellence of these goods are well known as there are none better. I shall thank you for what orders you can give me.—Chester Plybon.

Meets With Painful Accident.
 Uncle Ernest Ahrens while acting as a missionary, for he was in the act of removing a thing which might cause some fellow man trouble, coming along to where a board lay, with a nail of good size protruding in such a manner that should some one step on it, they would puncture their foot, and to make it safe for the other fellow, Mr. Ahrens placed his foot on the offending nail to bend it over, which instead of bending when he placed his weight on it, punctured his own foot, and which caused this gentleman to be lame for a number of days. While he was seeking to save the foot of a friend he had his own injured. The foot, however, is getting along better at this time.

Looks for Good Business.
 J. E. Wood, the painter and decorator, says he has much work to do this early in the season and that he is looking for a good year in his business of painting and decorating.

Makes Improvement at Business.
 Olaf Lundberg who if not doing something to make the surroundings better is doing nothing, has been having a concrete floor placed in the work room of his place of business and which is adding much to the value of the property. Messrs. Miller and Gruber, the celebrated cement workers have been doing the work and this is an assurance that the work is done in the proper way.

Two Nights of Pleasure.
 The American Legion, and this means in the neighborhood of Nehawka, that with their friends that all have gotten behind the proposition and made the thing a go, put on at their building, formerly the Nehawka Auditorium, but which with their taking it over has become the American Legion building and Auditorium, gave two card parties, one on Tuesday evening, which was dominated as a Pinochle party, and on the following evening another, which was a bridge party. Large crowds were in attendance each night and made the affair the success which was intended.
 All who attended and that meant all, for there was large crowds there, were well repaid for their coming. This is the first of many happy events which is planned by the American Legion post of Nehawka, and which will make Nehawka popular. They have been getting the building in condition for some time.

Mrs. Ingwersen Doing Nicely.
 Mrs. R. H. Ingwersen who was in the hospital at Omaha for some time where she was receiving treatment for her health, was so much improved that she was returned to her home near Nehawka and continues to improve, which is excellent news for her many friends.

Biggest Day in Their History.
 With a smile that would not rub off Manager of the Nehawka Farmers Oil company, R. C. Pollard, announced on Tuesday this week that the day before Monday, March 10th, 1930, had been the day of the largest its history. Not that they had not done good business and most of the time at that. When gasoline was slated to take a two-cent advance, and all the patrons were striving to get under the wire with their tanks filled with fuel, before the advance, made a good big day. That day, however did not equal Monday of this week. Now do not think that there is any objection for this, as it is pleasing to every stockholder, and every officer of the company. The most pleasing fact of the whole affair is that the increase in business is of a substantial nature and the good business has come to stay.

Surprise Friends.
 The Center Valley club gave a surprise on Mr. and Mrs. Ed Murdoch, three miles east of Wea, Water, Saturday evening, March 8th. They had an oyster supper at seven o'clock. A very happy evening was spent. There was fifty present and relatives from Nehawka.

GIRL ASKS A JURY TRIAL
 Washington—A nineteen year old girl, Miss Edith Briscoe, Friday, pleaded not guilty and demanded a jury trial on charges of assaulting a policeman during Thursday's disturbance before the white house, while seven of her comrades faced the alternative of $50 fines or thirty days in jail on charges of disorderly conduct. Judge Isaac R. Hitt, in the United States court, found two other defendants not guilty on similar charges.

NO CUT IN EXPORT WHEAT

Washington—Chairman Legge, of the farm board, said Monday the Wheat Stabilization corporation had no present plan to send wheat abroad at prices lower than those now paid for grain by American millers. The statement was in answer to reports that millers were opposed to any export move which would give European millers wheat at a sufficiently low price to enable them to undersell American millers on the domestic market.
 The American millers, the chairman said, take 80 per cent of the American wheat crop. He said a number of foreign countries had import restrictions against countries seeking to "dump" their wheat and that the United States would not attempt it.

The chairman denied reports that the government had suffered a "paper loss" of approximately $2,000,000 thru buying wheat above market prices.

tion as the facts disclosed therein demanded," stated Auditor French had used $1,492.70 from a state fund for his own personal use and that he later returned the amount, with interest.

Notified of Governor Reed's action, Auditor French said there had been "no irregularities" and that "I would be very glad to have an investigation of anything in connection with the fund."

SUIT IN BANKRUPTCY

Chicago—Involuntary bankruptcy proceedings were started against Florian Plant & Co., stock brokers, Friday. The petition, filed on behalf of Paul Cleveland, Mallard & Co., and Lawrence W. Scudder, who claim $10,000, alleges the company lost heavily in the stock market. Liabilities alleged were $400,000 and assets $5,000.

Here is the Reason

The question is often asked:

"Why is it that corporations when they are prospering offer their stocks for sale?"

The reason is that there comes to the prosperous corporation, the progressive corporation, business opportunities in their special field. Increased capital is required to take advantage of these opportunities, consequently additional stock is issued and sold and the money is used in buying necessary equipment, etc., to handle the new business which the field offers.

Every growing corporation, however large, increases its capital from time to time by issuing stock. This stock is purchased by investors in all parts of the country more or less and these corporations are thus enabled to do more business, command more trade, control more property and become greater factors in the field in which they operate.

The Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Company is an interesting example. We mention it because it is well known to the people of Nebraska and adjoining states. Its capital stock has been increased a number of times and is now held very largely by people in the territory which is served by the company. The day will probably come when its capital will be 4 times what it is at the present time and probably then an even greater proportion of this stock will be held by the patrons of the company or people within its trade territory.

It doesn't matter how large a corporation becomes, if it is making progress and extending its trade contracts it will from time to time offer its stock for sale to the public and the public will profit by the investment.

This is True of Woods Brothers CORPORATION

Quality of Goods!

is a factor in the perpetuity of any business. Price may appeal for the moment, but the real value in the goods furnished must be there. A machine that is required to deliver the proper performance must be supplied with the best material. . . . Automobile, Truck or Tractor motors must be supplied with gas of high quality to give power, with oils and greases which will stand up under the most severe tests. . . . The greatest care and no stinting of expense is given in the production of all the goods we sell. Our goods are best—at any price.
