Advertising Does Pay; We Can Prove It

Splendid Results Obtained from Small "For Sale" and "Exchange" Ads by Journal Patrons

Many of our farmer friends, also many of our city merchants have had the opinion that advertising does not pay in proportion to the money spent. Here are just a few instances of proof among our farmer friends:

A few weeks ago one of our old time friends advertised a large number of chickens for sale in The Journal columns. He had several dozen that he wanted to sell, and this little ad brought buyers to his place from far and near and the entire offering was bought right at his farm home. No greater effort on his part.

During the past few days another farmer not far from Plattsmouth had about twenty bushels of seed potatoes that he wanted to sell, and left us a small 50c ad, and in a few days he told us that he could have sold many times the amount he had to offer for sale, and calls were still coming. They came right to his home and took the potatoes above the market price. Every farmer in Cass county should make a merchant out of himself when he locates something on his farm that he thinks the other fellow might want. Every farm in Cass county also has some one or more articles on the place that no doubt is worthless to them, but that his closest neighbor might be looking for, and would pay him a price for it.

Some farmers may have an extra horse that he might want to dispose of, a few hogs, not enough to ship, one sheep, cow or a calf that one of his neighbors might have a place for, and would readily pay his price for it. The first and best thing for you to do is send a want ad to the Journal office and give it a trial.

Another farmer may want to buy some of those articles mentioned above, or he might want a cross-cut saw, a one-hole corn sheller, a few fence rails or hedge posts, and he can save money with one of these little ads.

Single want ads have been known to sell thousands of dollars worth of goods, and many items are really worthless to the man that owns them, and yet will be valuable to some one. For some time we have been planning on trying a real farmers' swap and sale column in The Journal, and we are of the opinion that this might be a good time to start it. We wonder if it would be asking too much of our farmer friends to drop us a line telling us what they think of this proposition, or better still enclose a small ad along with your reply. For your trouble in doing this, we will insert the first ad you send us, if received before the 22nd of March, free of charge, but you must tell us what you think of this proposition and if it will be a benefit to the farmer as well as us.

Look around your farm and see if you have anything to offer your neighbor at a price. Let us see if we can get a full column the first time. This offer is for farmers only. Try it out, friends.

Owen Willis was a visitor in Murray and was looking after some business matters for a short time on last Monday.

Pulton Harris of Union is reported as being quite ill and is being given the best treatment and care to insure his recovery.

Mrs. Sam Latta was a visitor in Nebraska City for the day on last Monday, driving down to the Indian city to do some trading.

Miss Lois McManus was a visitor at her home at Falls City for over Sunday, she departing last Friday and returning home Monday evening. David Meade while working at the home of John Armstrong had the misfortune to fall from a load of hay and severely injure one of his hands.

Edgar Schumaker who has been quite ill for some time is still in very poor health notwithstanding he has been showing some pronounced improvement.

Harry Gannaway who with the wife and babies make their home at Old Rock Bluffs, has been quite ill for a number of days but is reported as being slightly better. He is being cared for by his wife and daughter, Julia Pitt and Harley Wiles, both of Plattsmouth were visiting in Murray for the afternoon last Monday, they attending the sale and also visiting with friends here as well.

Mike Hill and wife of Plattsmouth were visiting for a few days in Murray on Monday and had a portion of the home of P. A. Hill and wife where a very fine visit was had.

Fred Hollenberg who returned from the hospital at Omaha where he was receiving treatment from a specialist, remains about the same at his home southeast of Murray.

J. A. Scotten and Fred L. Hill are hustling on a new house on one of the farms of Harry G. Todd, and when they get after a piece of work you know it makes good progress.

Mrs. C. E. Carroll has been feeling quite poorly for some weeks past, and who has been kept to her home all the time is still in not the best of health, though slightly better at the present.

Fred Lutz has been on the sick list for several days and was confined to his home and had a portion of the time but has improved nicely of late and was able to be in town on last Monday.

Joe Hathaway is reported as being very poorly at his home in Murray and every care is being given the patient, both as to medical treatment and good nursing that his health may be restored.

Guy White of Plattsmouth was a business visitor in Murray for the day on last Monday and was looking after some business matters for the time here in the interest of the Oil business which he is working.

Harley Massie of near Callaway, where he is making his home, was a visitor at the home of his parents, F. M. Massie and wife of between here and Nehawka staying for the day and departing for his home in the west on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wolfe of Avoca, were visitors in Murray for the day on last Monday and were guests while here at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Fred L. Hill, and also visited with many other old time friends while here.

Van Allen who is attending school at Omaha, being a student of the Business College, was a visitor at home for over Sunday, and guest with his parents as well as visiting with his many friends here. Van is making good progress in his studies which he is liking very much.

Mrs. Otto Puls who has been at the hospital at Omaha for some time where she has been receiving treatment is showing some very good improvement at this time and is thought will probably be in such a condition that she will be able to return home the latter portion of the week.

Boedecker and Wehrlein shipped a car load of very fine hogs which they have just fattened in their lots, to the St. Louis market which arrived for the market on Tuesday. This company have been shipping hogs to this market for some time and always get good results from their shipments.

Last week Chas. Mutz and the good wife who have been making their home in Omaha for the past year, moved to the J. H. Tams place which he sold last year to his daughter, east of Murray and where Mr. and Mrs. Mutz will make their home for the present. They will have a very nice place to live.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Tutt were visiting for the day or a portion of the same in Plattsmouth last Sunday and were while there guests both at the home of Julius A. Pitz and wife and C. M. Forbes and family. They also visited for a time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Valery also in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Seybolt entertained for the day and dinner on last Sunday and had for their guests for the occasion Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Brendel and their son, Richard, T. J. Brendel and wife, and also a couple of the singers from Cotner University who were putting on the program at the Christian church.

Glen Thompson was a visitor at Grand Island for over the past week end where he visited with his mother Mrs. W. S. Thompson, who is a patient at a hospital at that place, being treated for her health for some time and is receiving treatment at the institution. Her condition is considered as very critical, and while every effort is being given both as to medical attention and best nursing but little hope is held for her recovery.

Remembered on Birthday.

At the Presbyterian church on a recent Sunday Mrs. John Paris's class of boys remembered her birthday, by presenting her with a cream and sugar set. Robert Long who is the president of the class, made the presentation in a speech that exactly fitted the occasion. This class is the banner class of the Sunday school, a member of the class, Marion Wiles, holds a remarkable record for attendance, in that he has attended regularly for six years without missing a Sunday. This is all the more remarkable when it is remembered that he has four miles to come in all kinds of weather, and over roads that sometimes makes it necessary for him to come on horseback.

Enjoyed Fine All-Day Program.

At the Christian church was given an entertainment in the way of an all day service, which was a great treat to the people of this portion of the county, when the Rev. Robert E. Hanson with the gospel team from Cotner University placed a program on for the day which included the Sunday morning, afternoon and evening. An excellent program and one listened to by a large number of very interested people of this section.

Home From the West.

Mr. and Mrs. George Nickles who were spending several weeks in the west, where they visited at many places, and sure enjoyed their trip, for they went to see and enjoy and they did so. Speaking of his impressions of the trip, Mr. Nickles stated, that there were thousands of acres of land in the west that seemed to him to be absolutely valueless, still on the lines of railway which traversed the country there were interspersed towns doing good business with good homes, and an abundance of schools and churches. He saw much excellent country, towns teeming with population, and many of them with much unemployment, and when all in all was taken into consideration, he found that there was no better place in all the trip than Murray, Nebraska.

We were sure pleased to hear this for we have always known that Murray was settled in one of the best portions of the country in existence. Of course he said that many places are excellently adapted for homes and for the enjoyment of what wealth one may have accumulated. Los Angeles has many people not employed and no opportunity to get anything to do. The realtor, however was evident, and they tackled George, taking him for a prosperous tourist from the middle west, but Roy Howard said it was because of the green Nebraska look which George carried.

Florence Bartlett Poorly.

Miss Florence Bartlett, in the hospital at Omaha is still very poorly, and every effort is being put forth for her comfort and to aid in her recovery with the very best of nursing and medical care. The young lady is battling again for her health. On last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Smith and Misses Beatrice Rawls and Reanne De Les Denier were over to see her and found the patient hopeful but very poorly. It is hoped that she will in the near future be able to leave the institution and be able to enjoy her former health.

Build Many Hog Houses.

Tom Nelson and Phillip Hill, have been rustling in the construction of an even half dozen type A hog houses for Jacob Craiger, and has been turning them out in a marvellous manner, with an abundance of material and supplies at hand, they have been selling into the work which has been spelling success. They were assisted by James E. Gruber part of the time.

Working Hard on Brooms.

J. C. Tilson, the Murray broom-maker, is at this time hustling with the making of brooms and will soon have a lot of them, when he will have to stop and go deliver them to the customers. Then the same thing will be to do over again but such is the rounds of life.

Held a Good Sale.

A community sale was held at Murray on Monday afternoon of this week in which Perry Nickles was the moving spirit in getting the matter going he also having some thirty-five head of bred sows, and with the many contributions of others made a very good sale. W. B. Boedecker was clerk while Col. Rex Young was the auctioneer.

Sells Good Cattle.

On last Saturday night Otto Puls shipped two car loads of very fine and evenly fattened cattle to Chicago, they coming from his feed lots, which were sold on the market Monday bringing the very topmost price for the class of cattle for the day at Chicago, $15.00 and a most satisfactory price. Surely Mr. Puls who has been in the business for some time knows the secret of getting the best results from his feeding and always finds a good market for what he feeds.

Visited in Omaha.

Gussie Brubacher and family, on last Sunday went to Plattsmouth where they were joined by the parents of Mr. Brubacher, where they departed for Omaha and there enjoyed a very pleasant day, being guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Bisanz.

Missionary Society Meets.

On Friday afternoon March 7th, the Missionary society of the Presbyterian church gave a delightful party in honor of the fourteen new members who recently joined the society.

After the guests (about fifty in all) had been received by the reception committee, Mrs. G. W. Boedecker, Mrs. De Les Denier and Mrs. J. C. Stewart, the entertainment committee which was made up of Mrs. C. D. Spangler, Mrs. O. A. Davis and Mrs. Ed Tutt, then took charge and presented a splendid program.

The address of welcome to the new members was given by Mrs. Stewart. A vocal solo was rendered by Mrs. Dick Pitman, Mrs. G. Gilmore and Mrs. G. W. Boedecker gave an instrumental duet entitled "Saubert's March Militaire." A vocal duet was given by Mrs. G. W. Boedecker and Mrs. D. Pitman, entitled "Birds of Spring" and two readings were given by Miss M. Brown.

There in which all the guests participated provided much amusement.

Out of respect to their late colleagues, the supreme court will not be in session on Monday and Tuesday.

Ford Quizzed by La Guardia on Dry Views

Cites Tractor Production in Ireland, Where Rum Flows; Asks 'Why Threat to Quit?'

Washington, March 10.—Henry Ford was asked Monday by Representative La Guardia (R., New York), by letter, to explain his recent declaration that he would stop manufacturing automobiles "if booze ever comes back" to the United States.

Calling attention to a magazine article purporting to have been written by Ford, La Guardia asked how he reconciles this position, with his praise for tractors turned out in his plant in Ireland. La Guardia pointed out that Ireland has no prohibition.

La Guardia cited the following statement in Pictorial Review, in which Ford was quoted as saying: "For myself, if booze ever comes back to the United States I am through with manufacturing."

"Better in Ireland." Ford's attention also was called by La Guardia to the manufacturer's statement in Forbes Magazine to the effect that the Ford tractor plant in Ireland were turning out machines better than the company ever made in the United States.

La Guardia wrote: "Would it not be far better for this country and to the advantage of wage earners, if all of your products were manufactured in this country and exported instead of supplying the export trade from your factories in foreign countries and then importing tractors which, as you state, are manufactured in Ireland? Surely you cannot blame prohibition for that, for prohibition is still on our statute books."

Awaits Reply.

"How do you explain that your tractors built in Ireland, according to your Forbes Magazine article, are better than the tractors built in the United States? Has prohibition anything to do with that? We have prohibition here, Ireland has not."

Since Ford sent a telegram to the house judiciary committee, urging that there be no modification of prohibition, La Guardia said he desired to receive a reply to his letter, for inclusion in the hearings of the committee on his proposed repeal of the Eighteenth amendment.

At the same time antiprohibitionists also declared they would ask the Wickersham law enforcement commission to present to the committee results of the commission's survey on dry law enforcement.

The commission was reported to have gathered amazing evidence of a breakdown in prohibition enforcement, especially in the larger cities. The facts gathered by the commission were said to have disclosed conditions more startling than antiprohibition speakers portrayed before the judiciary committee.—Omaha Bee-News.

HONORS FOR DEAD JURIST

Washington.—The body of Justice Edward Terry Sanford was directed Sunday night to his final resting place in his native Tennessee hills. Accompanied by a group of his colleagues from the supreme court, the body of the jurist left here for Knoxville, where they will participate in brief funeral exercises Monday and return to Washington for the final rites Tuesday for William H. Taft, who died but a few hours after the man with whom he had sat upon the bench.

Mrs. Sanford and Representative and Mrs. Fisher of Tennessee, the latter a sister of the late justice, will be accompanied on their journey by Chief Justice Hughes and Justices McKeynolds, Butler and Stone, who have been designated as a committee to represent the court.

The group left Washington at 10:35 o'clock and will arrive in Knoxville Monday afternoon at 1:40 o'clock. The body will be taken directly to the cemetery, where a brief service will be held. An hour and five minutes after their arrival at Knoxville, the delegation from the supreme court will board a train for the return trip to Washington to participate in the rites for the late chief justice.

Out of respect to their late colleagues, the supreme court will not be in session on Monday and Tuesday.

At the close of the program, the guests gathered around the tables which were beautifully decorated with green and white carnations and green and white place cards. A delightful two-course luncheon was then served by Miss Bula Sans, Miss Leora Farris, Miss M. Brown and Mrs. Geo. Nickles.

The party was really a double event, as it was also a birthday party for Mrs. Stewart, who was presented by Mrs. W. Smith on behalf of the society, with a beautiful table lamp, and by Mrs. W. G. Boedecker, with a fine birthday cake.

The fourteen new members added to the society: Mesdames Ella Barker, Lucian Garper, Jennie Klamm, Grace Kennedy,
