Census Taking
Will Start in State Soon

On April First the Counting of Residents of the State Will Be Undertaken

From Thursday's Daily—

This morning Harley O. Parsons, supervisor of the U. S. census for the counties of Lancaster, Cass, Sarpy and Otoe, arrived in the city to look after the arrangements for the taking of the census in this county and the prospective census takers in order to get lined up on the work which will be carried out in the month of April.

The taking of the census is an important matter to every community and particularly to Nebraska as the state has the prospect of losing a congressman unless the coming census reveals a larger population than the last census.

In the taking of the census the enumerators should receive the hearty co-operation of all civic bodies and the citizens at large in getting the data needed to carry out the work of the complete census. Every man, woman and child should be listed and the government is also taking a check of the unemployment situation in all parts of the country as a part of the census of the inhabitants.

The information that is gathered as to the residents is confidential and the information is used only in determining the general condition of the country and the number of inhabitants in each state, city and town and counties over our land.

Mr. Parsons states that families that are expected to be absent from their places of residence during the month of April can aid in the work by sending for the necessary blanks to room 421 Federal building, Lincoln, and filling these out can have their families counted in the census this year.

In the giving in of the returns every member of the family should be counted and the information given to the census enumerator when they call at the homes or business houses over the city.

The government is making an effort to have a real census taken this year instead of the careless way in which the last census was taken and where many were omitted from the census rolls.

When the census enumerators come around give them your assistance in fixing the returns and see that the community has the check of the number of inhabitants as it is important to cities and towns as to the exact number of inhabitants as it fixes the application of many of the laws.

MAIL CARRIER ATTACKED

From Thursday's Daily—

While Theodore Pitak, one of the city mail carriers, was engaged in going over his route on the north side, he suffered severe injuries as the result of an attack from two vicious dogs at one of the places on his route. The attack occurred at one of the residences near Fourteenth and Vine streets, there being two dogs tied on the porch at the time the mail carrier came along and as he came up to place the mail in the box for the occupants of the house, one of the dogs proceeded to leap on him and lacerated his left hand in several places and the other dog inflicted several bites in the right leg and which have proven very annoying. The wounds were given attention by a physician and it is not thought that they will prove dangerous, but the animals will be kept under observation to learn whether they develop any dangerous signs.

HONOR ORGANIST

From Thursday's Daily—

Yesterday 25 years had passed since Miss Amelia Martens was first elected as organist in St. Paul's church of this city. It was the annual meeting of the congregation in which at the same time Rev. Langhorst was elected pastor of the congregation. Since then the minutes of every annual meeting of the congregation related the facts of her annual election in his sermon and congratulated the congregation for having such a faithful organist who never failed to play summer and winter, and appeared week days and Sundays whenever called to play, to do her duty.

After the pastor was finished Miss Martens was called to the front, a hymn of praise was sung and Mr. Mike Hill in behalf of the congregation, after a short eloquent speech presented Miss Martens with a beautiful necklace, the present of the congregation for this occasion, as well as a handsome bouquet of flowers.

Then there was a reception for Miss Martens the whole congregation passing by her and shaking hands with her. A few members were inevitably absent and also in behalf of them the pastor brought greetings. Later refreshments were served in the basement.

BARN BURNED DOWN ON THE HOLLENBECK FARM FRIDAY

Last Friday afternoon about three o'clock the barn on the Hollenbeck farm northwest of Elmwood burned to the ground and also a hog house.

Mr. Plymale, who lives on the farm had gotten a wagon load of corn ground and returned home with it and put it in the barn, unloading the team and putting them in the barn to feed. He then went to the house for dinner. A short while after this the barn was noticed to be on fire. Mr. Plymale hastened to the barn and with great difficulty was able to get his fine team of horses out but only at great risk and had his face and hands burned in doing this. An attempt was made to get the wagon load of ground grain out but the wheels of the wagon cramped and the fire was getting so hot that it could not be gotten out. The hog house together with a sow and pigs was burned and two calves were burned.

The corn crib which was full of corn and other grain was burning on the north side but the chemical truck from Alvo arrived and the fire extinguished on the crib. The fire could not have been put out without the assistance of the Alvo truck, and this demonstrated that a good chemical truck is a fine thing in fighting fires. It was thought at first that the fire would spread to the house and serious household effects were removed. People had come from a good many miles to help. It was not known how the fire originated. The property damage was covered partially by insurance.—Elmwood Leader-Echo.

Joseph A. Capwell Named as Superintendent at Meeting of Official Board

From Thursday's Daily—
The official board of the Methodist church met last night at the church to take up the matter of the selecting of a superintendent of the Sunday school to take the place of Judge A. H. Duxbury, who has been the superintendent of the school for the past nine years, but who at the election of officers in January announced the fact that he would not accept another term in the position owing to the press of other interests and the long years that he had given to the service of the church.

The members of the Sunday school have parted very regretfully with the services of Judge Duxbury but appreciating the long and faithful service that he has rendered decided to grant the resignation accordingly named Joseph A. Capwell, local attorney, who has been a hard worker in the Sunday school, to the position of superintendent.

Mr. Capwell has been a member of the church since his childhood and has always taken a great interest in the Sunday school work and since locating in this city has been very active in the Sunday school affairs and served as the assistant superintendent of the school and proven a real leader in this line of work.

Seniors Win
High School
Tournament

Upper Classmen Turn Back Juniors by the Score of 19 to 13 Last Evening

The interclass basketball tournament that has been in progress at the high school for the past two days ended Thursday afternoon when the senior asserted their superiority on the court and captured the coveted cup offered as the prize, winning from the juniors by the score of 19 to 13.

The going was not all roses for the seniors, however, as the juniors battled hard to try and capture the honors of the tournament and had in their ranks a large array of the regular team, Wiles, Hartford, Gallows, McCleary and McCrary representing the first string men for the juniors.

The seniors had Captain Roy Turner as their star offering with Chet Lund, as a great aid in the basket shooting and Hershel Dew and Ira Mumm of the regular first string also to back up their offensive. The seniors also had the services of Warren Farmer who proved a real rock in the defense against the juniors and whose services aided greatly in the senior victory.

For the seniors Lund was high point man with three field goals, Turner following with two field goals and a free toss while Dew secured a field goal and Farmer and Mumm one each.

The juniors had their scoring well divided as McCrary was high with two baskets and Galloway, Wiles and Hartford one each and each of these secured a free toss.

The game created much enthusiasm in the school circles and every class had a large representation on the side lines to cheer on the contenders. The game was handled by Carl Schneider and Bob Fitch as referees.

The consolation honors of the tournament were awarded to the Sophomores as they placed the freshmen out of the running by the score of 28 to 8 in a contest that showed some good work on the part of the future Plattsters.

Iowa People
Pleased with
New Bridge

Structure Here Makes for a More Direct Route to the West for the Traveler

From Friday's Daily—
The Plattsmouth representatives who were in attendance at the meeting of the Harding highway association yesterday at Ottumwa, Iowa, found a very pleasing sentiment from the representatives all along the line of highway No. 34, in favor of the new highway to the west afforded by the bridging of the Missouri river at this place.

The meeting took no definite action on the changing of the route of the Harding highway that now swings south from Red Oak into Shenandoah, Iowa, but as the permanent highway No. 34 is running on into Glenwood, our neighboring city, it is an easy matter for the traveler to hit the more direct route to the east and west by coming to this city over the new bridge as the surfaced highway that is built by Mills county runs to the bridge to be joined here by the graveled road into Plattsmouth.

In recent years the names of the King of Trail, Washington highway, Central route and other designated highways have largely gone into the waste basket as the road projects have brought the numbering of the various routes and to which they are known as highway No. 75 or 34 as the case may be, followed on the road maps by this designation.

The improvement of highway No. 34 in Iowa makes it one of the best highway systems in that state and affords a straight and speedy route to Chicago with paving all of the way from the Missouri river practically to Chicago.

The traveler to the west through this city can find three routes that will give them a speedy route to the west and to Lincoln, the capital city of the state, as well as a few moments drive to Omaha over a surfaced highway that in a few months will be completely paved.

HAS CAR DAMAGED

From Friday's Daily—

Last evening while R. W. Knorr was driving home from a business trip to Villisca, Iowa, where he has a store, he was unfortunate enough to be involved in an auto accident that damaged his car to a greater or less extent and made necessary leaving the car at Red Oak, Iowa, for repairs. Mr. Knorr was coming home and nine miles east of Red Oak saw a car approaching from the west and which he ran on the wrong side of the road. Mr. Knorr continued on until the oncoming car seemed certain to crash head on into his car and he then swung out to avoid the collision and at the same time the lady driving the other car, swung into the intersecting road and crashed into the rear and right side of Mr. Knorr's car, tearing off the fender and the hub cap as well as damaging the car so that the driver was unable to get on into Red Oak and had to be towed there. The driver of the other car continued on her way without stopping.

The two organizations are planning on making the 1930 show a greater success than that of the past year also that will be quite a task as the show the last year was a real feature both in the fine showings made by the merchants and also in the line of entertainment that was prepared for the auditors.

These shows enable merchants to make showings of their lines and better still, the opportunity to come in closer touch with the residents of the community in a social way and enjoy the evenings in visiting with the public as well as their fellow merchants.

The committees are getting busy at once on the work of outlining the plans for the show and are making every effort to secure a fine array of talent to be featured in the big yearly exposition of the business interests of the city.

FARM HOME BURNED

From Friday's Daily—

This morning at 7 o'clock the farm home of Walter Gochour, located on the island in the Missouri river some five miles southeast of this city, was discovered to be on fire and in a short time the house was reduced to ruins.

The fire started in the attic of the house and when it was discovered had gained such headway that there was little chance of checking it and it was only with difficulty that the neighbors were able to get the furniture out of the rooms on the lower floor of the house.

It is supposed that the fire started as the result of a defective fire and the loss will be partially covered by insurance.

OMAHA DECISION IS UPHELD

Kansas City—In a ruling signed here Friday by Judge Kimbrough Stone, presiding judge of the circuit court of appeals, a recent decision of Federal Judge Woodrough of Omaha, in connection with bankruptcy proceedings of the Peters Trust company there, was upheld.

In approving Judge Woodrough's decision that the appointment of a federal receiver for the defunct institution be allowed, the circuit court arbiters decided against the state of Nebraska, which had appealed from Omaha's ruling. Attorney General Sorenson of Nebraska had asked the higher court to forbid appointment of the federal receiver and authorize the state department of trade and commerce to take over assets of the failed financial house.

The Peters Trust company filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy on Dec. 10, 1929, but a completed schedule of assets recently formulated by the federal receiver at Omaha showed that assets of the company listed at $1,842,665.00, are more than double the liabilities. It is virtually assured that all creditors will be paid in full, with a substantial amount left over for stockholders.
