

WEeping WATER

Antone Jourgensen was a visitor over near Nehawka on Tuesday of this week where he was looking after some matters for a short time. James M. Teegarden was a visitor in Plattsmouth for the day on last Monday, called there to look after some business matters for a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Steckney of Lincoln, the latter a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Teegarden, were spending the week end at the Teegarden home in Weeping Water. Pete Miller, Jr., who has been employed on a farm near Gretna returned to Weeping Water last week to accept a position with our progressive farmer and townsman, Clarence E. Pool.

Al Ralston who is conducting the sale stable in Weeping Water is hustling to make it a success was a visitor in Omaha on last Tuesday, going to add his vote to the best government of the city.

County Agent D. D. Wainwright and wife were over to Lincoln on last Tuesday where they were visiting with friends and at the same time Mr. Wainwright was looking after some business connected with the Farm Bureau.

Miss Agnes Rough was a visitor in Lincoln for the morning on last Sunday where she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Lake, they later all going to Tekamah where they visited with relatives and also viewed the destruction by the recent tornado.

Two of Elmwood ladies were in town on business on last Tuesday evening, concluding their shopping dropped into the bowling alley where they enjoyed a half hour of real recreation and by the way made some very good scores as well.

Walter Mockenhaupt, living northwest of Manley, was a business visitor in Weeping Water on last Tuesday afternoon and was getting ahead much better than for some time since he received the kick by one of his trusted horses. The horse also having kicked two of the children at the same time. However, they are all getting along nicely at this time.

Dr. M. U. Thomas who underwent an operation at the Bryan Memorial hospital at Lincoln last week for relief from gall stones and other complications, is reported as getting along better at this time. For a time visitors were refused admittance to the sick room but on Tuesday he had progressed so that his friends were allowed to see him. His many friends are pleased that he is getting along so nicely.

Many Visit Tekamah.

A number of the families of Weeping Water were over to Tekamah on last Sunday to see the destruction which was caused by the recent tornado which visited that section of the country, they driving over in their cars for the day. Among whom were John S. Williams and wife, Knute Jensen and family.

Uncle Henry Hubbard Poorly.

Uncle Henry Hubbard who is now in his ninety-fifth year, and who was one of the first settlers in this community and has seen Weeping Water grow from a village on the river where there was only a mill to the beautiful city it is at this time, is at this time confined to his bed the most of the time at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Joseph I. Corley. During the span of life of this excellent citizen, many changes have come to the nation as well as Weeping Water and vicinity. He still cherishes the memory of his friends of former days when this country was young.

Traded Cars While Here.

On last Monday, accompanied by Sheriff Bert Reed, Lawson Conrad, who was given a penitentiary sentence for the third offense, of dealing in the illicit, or other words hooch, at the county seat last week, stopped in Weeping Water for a short time while on his way to Lincoln and while here made a trade of cars, so that he will have another car when he shall have served his time.

Woman's Club Honors Citizen.

The Weeping Water Woman's club with two days session at the Congregational church in Weeping Water on last Monday and Tuesday, gave honor to one of the former citizens of Weeping Water and whose work in the years gone by is reflected in the magnificent library, which this city has at this time, Mrs. Wesley A. Davis, or Mrs. Alice

Davis was very active in the welfare of the city of Weeping Water years ago, and was one of the members of the first board of the library. At the meeting of the Woman's club early this week a history of the institution was read by Mrs. Fred H. Gorder, and also many other of the fifty members who were gathered on last Tuesday to properly honor the former members among whom should be mentioned, Mrs. Harriett Wolcott and Miss Grace Courtman, the latter being the first librarian, while Mrs. Wolcott contributed much to the cause of the library. It is to such women as these that we owe much of the progress of our city and country for theirs and that of others are felt in the better condition of our beloved America. A tree was planted at the curb in front of the library building in honor of Mrs. Alice Davis, and with the years to come will assist in keeping her memory and good deeds alive.

City Gives Trumpet.

The city of Weeping Water thru their city council at their last session gave the band of Weeping Water a new E. Flat horn for the use of the player who happened to take that part in the band work and who in the present case is Mr. Rasmus Lauritzen, who is also the president of the band association, being elected at the last regular meeting.

Makes Substantial Improvements.

George Olive, who is always alive to the betterment of the service at his place of business, has just installed four new tables with seats in combination which makes very pretty as well as convenient places for the serving of ice cream and other refreshments. The tables occupy one side of the front of the store and are neatly arranged and so fitted in the combination of the arrangement of the furniture at the store that it makes a harmonious whole occupying but little space, yet which enables the serving of sixteen persons at a time conveniently and also most pleasantly for the clients.

Two Finely Dressed Windows.

The facts there are four for they are two pairs of windows, they being at the Weeping Water Variety store and at the store of S. P. Day. Stop and see them and drop inside and find much more that is beautiful and you will agree with us at the beauty of the decoration of the windows as well as the interior of the business places.

Visited at Wymore.

In company of C. Mathews, who will open a store of the variety pattern were over to Wymore, where they were looking over the location Elmer Michelsen of Weeping Water, with a representative from the whole sale store of Chicago, drove to Wymore on Monday and arranged for the lease of a building and the establishing of a store in that place. The place will be conducted by Mr. Mathews and the prospect for a good business looks good.

Heers Cousin Had Died.

Mrs. Elmer Michelsen received the sad news of the passing of a cousin, Mrs. Joseph Obert of Herman, and whose funeral was held on last Sunday and interment made at Tekamah. Mr. and Mrs. Michelsen drove over to attend the funeral on last Sunday. Mrs. Obert leaves four children, besides the husband who is well along in life.

Sunshine Sunshine Sunshine

Sunshine is the name of the royalty play which is being presented by the Senior class of the Weeping Water high school on Thursday and Friday of this week at the Philpot hall. This is a play set in the east at the Sunshine Sanatorium, near New York city and consists of three acts, morning, afternoon and evening, and filling the day pretty full.

The cast of characters are: Buddy Brady, Raymond Mayfield; Major Kelliott, George Wiles; Jim Anthony, Remos Anderson; Sylvia Deane, Helen Johnson, Nese Gregory, Helen Cole; Mary Sunshine, Sylvia Kinney; Maudella McCann, Gladys Heneger; Mrs. Bunch McCann, Gladys Edith Norton; Mrs. Sal Whipple, Leone Wade; Miss Tessie Mifford, Linnet Hanson; Mr. Juba K. Buttnerup, Raymond Lauritzen; Mr. Brown, Howard Rasmussen.

TOPS CATTLE MARKET

It is evident that the country continues to appreciate products of Cass county, which was shown when Mr. Louis Born, a farmer from this neighborhood, put a top on the Omaha market for car load shipments when he marketed 18 head of well-finished heaves that were fed on grain and hay raised in this county, and which brought $13.10.

There is no doubt that a combination of good quality cattle and feed raised in Cass county will put the finish on animals that is desired by the meat consuming public, and this is just another instance of what results can be achieved by our neighbors.

These cattle were sold by the Great Western Commission company, and they report that the cattle had plenty of competition while on sale.

TO BE BURIED HERE

From Wednesday's Daily—The body of the late Mrs. C. A. Marshall will be brought to this city for interment, a message received here by the son, C. A. Marshall, Jr., today states. The funeral party will leave Los Angeles today and expect to arrive in Plattsmouth on Saturday morning at 6:10 over the Missouri Pacific from the south. The funeral will be private at the request of the members of the family at Los Angeles and will probably be held at the Straight funeral home on Oak street, the date to be announced later.

Plan to Observe Birthday of the Christian Church

Local Christian Church Will Join in World Wide Observance of 1900 Years

The Plattsmouth Christian church is joining in the unique service of the ages. It will be the culmination of a fifty-day program leading to and including June 8th, which marks the 1900th birthday of the Church of Christ or Christian dispensation, the entering into one great fellowship, yet remaining at regular places of worship is intended.

At 11 a. m., June 8th, services will be held in New Zealand. It will then be 6 p. m., June 7th, central time in America. The services will move west with the eleventh hour of the day, as Sunday, June 8th moves westward. All nations are to participate.

The same chapter of scripture, Acts 2nd, will be read and practically the same songs "My Faith Looks Up to Thee," "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name," and many other familiar songs will be sung in the language of the worshiping multitudes.

The Plattsmouth church is already enjoying this fellowship that has led up to and through Easter Sunday. Now with more zeal if possible, we press on to Pentecost, June 8th, and we ask all believers in Christ to join us in this Christian fellowship.

If you are not worshipping elsewhere we shall gladly welcome you if you come to worship with us.

Plans will be more definitely announced as the day approaches. In preparation we meditate on kindred questions until that day.

A. L. OGDEN, Acting Pastor.

ROTARY CLUB MEETING

The Rotary club at their meeting Tuesday noon had a very fine feature of music week that they will all long very pleasantly remember and this was in the nature of a plenary given by E. H. Wescott, who is always willing to aid in any way that he can any entertainment that will add to the pleasures of his fellowman. The program embraced the old songs and melodies that covered a number of years and recalled old times to the members of the club.

The meeting was under the leadership of Searl S. Davis and who had a very fine program lined up for the meeting.

The club also had with them the two boys from the high school who will be Rotarians for the month of May and who are Frederick Wehrlein, senior, and Carroll Sutton, junior, the boys being given their introductions to the members of the club and the Rotary ideals.

The lesson given was on Panama and which was given by James G.
