Have A Fine Time.
W. O. Gillespie who is a whole souled old scout and one who loves children, and who has driven the "kid wagon" notwithstanding it has been a motor bus, during the past year, gave the kiddies a treat last Saturday in the shape of a trip to Shenandoah, Iowa, where they visited the two broadcasting stations,

Oil in a Can
is Like a Race Horse
in a Stall

Lubricating Oil in a bottle or a can may look fine—so may a race horse in a stall. But put the horse on a track, make him run a half mile and he may prove all locks and nothing else. The same is true of Motor Oil!

Looks, Color and Extravagant
Claims Mean Nothing at All

It is the test of actual performance that shows up poor horse—and poor oil. Mona Motor Oil does not break down under the most intense heat. Try a Crank case full.

The very fine of furniture known as the Kitchen Korb Cabinet, has gained much favor with the housewives over the country and Mr. Tool is disposing of many of them. He has had this device protected with a patent and as he has been to much expense in the perfection of the handy article of kitchen furniture, he is entitled to the protection which the patent affords.

A Real Land Farmer.

Some Mountains of the Bible
IX—Gerizim - Ebal
Deut. 27:12-13. If any one should doubt that God is not in earnest in his dealings with men, let him come to Mount Gerizim and Ebal. Man being born a free moral agent, he can accept or reject God's law.

The scene before us was so important that God gave Moses precise instructions how the same should be carried out by the burnt offering.

The heads of six tribes gathered on one mountain, Gerizim, the heads of the other six tribes on Mount Ebal, with the people in the valley. The acoustics of this amphitheatre are so perfect that every word spoken by the Levites could be distinctly understood and as they make good the people with a unanimous "Amen."

The burnt offering was the sealing of the covenant with God.

Twelve "curses" are pronounced according to the twelve tribes; the "blessings" are more numerous.

Did the curse and the blessings make good his word? The student of history will have a ready answer. The Jews came to their greatest power and glory under King David and Solomon. The blessings came according to God's promise. Did the curse come true also? Go to history and read the harrowing details of the second destruction of Jerusalem. Unto this day the curse hangs over this people. Josephus gives us a very vivid description in his "History of the Jews." Even the world war was a tame affair, as compared with the horrors and suffering of the Jews in 70 A. D., when Titus with his Roman legions encompassed Jerusalem and razed the city, destroyed the temple and made an end of the Jews as a nation.

Mount Gerizim and Ebal stand as silent sentinels and witnesses that God does what he says, although it may be slow in coming to pass. "It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God." Heb. 10:31. Joshua said to the people, before he passed on: "Choose you this day whom ye will serve." Jos. 24:15.

If man will but obey God, then the blessings will be poured out upon him "that there shall not be room enough to receive it." Mal. 3:10.

Then why not choose the good part?

Fall Appeals
Effort to Collect Taxes

United States Assessed Total of $235,325 in Deficiency Levy and Penalty

Washington, D. C., May 23.—The government's effort to collect income tax on money Albert B. Fall and his Tres Ritos Cattle and Land company of Three Rivers, N. M., received from E. L. Doheny and Harry Sinclair, whose companies were awarded leases of naval oil reserves, has been appealed to the United States board of tax appeals by the former secretary of the interior.

The internal revenue bureau assessed Fall and his wife a total of $158,127 in deficient taxes and $77,198 for failing to report a total of 403 thousand dollars as income. The bureau assessed the deficiency and penalties on 190 thousand dollars Fall received from Doheny in 1921 and $15,000 from Harry Sinclair in 1921 as a bribe to influence the award of the Elk Hills naval oil reserve to Doheny's Pan-American company, but Doheny later was acquitted of giving Fall the money as a bribe.

During the trial of Sinclair on charges of conspiring with Fall to defraud the government out of the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve which resulted in his acquittal, it was brot out that Sinclair had paid Everhart 233 thousand dollars in Liberty bonds for one-third interest in the Mexico ranch owned by Fall and Everhart. It also developed that Sinclair had advanced the company 35 thousand dollars additional in two payments of 10 thousand and 25 thousand dollars.

No Fraud, His Reply
During the oil trials it also was brought out that Fall had received 25 thousand dollars in bonds from Sinclair, which he maintained was a loan, and 10 thousand dollars in cash which he said was expense advanced to finance a trip to Russia as counsel for the Sinclair Exploration company.

The internal revenue bureau, however, held that all of the sums were personal income of Fall on which he had failed to pay tax.

Fall in his appeal contended that the money received from Doheny and Sinclair was not personal income and argued that no fraud had been committed in failure to report it.—World-Herald.
